DYNAMITERS' WORK

Repeated Attempts Made to Blow Up an Opera House.

IT WAS CROWDED WITH PEOPLE.

The Building Partially Wrecked and Loss of Life Avoided by Good Judgment.

A Stick of Dynamite Thrown up the Stairway and Exploded—Three Men Discovered but Fled When a Woman Screamed Murder—A Stampede Prevented by Locking the Doors.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 2.—A double attempt was made to blow up the Opera House at Millvale, a suburb of this city, with dynamite. The building was partially wrecked, and only by the exercise of good judgment by the doorkeepers was the loss of life avoided. The structure is of brick, three stories high.

On the second floor the Allan Hagan Flute Band was holding a ball and 350 young folks were dancing. A few minutes after midnight the company was startled by a terrific explosion opposite the building. It was followed by a crash of glass, but the incident was considered only a New Year event.

Half an hour later a second explosion shook the whole building. This occurred on the stairway leading to the hall.

Amid the crash of glass and the banging of doors there was a cry of "Murder!" from below and cry of "Fire!" on the floor.

The concussion had extinguished the lights and in the intense darkness there was a mad rush for the doors. Only about a dozen persons gained exit, however, as the doorkeepers closed the entrances and prevented a crush in the narrow stairway. The lights were soon turned on and the frightened people quieted.

The explosion had done considerable damage. Near the top of the stairway the heavy planks had been completely shattered and the steps were covered with debris. Every pane of glass in the six large windows had been smashed, fragments flying clear across the street, and the plaster on the walls had been torn down.

Those who examined the place think a stick of dynamite was thrown up the stairway and exploded. This is made plausible by the fact that the explosion had blown a circular hole in the stairs. A closet full of dishes near by was utterly demolished.

The wife of Constable Davis was at the foot of the stairway when the explosion occurred. She saw one of three men in a group strike a match and then throw something up the steps. The explosion followed, and Mrs. Davis and her friend, Mrs. Montgomery, found themselves in a shower of glass. It was the latter who screamed "murder" and the three men fled.

Three men residing in Millvale are under suspicion and officers are searching for them.

Earlier in the night two sticks of dynamite were exploded in front of the Franklin engine house, tearing up the pavement, and immediately three men were seen running away.

The force of the Opera House explosion was sufficient to have collapsed the entire structure had it not been for the outlet afforded by the windows.

AMONG THE FIGHTERS.

The McAuliffe-Carroll Go Postponed Until March 21.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—The California Athletic Club is in communication with Frank P. Slavin with a view of matching him with Joe McAuliffe. In case of failure another attempt will be made to bring Kilrain here.

At a meeting of the club directors the date of the McAuliffe-Carroll fight was changed from Feb. 20 to March 21. The purse is $3,500. McAuliffe has a bad hand and Carroll wants time to get to the weight, so the principals are well satisfied.

The February date will be filled in with Pete McCoy and Charley Gleason, who will fight to a finish for a $1,500 purse.

There is considerable ill-feeling between the last pair and a hot time is expected.

ANOTHER UPRISING.

Negroes Threaten to Burn the Town of Barnwell, S. C.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 2.—Dispatches received here indicate that there are probabilities of trouble in Barnwell. Telegrams have been received at Blackville and other neighboring towns asking for aid, and a special train left Blackville with reinforcements.

It is said the negroes intend to burn the town. The trouble is by no means over, and the whole county seems to be up in arms. A conflict between the whites and blacks seems imminent.

The Massachusetts Legislature.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The organization of the two branches of the Legislature was effected without any friction, and is the same as in 1889, with the exception of the presidency of the Senate, to which office Senator Henry H. Sprague was chosen. Speaker Barrett was re-elected in the House, and Clerks Coolidge and McLaughlin, Sergeant-at-Arms Adams and Chaplain Dowse of the Senate will again fill those offices.

Gen. Kearny Resigns.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 2.—Brig.-Gen. John Watts Kearny has sent his resignation as Inspector-General of the National Guard of New Jersey to Commander-in-Chief Robert S. Green. His reason for doing so is that he has no duties to perform and does not care to [illegible] ornamental [illegible]

THEY WANT HIS STOCK.

A Transaction in Which Several Government Officials are Interested.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 2.—One of the largest transactions in railroad stock that has been made in this section for a long time is being negotiated here. The stock is the 10,000 shares of West Virginia Central Railroad held by Major Alexander Shaw and family. Besides this block there are 20,000 shares outstanding, among the holders of which are ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, Secretary of State James G. Blaine, Secretary of the Treasury Windom, United States Senator A. P. Gorman, Stephen B. Elkins, the heirs of the late W. H. Barnum of Connecticut and a few others.

The official relations between the present management of the company and Major Shaw are understood to be somewhat strained and it is hinted that certain stockholders are desirous of getting control of the Major's holding on this account. The intermediary between Major Shaw and the gentlemen who want his 10,000 shares is Mr. Emmons Blaine, assistant to President Davis. The first offer made for Major Shaw's stock was $400,000 or $40 a share, two weeks ago, but he will not let it go for less than half a million. The negotiations are still in progress.

THE PEOPLE OVERAWED.

A Late Arrival from Brazil Reports a Bad Condition of Affairs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The steamer Strabo has arrived from Rio de Janeiro. Her captain reports all quiet when he left that city, but says the situation is not very satisfactory from the standpoint of a believer in popular self government.

The people seem overawed by the police and military. The soldiers ride about the streets constantly, calling out "all is well," and notifying the populace that anyone who attempts to raise a disturbance will be shot.

A Druggist's Fatal Blunder.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 2.—The death of Samuel Winski, at his home at the corner of Bank and Washington streets, was hastened by two injections of pilocarpine, which was given to him in mistake for morphine by William M. Townley, druggist, of No. 765 Broad street, at whose store he had been in the habit, for a year or more, of buying morphine.

A Triple Killing.

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 2.—A private telegram received here gives a meagre account of the triple killing which occurred at Brazonia. A man named Walker was fired upon by three men lying in ambush. He returned the fire and succeeded in killing all three, but in the conflict was severely wounded, and cannot recover.

Committed Suicide While Despondent.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Wm. Zano, a well-to-do German living at County Line, near Medina, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. He had been dependent for some time and probably killed himself while suffering from temporary mental aberration. He was 48 years old.

Shot Herself Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Gabrille Overbauer, a pretty and talented young crayon artist, shot herself dead in her apartments at 210 East 81st street, where her brother Otto also lived. These two had become alienated from other members of their family, who live in this city.

An Old Man Burned to Death.

DRACUT, Mass., Jan. 2.—Aiken Parker, aged 70, was burned to death in the building in which he lived alone. When the alarm was sounded about daybreak the house was so enveloped in flames that it was impossible to save its inmate. The deceased leaves two sons and a daughter.

Bogardus and Kleinz Shoot a Tie.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Captain A. H. Bogardus and J. F. Kleinz, of this city, shot a sparrow match at the Philadelphia Driving Park. Each man shot at 25 sparrows at 30 yards rise, five traps. The match resulted in a tie, each killing 16 birds.

Axle Works Sold to Englishmen.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 2.—The Wyoming Axle Works, the largest plant of the kind in the country, has been sold to an English syndicate at a price said to be nearly a million dollars. This company paid a dividend of 8 per cent. last year.

Railroad Engine House Burned.

UPPER MARLBORO, Mass., Jan. 2.—The engine house of the Southern Maryland Railroad at Brandywine was burned, together with two locomotives and a large amount of machinery. Loss, $80,000.

Editor Fitch Has the Grip.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Charles E. Fitch, editor of the "Democrat and Chronicle," is suffering from an attack of influenza, which has confined him to the house for several days.

The One Hundredth Reception.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—The reception yesterday was the 100th held on New Year's Day by Presidents of the United States. Mrs. Morton was the first wife of a Vice-President who has assisted at receptions at the White House on New Year's Day for the past 16 years.

Murat Accepts Miss Caldwell's Hand.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Star says that the marriage between Miss Gwendoline Caldwell, of Baltimore, and Prince Murat has been again arranged. Prince Murat will accept any allowance that Miss Caldwell may grant him.

AN EXPENSIVE ARMY

The Sheriff Prevents the Eviction of Miners.

IN NO HURRY TO SERVE WRITS

The Corporation's Big Loss in Keeping Pinkerton Men on Duty.

The Air Full of Wild Rumors—Trouble in the Electric Light Works at Allegheny—Printers Locked Out of the Philadelphia Press Office—A Strike of Nailers Causes a Shut-Down.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 2.—There are no new developments in the strike situation here excepting that the air is full of wild rumors.

The writs of ejectment which will, if executed, put between 500 and 600 families out in the cold, were issued, but as the sheriff has until February court to make his returns it is not likely that he will be in any great hurry about serving them. It is understood that he will divide the time about equally between the miners and the company, and serve the writs about two weeks hence.

This will be an expensive delay to the corporation, as it is losing $2,000 to $3,000 per day by maintaining its army of Pinkerton men and keeping its works idle.

FIGHTING A MONOPOLY.

The Federation of Labor Inaugurates an Important Strike.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 2.—The American Federation of Labor called out all its members working for the Allegheny County Light Company.

The Alleghany County Light Co. has a monopoly in supplying Pittsburg and Alleghany City with light. Their private contracts are also numbered by the thousands, and the result of a general tie up, can more readily be imagined than described.

The effect of the call will be the cessation of work by machinists, engineers, dynamo men, and electricians of the Allegheny County Light Co., the East End Electric Light Co., the Keystone Construction Co., and the Westinghouse Electric Light Co.

It is also stated that the fight will be carried into politics, and the influence of the labor organizations will be brought to bear against the candidates for City Councils, favorable to the company, now set up in all the wards of the city.

THE LOCKED-OUT PRINTERS.

The Situation in Philadelphia Unchanged. The Press Has a Non-Union Force.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Meetings of Typographical Union No. 2, and of the Press chapel of the union were held, but nothing of public interest, so it was declared by those present, was done. All of the locked-out printers of the Press were placed on the strike benefit list ($7 per week) until they obtain employment elsewhere.

It is said that the Press has secured nearly a full complement of men and that they will experience little or no difficulty in issuing the paper as usual.

Messrs. Jones, Plank and others of the Executive Council of the International Typographical Union are expected to return to this city this afternoon and as they have complete jurisdiction in the matter of the general demand for an increased rate for composition, nothing will be done until their arrival.

Work Stopped by a Strike.

READING, Pa., Jan. 2.—The sheet mill of the Brooke Iron Company at Birdsboro, employing over 100 hands, has closed down on account of the strike of 150 nailers, who asked for a restoration of the 10 per cent. taken off their wages some time ago.

IN PRINCELY STYLE.

An American Professor Treated With Royal Splendor in Japan.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—News has been received at the Johns Hopkins University from Prof. Meriweather, who recently accepted the position of Professor of English and History in Tokio University in Japan.

Upon arriving at Japan he was received with great ceremony. A special palace was given him as his residence, with more than 50 servants. A stable containing some of the finest horses in the Kingdom was placed at his disposal, and in every way he was treated with royal splendor. While at Johns Hopkins Prof. Meriweather was assistant secretary of the American Economic Association.

The Prince of Wales' Health.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Prince of Wales finds that a change of scene benefits him greatly and, though not a man of very enduring physical strength, he has been generally able to fulfil his public engagements, not always, however, without suffering the consequences in the recurrence of some of the ailments to which he is subject. He is advised by his physicians that his constitution is one needing considerable care and only moderate exercise.

An Old Telegrapher Dead.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Thos. Eagan, a telegraph operator, formerly employed by the Postal Telegraph Company at Pittsburg, Pa., died at his home in this city of consumption. He was an old-time operator, and was well and favorably known in telegraphic circles throughout the country.

An Eminent Catholic Clergyman Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Rev. Henry C. MacDowell, of St. Agnes' Church, one of the most eminent clergymen of the city, died last night.

ENTERED INTO REST.

Sad Death of a Young Boston Woman While Visiting Her Sister in North Plainfield.

Florence Louise Elden, a younger sister of Mrs. T. E. Hazell, died at the home of the latter on Duer street at about five o'clock this morning. On Thursday of last week she was taken with what is now more or less correctly termed La Grippe or Russian influenza. It developed into pleurisy and subsequent typhoid pneumonia, followed by death after several hours of great suffering.

Miss Elden's home is in Boston, Mass., and she was on a holiday visit to her sister. She was an exceptionally beautiful woman, both in face and character. Her father died in June last and was buried on Bailey's Island off the coast of Maine, where the body of his daughter will be laid by his side.

She was a member of the High street Congregational church of Portland, Me., where funeral services will be held upon the arrival of the remains. There will be short services at the home of her brother-in-law, 78 Duer street, at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Schenck will officiate.

Mrs. Hazell herself is lying very sick at her home. She and her aged mother are now the only surviving heirs of Mrs. Hazell's father, and are the owners of the most extended and handsomest estate on Bailey's Island, which is rapidly becoming one of the most favored and fashionable of Eastern Summer resorts.

A Family Jar in Tracey's Flat.

James Tracey, the shoe-maker who with his wife and son Barney, occupy a "flat" on North avenue, began the New Year, yesterday, by breaking up housekeeping. About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Tracey, his wife, his son and a bull-dog became involved in a free fight and the commotion made by the fighters attracted fully one hundred spectators to the battle ground.

During the fracas, the bull-dog terribly lacerated Mrs. Tracey's right arm, so that it was found necessary to summon Dr. Andrew Manning to dress the wounds. The main articles of warfare used, were chairs, stove lids, crockery ware and clubs, and when officers Grant and Lynch arrived on the spot, the interior of Tracey's "flat" looked as though it had been struck by a western cyclone. The entire family was placed under arrest, and this morning Mayor Male fined James and his son each five dollars. Mrs. Tracey was discharged.

Two Small Fires.

About eight o'clock last evening fire was discovered in a quantity of matting in the cellar under C. M. Fine's cigar store on Park avenue, but it was extinguished with a few pails of water before doing any serious damage. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

About the same time a Christmas tree caught fire in Mr. P. J. Kreitling's home on West Front street. The tree was thrown into the street, thus averting a serious conflagration.

When the blood is impure, thick, and sluggish, or thin and impoverished, there can be no health. With these conditions, all the functions of the body are impaired, and the result is a variety of dangerous complications. The best remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. E. W. Milligan and family of Brooklyn, spent New Year's day with mine host, Mr. George Demler of Washingtonville.

The two lady operators in the telephone office, each received a handsome gift from Mrs. C. W. Cass of Rockview avenue, North Plainfield.

Miss Carrie Hotaling has returned home to Sing Sing, N. Y., after a two weeks visit with her aunt Mrs. George Townley, of North Plainfield.

The Misses Hattie Brunt and Minnie Pillion of Somerville, spent New Year's Day at the home of Henry Van Middlesworth, Elmwood place.

Special Officer Hope has been laid up with la grippe for a few days past, which accounts for his absence from Music Hall entrance, last evening.

Mr. A. W. Sutphen, of Brooklyn, N. Y., left yesterday afternoon after spending several days with friends and relatives in this city and North Plainfield.

Mr. H. C. Runyon has accepted a position with Clark & Reed as type writer and stenographer. He will begin his duties with that firm in the early part of February.

All the members of the Sunshine Mission Band are requested to be present at the regular metting, to-morrow at 3:30, at Miss Scribner's school, to meet their new President, Miss Gardner.

A masked party was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Boehm, at their West Front street home, last evening. About fifty young people were present, and enjoyed an evening of uninterrupted pleasure.

Mr. John Chandler, whose residence was destroyed by fire on Sunday, has taken possession of the house at the South corner of Washington and Sixth streets, and he is now ready to again proceed with his business.

The second dance this season of the Tuesday Evening Club, was held last evening at the home of Miss May Sandford. It was, if possible, even more enjoyable than any previous affair of the kind in the Club's existence.

The Rev. C. E. Dunn, of Albany, who with his family has been spending the holidays at the home of his father in this city, preached on Sunday morning and evening in the pulpit of his college mate, the Rev. Mr. Green of Cranford.

From the reports made to the State Board of Assessors by the various cities of the State it is shown that in most cases there have been decreases in the school tax rates. In North Plainfield, however, the tax rate is yet high, it being $2.61 on the one hundred dollars.

The death is announced of Carl Morris, which occurred at his home in Montclair, N. J., on Sunday. The deceased was formerly a resident of this city, but a year or so ago he went to Buffalo, N. Y., where he was recently taken ill, and was obliged to return to Montclair. The funeral took place today.

Miss Mildred Tyrrell of Arlington avenue, was the fortunate winner of the handsome doll that has attracted so much attention in the window of Sherman & Becker's Emporium, 73 Park avenue. Tickets were given each purchaser of 50 cents worth of goods, and Miss Tyrrell's held the lucky one, No. 128.

A meeting will be held in All Soul's church, corner of Fourth avenue and 20th street, New York, to-morrow at 11 A. M., to be addressed by Doctress Emily Blackwell and others on "Socal Ethics." As this is the same subject that is attracting the attention of the Monday Afternoon club in this city, some of the members will take the opportunity to attend.

Today begins the 36th year of Mr. C. Potter, Jr's business career as a maker of presses and printing machinery. The growth of the establishment and its output has been marvelous, and emphatically evidences the patience, shrewdness and indomitable will of the Company's head. Mr. Potter is a model example of a self-made man.

The marriage of Mr. Charles L. McBride, of this city, and Miss Henrietta Ambler, took place at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Henry W. Ambler, 24 State street, Sing Sing, N. Y., yesterday afternoon. After a brief wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. McBride will make their home in Plainfield. Mr. McBride is a member of the civil service at Reynold's pharmacy.

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents in Washingtonville, where Mr. Walter Titus and Miss Emma Bilyeu were joined in marriage by the Rev. Cornelius Schenck in the presence of a host of friends of all concerned. Miss Fanny Titus, sister of groom, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Albert Titus was the groom's best man.

Martin Thorn's North avenue friends have heard several times from him during his journey Westward. Too much praise cannot be given his piscatorial friend of Cranford, who furnished him with a medical companion in the shape of a bottle of seven-year-old apple jack as a needed "transfer" and escape from the changeable water of the West. Mr. Thorn is due today at Santa Barbara.

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

A "SHAKSPEAREAN REVIVAL."

Progressive Euchre Played by the Heroines and Heroes of Comedy and Tragedy.

A progressive euchre party was given last evening in the spacious parlors of Mr. A. E. Faber's residence on Rockview avenue, by the Shakspeare Club, a coterie of literary young ladies. Miss Della R. Storm was the hostess, and the affair was one of the most select and recherche of the season. The pretty blue stockings had invited just enough young men to make it real nice and sociable, and it is unnecessary to add that the young men enjoyed the literary exercises exceedingly.

Seldom are euchre tables graced by such assemblages. As one glanced over the gay party he was carried back in mind to the days of the bard of Avon—he could see before him the fair Rosalind, the sweet Ophelia, the dainty Imogen or the blushing Juliet, accompanied by their ideals the worthy Orlando, the heroic Hamlet, the haughty Leonatus and the festive Romeo. The way the young ladies played euchre did great credit to their Shakspearean researches. Handsome prizes went to the victorious literary ladies and appropriate "booby" prizes to the less enlightened young men. Refreshments were also gone through and the whole affair was an unqualified success.

Much praise is due to Mr. and Mrs. Faber, Miss Storm and the ladies of the club for the pleasure they bestowed. Prominent in the club are the Misses E. N. and Annie Hasbrouck, Bertha Mooney, Agnes Smith, Della Storm, Maggie Long, Emily Thompson, Annie Murphy, Ida Acken, Helen Warman, Daisy Mulholland and Grace Brown.

MERITED HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Plainfield Commuters Reward Those Who Served Them.

(From the Central Times.)

The gentlemen who ride to the metropolis daily, in the Howard club car, did not on Christmas forget the employees of the Central railroad who have served them during the past months. Messrs Jacob Kirkner, J. Wesley Johnson, James Taylor and W. T. Broadway, comprising the board of directors for the car, conferred with the club president, L. E. Howard, in relation to making a present to each employee.

As a result of this conference, Samuel Johnson, the conductor of the train, to which the club car is attached every night and morning, was presented with a purse containing $50 in gold. Another purse of $20 was handed over to "Jimmy," the porter. Engineer Case received $10 in gold. The baggageman received $10, the fireman $5, and the brakeman $5; all the monies being in gold and contained in a purse.

As has been his custom in former years, William B. Wadsworth, of Eighth street, called on all the New York commuters for contributions to a purse for Jeremiah Garretson, the popular Plainfield baggage-master, who never smashes anything, and a purse of $100 was given to him. The accommodating police officer who guards the crosswalk at Liberty street, also received through the same source a purse of $100.

An Explanation.

As a recent communication by me in the columns of THE PRESS, signed "One of Many," seems to have been interpreted as reflecting on the honor of the arbitrators in the recent Rice-Shotwell settlement, I wish to positively disclaim any intention of so condemning those gentlemen, and to express my sincere belief that they were faithful to their oaths in their treatment of the case and in their decision.

L. E. BARKALEW.

A Thief in the Club House.

Between six and seven o'clock of Wednesday evening, a thief is supposed to have entered the Crescent League club house through one of the windows opening into the bowling alley.

Some of the best of the bowling shoes, $3.50 out of the cash drawer, and a few bottles of soda water disappeared. The cash drawer was found locked, however, and some other money was left untouched in it.

The Camera Club Exhibition.

The second annual public exhibition of their work will be given by the members of the Plainfield Camera Club in the Y. M. C. A., rooms, beginning on Thursday evening, January 30.

The first evening the display will be on view to members of the Y. M. C. A., exclusively, but on all subsequent evenings the public will be welcome.

At Music Hall.

The Emma Massen Comic Opera Company presented "Pinafore" at Music Hall, yesterday afternoon and last evening, before good-sized audiences. The cast was good so far as Miss Emma Massen as "Little Buttercup." Chas. H. Smith as "Captain Corcoran," and Walter C. Smith as "Dick Deadeye," and the rest, were very bad.

Penmanship at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Paul Spencer, a grandson of the founder of the Spencerian system of penmanship, has been secured to give instruction in writing at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms. Those desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity are requested to apply at the Association rooms.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

An Official Report of the Weather in Plainfield for 1889.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The following, from the report made from Plainfield to the State Weather Service, and from thence to the Chief Signal Officer, U. S. A., Washington City, is in reply to your reqest for data concerning clear days of the year past (1889). There were recorded 175 clear days; 108 cloudy days; and 82 fair days. The Signal Service instructs its observers to record the state of the weather at each observation as clear, when the sky is not more than three-tenths covered with clouds; fair, if from three-fourths to seven-tenths covered; cloudy, when more than seven-tenths covered.

It may be of interest, also, to know that appreciable precipitation, that is, more than .01 inch, occurred on 110 days, The rainfall, with which is included melted snow, was 52.37 inches. The total snow fall was 14 inches. The average temperature, from maximum, minimum and the mean of tri-daily observations was for January, February and March, 35.12 degrees Fahrenheit; April, May and June, 60.22; July, August and September, 69.08; October, November and December, 43.78; and, for the year, 52.05. The maximum temperature occurred on the 8th of July, 92.00; the minimum, one degree below zero on the 24th of February. Frost was recorded on 36 days; thunder storms on 17. Christmas day was the warmest day in December, and sixteen degrees warme than the Christmas of 1888, also called unusually warm. The prevaling winds of Fall and Winter were from the North; of Spring and Summer, East.

M. S. SIMPSON, M. D.

Hurt in a Runaway Accident.

The New Brunswick Times of Tuesday, says:

"This morning Mr. John Runyon, of Dunellen, having some shopping to do in this city, invited his neighbor, E. D. Randolph, to accompany him. Together they came in a two-seated carriage, attached to which was a large bay horse who has always been regarded as a kind, gentle animal. When near the bridge on the other side of the river some one fired a shot at which the horse took fright and started over the bridge at a reckless speed. Midway across the carriage was upset and the occupants thrown violently to the ground, injuring both, more or less, but Mr. Randolph the more serious of the two. His forehead was badly cut over the left eye, causing both eyes to blacken, his shoulder was slightly sprained, and his nervous system was thoroughly shocked. The fall rendered him unconscious for some time. Mr. Runyon came off very much better receiving only a few slight bruises."

Prof. Wm. R. Harper, of Yale, to Lecture.

No one man has done more, probably, to stimulate Bible study and to make it interesting, than he who occupies the chair of that department in Yale University, Prof. Wm. R. Harper. He is considered by those competent to judge the greatest Bible teacher of the day.

The Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue Church are very glad, therefore, to be able to introduce Prof. Harper to the people of Plainfield. He will deliver one of his entertaining lectures on some Bible topic in the Crescent Avenue Chnrch on the evening of January 31, 1890. The lecture will be free and all will be welcome.

Who Holds the Lucky Number?

The handsome candy opera house, which has been admired in the show window of Foote's store on Park avenue, for some time past, was yesterday drawn by the holder of ticket No. 306. Previous to New Year's Day, every purchaser of fifty cents worth of candy was given a ticket entitling him or her to a chance in the drawing.

Arrested for Non-payment of Taxes.

James Potter, coachman for Mr. Geo. Watson of Crescent avenue, was arrested by Justice V. W. Nash this morning, for refusing to pay his poll tax, amounting to about six dollars. After a brief sojourn in Castle Carey, he made arrangements to pay the tax this evening and he was released.

A Fraternal Visit.

A delegation of members of Noah Dove Encampment No. 28 of this city, paid a fraternal visit to Memorial Lodge No. 165 of Elizabeth, last evening, and witnessed the installation of the officers, after which they conferred the fourth degree in a satisfactory manner which will be long remembered by those present.

Union County Agricultural Board.

A regular meeting of the Union county board of agriculture will be held at the court house, Elizabeth, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. An election of officers and delegates to the state board will be held. Reports of officers and committees for the past year will be read.

BATTENBERG IS BANISHED.

He Was Married to Beatrice Through a Matchmaker's Aid.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Queen has permitted it to be announced that she intends leaving England for the Continent early in the year, her plans being to remain abroad a month. The marriage of her favorite daughter, the Princess Beatrice, to Prince Henry of Battenberg, which, it will be remembered, the Prince of Wales so strenuously opposed, the Queen soon realized to have been a failure, and the connection has been a much greater source of uneasiness than the public supposed. Now that the details of Battenberg's latest complication have been secured the mortification of the Queen has been intense.

Before his marriage to Beatrice young Battenberg's property and good looks inspired him to put himself in the nands of a designing Russian lady, who utilized her position in the suite of the late Empress of Russia to negotiate marriages between wealthy heiresses and penniless princes. She resided in France when Battenberg put his princely name on the matrimonial books, and the matchmaker's first attempt was to bring about a marriage with Mlle. Dimcourt.

After being hawked over half of Europe Battenberg finally secured sufficient court influence, and the backing of the court of Hesse Darmstadt, to promise success in London.

Princess Beatrice fell in love with him at first sight. Since the couple have been wedded the Russian matchmaker has persistently dunned Battenberg, and all he could squeeze from his spouse's allowance has gone to the woman as a price for her silence.

Recently, tiring of the continued blackmail, Battenberg refused further to submit, even in the face of threatened exposure. Thereupon the woman wrote in the most fulsome detail to Lord Chamberlain Latham, accompanying her own statement with a mass of letters relating to Battenberg's wooing and showing him in an unenviable light. Latham, who has given frequent evidence of his dislike for Beatrice's husband, submitted the entire correspondence to the Queen, and Battenberg was sent abroad with the least possible delay. As he has been absent now two months, it may mean an indefinite banishment.

Gilhooly Elected President.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 2.—The City Council for 1890 organized by the election as President of Patrick Hamilton Gilhooly, Democrat, who received 14 votes to William Corbin's 10. The Democrats were unable to carry out the remainder of their programme. The votes for City Clerk and for the Street Commissioner were ties. A motion was passed appointing a Municipal Depot Committee of the Mayor, City Attorney, Comptroller, three Councilmen, and the President of the Board.

Indigestion
Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—
"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

ATTACKED A PRIEST

A Second Attempt to Kill Rev. Father Kelly of Oneida.

STRUCK WITH A BAR OF IRON.

The Wounded Clergyman's Loud Outcries Frightened the Assassin.

The Unknown Assailant Fled in the Darkness—In the Scuffle He Dropped His Weapon—The Priest Found Lying in a Pool of Blood—It is Said that There is a Woman in the Case.

ONEIDA, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Another attempt to murder Father James A. Kelly, of St. Patrick's Church, this city, was frustrated. The assassin was only prevented from accomplishing murder by the loud outcries of the wounded man. After striking the first blow he fled in the darkness. This is the second attempt to do away with Father Kelly within three months. The first attempt was by poisoning. The affair offers no possible solution, in spite of the fact that detectives have been working upon it for some time past. It has been said that there is a woman in the case, but there is nothing in the pastor's known associations to confirm the supposition.

According to the story of the assault, Father Kelly was aroused about 3:30 a. m. by a summons on his door. He hastily drew on his clothing and descended to the hallway. In answer to a query the stranger outside said that the priest's services were desired at a death-bed, and asked to be admitted. Father Kelly unbolted the door and opened it cautiously to get a glimpse at the stranger. At this juncture the latter threw his weight against the door, forcing it inward and gaining a partial entrance to the hall. At the same time he struck Father Kelly a hard blow on the head with a heavy instrument. The forcing of the door had prepared him for the attack, and the fact that the priest saw the blow coming and dodged probably saved his life. If the weapon had struck him squarely his skull would have been crushed. As it was, the blow was a glancing one and made an ugly scalp wound.

Father Kelly grappled with his assailant and cried "Murder!" The assassin disengaged himself and took to his heels.

In the scuffle he dropped his weapon. Father Kelly, weak from the loss of blood, sank to the floor. There the frightened housekeeper found him. When aroused by the noise she descended to the hall. He was lying across the doorway in a pool of blood. A rod of iron about three feet long and an inch thick lay near him.

A doctor was at once summoned and the wound dressed. Father Kelly only suffered from nervous prostration and loss of blood. He says he cannot identify his assailant.

A ROYAL PALACE BURNED.

Princess Clementine Has a Narrow Escape from Death.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 2.—The royal palace at Laeken, a suburb of Brussels, was completely gutted by fire and a portion of the building entirely destroyed. The origin of the fire is not yet known.

The flames spread rapidly and at one time threatened to cut off the escape of the inmates. The Princess Clementine had a very narrow escape from death and her rescue was effected with the greatest difficulty. A young lady employed as governess to the Princess was unable to follow her mistress and was burned to death.

The only portion of the palace which escaped the ravages of the flames was that in which the private apartments of the King are situated. The royal collection of works of art, one of the finest in Europe, comprising some of the most valuable paintings and statuary extant, was entirely destroyed.

PORTUGAL MAY APOLOGIZE.

In that Case England Will Be Compelled to Quiet Her Anger.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Persons in official circles profess to see indications that Portugal has decided to apologize to England for the acts of Major Serpa Pinto and, especially his conduct in hoisting the Portuguese flag on British protected territory and causing the British flag to be hauled down.

It is conceded that if Portugal shall do this England can insist on nothing further without incurring the suspicion of the powers that the ostensible object of her quarrel with Portugal is entirely foreign to the real one, concerning which some explanation should soon be forthcoming.

The Ex-Emperor's Allowance.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The discontinuance by Brazil of the annual allowance voted to Dom Pedro upon his expatriation is regarded here as an indication of the republic's weakness. The grant was only an act of recompense toward an old man who had always done his utmost for Brazil and a proof of the confidence which the republic felt in its own solidity. To abrogate it is looked upon in Europe as a truckling to the mob power, which augurs ill for the new government.

Another Plot to Kill the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—The police have discovered the existence of a deep laid and widely pervading plot against the life of the Czar, further investigation into which will certainly result in many important arrests. The Nihilists are abandoning their policy of open terrorism and resorting to methods more secret.

An Early Dissolution of Parliament.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Freeman's Journal states that it has learned from excellent authority that Lord Salisbury has in contemplation an early dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the country on the Government's new Irish issues.

Parnell to Make a Full Denial.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—It is stated that at a meeting of the Irish party to be held on the eve of the reassembling of Parliament Mr. Parnell will make a full denial of the charges brought against him by Captain O'Shea.

French Theaters Closed.

LYONS, Jan. 2.—Theaters here and at Marseilles are closed on account of an epidemic of influenza among the companies.

AN ELOPER ARRESTED.

The Sequel to the Love Affair of a Young Miner of New Boston.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 2.—Alfred Evans, a young English miner, of New Boston, is locked up in a cell in the county jail. He was arrested for eloping with Mary Ellen Kale, a buxom and blushing fifteen-year-old girl of New Boston. Evans is a tall, muscular man who had been working in the mines at New Boston for some time when he met Miss Kale.

They fell in love with each other. He wooed her ardently, but the mother of the girl did not look with favor on Evans, and told her daughter not to receive his attentions. Two weeks ago the miner and the girl decided to elope. They ran away to Tremont and took up their home in a boarding house there. After a long search a man at New Boston learned that the runaway couple were at Tremont.

The mother of the girl, with Constable Becker, of Ashland, hurried to Tremont and surprised the pair. The constable arrested Evans and the mother took charge of her daughter. Evans was brought to the county jail and Miss Kale was taken home. Evans will most probably be put on trial this month.

BACK FROM CANADA.

Gideon P. Brown Says He is Sorry He Went Away.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—Business circles were surprised over the announcement of the return of Gideon P. Brown, the senior member of the firm of Brown, Steese & Clark. He has been in Canada since the failure of the firm in August. He was seen by a reporter and said:

"I have very little talk to make about my affairs; I think enough has been said. I have this much to say, however, I have returned voluntarily to Boston to do all in my power in the settlement of my affairs and those of the firm of which I was a member. I feel that my departure was a mistake that I should not have made, but the blow came upon me suddenly and was so wholly unlooked for that I found myself going away from Boston almost without knowing it. Now I have returned and will do all that I possibly can to assist the settlement of all my affairs. There was no reason for my leaving this city. If I had had proper time for reflection I would not have done so. I never at heart intended to wrong anyone."

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

A Brooklyn Lawyer Dies Under Suspicious Circumstances.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 2.—Frederick C. Goodrich, son of W. W. Goodrich, a well-known lawyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., died here under very suspicious circumstances.

He had charge of the Richmond granite quarries near this city, and last Sunday week came to his hotel badly bruised and beaten. He went to his room and to bed and steadily grew worse until finally pneumonia set in.

He had evidently been knocked down and his chest stamped, and it is believed he was the victim of a murderous assault. The remains will be taken to New York.

Detectives have their eyes on a suspected man who it is expected will be arrested to-day. The affair will be thoroughly investigated.

An Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

READING, Pa., Jan. 2.—An epidemic of typhoid fever has prevailed in Northern Berks County for some weeks. Many deaths have occurred. The disease is attributed to the pollution of the waters of Maiden Creek by carcasses of cattle that have died of a contagious cattle complaint now prevalent. As this city is erecting works to obtain drinking water from that stream, an official inquiry into the matter will be made.

Eight Clubs in the New England League.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 2.—The New England Baseball League elected F. C. Bancroft, of this city, president; A. W. Long, of Hartford, vice-president, and J. C. Morse, secretary and treasurer. It was voted to make the league an eight-club organization, with a fixed salary limit of $1,500 per month, to include the salary of the manager. Providence has asked leave to come in, and it is understood that Holyoke and Waterbury will both apply for admission.

Democrats in a Tight Place.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Politicians are excited over a report that Senator Robertson is lying at the point of death at Sidney, O., having been stricken with paralysis, and that Representative Lawler is dangerously ill at Newark, O. If the Senators should die it will put the Democrats in a tight place, as they would be unable to get a bill through without the assistance of a Republican.

A Cave-in Creates Excitement.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 2.—The ground under the Lehigh Valley Railroad locomotive shops, which are located directly over a coal mine, caved in. The foundation walls of the building cracked and some of the machinery was badly injured. There was considerable excitement among the 400 workmen in the shops, but no one was injured.

Fatal Work of a Telephone Wire.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 2.—A broken telephone wire fell upon the horses drawing a Pleasant Valley street car in Alleghany City and one of the horses was killed instantly and the other fatally injured. The driver and passengers received slight shocks but were not seriously hurt. The broken wire was crossed with an electric light wire.

Died Playing the Banjo.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 2.—John Hopper, a wandering negro minstrel twanged his banjo a few minutes on Market street and then sank to the sidewalk in an exhausted condition. He died in the City Hospital a few hours after his admission.

New York's Death Roll.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Two policemen died yesterday of pneumonia resulting from influenza. Of the 164 deaths in this city 56 were of pneumonia, 24 of phthisis and 20 from bronchitis. The total is 32 less than the day before.

The Wife Butcher Sentenced.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 2.—John W. Green, the colored farm hand, who butchered his wife in a shocking manner in the streets of this city in broad daylight on August 31, has been sentenced to hang January 15.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Mrs. Margaret Lathers, of Shopiere, Wis., died Dec. 7, aged 91 years.

An Albany (Vt.) man has shipped to western markets this year 8,000 tons of maple sugar, valued at $97,000.

"You look so much like your brother," said Dennis to Phelim, "that I could tell yez was brothers if I'd niver seen aither av yez."

Baron Dounezal, a French officer, proposes that France and Germany should fight on a new principle, each country to have 100,000 men on its side only.

The Southern Pacific Railroad company has made preparations for fencing both sides of its tracks in Oregon. It will require 700 miles and will cost $168,000.

"No, darling," said mother to her sick child, "the doctor says I mustn't read to you." "Then, mamma," begged the little girl, "won't you please read to yourself out loud?"

A well known doctress, member of Sorosis, positively forbids the promiscuous kissing of children and the blowing on food to cool it, both common and bad practices, for the reason that the breath is often tainted and diseases are thereby transferred.—New York World.

It is being noted by the London press that the son of the Archbishop of Canterbury has become stage manager of a theatre and that the daughter of the Bishop of Gloucester will appear in the Christmas pantomime at Her Majesty's.

A remarkable spot in Vermont is the farming town of Waltham, which contains 9,760 acres of land and has 248 inhabitants. It has no postoffice, church, town house, poor house, store, lawyer, doctor, blacksmith's shop, nor even a bridge, and yet it is one of the thriving towns of Addison county. Its taxes are merely nominal.

Thomas Hart Benton was a fighter by temperament and experience. Once, in the senate, a senator had referred to what he called "a quarrel" of Benton's. "Mr. President, sir," said the great Missourian, sternly, "the senator is mistaken, sir. I never quarrel, sir; but I sometimes fight, sir, and whenever I fight, sir, a funeral follows, sir!"

Bill Nye, on a recent visit to Philadelphia, called upon a well known music lover, and while there was asked to write in an autograph album. He did so, and among other things wrote the following: "Wagner's music, I have been informed, is really much better than it sounds."

The wisdom of planting willows has been justified during the recent floods, says a New York paper. The government engineer in charge of the Potomac river improvements states that where willows were planted the land was protected from washing, and practically no damage was done, while in the improved lands not so protected there was great loss.

In his message to the South Carolina legislature, Governor Richardson recommends the separation of the two races in railroad coaches. The collection and preservation by the state of all the flags of the Confederate army and navy is also recommended. The governor says these ensigns represent the honor and valor of the people, and the state should take care that they are reverently preserved as honored memorials of the gallant and self sacrificing devotion of her sons.

The Berlin court will be exceptionally gay this year, now that the mourning for the two emperors is at an end. Beside the formal state balls and receptions there will be fancy dress balls, tableaux vivants and private theatricals. Emperor William has made numerous alterations in court dress and ceremonial, which have been solemnly communicated to the foreign ministers. As to the German officials, two columns of The Official Gazette are devoted to their gala uniforms, specifying every button and scrap of embroidery.

Of all royal personages the Prince of Wales is the most noted for the enormous quantity of luggage which he causes to be sent with him on his journeys. He takes whole boxes of hats and huge trunks of dress suits, morning coats and other changes. He makes a point when visiting anywhere of not being seen twice in the same coat, and the variety of his garments is as astonishing as the tailor's bill for them must be long.

Allegheny's Aquatic Gardens.

The Allegheny parks, through the gift of Henry Phipps, will have the finest aquatic gardens in the United States. All that yet remains is the building of the tanks in the new building. There will be one large central tank, forty-eight feet long and thirty feet wide, which will be surrounded by eighty-two others, made of slate, each six feet square. They will all be used for aquatic plants exclusively, among them being varieties of the nymphea nelumbium. In this family the famous lotus flower is perhaps the best known, it being the sacred flower of Egypt, which figures so much in the decorations of Egyptian architecture.

The most important flower, however, will be one called Victoria Regia, whose home is on the banks of the Amazon river, in Brazil. Its leaves and stalk grow to a length of twenty feet, and it is superbly beautiful.—Pittsburg Times.

The Utilization of Garbage.

The bulletin of the Rhode Island state board of health reports that Milwaukee will abandon the cremation of garbage, which it was among the first of the western cities to adopt and advocate. It is proposed to substitute a dry process in the place of combustion. A company is at work with a new method which converts cities' refuse into articles more or less salable. The garbage is made to pass through a series of mechanical driers, and in the course of ten hours becomes a brown powder. The oil is pressed out or drawn off, and the residue can be sold as a fertilizer.

What a Child Should Learn.

According to Dr. Jerome Walker, a child should learn that, unlike the lower animals, he needs a certain variety of food, to make bone, muscle, nerve and sinew, and to give strength and beauty. He should be taught about his organs of digestion, and that by the proper use of them he will grow strong and healthy. He should know, moreover, what teeth are for, and something as to digestive processes. Unlike the cow, sea lion and other animals, he cannot bolt his food with impunity, and he should know the reason why.

Not to Be Interrupted.

"James," said the editor of a great daily newspaper to the office boy, "I shall be very much occupied for a couple of hours and must on no account be disturbed."

"Yessir," said James, and the editor locked himself in his private office and with his coat off and his shirt sleeves rolled up began an editorial on baseball.—The Epoch.

Dressing Two Daughters.

Two sisters of nearly the same age in England are not arrayed now in the same colors nor stuff, but in tints and materials which complement and harmonize with one another, and thus clothed they send the young woman forth to conquer. The only bad feature of this plan is that in order to show one another off the girls must stay together.

SERVING THE WRITS

The Work of Evicting Miners Commenced.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR PROTEST.

They Will Appeal to Governor Beaver to Stay the Executions.

About 450 Families Notified to Vacate Their Houses Within Ten Days—Claiming the Benefit of the $300 Exemption Law—There Has Not Yet Been Any Serious Trouble.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 3.—The Sheriff of Jefferson County to-day served writs of ejectment upon 45 of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Coal Company's tenants at Walston and Adrian. The tenants were told to get out as soon as possible. Those who can find shelter elsewhere will move out at once, but the large majority, having no place to go, will remain in the houses until ejected.

The Knights of Labor officials have claimed the benefit of the $300 exemption law for all those who have been notified to vacate their dwellings, thus placing the attending expense upon the company. The Knights will also appeal to Governor Beaver to stay the execution of the writs until quarters can be procured for families of the miners ejected. In all about 450 families have been notified to vacate their houses within ten days.

A committee of miners visited a gang of Italians quartered at DuBois awaiting the company's orders to come here, and persuaded them to go away. There has not as yet been any serious trouble.

Superintendent Haskell declares that he will open the mines on Monday at any cost. The company is at an expense of about $700 a day in maintaining its guard of 140 Pinkerton men, and the officials say they will break the strike if it costs the company $1,000,000.

The attempt to put in new men next Monday will be resisted and bloodshed may result, as the Hungarians are desperate.

M'ALLISTER'S BALL.

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland Present and a New Quadrille Danced.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The New Year's ball last night was a great success. The interior of the Metropolitan Opera House resembled a sylvan bower, and all the leaders of society were there. After a waltz, a polka, the lancers and a second waltz, the chief event of the dancing, the Sir Roger de Coverly quadrille, was executed. This was a most elaborate production, on which Mr. McAllister had spent much time and thought.

There were four sets, the inner two being composed of noted society dignitaries and handsome matrons, and the outer two of young people. Mr. McAllister, with Mrs. Robert Goelet, led one set, and Lispenard Stewart, with Miss Hope Goddard, of Providence, another. The two on the sides were led by George H. Bend with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, and Mr. T. H. Howard with Mrs. August Belmont, Jr.

After the dancing supper was served. The patronesses and committee of the ball sat together at one table. Mr. McAllister and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt sat at the head and Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Roosevelt at the foot. Mrs. Grover Cleveland sat at Mr. McAllister's right, and the ex-President next to Mrs. Roosevelt.

Ministers and the Single Tax.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Rev. J. O. Huntington, of New York, or "Father" Huntington as he is generally known, delivered an address to a large audience in City Hall last evening under the auspices of the Single Tax Union. Rev. Dr. Myron Adams of the Plymouth Congregational Church presided and introduced the speaker. Rev. J. W. A. Stewart, of the First Baptist Church, Rev. G. G. Snepp, of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, and other clergymen and prominent citizens occupied seats on the platform.

The Depositors Must Wait.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 3.—A stir was caused in this city when Assignee Gunster, of the suspended Scranton City Bank, informed the depositors that the January dividend, now due, could not be paid for the present. Seventy per cent. of the indebtedness has already been provided for, and the directors had agreed to indemnify the assignee for whatever sums he needed, so that he could pay 10 per cent. instalments on January 1, February 1 and March 1.

They Will Not Strike.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 3.—The threatened strike of the various electric light companies in this county has failed to materialize, and it is now believed that no general strike will be inaugurated. The men at work stated to their employers and the officials of the union to-day that while they do not wish to be classed as non-union men, they do not feel justified in striking under the present circumstances.

Fired a Bullet Into His Brain.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—A well-dressed unknown man walked to the top of Mount Prospect in Lincoln Park and placing a 32-calibre revolver in his mouth fired a bullet into his brain. He died almost instantly.

1,000 Miners Out of Work.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Jan. 3.—Ex-Congressman Scott's Pennsylvania colliery has suspended operations, throwing 1,000 miners out of work.

A Famous Horseman Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Hiram Howe, the famous horseman, died at Gravesend. During his life he brought out many of the most famous trotters.

HE GETS HIS WIFE.

Miss Newcombe Chooses Between Husband and Father.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Geo. W. Lederer, the theatrical agent who was married to Miss Florence Newcombe, daughter of Lawyer Richard S. Newcombe, has left with his wife for Philadelphia, where they will spend a short honeymoon.

At the termination of the criminal proceedings against Lederer, who was charged with bigamy, Mr. Newcombe took his daughter away to Chicago. There he sought to dissuade her from living with Lederer.

Persuasion was, however, of no avail and on Monday last he told her, in a fit of anger, to choose between her family and Lederer.

She decided in favor of her husband and bade her father good-by after he had given her $50 with which to defray her expenses to New York. She was met on her arrival here by her husband and shortly afterward they left for Philadelphia.

NEW COUNTY JUDGES.

Governor Hill Fills Several Vacancies on the Bench.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The following County Judges have been appointed by Governor Hill:

Lewis E. Griffith, of Troy, as County Judge, of Rensselaer county, in place of Edgar L. Fursman, resigned.

Sylvester L. Taylor, of Elmira, as County Judge, of Chemung county, to succeed himself, appointed last September.

J. Henry Metcalf of Canandaigua, as County Judge of Ontairo County, in the place of Frank Rice, resigned.

John F. Kinney, of Rochester, as Special County Judge of Monroe County, in the place of William E. Werner, resigned.

Almon A. Vandusen of Mayville, as County Judge of Chautauqua County, in the place of James Lambert, resigned.

PRAISE FOR MARY ANDERSON.

Mr. Navarro Says She is as Much Attached to the Church as the Stage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Mr. Jose F. Navarro denies the report that his son is engaged to marry Mary Anderson. He says the couple are friends and nothing more and he thinks Miss Anderson is more likely to enter a convent than to get married. She is very devout and almost as much attached to the church as to the stage. Recently in London she scrubbed the floor in one of the hospitals as an act of humility.

"Miss Anderson," Mr. Navarro says, "is a noble, beautiful woman, as modest as she is unpretending and as pure as she is good. He would be a lucky man who could get her for a wife, but I think her inclinations are the other way."

Murdered by a Worthless Fellow.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 3.—Another murder has been added to the long list. Jefferson J. Lower, a young married butcher, was shot by James Burnie, a married man, and a worthless fellow. There was an old grudge between the men. Meeting in a saloon Burnie abused and struck Lower. Then he drew a pistol and while Lower was running away shot him twice. Lowe died.

Refuse to Arrest Powderly.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 3.—Yesterday a constable in this city received by mail a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Powderly, sworn out by Edward Callaghan, of Scottdale. The warrant was presented to Alderman Donahue for his endorsement, but after a careful examination the Alderman refused to endorse it. Mr. Powderly leaves to-day on a lecturing tour of eight weeks.

The Boy Murderer Sentenced.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 3.—Judge Solders sentenced Otto Leuth, the 17-year-old boy who was recently convicted of the murder of little Maggie Thompson, to be hanged at Columbus, on April 16. Leuth's mother, who was during the trial an object of popular pity, fainted on hearing the sentence of her son, and had to be carried from the court room.

Troops in South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 3.—Company "A" of the Twelfth Regiment, from Fort Sully, passed through this city and across the river, where they have orders to remain indefinitely to preserve the peace. They will stay at Fort Pierre on the mile square until the land is opened and all danger is past.

Survey Ordered for a New Railroad.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The Troy & New England Railroad Company organized here by electing Walter P. Warren, president, William A. Thompson, vice-president, and J. J. Tillinghast, treasurer. A preliminary survey was ordered for a route.

A Drummer Commits Suicide.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Louis Hoefler, a well-known traveling man for Warner, Jellink & Warner of this city, committed suicide at the residence of his sister. As far as known there was no cause for the deed.

Hasted After the Speakership.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Hon. James W. Husted has taken up his headquarters at the Delevan House, where he will conduct his canvass for the Speakership. His parlors are filled with callers to-day.

No Cause for Alarm at Barnwell.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 3.—Barnwell is quiet. The citizens of Blackville and Bamberg, who helped to protect the town last night, have gone home. There is no cause for alarm.

Senator Quay Quite Ill.

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 3.—Senator Quay has been confined to his room for three days with influenza and is quite ill. It is doubtful if he will be able to return to Washington next week.

CANADA'S DESTINY

Annexationists Secure a Signal Victory at Windsor.

POLITICAL UNION THE ISSUE.

The Result of the Election for Mayor a Most Significant One.

The Successful Candidate Invited to Test the Strength of Annexation Feeling—A Surprise for His Opponents—The Question Will Now be Agitated Throughout the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 3.—There is great rejoicing in the camp of those who are advocating closer trade and political relations with the United States. Sol White, the out-and-out annexationist, has been elected on that ticket Mayor of the old conservative town of Windsor. This is the first signal victory and by many is believed to be the beginning of the end as regards the ultimate political destiny of Canada.

Sol White is ranked among the ablest lawyers in the Dominion. Until recently he was a strong Conservative and sat in the Ontario Legislature. He was a trusted and confidential party worker for both Meredith and Sir John Macdonald, and the latter is down-hearted at learning that one of his henchmen has been the first to appeal to the people of Canada on the platform of political union with the United States and carry his appeal to a successful issue.

Mr. White takes the ground that the future welfare of Canada depends not upon British connection, but upon political union with the United States. The former, he contends, is a standing menace against the development of the country. He holds that nature never intended there should be a customs line between Canada and the United States, and that one form of government should control the affairs of the whole North American Continent.

The question of political union with the neighboring Republic has now been made a live issue in Canada, and, encouraged by the success of Mr. White has met with, many adherents will be found supporting the movement who have been up to the present moment restrained from announcing their views by feelings of delicacy of standing alone. Mr. White will now follow up the movement by a vigorous campaign, and will run for the Dominion Parliament on the same ticket the next general election.

It is only a few weeks since the Tory press of Canada was stating that a pound-keeper could not be elected in the Dominion on the ticket of political union with the United States if all the votes indorsing those views throughout the country were centered in one constituency.

THE CZAR'S CONDITION.

Terror Bordering on Frenzy and the Imperial Guard Strengthened.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—There was great alarm last night, caused by a false report of the Czar's death.

There are indications that his Majesty's condition is more serious than is publicly given out. The Imperial Guard, greatly strengthened, is on constant duty, and all public functionaries seem to be laboring under some unusual strain. It is impossible to learn whether the Czar's illness is from influenza or whether he has been poisoned.

His Majesty is in a state of alarm bordering on frenzy, and those who have been numbered among his most intimate attendants are actually afraid to go near him lest his terror assume a violent phase.

Thirty-two officers have been arrested charged with being members of a secret society, the object of which is to abolish the aristocracy and the establishment of a constitutional monarchy.

Gladstone's Literary Work.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Gladstone's literary activity shows no sign of abatement. Six magazine articles are shortly expected from the pen of the aged Liberal leader. One of these is a critical review of Lord Tennyson's new poem. This will appear in the new monthly, the Speaker, and is awaited with much interest.

The American Squadron at Tangier.

TANGIER, Jan. 3.—The American Squadron of Evolution arrived at this port to-day. Owing to the prevalence of influenza on board the vessels they did not land any of their officers or crew. It was stated that there were 45 cases of the disease, about evenly divided between the ships.

Stanley Leaves Cairo.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 3.—Henry M. Stanley took his departure for Cairo on the Egyptian steamer Mausourah. The Sultan of Zanzibar has decorated Stanley with the Order of the Blazing Star.

Royal Sufferers.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Among the sufferers from influenza are the Queen of Saxony and the Grand Duchess of Baden. The Queen of Roumania is also seriously ill with influenza.

Mutual Coke Works Sold.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 3.—Coulter & Huff, of Greensburg, closed the sale of the Mutual Coke Works and adjoining coal lands to the United Coal & Coke Company of Pittsburg for $300,000. The plant purchased embraces 600 acres of land. The new owners will erect 200 additional ovens.

Threw Herself from a Third Story Window.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Ellen Carroll, 38 years old, and the mother of four children, threw herself from a third story window in the flat house, No. 315 East Ninety-Eighth street, while delirious from a violent attack of la grippe. She was instantly killed.

MUSIC MOST SUBLIME.

CHORUS, SOLOISTS AND ORCHESTRA IN A GRAND PROGRAMME.

The Plainfield Choral Society Gives its Opening Concert of the Season—An Audience of Plainfield's Best People in Evening Dress—The Rendition Vocally Faultless.

The first private concert of the Plainfield Choral Society of this season, was given at Music Hall, last evening, before a gathering of subscribers that included all the best people. Evening dress prevailed and the effect was particularly pleasing, while the compliment to the Society was as marked as it was well deserved.

Mr E. J. Fitzhugh was the conductor as of past seasons, and the Society was assisted for the occasion by Madame Henriette Beebe-Lawton, Soprano, Miss Marion S. Weed, Contralto, Mr. Wm. H. Lawton, Tenor, Mr. Carl E. Dufft, Baritone, Miss Jessie Utter, Accompanist, and an orchestra from the New York Philharmonic Society, which included an unnecessary drum that was off the key.

The principal feature of the programme was Gaul's fine work, "The Holy City." Although in places it lacks depth and breadth, never was a musical composition given in Plainfield so good in so many of its parts, and with words throughout so beautiful. The instrumental introductions to the first and second parts, "Contemplation," and "Adoration," were exquisite, but as a whole the orchestra was uncertain in several places, and the trumpet coming in out of tune threw the chorus out in their opening, "No Shadows Yonder," and spoiled what would otherwise have been a fine effect.

The Chorus, although somewhat lessened in numbers by sickness, showed care and perseverance on the part of Mr. Fitzhugh in their training. The attacks were well made and the shading excellent. The parts were also well balanced, although the sopranos might have been thought a little too strong on one or two occasions. In "The Holy City," the chorus that closed the first part, "Thine is the Kingdom," was probably the finest; although "Let the Heavens Rejoice," a double chorus and fugue, and the finale, "Great and Marvelous are Thy Works," a heavy chorus and fugue, were very well sung.

Those who sang the special parts of Gaul's work, were Mrs. Lawton, Miss Weed, Mrs. Asa Collier, Miss Julia Ketcham and Messrs. Lawton and Dufft. The quartette for female voices sung by those above mentioned, was one of the evening's gems. Mrs. Lawton's solos, however, were not well received and did not deserve to be. She showed her possession of a perfect method but a passe voice. She improved somewhat on her first appearance as the programme continued, and in her duett with Miss Weed, "They Shall Hunger no More," the blending of the voices was most agreeable.

Miss Weed's voice is a fresh, rich contralto, that everybody present decidedly approved of. Her singing of Goring Thomas' "Summer Night," called forth such loud and persevering applause that she was compelled to give another, Becker's "Spring Song." Her solo, "Eye Hath Not Seen," in "The Holy City," was an exquisite thing and perfectly sung; and another, "Come Ye Blessed," was beautifully rendered by her followed by an unaccompanied quartette by the principal soloists, well sung. Mr. Lawton's voice is rather good though not remarkably sweet. He received a recall to his solo in the first part, but in his modesty he had not provided an encore piece. His solo, "My Soul is Athirst for God," in "The Holy City," was especially fine.

Mr. Dufft, who THE PRESS has had occasion before to commend, has a voice of fine quality. His selections in the beginning of the evening, however, were not calculated to show off such a voice as his, and were also too quiet to awaken any response from a naturally cold audience so early in the programme. But his solo in "The Holy City," with the chorus "Holy, Holy!" sung by the Chorus pianissimo, thoroughly aroused the enthusiasm of all and called forth an involuntary applause.

Of the part songs and choruses that composed the first part, Dudley Buck's "Hymn to Music" can alone claim any personal character. Part songs are seemingly all made over the same last, but the one spoken of above is rather a classical composition. It was well sung, too, but appreciated only by those who make such music a study. The basso part was most difficult but rendered even better than they themselves expected. "Love and Summer," a part song by John E. West, was a most charming thing that so delighted the audience its repetition was demanded and accorded.

The Society is favored in having an accompanist among its members so valuable as Miss Utter. She displayed her talent in that direction in playing perfectly from the orchestral score, the piano part of "The Holy City" without any previous rehearsal, and also in playing at sight the difficult accompaniment to Reinhold Becker's "Spring Song" a piece with which she was unfamiliar. The piano used, however, was a wretched one, and to a highly tempered ear the instrument at times marred things considerably.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Ida Musgrave, of Washington Park, is visiting friends in Washington, D. C.

Ex-Councilman Tell A. Beguelin is recovering from his recent attack of pneumonia.

Mr. A. T. Marsh of New York city is spending a few days with his mother on West Fifth street.

Mrs. S. R. Hope of East Third street, is confined to the house suffering from a severe attack of la grippe.

At the Epworth League to-night at Vincent Chapel, the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell will deliver an address on "Some Things I saw in Rome."

Miss Sadie Stillman of Westerly, R. I., is visiting Miss Ernestine Smith of New street, and also Miss Mary, daughter of Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis.

Mr. William Moore, better known as "Uncle Billy," is confined to his home on East Second street by illness. His many friends eagerly hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs Lilla B. Welcome, of Saratoga, N Y., will sing at the entertainment in Reform Hall, this evening. The occasion being the Christmas anniversary of the First Church of Christ.

Miss Gussie Bagot, of Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, N. Y., who is always a welcome guest, is spending the week among her large circle of relatives and friends in this city and North Plainfield.

Letters from Mrs. Jacob Kirkner in Berlin state that despite cold weather and snow throughout Germany, La Grippe is alarmingly prevalent. The younger Miss Kirkner who has been very sick, is steadily recovering.

The marriage is announced of Mr. George Wyckoff and Miss Mamie McCord, both of this city, which occurred at the residence of the bride's parents at Deckertown, N. Y., on New Year's Day, Rev. Mr. Thorben officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Wyckoff will reside in this city.

The funeral of the late Rev. William Patton, father of Mr. Wm. L. Patton, of East Ninth street, this city, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martin Welles, at Westfield, early on Tuesday morning, took place from the Congregational church there yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Rev. Cornelius Patton, the pastor, who is also a son of the deceased, officiated.

Mrs. Abigail Lorton, mother of Eugene V. Lorton, of this city, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning, at her home in Jamaica, L. I. She was 88 years of age on Christmas day. Four brothers of Mrs. Lorton were in the war of 1812, only one of whom was killed. She had four sons in the late civil war, and only one of these was killed. The coincidence is further remakable because the four brothers were the same age as the four sons, when they enlisted.

La Grippe in the City Council.

Councilmen F. E. Marsh and Henry B. Newhall are both confined to the house by illness. It is really unfortunate that Mr. Marsh should be taken ill just at this time, inasmuch as he had expected to report on the street railway and some other important matters at the final meeting of the City Council this evening. In view of this fact it may become necessary for the Council to hold another meeting either to-morrow evening or on Monday morning.

—The ice dealers are anxiously looking forward for a bountiful supply of ice.

CHRISTMAS TREE AND FESTIVAL.

The Germans Commemorate Christmastide in a Commendable Manner—Presents for All, Old and Young.

The Christmas tree and festival of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein was held in the Gesang and Turner Hall, on New Year's Eve, and to say that all the preliminary arrangements were carried out in every detail goes without mention. The committee who had the entertainment in charge consisted of the following persons:

Ladies—Mrs. Bohnacker, President; Mrs. Krone, Secretary; Mrs. Denckla, Treasurer; and Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Wunderlick.

Gentlemen—Joseph Bremer, President; M. Heubner, Secretary, and Eugene Hoerster. The Reception Committee were Messrs. H. Haurand and Charles Dresselt. Mr. Chas. Myer was Floor Manager.

At 9:30 P. M., Mr. Martin Heubner, the teacher, had the scholars of the German school, 76 in number, march up before a heavily ladened tree, and each pupil received a gift of more than nominal value. After a few recitations by the pupils, President Weigman on behalf of the Society presented Mr. Heubner with a box of choice cigars and a meerschaum holder, to which the recipient of the gift responded ably.

At eleven o'clock, all the children in the hall got a present, and the ladies were also given candy and oranges. Dancing followed until an unusually late—or rather early—hour.

AN UNBIASED COURT.

No Saloon License for Linke.

The Court at Somerville, this morning, very properly refused to grant Frank Linke, of Somerset street, North Plainfield, a saloon license. Judges Magie, Bartine, Jamison and Ten Eyck were all present, and it being shown that Linke who has a bottler's license, permitted beer to be drunk about his premises—although outside his building and out of his sight—application for a saloon license was refused.

R. V. Lindabury appeared for the applicant and Borough Counsel Charles A. Reed against the application. Fifteen witnesses were examined on both sides of the case. On cross-examination Linke asserted it was none of his business where his customers drank the beer after they left his place. The Court informed him differently.

Christmas Festival of the Unitarians.

The last of the Sunday school entertainments of the Christmas season was that of the Unitarians, which took place on New Year's afternoon. A handsomely trimmed Christmas tree and other symbols of the season adorned the church parlors, which were quite too small to accommodate comfortably the company which met to enjoy the festivities.

The programme embraced several songs and recitations by the children and a charming original "Christmas Story in Rhyme," by the pastor, the Rev. W. P. Tilden. The first gift bestowed was a token of esteem presented in a few appropriate words, in behalf of the school, by the Superintendent, H. B. Wells, to His Honor, Mayor Male, the generous patron of the new society. This was followed by the entrance of Santa Claus in a striking costume, who brought forth from his well filled pack a present for each pupil of the school and, to add to the jollity of the occasion, a toy for every one present. Then the tree was stripped of its stocking-shaped ornaments that were filled with confections and pop-corn, and all, young and old, shared in the distribution of them.

As either influenza or the Choral Society's concert was claiming the attention of the members of the Soldiers Monument Committee, the stated meeting of last night to view other plans was adjourned for one week.

Whooping cough, croup, sore throat, sudden colds, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take, certain in its action, and adapted to all constitutions.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

What the People at Scotch Plains Find to Talk About.

Walter Frazee, the young man who mysteriously left his home several weeks ago, is still among the missing, and his parents and friends now firmly believe that he is dead.

Seeley's paper mill at Feltville is being rebuilt on an enlarged plan.

DON'T PAY THEIR STATE TAX.

Two Plainfield Companies Proceeded Against by the Attorney General.

The Attorney General of the State, John P. Stockton, gives notice that he will apply to the Chancellor at the State House on the 21st inst, for an injunction to restrain the "Plainfield Land Improvement Co.," its officers and agents, from the exercise of its franchise or the transaction of any business, because of the non-payment of the tax of one per cent. on the amount of its capital stock for 1888 amounting to $45.

The "Plainfield Improvement Co.," also is similarly notified of the same action against it, for the tax of 1888 amounting to $75.

A Scarcity of Turkeys.

The turkey crop was very short among the farmers this year, owing to the wet weather early in the season. The heavy rains drowned many of the young turkeys, and the store-keepers and poultry dealers were in consequence far behind their orders. Not a few citizens of this city were unable to secure a turkey for their New Year's dinner, and those who were fortunate enough to have turkey, were obliged to pay at the rate of about twenty-five cents a pound.

It is probable the local dealers could have found sale for many more turkeys had they been obtainable.

Pansies on New Year's Day.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It may be worth putting on record, in regard to this remarkable Winter of 1889-1890, that here in Plainfield, in the open grounds of one of your readers, pansies are blooming on the first day of January.

Moreover, there has been no day through this Autumn and Winter when these modest beauties have not greeted us from the beds where they have grown and flowered since early Spring, and that without any extra covering or care.

REYNOLDS.

Pardoned from State Prison.

The New York papers on Wednesday contained a dispatch from Trenton, announcing the fact that on the previous day the Court of Pardons had met and pardoned out Louis Van Nest of this city, who was serving out a five year's sentance for acts of incendiarism alleged to have been committed by him a few years ago. The pardoned man has arrived home.

Ten Per Cent. a Year.

The First National Bank of this city has just declared another semi-annual dividend of five per cent.

What!

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Plainfield has decided to have water works. But what under the sun has Plainfield been having for the past two or three years under prohibition?

—Some comment has been made upon the action of the City Council in engaging the services of a New York engineer to superintend the construction of a water works system here, when there are four competent engineers residing in this city.

BAY STATE AFFAIRS.

Gov. Brackett Favors Biennial Elections and Annual Legislative Sessions.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Gov. Brackett, in his inaugural address, favors reduction of the direct State tax upon towns and of cities and a commensurate application of a tax upon large legacies and successions, and recommends the discontinuance of taxation on the capital of corporative banks.

The public schools are in better condition than ever, with an average attendance of 299,537; there are 396 private schools with 37,620 pupils, an increase of 7,530.

Saving banks show a total deposit for the year of $332,723,688, an increase of $17,538,618 over last year. The 93 cooperative banks are prosperous, but legislation to prevent danger of their establishment by persons unfamiliar with the requirements of the system is deemed advisable.

The taxation of the business, rather than the capital, of home insurance companies is recommended, as are also measures looking to ballot reform and primary meetings and regulation of electric wires.

The efficiency of the local option and restrictive liquor laws is shown and the Governor closes with a paragraph in advocacy of biennial elections, but annual sessions of the Legislature.

Pitcher Ferson explicitly denies that he has corresponded with the Boston League club, looking to jumping his Brotherhood contract, but he said the Brotherhood had not done as it agreed to in his case, signing him for $1,900 when it promised $2,500, and if it did not soon come to time he should feel at liberty to go wherever he could do the best.

Beat His Head to a Jelly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Nicholas Muller, aged 28, a truckman living in a shanty at the foot of West 71st street, was killed last night by a half-witted man called Crazy Hans, who occasionally helped Muller on odd jobs, but had no regular employment. Indigestion
Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—
"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The National Prototypes Received by the President.

OPENING THE SEALED BOXES.

The Proceeding Witnessed by a Large Assemblage of Scientific Men.

Congressman Kelley Suffering from a Cancer—An Opinion that He Will Never Leave His Hotel Alive—Hon. Roswell Flower's Daughter Married—Mr. Blaine's Brother Secures an Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The national prototypes allotted to the United States at the International Convention of Weights and Measures in Paris, in September last, were formally received and accepted by the President in the presence of a distinguished company of representative scientific men. They were brought from Paris in two boxes, carefully sealed and marked, and have been vigilantly guarded from the moment of their manufacture. The boxes were opened by a mechanician from the United States Coast Survey.

The ceremony at the White House might convey the impression that the United States has formally adopted the metric system. Congress, on July 28, 1866, passed a law declaring that—

"It shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system, and no contract or dealing or pleading in any court shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system."

This act shows that Congress did not in this case use the power conferred upon it by the constitution in section 8 to fix a standard of weights and measures, but simply permitted the usage of the metric system without making it compulsory. There is no compulsory law in existence in the United States statutes on this subject, and therefore the simple fact of the President receiving the prototypes of the international standard does not change the condition of things which has existed heretofore.

DOM PEDRO'S JEWELS.

They are Deposited in the Treasury Vaults in Brazil Subject to His Order.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Valente, the Brazilian Minister, has received Rio Janeiro papers of Dec. 8, in which are given the details of the inventory recently taken of the Imperial property. The crown jewels, as well as those belonging to the Emperor, Empress, and the other members of the imperial household, were deposited in the treasury vaults, subject to the orders of the Emperor. The inventory was taken by the officials, acting with a trustee, who is a personal friend of the Emperor, and was appointed by the Government to look after his interests. Mr. Valente expressed surprise that some of the American newspapers seem to be still under the impression that the Provisional Government had confiscated the property of the Emperor. The Government, he said, had never contemplated such action, but on the contrary had taken every precaution to preserve it subject to his orders.

Mr. Valente said he was gratified to see from the details of the inventory, as published in the Brazilian newspapers, that the Emperor possessed much more property than was generally believed, even in Brazil.

TARIFF LEGISLATION.

Woollen Manufacturers Discontented and Sore Over the Present Duty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee has developed the fact that the woolen manufacturers of the United States, almost without exception, are sore and discontented, because the duty upon woolen goods are in many cases lower upon the raw material of which they are made. The ad valorem petition, carried 206 signatures, among them A. D. Juilliard & Co., of New York; the Assabet Manufacturing Company, of Maynard, Mass.; and the Pacific Mills and the Harris Woolen Company, of Woonsocket, R. I.

Silas G. Hubbard, president of the New England Tobacco Growers' Association will act as spokesman before the Committee on Ways and Means next Monday and Tuesday for the Tobacco Growers' Association of the United States, in presenting the demands of farmers in the matter of tariff legislation. He favors the repeal of the internal tax on tobacco.

Congressman Flower's Daughter Married.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Miss Emma Gertrude Flower, daughter of Representative Flower of New York, and Mr. John Byron Taylor, of Watertown, N. Y., were married last evening at the residence of the bride's father, in this city. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Douglas, of St. John's Church. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucy S. Downing, of New York, and Miss Katherine Flower, a cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. John Flower, of New York city. The house was elaborately decorated with flowers, potted plants and vines. The bridal presents were numerous and handsome.

Judge Kelley's Dangerous Condition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—For several days Judge Kelley has been confined to his room at the Riggs House with an illness, the progress of which has been painfully apparent to his friends since the assembling of Congress. His affliction is cancer of the face, for which he had an operation performed in Europe some years ago. There can be but little doubt but that Judge Kelley's days in Congress are ended. Col. Shaw, his intimate friend, says "he will never leave the hotel alive."

Mr. Blaine's Brother Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Robert G. Blaine, brother of the Secretary of State, and who has for the past eight years been curator in the Agricultural Department, has received the appointment as deputy first auditor of the Treasury Department and will enter upon the discharge of his duties within the next few days.

Adjourned Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The Pan-American Congress re-assembled after its holiday recess. None of the committees were ready to present their reports, and so after a short session the Congress adjourned until Monday next.

TWO OLD WOMEN ATTACKED.

Their Throats Cut by Robbers and Both May Die.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—A mysterious assault, which threatens to end fatally, was made on two old women, Sarah Kelly, aged nearly 70, and Annie Kelly, aged 72.

The two women are sisters and live alone in an old two-story building on Master street.

They had considerable money about the house, and the attack on their lives was probably made for the purpose of robbery. The throats of both women are horribly cut, and one of them had barely strength enough to call a neighbor to their assistance by signs. They were removed to St. Mary's Hospital.

Three men residing in the neighborhood were arrested.

BURNED TO A CRISP.

A Structure Torn to Atoms by a Terrific Gas Explosion.

ECONOMY, Pa., Jan. 3.—George Kirshbaum and John Becker, members of the Economite Society, entered the natural gas regulator house to adjust the valves which control the supply of fuel for the village. Kirshbaum carried a lighted lantern in his hand.

While the men were inside of the building a terrific explosion occurred, tearing the structure to atoms. Kirshbaum was blown out of the building with his clothing in flames, and expired in a few minutes. He was burned almost to a crisp. Becker was terribly burned and bruised but will probably recover. Kirshbaum was 50 years of age and had been a member of the society for about ten years.

EX-MINISTER BOKER DEAD.

He Had Represented the United States in Turkey and Russia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—George H. Boker, ex-Minister to Turkey and Russia, is dead, after eight weeks of suffering.

He was born in 1823, graduated from Princeton in 1842, and published his first book of poems in 1847. He was one of the founders of the original Union League of the United States.

He was appointed Minister to Turkey in 1871 by President Grant, and transferred to Russia in 1875.

At the time of his death he was president of the Fairmount Park Commission and quite wealthy. His death was due to a complication of diseases.

Another Serious Cave-in.

PLYMOUTH, Pa., Jan. 3.—About 200 feet of the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad caved in and the sinking has extended to the Methodist Episcopal Church, but that building has not yet been damaged. The entire territory surrounding the cave-in is undermined. Large gangs of men have been set to work in propping up the interior of the mines, and all of the miners have quit work.

A Rubber Trust in Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 3.—It is stated that the negotiations which have been in progress for some time with a view to the establishment of a rubber trust in this city are about completed. British capitalists, it is said, are to take an interest, amounting to $3,000,000. The trust will not take the active management of the local concerns, which will continue as they are.

A Murderess in Poor Health.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Hanna Southworth, who is a prisoner in the Tombs awaiting trial for the fatal shooting of Stephen Pettus, has steadily declined in health since her incarceration, and is now seriously ill with acute brochitis. The prison authorities do not believe she will live to undergo trial. Her mother remains with her constantly.

The Accused Engineer Acquitted.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 3.—In the case of William R. Rogers, a Pennsylvania Railroad engineer on trial for criminal negligence in causing the death of John C. Ryan, a conductor, the jury rendered a verdict of acquital. Rogers train ran into Ryan's while Rogers was asleep on his engine, having been on duty for 22 hours.

Female Globe Trotters.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Miss Bisland, who is traveling around the world to see how quickly she can make the trip, left Colombo, Ceylon, Tuesday. Miss Bly, who is circling the globe in the opposite direction from Miss Bisland, was due at Yokohama to-day.

The Old Committee Re-Elected.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—The Republican State Central Committee organized by the re-election of last year's officers, as follows: President, Joseph O. Burdett; secretary, J. Otis Wardwell; treasurer, Henry J. Wells; assistant secretary, E. A. Buffington.

The Late Father O'Hara's Will.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The will of the Rev. J. A. O'Hara has been offered for probate. He leaves property valued at $110,000. He leaves nearly half of it to relatives, the balance going to the St. Vincent De Paul Orphan Asylum and the House of Providence.

Pierced the Little Girl's Heart.

AKRON, O., Jan. 3.—Rosa Stake, the little daughter of a Green township farmer, fell on the points of a pair of shears, the blade piercing her heart. She pulled it out and the blood gushed out in a stream, and in an instant the little one was dead.

La Grippe in State Prison.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The Superintendent of State Prisons has been informed that there are 400 cases of la grippe among the prisoners in Clinton prison. The Warden's clerk and assistant clerk are confined to their beds.

Would Not Accept a Reduction.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 3.—Messrs. John Langdon & Co., proprietors of the Pink Ash Vein at the Neilson shaft, offered to start work at a reduction of 15 per cent., but the miners refused the offer and went on strike.

Failure of an Iron Firm.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 3.—The iron firm of Gurtin & Co., whose works are near this city, made an assignment in favor of ex-Governor Curtin and Constans Curtin. The liabilities are about $150,000.

The Fat Man's Story.

The boys had been looking at the fat man for some time as he strolled up and down the depot platform smoking a good cigar and his face wearing a look of contentment, and one of them finally observed that it was a good time for him to tell a story.

"Eh? A story to pass away the time—certainly," he replied as he sat down on a baggage truck recently painted a sky blue color.

"You must know, gentlemen," he began, after getting his legs crossed, "that I was not always at the head of the leading banking house of Chicago. No. All my life, up to ten years ago, was passed in the far west, on the plains and prairies and among the hills and mountains. I had, as you may suppose, numerous adventures. I was just thinking of my escape from a prairie fire, but the details might not interest you."

"Oh, yes they will!" we all cried in chorus.

"Well, one day in the fifties I was journeying across a Kansas prairie on foot. One morning I got up to find fifty miles of tall, dry grass between me and the hills. A strong breeze sprang up with the sun, and I had scarcely started on my way before I discovered a great smoke to windward. The Indians had set fire to the prairie to kill off the rattlesnakes, you know."

"By George! but you were in for it!" exclaimed the hardware drummer from St. Louis.

"Yes, I realized that in a moment. In five minutes I could see a billow of flame to windward. It was at least twenty miles long, and spreading as it came. It was coming faster than a horse could run. I figured that it would be upon me in five minutes."

"And you dug a hole in the earth!" queried the glue man from New York.

"I had nothing to dig with. If I had had the proper tools the time was too short."

"Then the wind changed," put in the Yankee notion man from Cincinnati.

"Never a point. As I stood there that great ocean of flame came roaring down toward me like the besom of destruction. I lost fully two minutes before I got to work. I could even feel the heat of the fierce flames scorching my flesh."

"But, hang it, man, you escaped!"

"I did."

"You don't show any scars of burns."

"No."

"Well, get to the point."

"I will. I waited until the flames were not over a mile away, and then I took my balloon off my back, pressed the button which permitted the natural gas to flow in from the reservoir, and, taking my seat in the chair, I shot up into the air about 500 feet and let the flames sweep under me. One of my boot heels was a little scorched, but that was all the damage done."

"Do you tell that for truth!" angrily demanded the starch man from Oswego.

"The solemn truth, gentlemen. Our company is now doing a general banking and balloon business—same style of balloons. We can and do undersell all others. Send in your orders early and avoid the winter rush. That's all."

Jonah the Second.

J. W. Kiesler, late commander's clerk, United States Navy, now a resident of Honesdale, Pa., told the following story to a Philadelphia Press reporter of a very remarkable experience of an American sailor with a whale. He says: George Leonard, an acting master in the United States Navy during the civil war, and stationed on board the gunboat Katahdin, West Gulf blockading squadron, in 1863, told a story of heroism, and exhibited marks on his body that corroborated his words. The year 1850 found Leonard as one of the crew on the ship Enterprise, a whaler in the North Pacific.

One day he was stationed in the bow of a whaleboat a long distance from the ship, with a brave crew who had sighted a whale and made for the monster with all possible dispatch. When within proper distance Leonard threw his harpoon, striking the fish hard and deep. In some manner the line as it was running out caught the body of one of the men in such a way as to throw him overboard. The man suddenly sank, whereupon Leonard transferred his line to a boatmate and sprang into the ocean in aid of the drowning sailor.

The whale, now maddened by his fast flowing blood, made a rush for the boat. Remarkable and horrible to relate, Leonard's friend had managed to regain the boat, while he himself was caught by the whale between his jaws, his position being inside the monster's mouth, with nothing protruding but one of his arms. In this manner the man was in reality within the jaws of death itself. The whale instantly plunged down into the deep, and, in the words of Leonard himself, "the fish seemed to be going down, down into eternity itself."

The imprisoned man, after all this, had not lost his presence of mind. He mustered his entire bodily strength—and he was a powerful man—actually bracing himself in such a position as to compel the fish to spread his jaws. At the same time, with his arm that was free, he grabbed the sheath knife out of its socket, cutting right and left. No sooner was there a sufficient opening made than Leonard forced his body outside.

Up to the surface he swam, when, most strange to say, he found himself within an arm's length of his boat. He was saved. The marks of the whale's violence and the dents of its teeth were very plainly visible on Leonard's arms, and he was always pointed out by his brother naval officers as "The second Jonah."

Your Billions of Ancestors.

Did you ever think how many male and female ancestors were required to bring you into the world? First, it was necessary that you should have a father and mother. That makes two human beings. Each of them must have had a father and mother. That makes four more human beings. Again, each of them must have had a father and mother, making eight more human beings. So on we go back to the time of Jesus Christ, fifty-six generations. The calculation thus resulting shows that 139,235,017,489,534,976 births must have taken place to bring you into this world—you who read these lines! All this since the birth of Christ—not since the beginning of time. According to Proctor, if from a single pair, for 5,000 years, each husband and wife had married at 21 years of age and there had been no deaths, the population of the earth would be 2,199,915 followed by 144 ciphers. It would require to hold this population a number of worlds the size of this, equal to 3,166,326 followed by 125 ciphers. The human mind shrinks in contemplating such immense numbers.—St. Louis Republic.

Married in Cotton.

Two happy couples were married in the presence of 60,000 people at the Piedmont exposition, at Atlanta, Ga. Both couples were rigged out in full suits of cotton manufacture. The gentlemen were ill at ease, and neither had the fashionable cut in their garments, but the brides were gotten up without regard to expense. The dress of one was cut en train, with V neck front and back and short sleeves. It was made of white cotton bagging and elaborately draped and trimmed with white ribbon and wide white rocking around the train and at the shoulders. The bridegrooms were dressed in suits of cotton bagging, the coats double breasted Prince Alberts and the vests low cut. The buttons were green cotton bolls.—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

ODD BITS AND BREVITIES.

"INSENITY" has been suggested as a name for the latest fad.

FIVE of the New York dailies have been forbidden circulation in Russia.

THE champion funeral crank is an old man of Pottstown, Pa., who claims to have attended four thousand funerals.

THE latest musical prodigy is a young boy in Luzerne, N. Y., who is said to be able to play "Parsifal" on a blade of grass held between his thumbs.

THE year 1818 was very fruitful of Massachusetts Governors, six of the men who have held that office within forty years having been born in that year.

THE Edison waltz and the Buffalo Bill galop have supplemented the Boulanger march as popular music in Paris. The Whitelaw Reid sonata is an imminent possibility.

THERE is a Mission grapevine at Carpenteria, Cal., which has a girth of six feet at the base, branching out in every direction for a hundred feet, and this year produced four tons of fruit.

AN intelligent canine that spends much of its time around a railroad crossing in Boston takes a position near the safety gates when a train approaches, and refuses to allow persons to pass until all danger is over.

A GIRL at Reading, Pa., postponed her wedding because she was unable to secure the white horses owned by a certain liveryman for the date she had fixed. The animals are in great demand for weddings and are said to bring luck to the bride.

AN Indian of Klamath Agency found recently in a cremation mound on the Klamath Indian reservation a Harrison badge of the campaign of 1841. The "log cabin" and profile view of General Harrison show quite plainly. Probably these Indians got the badge from General John C. Fremont's party when they traveled through that country.

AN usher at one of the leading theaters in Philadelphia has made himself very popular by quietly scanning a gentleman as the seat checks are handed him and apprising the person of any eccentricities in his wardrobe. Any man would give a quarter rather than walk down the aisle with some irregularity in his costume that would attract attention and criticism.

IN the basement of the White House Mrs. Harrison lately found two old mahogany cabinets which were used in the Executive mansion when it was first built. The cabinets are of Dutch manufacture and were imported from England. Mrs. Harrison, who is a lover of antique furniture, is delighted with her discovery and will restore the cabinets to their former place in the White House parlors.

IN a Market street furniture store in Philadelphia is exhibited a parlor suite that is said to be the most unique, with one exception, in this country. It is upholstered with palm-leaf fans, a single fan forming the seat and another the back of the chair. The frame work is of gilded bent wood. Two fans make a pretty substitute for the cushioned bottom of a tete-a-tete, and even the table-top is of fans. It was made to order for a West Philadelphia residence, and the only other suite like it is in New York. Both were modeled after designs shown at the Paris Exposition.

FLITTING FOLLY.

THERE is no more reason for writing obituaries in a dead language than for writing notices of bankruptcy in broken English.

THEY say it is a great treat to hear a cultivated Boston girl sing: "Whence Did You Procure That Tile?" or "John, Procure Your Fowling Piece."

PROFESSOR IN MECHANICS—"If the pressure on a cistern is one pound per square inch, how much will be the pressure on a valve two inches square?" Sophomore—"Two square pounds."

SOME well-meaning women have organized "a club for young men who have no place to spend their evenings." Married women frequently provide clubs for men who have too many places to spend their evenings.

BOOTJACK—"Allow me to introduce my friend, the Kitchen Broom." Hair Brush—"No, thanks; she doesn't move in my set. Her place is down-stairs." Kitchen Broom (spitefully)—"I may not be very tony, but, thank goodness, I can not grow on the back of a hog."

TRENTON'S TRAGEDY

Mrs. Kniffin's Murderer Not Yet Arrested.

HER COUSIN CHLOROFORMED.

The Husband of the Dead Woman Taken to Police Headquarters.

He Burst Into Tears When He Saw the Dead Body of His Wife—The Report that His Family Relations Were Not Pleasant Denied—Police in Charge of the House.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 4.—The city is still agitated over the murder of Mrs. Arthur Kniffin, the handsome wife of one of the city's leading dentists.

She was found suffocated to death in her apartments, and the tragedy is most mysterious, though burglars are generally believed to be the murderers.

The discovery of the murder was made by Dr. Shannon, Dr. Kniffin's partner, who came to the dental rooms from his boarding house, about a block away.

On entering the house he found all the rooms in a state of confusion. The drawers in the tables of the operating room on the second floor had been drawn out and their contents scattered over the floor. Proceeding to the laboratory and other rooms on the same floor there was equal disorder.

The Kniffins' sleeping apartments were overhead, and Dr. Shannon not finding Mrs. Kniffin about went to the third story to investigate further.

The door of the nearest room was open, and on the floor lay the unconscious form of Miss Purcell, a pretty typewriter, who had been boarding with the Kniffins. She was in her robe de nuit.

Dr. Shannon at first knocked violently on the door, but failing to raise Miss Purcell, came nearer and shook her arm.

This also failing, he looked further, and in an adjoining chamber saw Mrs. Kniffin lying in bed, her features horribly distorted, her right arm across her forehead and the hand clinched as if it had been squeezed in a vice. It took but a moment to decide that she was dead.

Dr. Shepard, a neighboring physician, was called and the police were notified. Miss Purcell being still alive, prompt attention was given to her, but it took an hour's exertions to bring her to.

The Typewriter's Story.

Miss Purcell tells of the murder as follows: "We lay talking and laughing in bed, and Mrs. Kniffen remarked that she was no more sleepy than an owl. We continued talking until I dropped to sleep.

"I was awakened later by hearing Mrs. Kniffen scream that burglars were forcing in the door.

"I jumped out of bed and rushed into the next room and attempted to raise the front window, while I screamed 'murder!'

"Then I was seized from behind and thrown to the floor, and a wet cloth was pressed to my face. That was the last I knew until I found myself in bed in the next room and the doctor beside me in the morning."

The Police Baffled.

There is not the slightest clue to the perpetrators of this dastardly deed. A strange fact connected with the affair is that the house was robbed only a short time ago under similar circumstances. Dr. Kniffen was absent from the city at the time, but the burglars were never caught. The police are working on this case with the greatest assiduity and they hope to be able to apprehend the murderers. No articles of value are as yet missing, but so confused is everything that it is impossible to tell what has been taken.

The Doctor Burst Into Tears.

Dr. Kniffin returned home last night and was taken to police headquarters by the detectives. He denied the report that his family relations were not pleasant and that he has been attentive to Miss Purcell, the typewriter who makes her home with him. The doctor burst into tears when he saw the dead body of his wife. The police are in charge of the house.

Lives Lost in a Snow Slide.

MAYSVILLE, Cal., Jan. 4.—A disastrous snow slide at Sierre City occurred to-day. Particulars are meagre but as far as can now be ascertained the dead are: Mrs. I. T. Mooney, Miss Ethel Langton, Mrs. R. Rich and her little son and daughter. The force of the snow slide was so great that trees in its path were mowed down as if they were stalks of grain. The number of the dead may reach eight.

Victims in the Mohawk Valley.

TRIBES HILL, N. Y., Jan. 4.—The la grippe is fast making its way through the Mohawk Valley, and it is estimated that there are already 800 cases. John H. Graydon, aged 80, died of the complaint last night. He had been ill but three days. Whole families are prostrated in some places.

Into Death's Court.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—Willis Gaylord, accused by Frederick A. Babcock, of appropriating to his own use $30,000 committed to him for the purchase of railroad bonds, has committed suicide in the jail. He was found hanging to the grating of his window. He was arrested in November last, and his case was to have come up in court to-day.

Prisoners Gripped.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 4.—The grip respects neither place nor persons. Warden Burnett and twelve prisoners in the Montgomery County jail are down with the disease and, in anticipation of the other fifty inmates falling in line, the prison physician has remedies prepared by wholesale.

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Albany Statesmen Getting Ready for the Opening of the Legislature.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Everything was quiet about the Delevan House to-day, there being scarcely any stir to indicate that a Speakership contest was in progress. Senator Fassett is expected to arrive to-day. He will be the choice of the Republican Senate caucus for chairman pro-tem, and he will go to work at once upon his committe chairmen.

Gen. Husted said that accordingd to the programme as now arrange both branches of the Legislature will mett on Tuesday, and after organizing and electing sub-officers will adjourn until the following Monday evening This is a comparatively short adjournment, the usual time being at least ten days. However it is pretty certain that the heads of both Houses have already scheduled their committees, and there is little else to do. As at present slated the officers of the House will be: Speaker, James W. Husted; Clerk, C. A. Chickering; Sergeant-at-arms, J. W. Manville; Doorkeeper, H. W. Webb; Stenographer, Wm. Loeb.

COLLEGIANS ON A SPREE.

They Make Considerable Noise and are Locked Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—About 300 Columbia College students visited a theatre last evening and afterwards marched up Broadway making a great deal of noise.

Officer Reardon, at Broadway and 28th street, called upon the leaders to stop shouting. Frank Tucker, of Lee, Mass., replied by leading the boys in another war whoop.

The officer arrested Tucker. Another student, Myron Green, of Niagara Falls, attempted to rescue Tucker and was himself arrested by a roundsman. Most of the students managed to disappear, but about 50 of them followed Tucker and Green to the police station. Ruford Franklin, a lawyer, finally bailed the prisoners out for the night.

WINDOW GLASS TRUST.

It is Formed by the Factories West of the Alleghenies.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 4.—The window glass manufacturers, at a meeting just held, at which every factory of any consequence west of the Alleghenies was represented, formed a trust with a capital stock of $800,000, which will take the glass of the concerns when they would otherwise have to place it upon the market at a discount.

The Pittsburg manufacturers, the United Window Glass, and Chambers, McKee & Co., of the Jeanette Tank Furnace are the parties to the agreement.

Brides of the Church.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—At Mercy Convent nine young ladies gave up the world. Their names were Miss Mollie Hanlon, now known as Sister De Ricci, of Temperanceville; Miss Sadie Mellody, known as Sister Josepha, of Pittsburg; Miss Ida Kayler, known as Sister James, of Loretto; Miss Lucille Henry, known as Sister Lucille, of Ebensburg; Mrs. Nora Sheehan, known as Sister Mark, of Praddock; Miss Lillian Wilt, known as Sister Eustace, of Pittsburg; Miss Nellie Wright, known as Sister Mark, of Erie; Miss Anna Faran, known as Sister Fern, of Latrobe, and Miss Mary O'Hogan, known as Sister Flavia, of Pittsburg.

Torn to Pieces on a Shaft.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 4.—Mr. S. H. Sperry, master millwright in C. H. Dexter & Son's paper mill in Windsor, in attempting to place a bolt in a pulley near the ceiling, placed his ladder near a revolving shaft. The ladder slipped, and he fell directly upon the shaft. He was caught by a set screw and literally torn to pieces. Both arms were torn off and both legs close to the body. Hardly any part of his body was left intact, except his face. He leaves a wife and three children.

Pool Rooms Closed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—With one or two exceptions all of the pool rooms which have been taking bets on the winter races have been closed. Their sudden closing is said to be due to the fact that Judge Fitzgerald, who has just succeeded Judge Gildersleeve on the bench of the General Sessions, publicly declared before his election that he would strictly enforce the State laws against pool selling.

Overdue and Sixty Passengers on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—There is much anxiety manifested here concerning the safety of the steamer State of California which left Portland for this port on Sunday last. She had 60 passengers on board and was due here Tuesday. Bad weather is reported off the northern coast of Oregon and it is thought she has been disabled. The revenue cutter Rush is in quest of her.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The News of Judge Kelly's Illness Surprised His Friends.

GENERAL REGRET ON ALL SIDES

The President Enthusiastic Over Mr. Windom's Silver Recommendations.

He Regards it as a Step Towards the Determination of the Problem—Will Probably Send a Message to Congress Urging the Adoption of the Project—Popular With Senators.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The news of Judge Kelley's illness was the subject of much conversation in the departments and on the streets, and the expressions of regret were unanimous in their sentiment. Everybody seemed to recognize the usefulness of the old Pennsylvanian and everybody was grieved to know that his career was so soon to be rounded out and completed.

Judge Kelley is slightly improved this morning. The members of his family who are here were not summoned to Washington on account of the Judge's illness, but came to spend the holidays with him. About a week go the Judge contracted a heavy cold, which developed into a very severe case of internal catarrh, accompanied by copious and obstinate diarrhœa, which has resulted in great weakness and a general breaking down of the system. The Judge is extremely anxious to go to the House of Representatives once more, but his friends are of the opinion that he will never take his seat there again.

THE SILVER PROBLEM.

President Harrison Pleased With Mr. Windom's Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—It is reported that the President has decided to adopt Secretary Windom's recommendation that the Government shall accept silver bullion and issue certificates therefor at the market rate, the certificate to serve as currency and that the President will soon send a message to Congress on the subject.

Mr. Harrison goes even further than Mr. Windom in his approval of the project. He is impressed with its economic soundness as a principle, believes in its beneficent effect upon the prosperity of the country, and regards it as a brilliant step toward the determination of the silver problem.

A bill embodying the recommendations of the Secretary will be submitted to Congress very soon. It is likely to be offered simultaneously in both Houses. Its fate in the House of Representatives is problematic.

There is little doubt that a majority of the Republican Senators, and some of the Democratic members of the Senate, favor the bill, and it is likely first to pass that body.

A Two Million Transfer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the transfer of $2,000,000 gold coin from the subtreasury at San Francisco to the subtreasury at New York.

BRICE IN THE LEAD.

But the Fight for the Ohio Senatorship Still Very Interesting.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—There is a great deal of talk being indulged in, but the Senatorial contest remains in about the same condition as last night. That C. S. Brice is in the lead is conceded by all good judges who are not actively engaged in the interests of other candidates. While he will have a strong lead on the first ballot there is no certainty of his nomination. The members are here and a majority of them would like to see Brice nominated.

The caucus for the organization of the two branches of the Legislature was called for yesterday afternoon, and an adjournment was taken till to-day, when the work will be disposed of. These early caucuses indicate a purpose on the part of the leader in the race, who is conceded to be Brice, to hurry the business through in order that the ill feeling engendered over the disappointment in getting small places may have time to wear off.

An early report to-day that there was a scheme on foot by the Democrats of the Senate to seat Marquis in place of Lampson as Lieutenant Governor and then take up Governor Campbell as a candidate against Brice for the Senate is discredited on all hands. It appears to be mere talk, as the Lieutenant Governorship contest is now running its usual course.

Telephone Office Burned.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—The Allegheny Central Telephone building was destroyed by fire yesterday. For a time excitement prevailed. The building was new, large, and one of the finest in Allegheny City. It was located on Sandusky street.

Youth Elopes With Old Age.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 4.—Sadie E. Price, a school-teacher, nineteen years old, has eloped with Isaac Baker, a wealthy Kansas farmer of sixty-four years, whose advertisement she answered in a matrimonial paper.

A Hermit Burned to Death.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 4.—William Hand, a hermit, at Brandywine Hundred, was found dead and burned to a crisp in his hovel yesterday. It is supposed his clothing caught fire from his pipe.

Nineteen Years' Imprisonment.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Jan. 4.—Byron M. Roberts, convicted of manslaughter, has been sentenced to 19 years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

His Last Donation.

Rev Dr. W. W. Patton, who died at midnight Monday at Westfield, N. J., retired recently as President of Howard University at Washington and was succeeded by Rev. J. E. Rankin, of Orange. Dr. Patton went to Westfield to live, where he expected to devote his declining years to literary work. On Monday afternoon Dr. Patton mailed the following letter to his Alma Mater.

Westfield, N. J., Dec. 30, 1889.—Rev. Dr. MacCracken, Vice-Chancellor; etc.: Having resigned my Presidency at Howard University, Washington, D. C., and removed to this suburb of New York city—where two of my daughters reside—I can devote some thought to educational interests in this vicinity. As your university is my Alma Mater, I take pleasure in responding to its lately published appeal for added funds by inclosing my check on William L. Patton & Co., No. 6 Wall street, New York city, for $50, in behalf of the general fund. Some time before long I shall try to look in upon you at the university building, make your personal acquaintance, and talk over university affairs.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM W. PATTON.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral service following the death of Miss Florence Louise Elden, who died at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. T. E. Hazell, on Duer street, North Plainfield, Thursday morning, took place from the house yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiated and besides his remarks he offered an impressive prayer. The floral display was exquisite, and included a beautiful pillow. The remains were taken to Portland, Maine, where additional services were held today.

Mrs. Hazell, a sister of the deceased, is lying dangerously ill with pneumonia, the same complaint which resulted in Miss Elden's death.

Officers Installed.

D. D. G. C. Chapman, assisted by Past District Deputy John Charles and other officers, installed the officers-elect of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., last night. Reports were also read showing the lodge to be in a prosperous condition in membership as well as in finances.

The new Pythian hall, in the Hand building on Second street, will be ready for occupancy on April 1, and it is proposed to furnish it so that it shall be the best Castle Hall in this section. The Charter of the lodge has been ordered draped for a period of six days in memory of Justus H. Rathbone, the founder of the Order, who died recently.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. H. R. Munger will speak at the Mount Pleasant school house, to-morrow evening.

Miss Allie B Sturtevant of Philadelphia, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wallace Vail, of Evona.

Mrs. J. S. King has been confined to the house for the past two weeks with an attack of pleurisy, a La Grippe.

The death is announced of Robert J. Clay, which occurred at his home No. 56 East Fifth street, this morning, from pneumonia.

At Westfield, yesterday, occurred the death of Mary Hyder, wife of Mr. J. C. Swan. The funeral will take place on Monday, at 1:30 P. M.

Mr. James T. Closson, mother and Mrs. M. Edgerton, of East Front street, will spend the Winter in New York city, at the Grand Hotel.

Miss Nellie, daughter of Officer Geo. W. Grant, was tendered a birthday party by her parents, at the latter's residence on West Seventh street, Thursday from four until seven o'clock P. M.

Miss Ella Conkey was agreeably surprised by a few of her near friends and acquaintances, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. N. W. French on West Fourth street, last evening. The guests spent a night of uninterrupted pleasure, interspersed only with the serving of refreshments.

Weekly letters are received from Mr. Frank Vermeule of this city, who is stationed for the Winter at Fort Brown, in the extreme Southern end of Texas He reports the climate there as being delightful, with no rain for weeks. On Christmas day the soldiers were treated to a turkey dinner with all the holiday accompaniments.

The condition of Mr. William Moore, who is confined to his East Second street home suffering from pneumonia, has become so critical that members of the immediate family are prepared for the worst. The report circulated on the street this morning to the effect that his complaint had terminated fatally, was without foundation.

Mr. Chas. Bullman, of Third place, will sail for Colon, Friday, en route for Buenaventura, the principal port of Columbia, on the Pacific. From Buenaventura he will go to the interior of El Choco, traveling in a canoe the entire trip of from ten to fifteen days. A journey to Popayan, the capital of Cauca, is also contemplated by Mr. Bullman. One of the English Admiralty charts especially mentions this place for the excellence of its iced cream, the ice being brought by Indians from the neighboring peaks of the Andes. To reach Popayan 8 or 10 days in the saddle are required.

Last of the Christmas Celebrations.

The Sunday school of the First Church of Christ gave its first Christmas entertainment in Reform Hall last evening, before a well-filled house. The exercises opened with a prayer by Mr. J. B. Cleaver, followed by singing by the school under the leadership of Mr. John Goodman. The programme was as follows:

Dialogue—"Mistaken Identity," three young ladies.
Recitation—Miss Mabel Wilson.
Reading—Mr. Allen.
Recitation—"Richard and Dorothy," Miss Lilla Welcome.
Recitation—Miss Keller.
Dialogue—"Afternoon Call," 3 young ladies.
Recitation—Miss VanHorn.
Reading—Master Staats.
Farce—"The Ghost and the Tramp," Messrs Goodman and Allen.
Singing—Masters William and Frank Sater.
Recitation—"The Last Hymn," Wm. R. Mattox.
Recitation—Miss Minnie Nestar.
Dialogue—"The Little Dispute."
Recitation—Miss Ella Staats.

Mr. J. B. Cleaver delivered an address suitable to the occasion, after which the school and its friends were invited to the school-room in the basement, where refreshments were provided for all present. The scholars of the school received gifts from Santa Claus.

The Days are Growing Longer.

As The Press has before stated the shortest day in the year was on Saturday, Dec. 21, when the days length was nine hours and eight minutes. Since Christmas the "clerk of the weather" has shifted the machinery so as to lengthen the days at the rate of about seventy-five seconds, until the 21st of June, when the day is the longest of the year. The sun from Christmas on, using the common phrase, returns Northward, to drive back the Winter, but the latter has acquired some momentum and for a time the contest will be unequal.

Mr. Chandler's Additional Loss.

Included in the loss sustained by Mr. John Chandler, by the burning of his dwelling house on Sunday last, and upon which there was no insurance, was a collection of books which Mr. Chandler had been gathering for the past thirty-five years. The books treated almost entirely upon work similar to that in which the owner is engaged, and one of the books, printed in 1817, Mr. Chandler says he would not have lost for $100.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Physicians heartily endorse the use of Speer's celebrated Port Grape Wine for the use of debilitated females. It is not an intoxicant, and is absolutely pure, being made from grapes grown at Mr. Speer's Mount Prospect Vineyards, Passaic, N. J., from vines imported from the port wine districts of Portugal. Druggists sell it.

Her Reason.

Said she unto her lover fond
The while she stroked his tresses blonde,
"You'd like to know how it befell
That I first came to love you? Well,
The secret I will now unfold—
I loved you for your locks of gold,
Since by them I'd reminded been
Of precious things at Collier's seen."

CLOSING BUSINESS.

A BARE QUORUM OF THE DEPARTING COUNCIL MEETS.

City Judge Stillman, Chief of Police Carey and Fire Chief Doane, Present Their Annual Reports—A Statement Why the Electric Street Railway Project Was Not Consummated.

La Grippe had its clutches on the outgoing Council of 1889, and it was not until 8:40 o'clock of last evening that a quorum was obtained to carry out the closing acts of the year. Janitor Munday was sent for Councilman Squiers, and the meeting was then called to order by President Dumont. Messrs. Dunham, Erickson, Moffett and Myers were the other Councilmen present—five Republicans and one Democrat, only two of whom were "hold-overs."

A petition "on behalf of the citizens of Plainfield," but not signed, was received but not acted upon, calling the attention of the Council to the street awnings some of which were hung so low as to strike the heads of pedestrians.

Claims against the city were referred to the proper committees, amounting to $5,965.95, for the the following accounts: Street lightning, $674.93; Printing, advertising and stationery, $146.05; Election and registration expenses, $721; Street repairs, crushed stone and crosswalks, $1,998.61; Police, and station-house rent, $583.34; Salaries and rents, $744.03; Fire department, $548.32; Poor fund, $549.67. These claims were all subsequently ordered paid—the Finance Committee acting in place of the absent Auditing Committee.

Reports of the City Clerk, City Judge, Chief of Police, Chief of the Fire Department, City Collector and City Treasurer, were read and placed on file. Extracts from some of them are as follows:

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith beg leave to present my report as City Judge from August 30, 1889, the date of my last report, to December 3, 1889, the date of the expiration of my term of office as follows:

The numbers of prisoners brought before me, was thirty-five of which number twenty-one were fined, eight were committed to the county jail and six were discharged.

Of those fined, all have paid their fines but three: One, who left his kit of tools with the police as security; another Patrick Newell, who still owes the city five dollars, on a fine of twenty-five dollars, and a third Michael Watson, who has appealed to the Union County Court and whose case is still pending there.

The appeal case of Harry K. Vail, reported to your Honorable body in my last report, has since been dismissed, Vail paying the fine of thirty dollars that had been imposed upon him.

I have received from fines during the above period, the sum of two hundred and forty-four dollars and fifteen cents, of which sum his Honor Mayor Male, inflicted or imposed fines to the amount of forty-one dollars.

I have paid to County Clerk Crowell for appeal costs five dollars and fifty cents, and to Chief Carey for expenses mostly for witnesses in the Watson, Sullivan and Newell cases and for carrying prisoners to Elizabeth, forty-eight dollars and twenty cents and at his request have left in his hands the sum of twenty-two dollars and thirty cents for immediate uses.

I have also paid to Chief Carey the sum of twelve dollars and fifty cents, being one half of the Newell fine of twenty-five dollars, to which he was entitled under the city ordinance.

The costs taxed up against the city by County Clerk Crowell for several appeal cases, which have come up lately at Elizabeth have not yet been received, and as it is his custom to charge these directly to the private account of the City Judge, I have taken the liberty to reserve as a fund from which to pay this bill when it comes in, the sum of twenty-five dollars. When settled any balance will be at once turned over by me to the City Treasurer.

I have paid over the balance or the sum of one hundred and thirty dollars and sixty-five cents to the City Treasurer, and have received his voucher for the same.

Of the above thirty-five cases brought before me, three were tried by jury, viz: Joseph T. Sullivan, Patrick and Annie Newell. In the Sullivan case the jury disagreed and in the Newell cases Patrick was convicted and Annie Newell acquitted, so of the above six cases reported as discharged, two were done so by the jury, and four by my own decision.

I am most respectfully,
WM. M. STILLMAN,
Ex-City Judge.

December 31, 1889.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN:—It is a gratification that I am able to make so favorable a report of this year's work. In orderly conduct, and general quiet of the more noisy element of society, there has been a very creditable comparison with last year. In 1888 there were 217 arrests made by the department, and during the past year 1889 it is my duty to report only 127 arrests, classified as follows: 122 men and 5 women; 21 for drunkenness; 30 for being drunk and disorderly; 26 for disorderly conduct; 14 for fighting; 6 for indecent conduct; 1 for indecent language; 4 for violating hack ordinance; 5 for theft; 5 for illegal liquor selling; 2 for gambling; 2 for resisting officers; 2 for obstructing streets; 2 for contempt of court; 2 for disorderly houses; 2 for riding on railroad cars; 1 for peddling without license; 1 for throwing stones; 1 for rape. Total amount of fines imposed for the year, $520.

All members of the police force have conducted themselves with becoming dignity and satisfactory efficiency. In every instance they have been prompt and fearless to act, and very discreet in dealing with that class of citizens requiring regulation and restriction.

In discharging their duties towards law abiding citizens, protecting their rights from violators of city ordinances pertaining to the morals, peace and good order of the community, the several members of the department have been vigilant day and night, and merit the commendation and appreciation of all good people.

Respectfully submitted,
TUNIS J. CAREY,
Chief of Police.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit to you the annual report of the condition of the fire department, as required by the city ordinance for the year ending November 30, 1889.

The annual force of the department consists of one (1) chief and two (2) assistant engineers and one hundred and thirty nine (139) others, officers and men, an increase of nine (9).

The discipline of the department is as good as any volunteer department can be, there not having been a single case of insubordination during the year. I have none but words of praise for the men that turn out to alarms of fire. They obey all orders promptly and have worked together as though they were members of one company. The number of men answering an alarm of fire is a small percentage of the full number of membership. An excuse is offered that the alarm bell cannot be heard. This is a reasonable excuse and one that cannot be denied. The number of resignations during the year has been two (2) and five (5) expelled, and two (2) dropped for non-residence.

HOUSES.

There are four (4) houses occupied by the department, three (3) of which are owned by the city. The houses occupied by Gazelle Engine Co., No. 1 and Zephyr Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, located at No. 26 and 28 West Second-st and owned by the city, needs additional room for hay storage and a hose tower. The wood work outside of the building and lower part of the houses inside needs painting, otherwise they are both in good repair. The house occupied by Plainfield Engine Co., No. 2, located at 60 West Front-st, and owned by the city, has undergone extensive repairs during the year and has all the modern improvements and is in first-class order, except the old part which needs painting. The house occupied by Alert Hose Co., No. 1, located at No. 11 Madison-ave., is rented by the city and kept in fair order by the owner. This house should be owned by the city.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus of the department consists of two (2) steam fire engines, Ameskeag make, in first-class condition, three (3) hose carts in good condition, two (2) of which are owned by the city and one (1) by Alert Hose Co., one (1) hook and ladder truck in good condition also one (1) hand engine and one (1) four-wheeled hose carriage loaned to Scotch Plains fire department.

HOSE.

There is in use in the department three thousand (3,000) feet of cotton hose, good, one thousand four hundred (1,400) feet of rubber hose, fair, six hundred and fifty (650) feet of rubber hose, bad, and one hundred (100) feet of rubber hose, worthless.

FIRES.

There have been ten (10) fires during the year, with a loss on building and stock of seven thousand eight hundred and fifty (7,850) dollars covered by insurance amounting to fifteen thousand and twenty-five (15,025) dollars. From causes as follows: Sparks from locomotives, two (2); defective flues, four (4); lightning, one (1); lamp explosion, one (1); grass on fire, one (1); unknown, one (1). The small number of fires can partly be accounted for by careful inspections by the fire marshal, and I heartily congratulate your honorable body on the fact that we have not had a single incendiary fire during the year.

WATER SUPPLY.

The water supply for fire purposes is obtained from the following sources: Two (2) brooks, one Greenbrook, running the entire length of the city, and Cedarbrook running at nearly right angles with the first named, two-thirds the length of the city; fire hydrant at freight house supplied by tanks; gas holders corner of Fourth and Washington-sts; fire hydrants at the Pond Tool Works; cisterns at Netherwood Hotel kindly placed at the disposal of the department in case of fire, and twenty-one (21) fire wells. Several of these wells are unfit for use, and I consider that our supply is inadequate, leaving a large portion of the city almost totally unprotected, and would earnestly recommend that if no other means is offered that more and larger wells be placed in the unprotected portions of the city.

CHEMICAL ENGINE.

Your committee on fire and buildings contemplated the purchase of a double tank four-wheeled chemical engine, but your committee, for financial reasons, did not purchase one. I think an apparatus such as was contemplated would be a valuable addition to the department. Several chiefs throughout the United States claim sixty per cent of their fires put out by them with very little loss by water.

FIRE ALARM.

Our present alarm consists of a bell weighing twenty-five hundred (2500) lbs located in a tower over engine house on Second-st and struck by electricity from the District Messenger office. The sound of the bell can be heard in only a small portion of the city, and is hard to be distinguished from one of our church bells and the shaking of the tower is racking the house. I would recommend that the bell be sold and the tower taken down, and a steam gong be placed on the electric light station, the sounding to be controlled the same as the bell now in use. The Electric Light Company will agree to give us the use of steam at all times free of charge. I would also recommend that a suitable system of electric fire alarm be introduced in the city, with about twenty (20) boxes distributed throughout the city that fires may be more quickly located, as much valuable time is often lost in locating fires and sounding alarms, noticeably so in the case of the Catholic parsonage, when full twenty minutes were lost after the fire was discovered before an alarm could be given.

In my endeavors to maintain and increase the efficiency of the department during the past year, I have received the hearty co-operation of His Honor the Mayor, Job Male, the corporation counsel, Craig A. Marsh, the chief of police, Tunis J. Carey, and the members of the common council, and I heartily appreciate the support and consideration I have received from them. I also take this opportunity to publicly thank the members of the fire and water committee, Messrs. E. N. Erickson, J. K. Myers and E. D. Moffett, for their courtesy to myself and assistants. I also thank my assistants, E. A. Laine and J. A. Martin, for the ability they have shown in the discharge of their duties, ready and willing at all times to do any and all work pertaining to the fire department.

Respectfully,
T. O. DOANE, Chief.

In connection with the above report, Mr. Erickson submitted the following figures relating to the cost of the Department since it has been in charge of the city. The amount is so much less than might be expected, that it is very evident the Department has been in the hands of able and faithful Councilmen and under an economical Chief, for the past year-and-a-half.

The Street Committee through Mr. Dunham reported on the once proposed electric street railway project, as follows:

To the Common Council:

Your committee on the Daft Electric Railway would submit their final report. They deem it proper that a full statement should be made placing the failure in the matter where it belongs. The committee have used every means in their power to induce Mr. Daft to carry out his proposition. They were assured by Mr. Daft in the beginning of the year that he had all the capital back of him necessary, and, that as soon as he could satisfy the Council by his trial car and be granted a franchise, he would construct the road inside of sixty days. Delaying the construction of the car was the only obstacle in the way Mr. Daft assurred the committee. And when finally the car was brought to Plainfield and put on exhibition the committee thought the matter assured. The committee informed Mr. Daft the car was satisfactory and the Common Council were ready to grant the franchise as soon as Mr. Daft would comply with the formalities of the law. No further steps could be taken by the Council until Mr. Daft should organize a company and deposit certain monies with the Secretary of State.

At this point Mr. Daft intimated the want of some help from the citizens of Plainfield in the building of the road. Mr. Daft attempted to get such help but he found that those who were shouting the loudest for a street railway in front of their property were more than willing that some other man should pay for the improvement, and the matter has been practically abandoned. The committee regret that so much vital time was lost, and certainly would not have waited on Mr Daft so patiently except on his repeated assurance that he would build the road. Had they supposed, in the beginning of the year, that Mr. Daft would need financial backing from the citizens of Plainfield to any extent, they would have doubted the practicability of entertaining his proposition. Could the scheme have been carried out the City of Plainfield would have had a model road in every respect, and one to be proud of. In view of the foregoing facts the committee believe that no censure should attach to the Council or its Committee, and that none will. The Committee therefore beg to be discharged from further consideration of this matter.

F. E. MARSH,
M. M. DUNHAM.

Jan. 3, 1890.

The Council then adjourned until this evening when it will receive the bond of the Plainfield Water Works Company and adjourn sine die.

A DESPERATE PLOT

Nihilists Contemplating a Wholesale Murder.

SEVERAL LEADERS ARRESTED.

The Entire Imperial Family of Russia to be Disposed of.

Czar Anxious to Punish Mr. Parnell. Stanley to be Honored by Americans. Stole a Letter Containing $90,000—Another Chance for Mrs. Maybrick—Bad Reports from Rio de Janeiro.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—The Nihilist leader Pierra has been arrested at Warsaw. On his person and in his lodgings the police found pamphlets and letters involving a number of officers of the Imperial Guard in what is believed to be a desperate plot against the life of the Czar.

The plot evidently contemplated not only the assassination of the Czar but the murder of the entire reigning family. Already many of the conspirators have been taken into custody, and those still at large are under espionage or being tracked by police officials to the end of their lodgment in prison, whence they will almost certainly go to their death.

Several of the implicated persons were apprehended while attempting to leave the country.

PURSUING PARNELL.

The Tories Would Like to Drive the Irish Leader Out of the Country.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The manifest object of the Tories is to drive Parnell out of Parliament and if possible out of the country. The conspirators are bold, wealthy and unscrupulous, and the ingenuity with which they are making their attacks betrays a master hand at the helm. The denial of the Irish leader's mother that the sum subscribed for her relief has ever reached her, with the natural inference that it has been stolen by the "patroits" on the way, is made the most of and retailed with an assumed indignation that is easily penetrated.

There is scarcely any doubt that if O'Shea's suit develops any proof of infidelity with the co-respondent, the husband or some of the woman's relatives will be egged on to make a charge of adultery against Mr. Parnell that, if maintained, will either land him in jail or compel him to leave the country.

The same parties who engineered the Pigott conspiracy are at the head of this plot, and the failure of the "Times" forgery scheme has only the more embittered them against those who excited against them the contempt of humanity, drove one of the supporters of these charges to his death, besides causing the suicide of the miserable Pigott, and crippled for a time the recources of the greatest journal in Europe.

It will be a struggle to the death, and Irish society will be asked by these self-constituted moralists whether it can further recognize an intruder upon the tenets of the social circle and a violator of the most sacred family ties.

The latest reports in the clubs in regard to the leadership of the Irish party are to the effect that Mr. Parnell will not consider it necessary to even temporarily retire from his post on account of the O'Shea divorce proceedings. The somewhat peculiar circumstances of the case are believed by Mr. Parnell's advisers, so it is said, to relieve him from the necessity of adopting the usual course.

A SHIELD FOR STANLEY.

The American Colony of London to do the Explorer Honor.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The American Colony in London held a meeting of representatives and decided to present Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, with a handsome testimonial on his arrival here.

The testimonial will take the form of a superb electro-silver shield bearing in its centre the coat-of-arms of the United States and emblazoned on panels. Around this centre piece are representations of the chief incidents in his career.

Sunk by the Britannic.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The steamship Britannic, New York for Liverpool, ran down and sank the brigantine Czarewitz in the Irish Sea, off the Mersey. The Captain of the Czarewitz was drowned. All the others on board were saved by the crew of the Britannic, though the work of rescue was rendered difficult by the severe cold weather. The brigantine's after part was cut entirely off by the Britannic's prow, so that it was impossible to save the vessels.

Talmage in Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 4.—A public reception was tendered the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, of Brooklyn here to-day by United State Minister Hirsch. Assembled to honor the guest were Minister Hirsch, Consul-General Sweeney, the members of the American College and many prominent visitors and residents of this city, including a large number of ladies.

Mrs. Maybrick Again.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Maybrick's friends have of late redoubled their efforts to secure the prisoner's release. They claim to have gathered from America and other sources such a mass of convincing new evidence in favor of Mrs. Maybrick that the Queen will be unable to refuse a pardon.

Bad Report from Brazil.

LISBON, Jan. 4.—Advices from Rio Janeiro state that the commerce of that city is paralyzed and affairs are rapidly going from bad to worse. The Rio Chamber of Commerce has protested to the Government against a proposed export duty of 4 per cent. on coffee.

Stole a Letter Containing $90,000.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—The postal authorities are violently agitated over the theft of a letter containing $90,000 in transit between Pesth and Vienna.

Mary Anderson's Plans.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—It is announced that Mary Anderson will open a dramatic season at the Broadway Theater, New York, on October 28 next.

TROUBLE AT BARNWELL.

An Injudicious Act by Either Side May Cause a Bloody Riot.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 4.—The situation at Barnwell is electrical. An injudicious word from either party might be made the cause of a bloody riot. The whites don't want to fight, but young hot heads go around with a chip on their shoulders to be knocked off. The danger, if any, proceeds from the country negroes.

Reports are continually received and circulated of armed negroes marching toward town. On these reports aid was called for last night and the whole State was alarmed. Prominent negroes who were interviewed to-day say there never has been cause for apprehension from their relation, and they would have been glad to help guard the town against the threatened invasion if asked. Barnwell people seem to have lost sight of the horror of the lynching in the sympathy with the four white men brutally murdered by negroes during the past month. Two detectives went over to Barnwell to ferret out the lynchers, but the town got too hot for them and they had to move on.

ELOPERS CAUGHT.

A Married Man Shoots the Destroyer of His Home.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 4.—"Hacno" Peter, who keeps a boarding shanty at Lewiston, is possessed of a fair-looking wife, who has numerous admirers among the boarders. "Peloc" John, one of them, induced her to elope to Shamokin.

The husband followed and caught them and took his wife back to his home. John returned a few hours later and endeavored to gain admittance to the house when the husband suddenly opened the door and fired thirteen shots. John was fatally injured.

BAPTIZED IN BLOOD.

A Babe Lay Between Its Murdered Mother and Suicide Father.

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Thos. Williams, bricklayer, murdered his wife by cutting her throat.

He then cut his own throat from ear to ear and expired in bed where his dead wife and a baby only a few months old lay.

The neighbors, being attracted by the continuous crying of the baby, broke into the house and found the infant lying in a pool of blood between its dead father and mother.

Convicts Take French Leave.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—Three prisoners took French leave from the penitentiary last night. They were Frank McDonald, a 2-year-man from Hamilton County, sent up for burglary and larceny; William Davis, Franklin County, two years for larceny, and Charles Ashcroft, Clinton County, five years for burglary and larceny. The men concealed themselves in the kitchen when locking up time came and then crawled through a ventilator, thus gaining the open court yard inside the walls. Then throwing a rope to the top of the wall, the convicts climbed to the top and dropped to the ground below.

Will Close To-Day.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The international marine exhibition will close to-day. During the two months that it has been open there have been over 200,000 visitors. It has not been a financial success, but it is hoped that part of the deficit can be made up from the sale of the report which the managers are preparing, and which will be of great value to all interested in shipbuilding and marine commerce. The book will be ready about March 1.

The Slayer of Pettus.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Hannah B. Southworth the slayer of Stephen Pettus, was too ill to be moved from the Tombs and her counsel has abandoned the habeas corpus proceedings begun yesterday by her mother, Ellen T. Martin, for the purpose of having her removed to a hospital for medical treatment. Hereafter her counsel's physician, Dr. Ward will attend her at the prison. Mrs. Southworth's case will probably be called for trial next week.

Damaged by Fire.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 4.—The stock of Henry S. Hutchinson & Co., booksellers and stationers, valued at over $12,000, was damaged over one-half by fire; insurance, $10,000. The furniture and fittings of the Bristol Social Club, valued at $7,000, was badly damaged; insured for $4,000. The paintings and furnishing of Walter S. Hunt, artist, were insured for $700, which covers the loss. The building was insured for $3,000, which covers the loss.

The Poaching Murderer Sentenced.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Guisepse Ignatius De Lucca, who killed Edward Cunningham, the millionaire, of Milton, Mass., while poaching on the latter's estate, was sentenced at Dedham to fifteen years in the State prison. De Lucca was indicted for manslaughter, and self-defense was pleaded in extenuation.

One Workman Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 4.—The fifth span of the new iron bridge which is being built between Holyoke and South Hadley Falls was blown down at about 10 o'clock in the morning and one of the workmen named Maurice Drisscoll, of Eagle Bridge, N. Y., was killed. Two other men who were at work on the bridge were injured.

Drank Poison in Champagne.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Joseph Fried, a stage machinist, aged 45, committed suicide by taking poison in a glass of champagne at the Morton House. Worry over an unsuccessful business transaction led to the deed. Fried held a revolver in his hand ready to shoot himself had the poison failed.

The Cronin Case Again.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—A letter from Judge McConnell, who is now in the country, says the application for a new trial in the Cronin case will be taken up by him on Monday, January 13, and that he will devote a week to hearing the motions.

Andrew Carnegie Ill.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 4.—Andrew Carnegie arrived in Pittsburg last night. To-day he is suffering from a severe attack of influenza and is not able to attend to his business.

Halifax Has Caught On.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 4.—A number of citizens complain of influenza and there seems to be no doubt that la grippe has struck here in earnest.

BIG COAL CONTRACT.

The Reading to Supply the New York Elevated Railroads.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, it is announced, has been awarded the contract for furnishing hard coal to the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Company, New York. This is a large contract, as 200,000 tons of coal will be required. The Lehigh Valley has had this contract for five years, and has made track connections and yards to facilitate deliveries. Reading cut under the Lehigh Valley Company's price, bidding $3.53 per ton. The circular price for this coal in ordinary transactions is $3.90.

The Manhattan Company gets the coal this year cheaper than last, and there is some talk that the relations between the Lehigh Valley and the Reading may be estranged because of the transaction, especially as they are believed to be rather strained at present. The Lehigh Valley people decline to say anything on the subject, but intimated that the Reading may not get the contract after all. At the Reading office it is said the contract was made by the Eastern agent by direction of President Corbin.

THE STRIKE EXTENDING.

The Entire Mackey System Liable to be Involved in the Trouble.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 4.—The situation in the freight conductors and brakemen's strike on the Evansville & Terre Haute and Evansville & Indianapolis railroads has become more serious than at any time since its inauguration.

The employes on the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville road have joined the strikers, and one of the representatives of the committee at this point sent to arrange for the addition of Louisville & St. Louis employes, returned from Huntingburg where an agreement was signed by the employees of the Air Line to join in the strike upon receipt of orders. This involves the entire Mackey system.

Everything is quiet about the yards here. All the freight handlers and the clerical force in the freight depot have been laid off until business is resumed.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mr. John Ruskin is again ill in London.

The will of the tenor Gayarre disposes of an estate worth $400,000.

Physicians in Harrisburg, Pa., estimate that there are 1,000 cases of influenza in this city.

Thomas Cook, the veteran organizer of excursion parties, is dying in London. He is eighty years of age.

Fire did considerable damage yesterday to the main building of the State University at Minneapolis, Minn.

Philmore Ball, colored, was hanged at Louisville, Ga., for the murder of J. L. Evans, a white man. Ball confessed his guilt.

"Crazy Hannes," who murdered his employer, Nicholas Miller, the squatter on West End Avenue, New York, has been captured by the police.

Louis Nathal, the well-known author, musician and composer, died at the French hospital in New York from pneumonia superinduced by la grippe.

The Cleveland League Club has signed Ezra P. Lincoln, a left handed pitcher who played last season with the Brockton, Mass., team. He is said to be a wonder.

F. M. Mills, U. S. Loan Commissioner for Livingston County, N. Y., is dead of heart disease. He was a prominent Democrat and had held several offices of trust.

James Lee, the noted desperado has been brought into Prescott, Arizona, from Apache County, where he was arrested for train robbery. He has been wanted a long time.

The new library building erected by Miss Amelia Given, a wealthy lady of Carlisle, Pa., at a cost of many thousands of dollars, was dedicated at Mount Holly, six miles south of Carlisle.

The strikers at the Merino Mill at Providence, R. I., are struggling to get back to work, the employers having given no sign of yielding. It is now said dissatisfaction with an unpopular overseer had as much to do with the strike as the price.

James I. Bennett of the iron firm of Groff, Bennett & Co., Pittsburg, which failed two years ago, has filed a petition asking that the sale of the property by the assignee be set aside. He alleges that the sale was fraudulent, and that through illegal means the company's property, valued at $500,000, was sold for $25,000.

New York Reports the Largest Number of Deaths Ever Known in a Winter Week—Children Exempt from the Plague—No Formula Can Be Prescribed for General Use.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Last week there were 1,202 deaths in this city, the largest number ever known in a winter week here, and more than during any week last summer. The city, by the way, is larger than it ever was in a winter or summer week before. The nearest approach to the death rate of the past week was a week in last July, when 1,187 persons died. The average of deaths a week in January for a number of years has been 520. The death rate last week was 30.31 a year in 1,000, and for the previous week 24.85.

"No sanitarian," said Dr. Cyrus Edson, "denies the fact that the epidemic of influenza is here in its most aggravated form, and while it is climatic, it is also contagious and infectious. But it is a happy fact in connection with the plague that children are exempt from it. While it attacks adults, it spares the little ones. An examination of the records of the mortality list and visits of inspection prove conclusively that the mortality among children is no greater now than is natural at this season of the year. No formula can be prescribed for general use in cases of influenza; the only advice to be given is care, prudence, close attention to the first attack, and the calling in of a family physician who is well acquainted with the constitutional tendencies of the patient."

Nine deaths from la grippe were reported to the coroner's office to-day. Most of the deaths occurred in cheap lodging houses or in the tenement house district.

Prayers for Its Abatement.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 6.—Owing to the prostration of several members of the choir of the Church of the Sacred Heart it was impossible to celebrate high mass yesterday. With the exception of the hottest weeks in summer high mass has not been omitted in years before. The Rev. Thaddeus Hogan, the pastor of the church, alluding to the matter, said that influenza had become so widespread in the city that it seemed wise to offer public prayers for its abatement. He announced a triduum or three days' devotion to the Sacred Heart for the next three days. It will consist of special evening prayers.

Influenza Carried Through the Mails.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mr. Chapin, Minister of Agriculture, has a severe attack of influenza. He is confined to his bed. The influenza prevailing in Liverpool has been positively traced to infection from letters received in the Russian mail. There are many cases of influenza at Birkenhead and Dorchester. The spread of the disease is facilitated by the weather, which is damp, warm and oppressive.

A Plague Not a Scare.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The "Daily News" is now forced to admit frankly that the influenza is a true epidemic and not what many people fondly imagined a mere scare. The matter is becoming too serious to admit of self deception. The plague is upon us and in the most dangerous form.

Over One Thousand Cases.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Jan. 6.—There are over 1,000 cases of la grippe in this city. Among those afflicted are Postmaster Caney and Hon. John Kellogg. Mrs. W. J. Hammond's death is hourly expected, from pneumonia superinduced by the grip.

Many Deaths in Berlin.

BERLIN Jan., 6.—Many deaths are occurring from influenza. Among the prominent persons afflicted with the disease in a serious form are the Princess Bismarck and Councillor von Rottenburg.

Johns Hopkins Students Sneezing.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—Over half the students at the Johns Hopkins University are nearly sneezing their heads off. Several days ago the grippe visited them, and it has been steadily increasing until now.

Johnstown Has the Plague.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 6.—Dr. George Wagoner, local member of the State Board of Health, says there are from 400 to 500 cases of influenza in Johnstown. A number of the cases are serious.

Nearly Every Family Afflicted.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 6.—La grippe is on the increase here and nearly every family in the city is afflicted. Over 200 hands are out of the Portsmouth shoe factory with it.

Terrible Spread of Diphtheria.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 6.—Latest advices from St. Johns, N. F., indicate that as yet the local authorities have been unable to check the terrible devastations of diphtheria in that colony during the past eighteen months. In that time there have been within the city limits 2,064 cases and 401 deaths and outside the city limits 106 cases and twenty-six deaths. There were over thirty cases last week, but only one death. The Government has spared no expense in providing hospital accommodation and medical aid for the poor and improving the sanitary condition of the city.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND.

His Wife Found Dead in a Swamp and He Refused to Bury the Body.

PETERBORO, Ont., Jan. 6.—A terrible tale of brutality was brought to light at the inquest on the body of Mrs. Eliza Holbrook, wife of James E. Holbrook, justice of the peace and a wealthy farmer of this county. Mrs. Holbrook, who was 70 years of age and feeble, left her home, about two miles from Havelock, on December 24, to go to a neighbor's house, and on Thursday her body, scantily clad, was found in a swamp about three miles from home.

The evidence given at the inquest showed that Holbrook kept his wife badly clothed and ill-fed, locking up the provisions from her, and that he beat her shamefully.

The verdict censured Holbrook, and when the body of his wife was turned over to him he refused to bury it, but finally consented to do so when he learned that otherwise it would be turned over to a medical college. The feeling against Holbrook is intense, and the people are clamoring for his prosecution.

FRENCH CATHOLICS MEET.

They Believe They Were Attacked by the Baltimore Congress.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 6.—The Ligue des Patriotes, a flourishing French Canadian organization, held a meeting yesterday, the principal object of which was to express their opposition to the attitude of the Catholic Congress recently held in Baltimore, which said that "national societies, as such, have no place in the Catholic Church." Canadians feel that this declaration was especially darted at them and their societies which foster a different language and different race peculiarity.

They consider the declaration a forerunner of some decided stand the church authorities may take in the future against French Canadian congregations, who always desire clergymen of their own nationality. The meeting was addressed by Hon. H. A. Dubuque, representative in the State Legislature, and others, all of whom expressed strong opposition to the declaration of the Congress. The addresses were enthusiastically received.

Pugilist Hearld as a Confidence Man.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 6.—Frank Hearld, the pugilist, and Fred Mason, an old-time confidence man, were arrested here charged with working the confidence game on the Washington Express Bound Brook route while en route from Trenton to this city. A farmer who went through to Washington is said to have been robbed of $375, and another man of $250. Their plan of operation was to start a game of cards and induce outsiders to join in. Two confederates who left the train before it reached the city worked with them and helped to victimize the two men. Hearld and Mason were held in heavy bail for a hearing this afternoon.

Killed While Cutting Timber.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 6.—William Weaver, a young farmer aged about 30 years, was instantly killed while cutting timber in Paw Paw township, this county. A large tree which Weaver was felling crashed against other trees in its descent and the limbs were drawn back and then suddenly released. The rebound of a large branch caught Weaver in the forehead, splitting a hole in his skull from which the brains oozed. He scarcely breathed after the blow. He leaves a widow and three children.

Snow Fifteen Feet Deep.

OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 6.—It has been snowing here for three days. There is more snow in the Wasatch and Sierra ranges than for ten years. In the mountains the snow is ten and fifteen feet deep. There is no wind or drifting and the mercury is only a few degrees below freezing. In this valley there has been more snow this winter than for twenty-five years. The storm extends all along the line of the Central Pacific Railroad to California.

Death of an Eminent Baptist Divine.

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Dr. Ebenezer Dodge, President of Madison University since 1868, died at his home in Hamilton, aged 70 years. He was ill but a short time. Death was caused by peritonitis. Dr. Dodge was one of the most eminent divines and scholars of the Baptist denomination in America. He was widely known and his death is a great loss to the institution of which he was the head.

Cut in Railroad Rates.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad has issued a new passenger tarriff to take effect tomorrow, reducing rates from Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis to $9 first-class and $7 second-class, a cut of $2.50 first-class and $2 second-class. Rates to all other Northwestern points clear to the Pacific coast are reduced in proportion.

Delaware Capital in Alabama.

PIEDMONT, Ala., Jan. 6.—Several Delaware capitalists have organized a company with $1,250,000 capital, all paid in, to build an industrial city here, with Preston Lea, of Wilmington, Del., President. Two hundred thousand dollars worth of town lots were sold within an hour from the beginning of the sale on Saturday.

Hours of Labor Reduced.

Explosion on the Rail.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 6.—A despatch from Benwood, W. Va., says that one of the big freight locomotives of the Baltimore & Ohio RR. exploded there, fatally injuring both the fireman and engineer.

WORK OF CONGRESS

Resumption of the Brazilian Question in the Senate.

DISCUSSING THE RACE ISSUE.

The Debate to be Opened by Senators Butler and Ingalls.

Very Little Work Will be Done in the House This Week—Democrats Think the Contested Election Cases Will be Disposed of Before the Rules are Adopted—The Colombia Muddle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—It will take Congress almost the whole of the coming week to get down to business again. The Senate will take up the current of affairs more quietly and more naturally than the House. There may be a resumption of the Brazilian discussion. A quantity of executive business will doubtless be disposed of and a day will be fixed—probably in the near future—for a discussion of the race question between Senators Butler and Ingalls. An effort will be made at an early day to put through both Houses the bill establishing a form of government in Oklahoma.

On the House side of the Capitol, the Ways and Means Committee will continue its hearings on the tariff, and the bulk of interest will attach to them. Very little will be done during the week, except to organize the committees appointed just prior to the recess adjournment and possible to begin the discussion of the report of the committee or rules. Some fear is expressed on the Democratic side that an effort will be made to dispose of the contested election cases on a partisan basis before the rules are adopted.

The Committee on Rules is not ready to make a report and may not be ready this week. The debate on the rules will probably be protracted.

No War With Colombia Just Yet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—It is not likely that any war vessels will be sent to Colombia at present as the result of the recent alleged seizure of American vessels at ports in that country, as the information in the possession of the Secretary of State would seem to indicate that the Colombian authorities were justified in refusing clearance to vessels at points not regular ports of entry.

Found Dead in His Room.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A man about 30 years of age, who registered at the Tremont House Saturday night as John Smith, of Washington, Pa., was found lying dead in his room yesterday, with a revolver by his side and a bullet in his brain. Both the name and place of residence entered on the hotel register, are supposed to be fictitious, as telepraphic inquiries sent to Washington fail to bring any response of identity.

Blew Out the Gas Before Retiring.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A farmer named Henry Payne, from Gainesville, Va., was found dead in bed in his room at the American House here. He had evidently blown out the gas before retiring, and going to sleep before noticing the smell of the gas, passed from sleep to death.

A Mulatto Accused of Bigamy.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 6.—Wakeman Beers of Newtown is in jail in this city charged with bigamy. Beers is a good-looking mulatto, and would almost pass for a white man. A number of years ago he married Margaret Bussey of Newtown. They lived together until some time ago, when Beers deserted his wife. Since then Beers has been paying court to a white woman living at Hawleyville, near Newtown. On Thanksgiving Day Beers was married to the young woman, Miss Belle McArthur, who is of respectable parents. The couple were living together when Beers was arrested.

Black Tongue Fever.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 6.—An epidemic which is said to be the black tongue fever is raging in Mongalia County, this State. It was discovered in the family of Thomas Burns, a few miles from Morgantown. Four of the family died with it in one week. The people of the neighborhood are very much alarmed, and the authorities of Morgantown have sent provisions for the balance of the Burns family, with orders to remove them and burn the residence, to prevent the spread of the disease.

A Young Bride Fatally Shot.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Robart, aged 20, who was but recently married, was fatally injured by the accidental discharge of a gun at her mother's residence. Mother and daughter were romping together when the former raised a broomstick to strike Mrs. Robart in play. The stick struck and knocked down the gun, which was thereby discharged, and the full load of shot entered Mrs. Robart's breast, causing a wound that will prove fatal.

Work Stopped by the Grip.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 6.—The Works of the Smart Manufacturing Company, the Mann Manufacturing Company and the Cossitt Company have been compelled to shut down, owing to a large number of their employes being ill with influenza. There have been several fatalities.

Titus Sheard's Illness.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Titus Sheard, who is ill here, has symptoms of blood poisoning and pneumonia. Although they are not as yet fully developed, his case is very critical. His doctors say he is better to-day and have hopes of his recovery.

Death of James H. Carniff.

Mr. James H. Carniff, a well-known and respected resident of LaGrande avenue, died suddenly at his home, yesterday morning, aged forty-five years. Mr. Carniff was a victim of that dreaded disease, typhoid pneumonia, through which he had passed and was on the road to recovery when he had a relapse. Mr. Carniff was the cashier for the New York Life Insurance Company. He was a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., of this city, and he was also the first member to die from Plainfield Council Royal Arcanum, since the Council was organized seven years ago. SINE DIE.

The Council of 1889 Winds Up Its Business and Unwinds Itself—A False Claim Against the City Left a Legacy to Their Successors—An Engineer Who Will Supervise The Water Works for Less Than Rudolph Hering.

It was about nine o'clock of Saturday evening before the departing Council succeeded in getting a quorum. Messrs Marsh and Newhall were still too sick to attend, Messrs Moffett and Gallup who also belong to the incoming Council, were not interested in the death of their late colleagues; and there was more money for Councilman Jenkins, M. D., in prescribing pellets for his hundred or two La Grippe patients, than in attending Council meetings. The latter was subsequently corralled, however, and induced to fill out a quorum with President Dumont and Messrs Myers, Squires, Erickson and Dunham.

Mr. Erickson presented the Bond of the Water Works Company of Plainfield; the Contract duly executed; and a certified copy of the Certificate of Incorporation The Bond was for $50,000, and signed by James Moore, Chief Engineer of the Central Railroad Company: Charles K. Moore, his son, one of the contractors to whom the water works franchise has been given; and ex-Congressman John Kean, Jr.

This Bond after examination by every member of the Council present; and endorsed as correct in form by Corporation Counsel Marsh; was referred back to the Council and approved by a unanimous vote.

The contract was then signed by Mayor Male on the part of the city, and attested by City Clerk Leonard.

Mr. J. J. Henderson, C. E., a resident of Rock View avenue, sent a communication to the Council stating that on November 25, he had made application to Councilman Newhall, for the position of Supervising Engineer in the construction of the Plainfield water works. With such application he had presented recommendations of the very best regarding his capability and fitness. He had supposed the application would at least have been submitted to the Council, but as it was not he now addressed that body directly. He fixed his compensation at $300 per month.

President Dumont stated that the Council had already entered into a contract with Mr. Hering to do the work specified. Thereupon on motion, the communication was filed.

Messrs Newhall and Erickson submitted a communication in the handwriting of the Corporation Counsel, regarding a false claim of T. W. Morrison which the City Clerk had refused to audit, but which nobody else had had the sand to refuse to pay in so many words. The ostensible writers of the communication said that they had been so busy for many weeks on the water works' matter, they had had no time to look into the correctness of the claim nor reach any conclusion regarding it, so it was returned to the Council with the recommendation that it be referred to the Council of 1890 for further action.

The minutes of the meeting were read by the Clerk and approved. The President then stated he would cheerfully entertain a motion to adjourn sine die, which was made and unanimously carried.

INVENTOR CLAY'S DEATH.

He Was Too Busy to See a Doctor.

Robert J. Clay, whose death in this city was told of in The Press, Saturday, was well known in the New York jewelry trade and manufacturing circles. He had an inventive mind and made many useful improvements, and was awarded more than sixty patents by the United States Patent office. Mr. Clay was the organizer and promoter of many manufacturing industries, which have attained great success. His life was very active until the day of his death, and by careful business prudence he amassed a large estate.

A few days before his death, he stopped in the baggage room of the Plainfield station, on his way to New York, and told Mr. Garretson that he felt very bad and that he supposed he had "the grip." He was advised to go home and see a doctor, but he said he was too busy.

Death of William Moore.

At his home on East Second street, about five o'clock yesterday morning, occurred the death of Mr. William Moore, better known as "Uncle Billy." He was 77 years of age, and his illness only dated back for a period of about four days. He leaves a wife and one son.

On Tuesday of last week, Mr. Moore while working about the barn in his shirt sleeves, contracted a severe cold which the next day developed into pneumonia and subsequently resulted in his death.

Mr. Moore was born in the County Limerick, Ireland, in the year 1813, and he came to this country when but sixteen years of age, working as a laborer for sixty cents a day. About thirty-five years ago he associated himself with Judge Reilly and built the Broad Mountain Railroad in Pennsylvania. Since that time he has been successful financially, and at the time of his death he leaves a fortune variously estimated at from $250,000 to $300,000, mostly in real estate in this city, Rahway, Paterson, Somerville and Rutherford, besides owning an eighth interest in 93,000 acres of land in Florida. The other railroad ventures in which Mr. Moore was interested, was the building of the Mahoney and Ashland Railroad, a branch of the North Cumberland Railroad, the Boston, Hartford and Erie Road, now known as the New England Road, from New Town to Bennett's Bridge; the Connecticut Western Railroad from Tarriville to Scotland, a branch of the Holyoke & Westfield Railroad from Thompsonville to Holyoke. His latest contracts were the building of the High Bridge Branch of the New Jersey Central Railroad, which he completed in 1875, clearing, it is said, $75,000 on the contract, and the Brighton Beach Road from Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, to the Beach, which was completed in 1879.

He also built the water works in Baltimore, and he was interested in several other large water works contracts.

Mr. Moore was both well and favorably known all over the State. At the race track he was a familiar figure, and his knowledge of horse racing was envied by those who knew him.

The funeral will take place from St. Mary's church, on Tuesday at 10:30 A. M., when solemn high mass will be celebrated for the repose of the deceased's soul.

TO-NIGHT'S ORGANIZATION.

Will the New Council Make any "Bad Breaks" in Its Beginning.

At eight o'clock this evening the members of the Common Council of 1890 are expected to meet and organize by the election of a President and a City Clerk. Whether or not they will do so, and how harmonious to themselves and how satisfactory to the people, will be their choice of officers, remains to be seen.

The Council politically stands—Republicans, 7; Democrats, 4. But although their majority is so large, the former are having a hard time choosing a President and Clerk. Up to this moment the matter is as undecided as it was election day.

Councilman Newhall was the first and oftenest spoken of for President. He had the experience, dignity and prestige. It seemed beyond a doubt that he would be lifted right in the chair without a murmur, and as Mr. Joseph B. Coward's right to the City Clerkship as a reward for his long and faithful service to his party, was just as unanimously assented to, a speedy and harmonious organization was to be expected.

But somebody broke the slate. The Clerkship is still Mr. Coward's. The candidacy of Mr. E. E. Anthony—reported exclusively in THE PRESS of some days ago—has not developed strength, and Mr. Eugene V. Lorton, the latest aspirant, has not the requisite "pull," either. So unless some change of plan is adopted between six and eight o'clock this evening, City Clerk Coward will succeed City Clerk Leonard.

But Mr. Newhall's chances for the Presidency have grown very slim in the past few days. Why this is so is known only to those on the inside. Maybe he insisted on choosing the standing committees to suit himself, and announcing them only after his election. Therefore it might have been feared by the licensemen that he would appoint only no-license Councilmen on the License Committee; or the incomers feared he would give all the best places on important committees to the hold-overs, and nominate the latter to Alms, Auditing, Street Light and Ordinance committees.

However it is futile guessing why Newhall stock is quoted low, just now, and why those on the inside are taking none in his selection. This evening at seven o'clock the Republican Councilmen will meet together in seclusion and decide on their officers for 1890 if they can. At half-past seven the Democratic Councilmen will be invited in, but not, however, to be offered anything in the way of an office. All hands will then adjourn to the Council room and the result of their deliberations made known.

Right here if THE PRESS may be allowed a suggestion, wouldn't it be a very handsome thing on the part of the Republicans to give the Presidency to their friends the enemy? What's the matter with Councilman Moffett for the chair? This is worth thinking about. He would fill it to the advantage of the city, with credit to the Council and honor to himself.

Reform Hall Meeting.

A fair sized audience met in Reform Hall last evening, but owing to sudden sickness, the appointed speaker for the occasion was prevented from attending. President Harper and George M. Angleman filled the gap by delivering short addresses, in course of which they both vigorously upheld the importance of total abstinence from all kinds of intoxicating liquor as being the only safe foundation to stand upon. Five came forward and subscribed to the pledge. Mr. Vanderbeek's choir included Mrs. Shotwell and Mr. E. D. Titsworth who kindly took the places of Mr. and Mrs. King, who were unavoidably absent.

The President made the following announcements:

An adjourned business meeting of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society will be held in Reform Hall, Tuesday afternoon next, at 3 o'clock.

On Thursday evening next the newly elected officers of the Reform Club will be duly installed, and a full attendance thereat is requested.

Next Sunday evening Mr. Samuel A. Haines will deliver in Reform Hall his able and eloquent address on "Responsibility."

The meeting closed with the Doxology.

Very True! So They Do!

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; it strayed away one Summer day where lambs should never go. Then sweet Miss Mary sat her down and tears streamed from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John, who kept a village store; but he sat down and smoked his pipe and watched the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat down and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eye. And so the Sheriff closed him out, but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him a sympathetic tear. "How is it, sister, can you tell why other merchants here, sell their great big stocks of goods and thrive from year to year?" Remembering now her own bad luck the little maid replies: "These other fellows get there, Jonn, because they advertise."—Exchange.

The Mildest Winter Yet.

The weather records for December show that this is likely to be the mildest Winter in the memory of man. Last Winter was an unusually mild one, but even then the average temperature during the month of December was eight degrees lower than it was in the month just past.

WARMLY WELCOMED.

The Rev. Mr. Skellenger Received With Words of Cheer.

There was a large and enthusiastic gathering of the people of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Albany, last Thursday evening in its chapel to welcome the Rev. D. W. Skellenger, who has gone from Dunellen to aid the Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, formerly of this city, in his work. Words of welcome were spoken by the Rev. Dr. Raymond, Henry D. Enos in behalf of the Viaduct Mission, Abram Lansing of the Y. P. S. C. E., A. S. Kibbee of the home school, and the Rev. Mr. Dooly.

Mr. Skellenger's response was in cordial sympathy with the spirit of the occasion. Music, flowers and evergreen decorations, with abundant refreshments, furnished by the ladies of the church, added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Mr. Skellenger will enter upon his work with the cordial support of the church and congregation, and hearty well wishes from his hosts of friends here.

Of the members of the Assembly sixteen are lawyers, eight merchants, five manufacturers, five farmers, five saloon keepers, two butchers, two school teachers, one a glass blower, one a brewer, one a wholesale liquor dealer, one a bookkeeper, one a mechanic, one a bottler, one an auctioneer, one a milk dealer, one a cigarmaker, one a mariner, one a real estate dealer, one a physician, and three no business.

You Can't Mail Letters on the Train.

(From the Somerville Gazette.)

The Pennsylvania Railroad has recently issued an order to the effect that hereafter no employe of that company will be allowed to mail a letter on the train. This is done to discourage a growing custom and one that is not allowable by the post office authorities. So many people take mail matter to the depot and entrust it to any employe who will be kind enough to handle it. Hence it is thought by not allowing employees to be mail carriers the practice will be abolished.—Exchange.

The impression conveyed by the above excerpt, which has been widely published, is that the post office authorities forbid the mailing of letters on the trains. This is wrong. Every route agent or postal clerk is required to receive from the public all mail matter properly prepaid by stamps affixed thereto and not canceled.

Send Jim's Contribution to Joe.

(From the Round Brook Chronicle.)

Mr. James Bemis of Plainfield has contributed to THE CHRONICLE pharmaceutical department a box of salve which is recommended as a sovereign remedy for chronic and other sores.

At a recent dramatic entertainment in Plainfield the ceiling above the stage fell directly upon the head of Mr. Joseph Eder, son of Philip Eder of this place, who carried the principal role. Mr. Eder was fortunately unhurt and actually had the audacity and presence of mind to pass the occurrence off upon the audience as a part of the regular performance.

The Central's New Route.

The N. J. Central Railroad Company, on Friday, commenced running through passenger trains over the Lehigh and Hudson road to Greycourt, thence to the Poughkeepsie bridge. Mail and freight trains are running regularly over this line. The company has established a telegraph office at the junction of the Hudson and Pennsylvania roads, and will build a new depot in a short time.

The Borough's Taxes.

A statement that has been frequently copied from a Trenton paper recently, to the effect that the School tax rate in North Plainfield is 2.61 on the hundred dollars, is false. North Plainfield's entire tax for borough, school, roads and everything else, is only 2.44. The school tax is only .77.

Union Teachers' Meeting.

On account of the services of the Week of Prayer, the Teachers' Meeting will be omitted this week.

—Remember the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., tonight.

—There are 3,497 female teachers in the State and 802 male teachers. The average monthly salary of the former is $42.75, and of the later $71.86.

THE TRENTON MYSTERY.

The Young Typewriter Suspected and Closely Watched.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 6.—Miss Emma Purcell, the pretty young typewriter, is practically a prisoner in the apartments of Dr. Kniffin. She has not been told she is a prisoner or has been formally placed under arrest, but the constant presence of the officers mean the same thing. One or two of the highest officials in town look upon the mystery as solved, although they may find it a very different matter when it comes to proving anything. Miss Purcell tells a good straight story, and sticks to it in every particular, on the subject of her arrest.

Albert Patterson, the druggist, whose store is under Kniffin's dental parlors, is the only man who thinks the murder is the work of thieves. He says Miss Purcell's character is above reproach, and she would be the last one in the world to think of committing such a deed. He claims he has not been correctly reported by out-of-town newspapers.

A sensational bit of evidence which the coroner says he will introduce, is to show that Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell were in the habit of taking very affectionate farewells of each other in a secluded nook off Front street before they parted after their daily walks. Coroner Bower says he has the names of at least fifteen persons who witnessed these osculatory scenes. William Duncan, a salesman in the Boston Fancy Store, on State street, is one of those to whom the coroner will look for evidence of this character.

Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell have been subpœnaed, but Coroner Bower hardly looks for them to go on the stand. Lawyer Barton, their counsel, declined to say what his advice to them would be on that subject. Under the law they are not obliged to testify if the circumstances may incriminate them.

A Village Nearly Wiped Out.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Jan. 6.—Fire started in a laundry in the town of Wardner, in the Cœur d'Alene mines, at 12 o'clock yesterday, and burned three and one-half hours. No water was available, the supply being frozen up. The greater portion of the town was destroyed.

Suicide of a Prominent Citizen.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Jan. 6.—Wm. L. Wilson, a prominent and prosperous citizen of this county, and for many years justice of the peace, committed suicide by shooting himself in the heart. He was 65 years old.

A Visit From a Prince.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught is making arrangements for a month's sojourn in Canada, and intends afterward to pay New York a visit. He is a very agreeable young man and will doubtless make a great sensation in American society.

Passing Bogus Checks.

CHESTER, Vt., Jan. 6.—William L. Strickland, claiming to be from New York, was arrested here for attempting to pass bogus checks on J. E. Pollard and G. F. Hadley, merchants.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

THE JOYFUL SURPRISE.

DR. TALMAGE IN VIENNA PREACHES ON THE SURPRISES OF RELIGION.

On His Way Home He Preaches on Jerusalem, Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Lessons Taught the Christian—An Example for the Slothful.

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D.D., of Brooklyn, preached in this city today on "The Surprises of Religion." His text was I Kings, x, 7: "Behold, the half was not told to me." The sermon was as follows:

Appearing before you today, my mind yet agitated with the scenery of the Holy Land, from which we have just arrived, you will expect me to revert to some of the scenes once enacted there. Mark a circle around Lake Galilee, and another circle around Jerusalem, and you describe the two regions in which cluster memories of more events than in any other two circles. Jerusalem was a spell of fascination that will hold me the rest of my life. Solomon had resolved that that city should be the center of all sacred, regal and commercial magnificence. He set himself to work and monopolized the surrounding desert as a highway for his caravans. He built the city of Palmyra around one of the principal wells of the east, so that all the long trains of merchandise from the east were obliged to stop there, pay toll and leave part of their wealth in the hands of Solomon's merchants. He manned the fortress Thapsacus, at the chief ford of the Euphrates, and put under guard everything that passed there. The three great products of Palestine—wine pressed from the richest clusters and celebrated all the world over; oil, which in that hot country is the entire substitute for butter and lard, and was pressed from the olive branches until every tree in the country became an oil well; and honey, which was the entire substitute for sugar—these three great products of the country Solomon exported, and received in return fruits and precious woods and the animals of every clime.

HOW SOLOMON ENLARGED HIS KINGDOM.

He went down to Ezion-geber and ordered a fleet of ships to be constructed, oversaw the workmen, and watched the launching of the flotilla which was to go out on more than a year's voyage, to bring home the wealth of the then known world. He heard that the Egyptian horses were large and swift, and long maned and round limbed, and he resolved to purchase them, giving eighty-five dollars apiece for them, putting the best of these horses in his own stall, and selling the surplus to foreign potentates at great profit.

He heard that there was the best of timber on Mount Lebanon, and he sent out one hundred and eighty thousand men to hew down the forest and drag the timber through the mountain gorges, to construct it into rafts to be floated to Joppa, and from thence to be drawn by ox teams twenty-five miles across the land to Jerusalem. He heard that there were beautiful flowers in other lands. He sent for them, planted them in his own gardens, and to this very day there are flowers found in the ruins of that city such as are to be found in no other part of Palestine, the lineal descendants of the very flowers that Solomon planted. He heard that in foreign groves there were birds of richest voice and luxuriant wing. He sent out people to catch them and bring them there, and he put them into his cages.

Stand back now and see this long train of camels coming up to the king's gate, and the ox trains from Egypt, gold and silver and precious stones, and beasts of every hoof, and birds of every wing, and fish of every scale! See the peacocks strut under the cedars, and the horsemen run, and the chariots wheel! Hark to the orchestra! Gaze upon the dance! Not stopping to look into the wonders of the temple, step right on to the causeway, and pass up to Solomon's palace!

Here we find ourselves amid a collection of buildings on which the king had lavished the wealth of many empires. The genius of Hiram, the architect, and of the other artists is here seen in the long line of corridors and the suspended gallery and the approach to the throne. Traceried window opposite traceried window. Bronzed ornaments bursting into lotus and lily and pomegranate. Chapiters, surrounded by network of leaves, in which imitation fruit seemed suspended, as in hanging baskets. Three branches—so Josephus tells us—three branches sculptured on the marble, so thin and subtle that even the leaves seemed to quiver. A laver, capable of holding five hundred barrels of water, on six hundred brazen ox heads, which gushed with water and filled the whole place with coolness and crystalline brightness and musical plash. Ten tables chased with chariot wheel and lion and cherubim. Solomon sat on a throne of ivory. At the seating place of the throne, on each end of the steps, a brazen lion. Why, my friends, in that place they trimmed their candles with snuffers of gold, and they cut their fruits with knives of gold, and they washed their faces in basins of gold, and they scooped out the ashes with shovels of gold, and they stirred the altar fires with tongs of gold. Gold reflected in the water! Gold flashing from the apparel! Gold blazing in the crown! Gold, gold, gold!

Of course the news of the affluence of that place went out everywhere by every caravan and by wing of every ship, until soon the streets of Jerusalem are crowded with curiosity seekers. What is that long procession approaching Jerusalem? I think from the pomp of it there must be royalty in the train. I smell the breath of the spices which are brought as presents, and I hear the shout of the drivers, and I see the dust covered caravan showing that they come from far away. Cry the news up to the palace. The queen of Sheba advances. Let all the people come out to see. Let the mighty men of the land come out on the palace corridors. Let Solomon come down the stairs of the palace before the queen has alighted. Shake out the cinnamon, and the saffron, and the calmus, and the frankincense, and pass it into the treasure house. Take up the diamonds until they glitter in the sun.

SHE WOULD SEE FOR HERSELF.

The queen of Sheba alights. She enters the palace. She washes at the bath. She sits down at the banquet. The cup bearers bow. The meat smokes. The music trembles in the dash of the waters from the molten sea. Then she rises from the banquet, and walks through the conservatories, and gazes on the architecture, and she asks Solomon many strange questions, and she learns about the religion of the Hebrews, and she then and there becomes a servant of the Lord God.

She is overwhelmed. She begins to think that all the spices she brought, and all the precious woods which are intended to be turned into harps and psalteries and into railings for the causeway between the temple and the palace, and the one hundred and eighty thousand dollars in money—she begins to think that all these presents amount to nothing in such a place, and she is almost ashamed that she has brought them, and she says within herself: "I heard a great deal about this place and about this wonderful religion of the Hebrews, but I find it far beyond my highest anticipations. I must add more than fifty per cent. to what has been related. It exceeds everything that I could have expected. The half—the half was not told me."

Learn from this subject what a beautiful thing it is when social position and wealth surrender themselves to God. When religion comes to a neighborhood, the first to receive it are the women. Some men say it is because they are weakminded. I say it is because they have quicker perception of what is right, more ardent affection and capacity for sublimer emotion. After the women have received the Gospel, then all the distressed and the poor of both sexes, those who have no friends, accept Jesus. Last of all come the greatly prospered. Alas, that it is so!

If there are those who have been favored of fortune, or, as I might better put it, favored of God, surrender all you have and all you expect to be to the Lord who blessed this queen of Sheba. Certainly you are not ashamed to be found in this queen's company. I am glad that Christ has had his imperial friends in all ages—Elizabeth Christina, queen of Prussia; Maria Feodorovna, queen of Russia; Marie, empress of France; Helena, the imperial mother of Constantine; Arcadia, from her great fortunes building public baths in Constantinople and toiling for the alleviation of the masses; Queen Clotilda, leading her husband and three thousand of his armed warriors to Christian baptism; Elizabeth, of Burgundy, giving her jeweled glove to a beggar, and scattering great fortunes among the distressed; Prince Albert, singing "Rock of Ages" in Windsor castle, and Queen Victoria, incognita, reading the Scriptures to a dying pauper.

I bless God that the day is coming when royalty will bring all its thrones, and music all its harmonies, and painting all its pictures, and sculpture all its statuary, and architecture all its pillars, and conquest all its scepters; and the queens of the earth, in long line of advance, frankincense filling the air and the camels laden with gold, shall approach Jerusalem, and the gates shall be hoisted, and the great burden of splendor shall be lifted into the palace of this greater than Solomon.

THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN MUST BE SOUGHT.

Again, my subject teaches me what is earnestness in the search of truth. Do you know where Sheba was? It was in Abyssinia, or some say in the southern part of Arabia Felix. In either case, it was a great way off from Jerusalem. To get from there to Jerusalem she had to cross a country infested with bandits, and go across blistering deserts. Why did not the queen of Sheba stay at home and send a committee to inquire about this new religion, and have the delegates report in regard to that religion and wealth of King Solomon? She wanted to see for herself and hear for herself. She could not do this by work of committee. She felt she had a soul worth ten thousand kingdoms like Sheba, and she wanted a robe richer than any woven by oriental shuttles, and she wanted a crown set with the jewels of eternity. Bring out the camels. Put on the spices. Gather up the jewels of the throne and put them on the caravan. Start now; no time to be lost. Goad on the camels. When I see that caravan, dust covered, weary and exhausted, trudging on across the desert and among the bandits until it reaches Jerusalem, I say: "There is an earnest seeker after the truth."

But there are a great many who do not act in that way. They all want to get the truth, but they want the truth to come to them; they do not want to go to it. There are people who fold their arms and say: "I am ready to become a Christian at any time; if I am to be saved I shall be saved, and if I am to be lost I shall be lost." But Jerusalem will never come to you; you must go to Jerusalem. The religion of our Lord Jesus Christ will not come to you; you must go and get religion. Bring out the camels; put on all the sweet spices, all the treasures of the heart's affection. Start for the throne. Go in and hear the waters of salvation dashing in fountains all around about the throne. Sit down at the banquet—the wine pressed from the grapes of the heavenly Eshcol, the angels of God the cupbearers. Goad on the camels. The Bible declares it: "The queen of the south"—that is, this very woman I am speaking of—"the queen of the south shall rise up in judgment against this generation and condemn it; for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold! a greater than Solomon is here." What infatuation, the sitting down in idleness expecting to be saved. "Strive to enter in at the strait gate. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you." Take the kingdom of heaven by violence. Urge on the camels!

Again, my subject impresses me with the fact that religion is a surprise to any one that gets it. This story of the new religion in Jerusalem, and of the glory of King Solomon, who was a type of Christ—that story rolled on and on, and was told by every traveler coming back from Jerusalem. The news goes on the wing of every ship and with every caravan, and you know a story enlarges as it is retold, and by the time that story gets down into the southern part of Arabia Felix, and the queen of Sheba hears it, it must be a tremendous story. And yet this queen declares in regard to it, although she had heard so much and had her anticipations raised so high, the half—the half was not told her.

THE CONVERT'S JOYFUL SURPRISE.

So religion is always a surprise to any one that gets it. The story of grace—an old story. Apostles preached it with rattle of chain; martyrs declared it with arm of fire; death beds have affirmed it with visions of glory, and ministers of religion have sounded it through the lanes, and the highways, and the chapels and the cathedrals. It has been cut into stone with chisel, and spread on the canvas with pencil; and it has been recited in the doxology of great congregations. And yet when a man first comes to look on the palace of God's mercy, and to see the royalty of Christ, and the wealth of this banquet, and the luxuriance of his attendants, and the loveliness of his face, and the joy of his service, he exclaims with prayers, with tears, with sighs, with triumphs: "The half—the half was not told me!"

I appeal to those who are Christians. Compare the idea you had of the joy of the Christian life before you became a Christian, with the appreciation of that joy you have now since you have become a Christian, and you are willing to attest before angels and men that you never in the days of your spiritual bondage had any appreciation of what was to come. You are ready today to answer and say in regard to the discoveries you have made of the mercy and the grace and the goodness of God: "The half—the half was not told me!"

Well, we hear a great deal about the good time that is coming to this world, when it is to be girded with salvation. Holiness on the bells of the horses. The lion's mane patted by the hand of a babe. Ships of Tarshish bringing cargoes for Jesus, and the hard, dry, barren, winter bleached, storm scarred, thunder split rock breaking into floods of bright water. Deserts into which dromedaries thrust their nostrils, because they were afraid of the simoon deserts blooming into carnation roses and silver tipped lilies.

It is the old story. Everybody tells it. Isaiah told it, John told it, Paul told it, Ezekiel told it, Luther told it, Calvin told it, John Milton told it—everybody tells it; and yet—and yet when the midnight shall fly the hills, and Christ shall marshal his great army, and China, dashing her idols into the dust, shall hear the voice of God and wheel into line; and India, destroying her Juggernaut and snatching up her little children from the Ganges, shall hear the voice of God and wheel into line; and vine covered Italy and wheat crowned Russia, and all the nations of the earth shall hear the voice of God and fall into line; then the Church, which has been toiling and struggling through the centuries, robed and garlanded like a bride adorned for her husband, shall put aside her veil and look up into the face of her Lord the King and say: "The half—the half was not told me."

HEAVEN THE GREATEST SURPRISE.

Well, there is coming a greater surprise to every Christian—a greater surprise than anything I have depicted. Heaven is an old story. Everybody talks about it. There is hardly a hymn in the hymn book that does not refer to it. Children read about it in their Sabbath school book. Aged men put on their spectacles to study it. We say it is a harbor from the storm. We call it home. We say it is the house of many mansions. We weave together all sweet, beautiful, delicate, exhilarant words; we weave them into letters, and then we spell it out in rose and lily and amaranth. And yet that place is going to be a surprise to the most intelligent Christian. Like the queen of Sheba, the report has come to us from the far country, and many of us have started. It is a desert march, but we urge on the camels. What though our feet be blistered with the way? We are hastening to the palace. We take all our loves and hopes and Christian ambitions, as frankincense and myrrh and cassia, to the great King. We must not rest, we must not halt. The night is coming on, and it is not safe out here in the desert. Urge on the camels. I see the domes against the sky, and the houses of Lebanon, and the temples and the gardens. See the fountains dance in the sun, and the gates flash as they open to let in the poor pilgrims.

Send the word up to the palace that we are coming, and that we are weary of the march of the desert. The King will come out and say: "Welcome to the palace; bathe in these waters; recline on these banks. Take this cinnamon and frankincense and myrrh and put it upon a censer and swing it before the altar." And yet, my friends, when heaven bursts upon us it will be a greater surprise than that—Jesus on the throne, and we made like him! All our Christian friends surrounding us in glory! All our sorrows and tears and sins gone by forever! The thousands of thousands, the one hundred and forty and four thousand, the great multitudes that no man can number, will cry world without end: "The half—the half was not told me!"

The Man with the Coonskin Cap.

One night a year ago there were half a dozen of us to go up to the village hotel in the rickety old bus, and among the crowd was a solemn looking old chap, dressed in very plain goods and wearing a coonskin cap. It was the typical village hotel landlord in the barroom, a very fresh young man behind the register, mighty little for supper, and that poorly cooked, and there was more or less growling. The man with the coonskin cap was treated very brusquely by the clerk, and the frowsy headed waiter girl didn't seem to care whether he had anything to eat or not. He didn't say much, but it was evident that he was mad.

After supper the landlord and "Coonskin" had a private confab. When it was ended the old man came down stairs, opened the front door, and then turned to the clerk and said:

"You git!"

"What do you mean?"

"I have rented this hotel. Skip!"

The clerk put on his coat and hat and walked out. Then "Coonskin" sent word to the cook and waiter girl to be out in half an hour, for the hostler to be gone by midnight, and for the barkeeper to vacate by noon the next day. He kindly allowed us to stop over night, but we had to get our breakfast at a bakery. By noon the doors of the hotel were nailed up, signs of "Closed" posted, and as we footed it down to the depot the solemn old man thawed out sufficiently to observe:

"I'm after seven more of 'em along this line of railroad, and if I can shut 'em up the public will be in my debt. I have figured it out to my entire satisfaction, and I truly believe that three-fifths of the crime in this country is incited by poor hotel keeping."—New York Sun.

The World of Science.

Ants are caught and killed at Kew Gardens by flowers of the orchid class. The ants are too large for the flower, but they visit it for the sake of the honey and get caught in the mucilage. The flower, however, suffers equally with the ant.

It is well known that whales can remain a long time under water, but exact data as to the time have been lacking. Dr. Kuckenthal, of Jena, has recently observed a harpooned white whale continued under water forty-five minutes.

Cart Loads of Lizards.

A great destruction of life took place upon the old Lawton farm, two miles up the river. For several generations there has been a muskrat pond about twenty rods from the Kennebec, consisting of a half acre or more, besides eight acres of splendid land which was made worthless by its surroundings, which was drained across to the river by laying a sewer under ground five to nine feet deep. When the water was drawn off to near the bottom the men noticed that it was charged with animated life, and as the bottom began to appear the struggle increased, and it was estimated there were from two to four cart loads of lizards from two to five inches in length, mixed with reptiles shaped like the tadpole, four and five inches long, and a promiscuous collection of bugs and smaller fry, some of which looked like green grasshoppers.—Skowhegan Reporter.

A Few Points for the Superstitious.

A German writing from Lisbon relates the following coincidences: "When the cathedral bell at Braganza, the ancient residence of the Portuguese royal family, was tolling for the death of Queen Maria II, mother of the late King Luis I, in 1853, it cracked. In 1861, when the castle ensign was hoisted half mast high at Braganza on the occasion of the death of King Pedro V, brother of the late king, it was torn to pieces immediately by the storm. At the death of King Luis I, last month, the cathedral bell again cracked, and the castle ensign was again torn to shreds by the wind."—Galignani's Messenger.

GOV. HILL'S MESSAGE.

He Will Urge Ballot Reform and the Reapportionment of the State.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Gov. Hill finished his annual message to the Legislature. It contains about 20,000 words. Much space is devoted to ballot reform and to the reapportionment of the legislative districts of the State. Regarding ballot reform the Governor says he has never been opposed to it. He takes the bills known as the Linson bill and the Saxton bill, and points out the errors in each. He finds some errors and many good points. The Linson bill, he says, is the better of the two, because, unlike the Saxton bill, it is not entirely for the intelligent and educated voter. He affirms his belief in the secret ballot law, and thinks that when a man votes he should not be scrutinized by those who seek to influence his ballot. He hopes that the legislature will send him a good law for approval.

The message treats of labor legislation, prison labor, the canals, railroads and New York city matters. Briefly, also, it recommends the completing of the present Capitol building and the consolidation of the Regents with the State Department of Public Instruction. Civil service, the savings banks, State banks, the State Library and death by electricity, all have attention.

A BELLE TURNS DRUNKARD.

Once the Pet of Buffalo Society She is Now in an Asylum.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 6.—One of the saddest cases brought to the attention of the authorities is that of the handsome daughter of a well-known family who has frequently been arrested of late for intoxication.

The parents finally caused her arrest, and, appreciating her disgraceful position, she voluntarily signed the pledge. It was but a few hours, however, before she was picked up on the streets again helpless from drink. This time her relatives demanded a more severe punishment, and she who was once the pride of a happy home and a much sought-after society beauty, is now the inmate of the Inebriate Asylum for Females.

J., Jan. 6.—Of the men who will sit in the next session of the New Jersey State Senate four are lawyers, four are merchants, three brokers, two real estate dealers, one a dentist, one an editor, one a collector, one a bookkeeper, and a hotel keeper, and one has has no business. A Peculiar Suicide.

WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 6.—There was a very peculiar suicide in this city yesterday. An old lady was found hiding in the garret of Dr. Blake's house, on Cottage Place, and before any person could make an effort to save her she climbed out on the slated gable roof and deliberately dropped forty feet to the ground below. She fell upon a clothes line, and the force of the fall broke the heavy pole off three feet from the ground. She died instantly.

Close of Bishop Coxe's Celebration.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan 6.—The last services in the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the advancement of Bishop Coxe to the episcopate were concluded yesterday by grand services in St. Paul's Cathedral. The learned prelate preached a sermon reviewing his work in the diocese for the last quarter of a century.

Railroad War in Connecticut.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 6.—A serious clash between the two great railroads of this State has begun over the rights and ownership of property in this city. Upwards of 2,000 men of the two roads were ready to strike the first flow at 9 last evening, but a temporary injunction has prevented serious trouble.

Gambling Houses Raided.

CHICAGO Jan. 6.—George Hankins' gambling house, the largest in the West, at No. 134 South Clark street, and John Condon's house, at No. 14 Quincy street, were raided early in the morning and nearly 100 devotees of roulette, faro and hazard arrested. About the same number of players escaped.

The New Coal Dust Fuel a Success.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—The Reading Railroad considers the new fuel made of coal dust and pitch a success. Superintendent Paxson said to-day that the engine with a standard fire box will be altered to further test the new fuel, which is made in the form of bricks weighing fifteen pounds each.

The Anarchist's Victims.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Anarchist Franken, who murdered his wife, his 3-year-old child, and himself will not be cremated, in accordance with his last request. The entire family will be buried to-day in the ordinary manner at the Lutheran Cemetery.

Two Telegraphers Elope.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 6.—There is much talk in this city over the disappearance of Agent Cook of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the 17-year-old daughter of Martin Kelly, a wholesale liquor dealer in New York. Cook and Miss Kelly are both expert telegraphers.

SIERRA CITY, Cal., Jan. 6.—Yesterday was a sad one for Sierra City. Six of the seven unfortunates who were killed by the snow slide last Friday were buried. All danger from another slide for the present at least, is over.

Eastern and Northern Completed.

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 6.—The Easton and Northern Railroad has been finished to Tatamy and the first train passed over the road. The event was celebrated by explosions of dynamite and general rejoicing.

THE TERRIBLE GRIP

Spread of the Epidemic in American Cities.

REPORTS OF RECENT RAVAGES.

Public Schools Closed in Boston on Account of the Prevalence of the Disease.

Over 3,000 Cases Reported from Reading, Pa.—Hospital Forces in London Prostrated—Spreading Rapidly in Montreal—Deaths in Buffalo—New York State Reports a Large Number of Sufferers.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—A canvass of 20 of the public schools of this city, having a total of 9,269 pupils, shows that over 1,900 are absent—mostly on account of la grippe.

The percentage of scholars absent from the schools not canvassed is also very large, and in some cases schools are closed entirely on account of the prevalence of the disease among pupils.

The total number of deaths reported for yesterday was 85, which is three times the average daily mortality of the past three years.

Several Towns Afflicted.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Jan. 7.—There are 2,000 cases of la grippe in this city, among them being three prominent physicians. There are 500 sufferers at Fort Plain, including Dr. Burnett, and at Canajoharie there are 300, including Henry Joy, who is seriously ill, and United States Commissioner Van Steenbergh. At St. Johnsville, Fultonville and Fonda several hundred cases have been reported, and one death has occurred at Tribes Hill.

Two Deaths in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The grip has not relaxed its hold in the city, and aided by the wet weather, is increasing its ravages. Two deaths occurred yesterday of influenza, those of Miss Della Cronin, a public school teacher, and Mrs. Jane Finley, aged 86. Miss Cronin was seized with the malady on Saturday and died yesterday.

Over 70,000 Cases in Munich.

MUNICH, Jan. 7.—This city is afflicted with influenza more severely than is any other place in Germany. There are over 70,000 authenticated cases here to-day. Among the more prominent victims who have been pronounced hopelessly ill is the famous surgeon, Professor Nuszbaum.

Halford and Windom Are Afflicted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—La grippe is spreading rapidly here, and several deaths are reported. Private Secretary Halford and Secretary of the Treasury Windom are victims, while at least one-fifth of the government clerks are reported down with it.

The Congressman Fainted.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 7.—Congressman O. C. Moore, who has been sick the past week with la grippe, endeavored to start for Washington but fainted away in the depot and was taken in a hack to his brother-in-law's residence.

3,000 Cases in Reading, Pa.

READING, Pa., Jan. 7.—It is estimated that there are now no less than 3,000 cases of influenza in Reading, and reports are coming in to-day of the extensive prevalence of the disease in the surrounding country districts.

The Plague in London.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The influenza is spreading rapidly throughout the city. Among its victims are large numbers of the nurses in the various hospitals, doctors, clergymen and policemen.

A Trio of Victims.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—Three deaths from influenza occurred here to-day. The victims were Thomas McDonald and Dewitt C. Hart, of the "News" staff and Ida Clifford.

Ex-Sheriff Farley a Victim.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Ex-Sheriff Chas. B. Farley, of Brooklyn, died of kidney troubles, together with influenza.

Spreading Rapidly in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—The influenza epidemic is spreading rapidly here, and the doctors are worked to death.

Influenza Decreasing in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 7. The influenza epidemic in this city is decreasing.

Runner Mack's Challenge.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 7.—James J. Mack, of Massachusetts, issues a challenge to run any man in Newburgh, Mattewan, Fishkill or Glenham, 100 to 250 yards for $250. He also challenges any man in these villages to walk ten miles, square heel and toe, for a like amount, giving any contestant 500 yards start. Mack's challenge is directed particularly to Henry Brown, the sprinter, now in Columbus, Ohio.

Hearing the Silk Men.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Ways and Means Committee gave the entire day to a hearing to the silk interest, F. W. Cheney, of South Manchester, Conn., President of the Silk Association of America being the first gentlemen heard. He favored the duty proposed by the Senate tariff bill, which makes a reduction of 10 per cent. on silks.

The League Suit Adjourned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—On account of the engagements of counsel, the argument of the League-Brotherhood Baseball injunction case has been put over until Thursday by Justice O'Brien, who is sitting in Supreme Court chambers.

SEVEN CLUBS SELECTED.

The American Association Pick Out Their Favorites for 1890.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The American Association now in session here has selected seven clubs thus far—St. Louis, Louisville, Athletic, Syracuse, Rochester, Columbus and Toledo. The eighth club will probably be Baltimore or Detroit.

The committees elected at the fall meeting in New York resigned. Presidents Phelps held over and Gen. Henry Brinker of this city was elected vice-president.

Columbus resigned its place in favor of Rochester. The representatives in the Board will be selected hereafter by each club.

It was decided that each club must file an approved bond for $10,000 to guarantee that it will remain in the Association throughout the entire season.

It was voted that the Association should have but eight clubs for 1890. The single umpire system was unanimously adopted.

The question as to salaries was left to the president with the understanding that they must be lower than last year. Umpires must report for duty to local managers before 10:30 on the day of the game.

Visiting clubs are to receive 40 per cent. of the gate receipts instead of 20 per cent as heretofore, and on Decoration Day and July 4 they are to get 50 per cent.

The Schedule Committee will meet at the Leland House, Syracuse, on March 10, when the new schedule will be decided upon.

A BAD GANG CAPTURED.

Bound Together by Thrilling Oaths to Wreck Trains and Rob Passengers.

FARRINGTON, Me., Jan. 7.—Emery E. Oakes, of West Phillips, arrested a few days ago for placing obstructions on the track of the Franklin & Megantic Railroad, in Salem, has confessed to Sheriff Silvester.

Oakes says he is in a gang of three, composed of himself, Henry Buzzell, of Salem, and Jesse Boyer, of West Phillips, bound together by thrilling oaths to wreck trains, rob mails and passengers. Their headquarters, he says, are in an old lumber camp on Mt. Abram. Buzzell was arrested and brought here Saturday, and Officer Gould telegraphed that he arrested Boyer at Andover to-day and will be here with him this evening.

FIRED FIVE TIMES.

A Cohoes Husband Attacks His Wife on the Street.

COHOES, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Crelas Willett followed his wife down Mohawk street last night and fired five shots at her. One took effect in the back and may prove fatal. She also received a slight scalp wound.

The woman cried "murder" and fell to the sidewalk. She was carried into the Clarendon Hotel and medical aid summoned.

The man was arrested and jailed. He says the reason he shot his wife was that she refused to live with him, and preferred outside company.

Fatally Injured By a Tunnel Cave-in.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A cave-in occurred in the Hudson River tunnel while thirty men were engaged on an archway. They all escaped but one Christopher Nelson, of Hoboken, who was caught in the air-lock and severely injured. He cannot recover. Several tons of mud fell and it was hours before the workmen could be induced to re-enter the tunnel.

A MONSTER BRIDGE

To be Seven Miles Long and Span the Hudson River.

SANCTION OF CONGRESS ASKED

The Structure to Run from the Hackensack to Manhattan Island.

The Capital Stock Fixed at $10,000,000. The Bridge is to be so High that Any Vessel can Pass Beneath It—The Incorporators Well-Known in the Financial World.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Congressman William McAdoo, of New Jersey, presented to the House, in the form of a bill, one of the most stupendous bridge schemes ever contemplated. It provides for a structure seven miles in length, reaching from the Hackensack River, across and above buildings in Jersey City, thence across the Hudson to New York. It will be a suspension bridge, accommodating at least six lines of railroad tracks, as well as horse and foot passengers.

The idea is to enable the Pennsylvania, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Erie, the Lehigh Valley, the New Jersey Central and other railroad lines centering at Jersey City to secure swift connection with the metropolis at the New York end. There is to be a huge union depot. The plans were drawn by A. Gustave Lindenthal. The bridge is to be so high that any vessel can pass beneath it, and no river pier is to be permitted. It is to be constructed under the supervision of the War Department. The Interstate Commission is to fix the tolls, to examine the accounts of the company and find out how much the structure costs, so that there shall be no watering of stock. Agreement is made to carry the United States mails free.

The incorporators named in the bill are Garrett A. Hobart and E. C. P. Young, President of the First National Bank, of Jersey City; John L. Mott, the big iron manufacturer; G. A. Roebling, of the Roebling wire works, Trenton; Charles J. Canda, president of the Western National Bank, of New York; Thomas J. Ryan, John H. Miller, John King-McLanahan, James Andrews, Samuel Rea, W. T. Shunk and Philip E. Chapin. The capital stock is fixed at $10,000,000, with power to increase to $40,000,000 if necessary.

DRAGGED FROM DEATH.

Five Miners Imprisoned by Fire and Nobly Rescued.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan 7.—At the Nottingham Mine, in Plymouth, where the disastrous cave-in occurred last week, a terrible accident was averted last evening.

About 7 o'clock a terrific explosion of gas took place. There had been a heavy fall of coal and this forced the gas toward the shaft, but on its way it was ignited by the naked lamps of the miners and exploded. The brattice work and timber caught fire at once and burned fiercely.

Five men were caught between the cave-in and the fire and all manner of exit cut off. The report spread that the men were dead, and in a few minutes hundreds of men, women and children gathered at the mouth of the slope waiting to see the dead bodies hoisted out.

The wives and children of the imprisoned men became frenzied, and their grief was terrible to behold.

About half an hour after the fire broke out John D. Humphreys and John Richards were lowered into the mine. When they reached the fire they heard shouts on the other side. Putting their hands before their faces they rushed through the fire and dragged the five imprisoned men out one by one uninjured.

When they reached the crowd above the rescued men and horses were received with shouts of welcome.

Thomas Richards who was in another part of the mine was severely burned by the explosion and it is feared he cannot recover.

Praise for America.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The "National Zeitung," referring to the proposed World's Fair in America, eulogizes the achievements of American genius. The prosperity of the country is such that while European treasuries are chronically empty, America accumulates a surplus. America's power may, within the next decade, seriously threaten Europe's peace, though the evident mission of the American people is one of civilization.

Preparing for War.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Lord Salisbury to-day sent a fresh note to the Portuguese Government on the African question. He ignores Portugal's pretensions, and insists upon Portugal respecting the rights of England. He threatens an immediate rupture of diplomatic relations or worse, unless satisfaction is given for Major Serpo Pinto's outrages.

Boulangists Still Living.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The Boulangists are concentrating their political efforts in Paris. Boulanger, it is said, will contest the 18th arondissement. The latest phase of the Boulangist conspiracy is consequently that the municipal Government shall control the police, and Boulanger shall control the municipal Government.

Admiral Willis Convalescent.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Admiral Pravo Willis is convalescent after an attack of influenza. His great age—99 years—makes his recovery remarkable. He was a midshipman on the Shannon when she fought in the famous battle with the American frigate Chesepeake—one of the few sea fights of that war which resulted in victory for the British.

HYDE—GODFREY.

The Swell Wedding on Fifth Avenue Yesterday Noon, That United a Plainfield Heir and a New York Belle.

The Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth avenue and Forty-fifth street, garnished in the evergreen decorations of Christmas, was the scene of a very interesting and extremely pretty wedding at noon yesterday, when the many relatives and friends of Mr. Charles Livingston Hyde of this city and Miss Edith Godfrey, daughter of Mr. Charles H. Godfrey of New York gathered to witness the ceremony.

A particularly pleasing feature of the occasion was the choral work of the surpliced choir, numbering sixteen voices, under the direction of Mr. Henry Carter, the organist, who before the arrival of the bridal party played selections by Beethoven, Rossini, Raff, Schumann, Mendelsshon and Moskowschki. Cadiska's processional was sung as the choristers marched from the vestry to the chancel, and as the bridal party entered the church and formed into line Dyke's "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden" was finely rendered. As the bridal party moved up the center aisle Mr. Carter played the "Lonhengrin" march, and after the ceremony the choir sang "Deign this union to approve," to the music "See the conquering hero comes," from Handel's "Judas Maccabues."

The bride entered the church escorted by her father and attended by Miss Minnie Wanamaker, daughter of the Postmaster-General: Miss Bertha N. Robinson, Miss Lizzie Glendenning, of Philadelphia, and Miss Helen Brice, daughter of the Hon. Calvin S. Brice, as bridesmaids; Miss Edith Hyde, the twelve-year-old sister of the groom, Miss Ada Godfrey, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Leech, young misses, as maids of honor. The four bridesmaids and two of the maids of honor wore very pretty gowns of fine white French wool, made with deep lace, apple-green sashes and Francois hats of green and white. Each carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Hyde, the little maid of honor, was attired in a costume of white silk and silver, with a large white hat decorated with ostrich plumes, and carried a basket filled with lilies of the valley.

The bride was attired in a beautiful wedding gown, a creation of Worth, of cream white satin, point lace and orange blossoms, made with long train, high neck and long sleeves. The bridal veil of delicate silk tulle was fastened upon the head with orange blossoms and a diamond crescent, a present from the groom. She also wore a rose diamond brooch, which was selected from the French crown jewels. This latter was presented to her by her mother. Her bouquet was of white orchids.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Louis K. Hyde, and the following young gentlemen served as ushers: Mr. Frank Plummer, Mr. Henry F. Godfrey, brother of the bride; Mr. Frank Cunningham, and Mr. Frank Delacy Hyde, a brother. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Brooks, of the Church of the Incarnation, Madison avenue, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. Parker Morgan, the rector of the Heavenly Rest.

Immediately after, the bridal party was driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, at No. 42 West Fifty-seventh street, where a wedding breakfast was served by Sherri. Small tables were placed about the two drawing rooms and also in the dinning room, in which latter apartment the bridal party were seated at one large table. The house was superbly decorated with choice flowers by Thorley, and Lander furnished the music during the feast.

Among the seventy-five or one hundred guests invited, who were relatives and very intimate friends of the Godfrey and Hyde families, present were the Hon. John and Mrs. Wanamaker, Col. and Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Miss Louise Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hood Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Mr. and Mrs. Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Choate, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Adams, Miss Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor P. Lowery, Mrs. Edgerton, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard, Miss Eleanor Shepard, Mr. Jas. F. Closson, Mr. and Mrs. John Markle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Leech, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glendenning and Mr. and Mrs. S. Leech. The young couple received many costly and beautiful presents from friends in this city, Philadelphia, London and Paris.

Funeral of Mr. Wm. Moore.

The last sad rites following the death of the late William Moore, who died early on Sunday morning, took place from St. Mary's church this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The church was comfortably filled with the relatives and friends of the deceased, many of the latter being the older residents of this city.

Rev. Father Smyth was the celebrant of the solemn high mass, assisted by Rev. Father Stafford as deacon, and Rev. Father Freeman of North Plainfield, as sub-deacon. A choir of male and female voices from Father Corrigan's church at Elizabeth, furnished special music for the occasion.

The pall-bearers were: James Smith of Easton; John H. Staats of Somerville; H. Rehill and Patrick Sheridan of Elizabeth; D. S. Roberts, Jas. Whalen, Thaddeus Horan, and Peter Flynn, Sr., of this city. Interment was made in St Mary's cemetery.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. John D. Titsworth is very sick with pneumonia at his home on Madison avenue.

Mr. Samuel Allen of Mountain avenue, entertained his friends at his residence, last evening.

Owing to illness Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert are compelled to postpone their reception from the 9th to the 23d inst.

Miss Lizzie Deane and Miss Gertie Derby of New York are visiting the Misses Jennie and Julia Allen of Duer street, North Plainfield.

At her home, No. 10 Liberty street, this morning, occurred the death of Miss Josie Fowler, daughter of Mr. Jesse Fowler, aged twenty-two years.

Mr. Thomas Martin, of Deckertown, N. J., returned home today after spending three weeks with relatives in this city, North Plainfield and Dunellen.

It is understood that the will of the late William Moore, leaves the bulk, if not the entire estate to his wife. The will, it is said, was drawn up but two days previous to his death.

The condition of Miss Burt, formerly a teacher in the public schools in this city, who is now confined in a hospital in New York, is but little improved, and the physicians in charge do not think that she will be able to leave that institution before Summer.

Mrs. Althea R., wife of Mr. Hiram H. DeCamp, passed away quietly on Sunday last at her home in Chester, N. J., after a lingering illness and much suffering from heart trouble. Mrs. DeCamp was the only surviving sister of Mr. John W. Laing of this city, and had many friends and acquaintances in this vicinity, where she was born. She leaves a husband, two sons, John and Hiram, and one daughter, Mrs. Clifford DeMott of New York city, to mourn her loss.

Death of Mr. John A. Laible, Jr.

The death of Mr. John A. Laible, Jr., the popular tonsorial artist, of North Plainfield, occurred at his home corner of Somerset and Race streets, at about eight o'clock on Sunday evening, from consumption, in the 25th year of his age.

Mr. Laible leaves a wife and one daughter, Lizze May, fourteen months old. Mr. Laible married Miss Mamie Hedden, daughter of Mr. Ephraim Hedden, the tinsmith, of Madison avenue, about two years ago. He was also a member of Franklin Council, No. 41. Jr. O. U. A. M.

His funeral will take place from his late home on Somerset and Race streets, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Crescent Avenue Prayer Topics.

Following are the topics for the present week of prayer, at the meetings held every evening in the Crescent Avenue church at eight o'clock:

Wednesday, January 8, "For the Church of Christ," Psalm CXXII.

Thursday, January 9, "For the Nations and Missions," II Cor. V; 9-21.

Death of Mrs. William Moore.

The death occurred shortly after one o'clock today of Mrs. William Moore, relict of "Uncle Billy" Moore whose funeral took place this morning.

She was very sick with both the pleurisy and pneumonia, but her death was not expected. Her low condition, however, brought on a convulsion during which she died before the arrival of Dr. Hedges and Boone who were immediately summoned.

PRESIDENT MOFFETT.

FOUR OF A KIND BEAT A FLUSH.

A Good Democrat Will Preside Over the Republican Council of 1890—Last Evening's Organization With the Officers Named by THE PRESS.

As stated exclusively in these columns of last evening, the seven Republicans who compose the overwhelming political majority of the Council of 1890, had not agreed in their choice of officers. And at eight o'clock, the hour fixed by the Charter for organization, they were still split wide apart.

Meanwhile the four Democrats, Moffett, Gallup, Hetfield and Spangenberg, were "laying low," holding the balance of power in their hands, and waiting to spring something that would astonish the natives, reflect creditably on their political sagacity, and shake the Republican party from stem to Gep Frazee.

At seven o'clock Councilmen Dunham, Roberts, Rushmore and Smith of the Republicans, met in the office of Mr. Joseph B. Coward ostensibly to hunt for harmony but ready for mutiny. Councilmen Newhall and Johnson were too ill to be present, and Councilman Jenkins was accused of staying away because he had promised to vote for both Mr. Coward and Mr. Anthony, as City Clerk.

At the same time the above Republicans were meeting, the four Democrats gathered in the parlor of the Miller Bros., hotel and congratulated one another upon having in their possession the key of the situation. Subsequently they also passed up the darkened stairway of No. 7 Park avenue and disappeared into the seclusion of Mr. Coward's office, but they found no harmony there.

The Republicans were divided on Councilman Newhall for President. Councilmen Smith and Roberts were dead set against electing any man who would not consult with his colleagues beforehand as to the make up of the standing committees. They held that all were equally elected by the people to represent their interests, and that all should have an equal right in the suggestion of the best committeemen to carry out such interests. "No One-man-power in the Chair!" was the battle cry of Messrs Smith and Roberts.

On the other hand Councilmen Dunham and Rushmore held that Mr. Newhall's ability and experience particularly fitted him for the presidency, his labors of the past year in the matter of bringing about the very favorable water works contract that had been secured deserved a reward of honor, and they were most willing to leave the selection of the committees to his good judgment and sense of justice. But they had a battle cry, too. It was, "No Newhall, no Coward!"

At 8:30, when all present adjourned to the City Council room, the fight was still on. Before the meeting was called to order, a few words were passed back and forth by the Republicans in the privacy of a Committee room. Councilman Dunham seized his hat and coat and threatened to leave with Councilman Rushmore, but remained where he was when informed by Councilman Smith and Roberts that there would be enough to organize without them. Then there was some talk of postponing the organization, but Councilman Smith said, "You may as well fix it tonight. The same condition will as probably occur a week from tonight, as now."

The four Democrats listened but said nothing. The time for their coup d'etat was at hand. As the saying is, "Nobody didn't say nothing more to nobody," and the new Councilmen of 1890 filed into the Council room and took their seats. A crowded house was waiting expectantly as Clerk Leonard called the roll. Present—Councilmen Dunham, Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Roberts, Rushmore, Smith and Spangenberg. The body assembled to organize was a tie politically, and those few in the audience who had not read yesterday's PRESS, thought there would be a deadlock.

Councilman Hetfield, seconded by Councilman Smith, moved that the Council proceed to the election of a President. This was seemingly unanimously carried, as was also a motion to vote by ballot. Councilman Dunham nominated Henry B. Hewhall, and was seconded by Councilman Rushmore. Councilman Gallup nominated Elmore D. Moffett, and was seconded by Councilman Hetfield. Messrs Dunham and Hetfield were appointed tellers by Clerk Leonard, and the PRESS reporter's derby was used as the ballot box.

The result was the election of Councilman Moffett as President. Messrs Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg, cast their ballots for him; while Messrs Dunham and Rushmore voted for Mr. Newhall.

President Moffett took the Chair and thanked the Council for the honor conferred upon him. The election of a City Clerk then followed. Messrs Dunham and Rushmore nominated Mr. O. B. Leonard, and Messrs Roberts and Smith nominated Mr. J. B. Coward. The latter was elected by the votes of Messrs. Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg. Messrs Dunham and Rushmore voted for Mr. Leonard. Mr. Wm. V. Munday, the present janitor, was the only nominee for that office, and was re-elected unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Dunham, the rules of order that governed the Council of 1889, were adopted as the rules of order for 1890. The Clerk was instructed to present the bonds of the City Collector and the City Treasurer at the next meeting, and the Council of 1890 then adjourned until Monday evening, January 13.

ELIZABETH IN FIRST PLACE.

The Union County Bowling Tournament On the Home Stretch—Plainfield to Roll the Next Two Games.

After a rest of four weeks, the Tourney of the Union County bowling clubs for the championship, opened again last evening, at Westfield. The match was the fourteenth of the series, and between the Elizabeth Athletic club and the Mondays of Westfield.

The latter wanted to win very much as the victory would undoubtedly assure them the championship, but Dallas was very ill with the grip and others of the Westfield team were out of shape, while Price, Turnbull and Heilner lifted the Elizabeths on high. Mr. Charles Russ was umpire, and the score was as follows:

Board of Education.

The members of the City Board of Education met and organized last evening by the election of Mr. J. K. Kirkner, President; Mr. J. W. Murray, secretary, and Mr. L. E. Clark, Clerk. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the following claims were presented and referred for proper certification: Newman Bros., $1.25; A. S. Barnes & Co., $4.25; Carney Bros., $2.85; W. F. Adams, $1.80; A. M. Griffen, $2.03; H. P. Smith & Co., .75c; S. Conway, $3.75 and $3.50; John Linbarger, $2.05; W. Scott, $.102; L. Prang & Co., $19.08; W. Manning, $2.88.

The Collector reported to the Board that $19,716.11 had been collected for school tax for 1889, which amount had been credited to the Board of Education.

The President appointed the following standing committees for the year:

Teachers and supplies—Messrs Kirkner, Hurlbut, Babcock.

Accounts—Messrs Murray and Babcock.

Repairs and buildings—Messrs Probasco and Murray.

Fuel—Messrs Probasco and Hurlbut.

Dr. Hurlbut was appointed City Superintendent, and the compensation of the Clerk was fixed at $250.

The President reported that Miss Thyng had been obliged to resign as drawing teacher, on account of ill health, and that another teacher had been engaged in New York.

A request from Miss Faber for kindergarten supplies was granted, as was also a request from the scholars of the High School, asking for permission to hold a concert to raise funds for the library. Miss Stout was granted an increase of salary, and permission was given the scholars in the Irving School to raise money for the purchase of a flag.

Messrs Probasco, Babcock and Murray were appointed a special committee to consider the matter of securing flags for all of the schools, and the Board adjourned.

This Morning's Fire.

At a quarter after one o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the East corner of Mr. Charles Bock's bottling establishment on Emily street, North Plainfield. The fire spread rapidly, and in a short time the entire structure was enveloped in flames. No. 1 Engine Company of the Borough located their apparatus on the Race street well, and did excellent service in keeping the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. The building was totally destroyed, together with the contents.

A valuable horse owned by Mr. Andrew Love, stabled in the building was rescued with much difficulty by Messrs. H. K. Voorhees and Michael Koller.

The building was owned by Mr. Koller, and was worth about $1,000. It was insured for $400. Mr. Bock estimates his loss on the contents at $1,800, and he was insured to the extent of $500.

The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, as there was no fire in the stove which serves to heat the place. Mr. Bock says the fire was evidently started by some one through pure deviltry or out of spite. About two years ago his Second street residence and saloon were destroyed by fire.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

THE POPE'S NUNCIO

A Vatican Representative Not Expected at Washington.

WALKER BLAINE'S STATEMENT

The Holy Father Has Never Been Recognized as a Temporal Ruler.

A General Opinion that a Representative of the Vatican Will Not be Sent to Washington—Justice Brewer Sworn In. Senator Morgan Talking on the Brazilian Question—Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—State Department officials profess utter ignorance of any intention on the part of the Pope to send a Nuncio to this country as the representative of the Vatican.

Assistant Secretary Wharton said today that he knew nothing about the matter, but he thought it was not likely that a Nuncio would come.

Mr. Walker Blaine, when asked about it, said: "We have, of course, never recognized the Pope as a temporal ruler, and have never sent him any envoy. Our Minister to that region has been accredited to the Italian Government, and if there has ever been any occasion for communicating with the Vatican it has been through the Minister. I do not think that a Papal representative has ever been sent to this country. It is a grave question whether or not one would be received if he came, a question that would have to be discussed over at the White House, and I have not the slightest idea how it would be decided I do not believe in the rumor."

JUSTICE BREWER SWORN IN.

The Ceremony Brief and the Business of The Court Immediately Commenced.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—David J. Brewer, the new Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, has assumed the duties of his office. On entering the court room he was attired in the black robe of office and took a seat quietly at the clerk's desk, while the marshal opened the court. The Chief Justice arose and announced that the commission of the new Associate Justice was in the clerk's hands and called upon the clerk to read it. The reading over, the new Associate Justice arose, and standing at the clerk's desk, read aloud the oath of office. At the end the clerk said: "So help you God," and Judge Brewer bowed his acquiescence.

The Marshal, Mr. Wright, then escorted Justice Brewer to his seat on the extreme left of the Chief Justice, the Chief Justice and the Associate Justices bowing to him as he passed.

The regular business of the Court was then taken up, a number of decisions being read.

AN UNLUCKY TRAIN.

Three Accidents in One Night and Four Persons Killed.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 7.—The mail train, west-bound, Pennsylvania Railroad, last night killed two men at Tyrone, one of them being the train dispatcher, the other has not been identified. The men were walking on the track when struck.

At Ben's Creek, about twelve miles east of here, the same train also struck and instantly killed two men, supposed to be Hungarians in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The men stepped in front of the engine and were terribly mangled. The train was stopped, the bodies taken aboard and brought to Johnstown, where they now lay awaiting identification.

Two miles further down the road from Johnstown the same train struck an omnibus which runs between Johnstown and Morrellville and almost killed a woman.

The New Ohio Legislature.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan 7.—The 69th General Assembly of Ohio organized by the election of the Democratic caucus nominees for the various offices. No business of importance was transacted other than the reception of Gov. Foraker's message and the presentation of a resolution in respect to the memory of George H. Pendleton.

The Railroad Strike Ended.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 7.—A committee representing the strikers on the various lines of the Mackey system held a long conference with Mr. Mackey which resulted in a settlement of their difficulties. Neither the railroad officials nor the employes will say on what basis the adjustment of the differences was settled.

Buds Bursting in the Trees.

A Blizzard in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., Jan. 7.—The worst blizzard of the season struck here yesterday with a fierce northwest wind accompanied by snow. The thermometer fell 32 degrees in a few hours, and this morning was 24 degrees below the freezing point.

DEMAND THEIR ARREST.

Dr. Kniffin's Attempt at Suicide Regarded as a Confession.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Dr. Kniffin's attempt to commit suicide has caused almost as much excitement as the murder of his unfortunate wife. He used his pocket knife and cut a jagged gash about three inches long in the right side of the throat, which bled profusely. Before committing the deed, he took a heavy dose of aconite. The quantity probably saved his life, for a few minutes after he used the knife he threw the drug off.

The noise made by the retching attracted the attention of his brother-in-law, Roscoe Murphy, who was in the next room. He thought some one had been taken ill, and started to investigate. He found the Doctor lying undressed on the bed in the room where the murder had been committed.

The front of his night shirt was covered with blood. He was still conscious.

"What have you been trying to do, Arthur?" asked Murphy.

"Trying to end my wretched life," said Kniffin.

The household was aroused, and Drs. Shepherd and Cooper were at once sent for and a messenger hastily despatched to the home of Druggist Patterson on Mercer street. When Patterson came in he said, when told of the poison:

"Why, I don't believe he got any poison."

"Yes, I did," said the Doctor. "I got it off your boy Ed. Wilkes early in the morning before you got to the store."

His attempt at suicide will not result even seriously, as the wound was merely a flesh one.

The inquest was adjourned until to-morrow on account of the funeral of the murdered woman to-day. It is believed that the inquest will last several days. About sixty witnesses have been subpœnaed to testify at the inquest. Among the witnesses will be those who will testify to a fact in connection with the alleged burglary of Nov. 30.

The people demand the arrest of Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell. The Doctor's attempt on his life is regarded as conclusive evidence of his guilt and is considered as equivalent to a confession.

Dr. Kniffin himself says he did the deed because his troubles were more than he could bear. He says his mind became totally unhinged, and in a moment of rashness he attempted to take his life.

WILL BATTLE TO-NIGHT.

Barnes and Coxe to Engage in a Fistic Encounter at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Tommy Barnes, the New York feather-weight, will fight Scotty Cole, of this city, to-night.

Barnes says he is in the pink of condition and fit to fight for a life. He tips the scales at 118 pounds. Coxe has been training steadily and is in fine condition.

Jack McAuliffe, the famous light-weight, who is en route to San Francisco to fight Carroll, stopped off here to-day and will remain a few days.

With the President's Blessing.

BATH, Me., Jan. 7.—The ship Rappahannock was launched here. As an outcome of President Harrison's visit here Mr. Sewall, the owner, received a handsomely framed portrait of the President with the following autographic inscription:

"May every voyage of the ship Rappahannock be prosperous.

"BENJAMIN HARRISON."

The portrait is hung in the cabin of the ship.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 7.—John Bassette, who killed his wife with an axe, at Ludlow on Dec. 26th, was taken from the Springfield hospital, where he was sent to recover from the knife wounds which he inflicted on himself, and arraigned. The Boodle Cases Abandoned.

Badly Broken Up.

There was discharged from the Camden county jail yesterday a man who, in the history of surgery, is an anomaly. But for the fact of a Camden woman's suspicion and want of charity this surgical wonder would not have been known to the world today. George Burns, a powerful looking Englishman, last Friday was committed to the county jail charged with being a "drunken and disorderly" person. In January, 1884, he was chief engineer on the steamship Savannah when that vessel was wrecked at Gay's Head. Burns was thrown among the machinery and was horribly cut and mangled, and it was thought he would not survive.

Burns became the patient of the famous Dr. Agnew of surgical fame. His leg was broken in four places, the frontal bone of his head was crushed in, the bones impinging upon his brain from the right and left satures; his internal organs were so distorted as to lead to the belief that he could not live longer than a few hours, and both arms were broken.

Trepanning was resorted to, Burns being furnished with a silver half skull, covering the space occupied by the forehead, and over which the skin has grown.

More singular than this is the fact that the ribs on the left side are missing, the body giving the feeling as of solid flesh. By a curious natural process the heart has gone over to the right side, where there are ribs to protect it. In the right thigh there is no bone, the femur being broken close to the pelvic bone, and the calf of the right leg is much swollen from being filled with some foreign substance; the knee cap is missing, as well as the right elbow.

County Physician Iszard examined the man yesterday, and discovered that the story of his missing anatomy was entirely true. Upon the medical man's recommendation the peculiar prisoner was released. He was on his way to this city to take a position as an engineer when arrested.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Nervous Children.

I want to say a word about nervous children. Never scold or make fun of them. They suffer enough without your threats or sarcasm. Don't let them know you see their awkwardness when in company nor their grimaces when alone. A case was reported by The Boston Globe of a boy 10 years old who, on being vexed, and often without any apparent provocation, will clinch his hands and make the most frightful contortions of the muscles of his face and head, till his poor mother fears he is idiotic. By no means. He is the brightest boy in his class at school, fond of reading and of natural history, but he is of a highly nervous temperament, and has not been taught to control the little wires, so to speak, on which he is strung. This is no single case. There are thousands of children who give way to their nerves in similar fashion. Never whip them, but talk to them about these curious little strings that should be made their servants, not their masters. A prominent physician in this city says the man or woman who whips a nervous child should for every blow given receive five, and soon a level with brutes that have no reason. It is our duty to encourage and help them. Be patient with them. They are the making of our future successful men and women, for they will work hard at whatever they undertake. Brace up your own nerves first and then be indulgent toward the capers of your over nervous children.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Here Is a Regular Fish Story.

On the little strand at Dugort, in Achill island, on the west coast of Mayo, now lie the remains of one of the most curious creatures, perhaps, to be met with in all the animal creation. This large sea monster is none other than the gigantic squid or king cuttlefish, and is rarely seen on our shores. To what species of the Œmmestrephes it belongs will ever remain unknown, as it is too far gone in decay. The suckers and horny rings had fallen off long before it reached the strand, and the parrot like horny beak, which is peculiar to this animal, was also missing. The animal, though shrunk and distorted, measured as follows: Length of tentacles, or long arms, 30 feet each; circumference of body, including short arms, 60 feet; circumference of tentacles in some places, 4 feet. I know of only four instances of the appearance of this strange monster in British waters. It would take a vessel as large as the hull of the Great Eastern, filled with spirits, to show off the animal for exhibition. Curious tales are often told by mariners about this sea monster. Its enormous arms or tentacles are armed with formidable suckers and horny wings, which are set with small teeth pointing inwards. These long arms, seventy feet in length when outstretched, as they float about in the ocean, may have given rise to the story of the sea serpent.—London Standard.

It Was Powder.

One Fourth of July, in Plugtown, the boys who were firing the anvil at intervals ran short of powder, and started around town to solicit money to buy some more. When they came to Uncle Billy Smith, sitting on the drug store steps and telling how his grandfather helped whip the British in revolutionary days, the old man broke off his story and said:

"Boys, up'ards of two years ago a peddler left a keg of sunthin' in my cooper shop over thar. It may be 'lasses or vinegar, an' it may be gunpowder. I ain't any wise sartin what she is, but you'll find it in the corner to the right as you enter the back door. Might knock in the head and see what's in it."

Three or four of the boys started for the shop, while he went on with his yarn. Ten minutes had passed, and he was giving the redcoats fits at Lundy's Lane, when there came a tremble—a crash—and the cooper shop seemed to be lifted bodily fifty feet into the air. All the men on the steps were rolled off, but Uncle Billy was one of the first up. Looking across at the heap of debris, on fire in a dozen places, he waved his hand and exclaimed:

"I'll be gosh durned if it wasn't gunpowder arter all!"—New York Sun.

Not So Easy.

A young poet, not averse to letting strangers know that he was a poet, was one day in the country with a party of friends. Stopping for some milk at an humble farm house, they saw an old lady weaving a rag carpet on an old fashioned loom in a small outbuilding.

Several of the party had never before seen a rag carpet woven, among the number the young poet.

After watching the process for several minutes, he said, in a patronizing tone:

"That looks simple, but I dare say, grandmother, I could write a poem easier than I could weave a yard of that carpet."

"Like enough," replied the aged weaver, simply, with no intention of placing the young man in an embarrassing position before his friends, "like enough, sir; for, after all, it takes some brains to do this."—Youth's Companion.

In Florida the orange is cut in halves, and its juice and pulp are passed to the mouth with a teaspoon. In Havana the orange is served whole on the table, peeled down to the juicy "meat of the fruit," and you present the golden ball to your lips on the prongs of a fork.

SORROW IN GERMANY

The Dowager Empress Succumbs to Influenza.

SCENES ABOUT THE PALACE.

A Renewal of the Veneration Paid to the Late Emperor William.

Her Nearest Relatives Were Kneeling by Her Bedside When Death Came—Celebration of Emperor William's Birthday Abandoned—Sketch of the Woman Styled "Empress of Beauty."

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The death of the Dowager Empress Augusta, though from the nature of her illness and considering her advanced age, not unexpected, has caused a profound feeling of sorrow in Berlin. The attack of influenza with which she was seized with the utmost virulence of the malady, gave early indications of developing into pneumonia and culminated in that disease despite the strenuous efforts of her physicians to avert it.

Scenes About the Palace.

The scenes in the streets after the announcement of her death vividly recalled those following the demise of her husband, the late Emperor William I., and the reverential demeanor of the crowds which throng the vicinity of the palace strongly suggests a renewal of the veneration in which the old monarch's memory is held by all Germans rather than a tribute to the one just dead, irrespective of her association with him.

In consequence of the death of the Dowager Empress all of the preparations which were already making for a brilliant celebration of the birthday of Emperor William II on January 27 have been abandoned, and the occasion will be allowed to pass without special recognition.

Announcing the Death.

The lowering of the Imperial Standard at the palace announced the death of the Dowager Empress to the public. Her nearest relatives were kneeling at her bedside and Chaplain Koegel was praying when death came. There was no struggle. The body rests on an open couch, shrouded in white and presents a picture of absolute peace.

The Dowager Empress.

The Dowager Empress was the widow of Kaiser William I., and was born in Weimar September 30, 1811, being the daughter of Grand Duke Charles Frederick, of Saxe-Weimar.

She was married to the then Prince William, of Prussia, June 11, 1829, who was fourteen years her senior.

Two children of this union were Frederick William, born in 1831, who married the Princess Royal of England, and Princess Louise Marie Elizabeth, who became the wife of Frederick William Louis, Grand Duke of Baden.

The Empress possessed rare musical gifts and was much devoted to charitable work.

She aged rapidly during the last few years of her life, and suffered much, paralysis of the jaw being one of her afflictions.

In her youth, however, and in the first years of her womanhood, Augusta was superbly handsome, being frequently alluded to as an Empress of Beauty.

London's West End Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—At the trial of Arthur Newton, Frederick Taylorson and Adolphus DeGalla in the Bow Street Police Court in connection with the West End scandal, an ex-postal messenger named Perkins swore that after he had given testimony against Newton and Veck, Newton tried to induce him to go to Australia, saying he knew a man who would give Perkins $100 down and $5 a week for three years and would also pay the same sum to each of the other witnesses if they would all emigrate together.

Stanley Accepts the American Banquet.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Henry M. Stanley has accepted the offer of a banquet in his honor to be given by Americans in London, but says he cannot definitely fix the date. He cables that he will probably arrive in London about the middle of February. The banquet will be presided over by Minister Lincoln, who will present to Stanley on behalf of his entertainers an American flag and a massive silver shield inwrought with African scenes.

Portugal's Answer to England.

LISBON, Jan. 8.—Senator Gomes will reply to Lord Salisbury's menacing note at the end of the week. It is believed that he will intimate the readiness of Portugal to order the restoration of the status quo provided that the British Government will do the same.

Over a Hundred Persons Drowned.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 8.—By the bursting of a waterspout in the providence of Nanking, upwards of a hundred persons were drowned a number of boats wrecked and a large amount of property of various kinds was destroyed.

Jem Smith's Backers Exonerated.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Pelican Club has exonerated Messrs. Fleming and Abington, the backers of Jem Smith, from all blame for the ruffianism displayed by the friends of Smith at the ring-side at Burges.

Murdered by Italians.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Isaac Schilansky, an aged Polish Hebrew, was murdered in the yard of the tenement No. 9 Elizabeth street, by Frank Bocuh and several other Italian tenants in the house, who knocked the old man down and beat and kicked him until he was insensible. He died while being taken to a hospital. Schilansky was landlord of the tenement, and had accused Bocuh of damaging the property.

EMPIRE STATE LEGISLATION.

Gov. Hill's Annual Message Read and Both Houses Adjourn Until Monday.

ALBANY, Jan. 8.—In his annual message to the Legislature Governor Hill's first recommendation is for an enumeration of the inhabitants of the State. This the Governor says is paramount to all other duties because it is an obligation imposed by the constitution itself and affects the sacred rights of the people to a just and proper representation. He sharply criticizes the former five Legislatures for failing to act in this matter.

A reform in the electoral laws is recommended. The present laws, the Governor says, are good, surpassing in the scope and exactness of their requirements the statutes of most other States, yet there are two great evils that need attention—intimidation and corruption. These flourish unchecked, bringing shame upon the State. The Australian system is being urged by many, but in no State has the system been adopted wiihout modification. In framing a system for this State, unnecessary changes in our present laws should be avoided as far as possible, and only those innovations made which are believed to be absolutely essential to accomplish the form desired. It is evident that whatever measure is finally secured at this session must be one which will meet the approval of the leading men of both parties. It is not a difficult task, when approached in the right spirit, to discover those features of the Australian system which it is desirable should be incorporated into our laws.

Of the Australian system the Governor recommends the secret compartment system, and incidentally suggests that their construction be regulated by explicit direction contained in the law itself. That whatever system is adopted should be applied to all elections—general, municipal and local. A general registration of electors should accompany the secret compartment system of voting.

Referring to the liquor question, the Governor says that he does not believe the people favor the adoption of the Prohibition amendment, but favor the regulation of the liquor traffic by just and equitable excise laws, rigidly enforced.

He concludes by referring to the World's Fair agitation, and remarks that he does not feel it necessary to impress upon the Legislature the necessity of such legislation as will secure the Fair to New York city.

Adjourned Until Monday.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Senator Ives introduced in the Senate Mayor Grant's Rapid Transit bill of last year, which was referred to the Committee on Railroads. The following resolutions were introduced in the House: By Mr. Adams, that the Superintendent of Public Buildings receive the desks. By Mr. Curtis, that the amended rules be adopted. By Mr. Peck, that the usual contracts be made for mails, etc. By Mr. Saxe, that the various clergymen of this city be asked to act as chaplains. Both Houses adjourned until Monday the 13th inst.

MONTANA DEMOCRATS ACT.

Two United States Senators Elected and Their Certificates Signed.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 8.—The Democrats met in joint session, and after diligent efforts on the part of Clark's friends brought out a quorum. On the first ballot Clark and Maginniss were elected Democratic Senators from Montana by a vote of 37 each.

Hon. W. Clarke was the President of the late Constitutional Convention of Montana, is a well-known banker and mine owner of Butte. Hon. Martin Maginniss has repeatedly represented Montana as a delegate in Congress.

Gov. Toole has signed the certificate of election of Messrs. Clark and Maginniss, but it is said that Secretary of State Rotwitt will refuse official authentication and withhold the State seal.

Ball Players Returning Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Mike Kelly and wife left for Boston via Los Angeles. White, Johnston, Radbourn, Hurley and Dailey started east by the same route, and Manager Hart, Nash and the balance of the Bostons will leave to-morrow. It looks as if the baseballists "hoodooed" the town, for rain has fallen almost incessantly since the company arrived, and in consequence they are not "in" many dollars by their California trip. The Browns will leave in a few days, going via Portland, Salt Lake and Denver.

Was Sane Before the Murder.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Jan. 8.—Little Winnie LePlant, who was beaten and cut by old Stephen LePlant at Centre Haverhill at the time that LePlant murdered her brother with a hammer, is still alive, but will probably not survive more than two or three days more. The coroner's jury has decided that LePlant was not intoxicated, and that he was sane a few moments before the murder. LePlant will have a hearing to-morrow.

Will Move Their Works to Another Town

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 8.—Judson L. Tomson and Jacob J. Unbehend, respectively president and general superintendent of the J. L. Tomson Manufacturing Company, of Syracuse, which makes buckles, rivets and hardware specialties, were here negotiating for the Somersworth Machine Company's works and will possibly move their works here. The concern employs 150 men.

Republican League Convention.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—President J. M. Thurston, of the Republican League of the United States, has called the third annual convention of the League to be held in Nashville, March 4, 1890. About 1,000 delegates from the various State Leagues are expected to attend. After the convention the delegates will go to Chattanooga to hold a Republican League mass meeting.

THE RACE PROBLEM

Advocating the Emigration of Negroes from the South.

SENATOR MORGAN'S SCHEME.

The Return of the Colored People to Africa the Only Solution.

President Harrison's First State Dinner in Honor of His Cabinet and the Vice-President—Speaker Reed and Ex-Speaker Carlisle Present—Mr. Randall's Present Condition Very Comfortable.

WASHINGTON, Jan 8.—In the Senate after the introduction of several bills and resolutions, Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, spoke at great length on the bill of Senator Butler to provide for the emigration of negroes from the Southern States.

He expressed himself in favor of voluntary emigration of the colored people from the South, having reached the conclusion that there was a natural incongruity and an irrepressible conflict between the races which nothing could cure except their final separation. The return of the negro race to Africa was the final and only solution of the problem.

It was undenfable, he said, that the aversion between the races had greatly increased since the abolition of slavery, and it would increase so long as a large proportion of the population was African. This feeling was not so intense in the South as in the North. It was not so strong between the negro and his former masters as it was between the negro and those who had never owned slaves.

He maintained that Africa was the natural home of the negro, and, quoting the description of the Congo Basin from Henry M. Stanley, concluded that that would be the best location for the American negroes as, by their efforts civilization would be more rapidly promoted in Africa than through any efforts of the whites. Mr. Morgan said that Central Africa seemed destined for future conquests of civilization, and complimented the efforts of the King of Belgium in that direction.

THE FIRST STATE DINNER.

Given by the Administration in Honor of the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The first State dinner of the present administration was given at the Executive Mansion last night. The dinner was given in honor of the Vice-President and the members of the Cabinet. The floral decorations in the dining room were superb. Potted plants and flowers of every description adorned the window sills and mantel-pieces. Conspicuous among the floral decorations was a large floral shield, containing 42 stars, representing the present number of States now in the Union.

The full Marine Band, under the direction of Professor Sousa, was in attendance, and at times furnished delightful music for the guests. Covers were laid for 36, and, besides the President and Mrs. Harrison, there were present the Vice-President and Mrs. Morton, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Windom, the Secretary of War, the Attorney-General and Mrs. Miller, the Postmaster-General and Mrs. Wanamaker, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Tracy, the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Noble, the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Rusk, the Speaker of the House and Mrs. Reed, General Schofield, Senator and Mrs. Sherman, Senator and Mrs. Cockrell, Senator and Mrs. Hale, Hon. J. G. Carlisle and Mrs. Carlisle, Hon. Cornelius N. Bliss and Mrs. Bliss, Mr. Runnels, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Henry G. Davis and Mrs. McKee.

Mr. Randall Comfortable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Randall was sworn in as a member of the Fifty-first Congress by Speaker Reed in accordance with the authority given him by the resolution introduced in the House by Mr. Carlisle. The formality took place at Mr. Randall's residence. Mr. Randall was sitting up and appeared very comfortable. He expressed himself as being annoyed by the statements about his sickness.

Miss Elizabeth Drexel Married.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Miss Elizabeth L. Drexel, eldest daughter of the late Francis A. Drexel, was married to Walter G. Smith, a lawyer of this city. Archbishop Ryan performed the ceremony at St. Dominick's Church, Holmesburg, assisted by a distinguished body of prelates. There were no bridesmaids. A brilliant company of guests attended. Mrs. Smith is one of the wealthiest ladies in America, and is a sister of Miss Kate Drexel, who recently entered a convent at Pittsburg.

Indicted for Ballot-Box Stuffing.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 8.—Indictments were returned by the Middlesex Grand Jury against Joseph Hayver, a Democratic Justice of the Peace and Thomas Teneson, late Democratic Inspector of Election in the Sixth ward of New Brunswick, for stuffing the ballot-box. An indictment was also returned against Matthew Reed, late Republican Inspector of Election for conspiracy, as alleged, to allow commission of the fraud.

A Prominent Business Man Dead.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 8.—William H. Rogers, a wealthy and prominent business man of Fishkill Landing, died at his home on Spy Hill, aged 59 years. He was vice-president of the Mechanics Bank, of Fishkill, president of the Fishkill Shoe Company, member of the Board of Education and trustee of the village.

The Acme of Stage Realism.

The horse race which is shown in the last act of the "County Fair" now current at the Union Square Theatre, is nearly as good a horse race and very nearly as exciting as anything to be seen at Monmouth or Saratoga. It is no unusual thing to hear women scream out in their ardent desire to see Dandy win, and the waving of handkerchiefs and shouts of "Dandy wins!" happen every evening. The fence in front of the race track moves at a rate of twenty miles an hour, kept in motion by powerful electric motors beneath the stage. As the horses are plunging like mad behind the fence on tread mills reduced to a level, it is no wonder that the illusion of a real struggle on the turf is almost perfect.

Be Sure of the Genuine.

If any of our readers have occasion to buy quinine for the grippe be sure you get the real stuff. A competent medical authority of New York says that three-fourths of the quinine pills sold at drug stores are compounds of cinchona and other forms of quinine which are not as effective as the genuine article. Physicians who wish to make sure that their patients get quinine now insist on its being put up in powders. The bitter taste of the drug makes that form of taking it extremely obnoxious, but it is the one reliable form.

Faithful as of Old.

Much credit is due to the ex-members of the disbanded No. 3 Engine Company of North Plainfield, who yet worked gratuitously and successfully as of old on yesterday morning's fire. They greatly helped in keeping the flames from spreading beyond the old carpenter shop, which it was rumored that a woman living on Duer street saw some man set on fire.

A New Railroad.

The new railroad over the Raritan river, from South Amboy to Bound Brook, has been completed to Milltown, four miles from New Brunswick. Trains will begin running on the road from New York today. The entire road is expected to be completed early in the Spring. The road will be used principally for the transportation of brick, clay and coal.

Coal Train Broke in Two.

A Philadelphia and Reading empty West bound coal train, drawn by engine No. 127, broke in two at the Plainfield station, at one o'clock this morning, and the engineer did not discover the break until he reached Dunellen. The train was delayed for half an hour.

ANOTHER GONE.

Mrs. Hazell's Death Soon Follows That of Her Sister.

The especially sad news of the death of Ada H. Elden, wife of Mr. T. E. Hazell, will be received with unusual sorrow by the community who are acquainted with the pathetic and distressing circumstances of the occurrence. She died at about nine o'clock of last evening, less than a week after the death of her sister, Florence Louise Elden, who had come from her home in Boston to nurse her sister here.

The shock of Miss Elden's death almost broke Mrs. Hazell's heart. She unjustly blamed herself for calling her sister to her side, when she remembered that Miss Elden was always affected more or less with a cold, by the air of North Plainfield. After her sister's death Mrs. Hazell seemed to have a premonition that she would soon follow her to the grave and join her in Heaven. She urged that Miss Elden's body be not taken at once to Portland to be laid besides their father, but to wait only a little while and they might take them both together.

Mrs. Hazell died suddenly and without pain of heart failure. Her disease was pneumonia. She had two trained nurses and the best of medical attendance, including the celebrated Dr. Janeway of New York in consultation. She leaves a husband and four children—the youngest not quite three years of age. In life and character she was an unusually estimable Christian woman, and by her kindness of heart and sweetness of disposition she commanded the love of all who knew her.

The funeral services will be held at Trinity Reformed church to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hazell's former pastor, the Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, D. D., and the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, will officiate. The remains will be taken to Bailey's Island, Me., for interment.

The deaths of the two sisters leave their mother, Mrs. Mary L. Elden, alone in the World and sorely bereaved. Her husband died in June last, and she and her daughters were all who were left of his family. Many a tear a sympathy with the living will flow with those of grief for the loss of the dead.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Abbie, wife of Cutter Dolbier of Terrill Road, died this morning, aged eighty years.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck is confined to his home, suffering with a severe cold and hoarseness.

Mr. J. Harry Milligan of West Seventh street, has returned home from a week's vacation in Hunterdon county.

Mr. Henry T. Smith, of Broadway, has purchased a beautiful little house of Mr. Loomis, on Bay street, and expects to take possession about the first of February.

Messrs Ernest R. Ackerman, Joseph W. Gavett, Benj. R. Force and Jos. W. Sanford are the members of the Grand Jury from this city, sworn in at the January term of court which opened in Elizabeth, yesterday.

Prof. Wm. R. Harper, of Yale, who is to lecture in Plainfield on January 31, recently declined the offer of the Presidency of a Western University in order that he might continue as instructor in Bible study in Yale.

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Moore, whose sudden death was recorded in THE PRESS of yesterday, will take place from St. Mary's church, to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Edward B. Ryder of this city, representing the high grade sporting goods firm of Merwin, Hulbert, & Co., of No. 26 West 23 street, New York, will start on Thursday for a five weeks trip in the South, stopping at Richmond and Jacksonville.

It is reported that upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hyde—nee Miss Edith Godfrey—will reside on Madison avenue, New York. Among the wedding presents noted was a check for $100,000 to the bride from her father.

The funeral of the late John A. Laible, Jr., who died on Sunday, took place from the house, corner of Somerset and Race streets, North Plainfield, this afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, officiating. The members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics were present in a body. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

There was a pleasant gathering of members of the congregation of the Clinton Square Presbyterian church at Albany, the other evening, in the lecture room. During the evening Elder John McEwan addressed the popular pastor, the Rev Charles E. Dunn, son of Mr. S. F. Dunn, of this city, and concluded by presenting him on behalf of the congregation with an elegant gold watch and chain valued at over $300. The recipient was entirely surprised. He responded in a feeling manner.

Buried With Masonic Honors.

The funeral obsequies over the remains of the late James H. Canniff who died on Sunday, took place from his late residence on La Grande avenue at 10:30 this morning. The Rev. W. R. Richards conducted the service, and at the close the body was taken to Fairmont Cemetery, Newark, for interment, where masonic services were held. Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M., of this city attended the funeral in a body.

AT THE CAMERA CLUB.

The New Corps of Officers' Successful Efforts to Make the Meetings Entertaining and Instructive.

The most enthusiastic meeting that has occurred since its organization, was held at the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club on Monday evening last. There was a full attendance and many matters of importance to the Club's welfare were discussed and acted upon. Four new members were elected and action taken to have some instructive demonstrations at every regular meeting.

President Teale announced that he had already provided for entertainments for eight months ahead. A committee was appointed to report upon having a sky-light-background, a large camera, etc., and the cost thereof. The house committee announced that the Club would hold its exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. parlors on the 30th inst., for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. For a few evenings thereafter, the exhibition will be on view for the public, and probably a flash-light picture of the visitors will be taken each night at 9 o'clock sharp. A project is now in abeyance that will facilitate members in having their printing, mounting and developing done by some competent person hired by the Club.

After the business was finished the Club were entertained by Mr. Alfred W. Day, who successfully demonstrated the excellent qualities of a new flash-light device by taking two exposures of the Club in session, and they were afterward developed in the new developer "Eikinogen," much to the enlightenment of the members. Evidently the new corps of officers mean to make the Club not only attractive to its members, but also to be favorably known in its mother city. The Club now comprises over 30 active members, besides several honorary ones.

FOR THE LADIES.

The fourth dress is a light green Japanese silk, with a large ruching at the bottom of green and pink. The front, or tablier is in pink crepe, with an embroidered garland of flowers.

The sixth dress is a white flowing crepe robe, heavily trimmed with lace.

Somerville to Have a New Depot.

The Central Railroad is about to build a new station at Somerville in place of the dingy barn which has long outserved its uses. The names of the stations from Bergen Point to Paramapo, which are all in the City of Bayonne, have been changed to conform to the names of the streets. Pamrapo is now East Forty-Ninth street, Bayonne East Thirty-third street, Centreville East Twenty-second street, and Bergen Point West Eight street.

A Great Convenience.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Randolph Celebrate Their Silver Wedding—A List of the Guests, and Other Details.

A large number of the relatives and near friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Randoph, of Park avenue, gathered at the latter's residence, upon invitation, Monday evening, to take part in the anniversary exercises commemorating the twenty-fifth year of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph's married life.

During the evening the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church, made a few appropriate remarks, and the guests in general wished the host and hostess many future years of health and happiness. Miss Mabel Maxson also contributed some instrumental selections, in a very creditable manner. The gifts were numerous and of a high grade. Following is a list of the guests present:

Mr. Thomas Ewing and wife and Mrs. Helen Evans, of Cumberland county, N. J., Mr. J. E. G. Benjamin, of Providence, R. I., Mr. George Larkin and wife, of Dunellen, Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis and wife, Miss Grace Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Randolph, Miss Bessie Randolph, Miss Grace Smith, Mr. Asa Randolph, Mr. Robert Randolph, Miss Florence Potter, Miss Mabel Potter, Miss Mattie M. Maitland, Miss Amanda C. Randolph, Mr. Samuel Randolph, Mr. David Randolph and wife, Mr. Samuel Smalley and wife, Mr. John Freeman, wife and son, Miss Celia Hiscocks, Mr. Reuben Potter, wife and son, Miss Kate Potter, Mr. and Mrs. William Potter and son, Mr. George Titsworth and wife, Mrs. Joseph Titsworth, Miss Anna Titsworth, Mr. Edward Stillman and wife, Mr. Lewis Randolph, Mr. Herbert Randolph, Mr. Frank Randolph and wife, Mr. Reune Randolph and wife, Mr. Frank Randolph, Jr., Miss Mabel Maxson, Miss Bessie Titsworth, Mr. Peter Randolph and wife, Mr. Daniel Randolph and wife, Mr. C. H. Barnhart and wife of Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tingley, Mr. G. W. Reaton and wife, and Messrs John Smalley, Walter Smalley, Carroll Tomlinson, James Clawson, Walter Harrison, Charles Griffen, Fred. Dunham and W. W. West, the latter of Long Branch.

During the evening the guests sat down to a sumptuous collation, and at a late hour the festivities came to an end.

Plainfielders in the Courts.

The January term of Court opened at Elizabeth, yesterday. Among the cases on the docket in which Plainfield people are interested, are the following:

M. B. Long, M. D., vs. estate of Antonio De Baud, for disputed bill for medical services. W. L. Hetfield, executor of the estate, is the defendant.

Joseph Lamb, et al., vs. Francis X. Schoonmaker, on contract; Nelson Runyou for plaintiff; Wm. K. McClure for defendant. Postponed until May term.

Augusta C. Lissignolo vs. G. Warren Watson, on contract; Babbitt & Lawrence, for plaintiff; Craig A. Marsh, for defendant. This also went over until the next term.

The first is a suit in the civil court; the last two are supreme court cases.

Wants More Police Protection.

A young lady who resides in North Plainfield, was approached by a man who was apparently under the influence of liquor, while returning home on Monday evening, and she writes to THE PRESS as follows, in the hope of securing additional police protection:

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Dear Sir:—I think extra officers of the Borough are very much needed on Somerset street from Chatham street to Jackson avenue and beyond to prevent crazy or drunken men from annoying ladies. I hope the Mayor will attend to this matter immediately. By kindly inserting this in your paper you will greatly oblige.

North Plainfield, January 8, 1890.

The Heirs Still on Top.

Judge VanSyckle in the Circuit Court at Elizabeth, this morning, read an opinion denying a new trial in that phase of the Frazee Lee will case where the heirs-at-law were, three months ago in an ejectment suit, awarded a farm of 60 acres that Lee had left in his will with all the rest of his property to the Scotch Plains Baptist church.

Business Failures in 1889.

The total number of failures in the United States during 1889, as reported to Bradstreet's, is 11,719, or 10¾ per cent. more than in 1888, while in 1888 the total of 10,587 was 847 in excess of that for 1887, or 9¾ per cent. The increase in the number of failures as compared with 1887, is 1,979, or 20 3-10 per cent., while the increase in the total liabilities for a like period is only about $9,700,000, or 7½ per cent., and in the total assets it is about $5,900,000, or 9 1-10 per cent. While there was an increase in the number of failures reported in 1888 as compared with 1887, as shown above, the totals of assets and of liabilities of failing traders in 1888 were smaller than in 1887, making the increases of the latter in 1889 as compared with 1888, relatively large. Thus, while the gain in the number of failures last year as against 1888 was 10¾ per cent., the increase in liabilities was about $20,100,000, 16¾ per cent., and in assets it was $8,600,000, 13.9 per cent.

The great popularity of Ayer's Pills as a cathartic is due no less to their promptness and efficacy than to their coating of sugar and freedom from any injurious effects. Children take them readily. See Ayer's Almanac for this year, just out.

SEEN FROM AFAR.

What a County Paper has to Say of the Organization of Plainfield's Council.

(From Yesterday's Elizabeth, N ews.)

Last evening the city council chamber at Plainfield was crowded to repletion with the expectation that the new members would organize. The crowd were not disappointed and the organization was made complete by the selection of Mr. Elmore D. Moffett, Democrat as president, and Joseph R. Coward, Republican, as clerk. The complexion of the council stands seven Republicans to four Democrats, and it is especially pleasing to see that the Democracy was recognized by the selection of so worthy a person for president.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Monday evening next when petitions for licenses to keep hotels will be received, referred to the proper committees, and as soon as possible, acted upon, it being understood that a majority of the members are in favor of renewing the licenses in Plainfield, thus giving the city a revenue of seven or eight thousand dollars additional, which through the efforts of a few cranks has for the year or so past gone over into North Plainfield, Somerset county, from which it is separated by only a narrow brook.

The better element are in favor of license as it is an undisputed fact that under the no license system upwards of sixty unlicensed places sold liquor from which the city gained no revenue.

AND BOTH WERE CHOSEN.

Plainfield's Only Newspaper "Calls the Turn" Again.

(From Monday's Daily Press)

The Clerkship is still Mr. Coward's. The candidacy of Mr. E. E. Anthony,—reported exclusively in THE PRESS of some days ago—has not developed strength, and Mr. Eugene V. Lorton, the latest aspirant, has not the requisite "pull," either. So unless some change of plan is adopted between six and eight o'clock this evening, City Clerk Coward will succeed City Clerk Leonard.

Right here if THE PRESS may be allowed a suggestion, wouldn't it be a very handsome thing on the part of the Republicans to give the Presidency to their friends the enemy? What's the matter with Councilman Moffett for the chair? This is worth thinking about. He would fill it to the advantage of the city, with credit to the Council and honor to himself.

Dr. Oliver's Mysterious Disappearance.

Dr. Allen H. Oliver, Superintendent of the Sunday School of All Saints' Episcopal church, at Fanwood, has disappeared. The doctor built a house near the station, but his business was not remunerative While his wife was visiting relatives Dr. Oliver left the village. Mrs. Oliver went to live with her mother near Wilkesbarre, Pa. It is believed that business troubles are the cause of his sudden retirement.

When a PRESS reporter called at the doctor's house, on Monday, which is situated on a slight knoll less than a hundred yards Northwest from the station, he found a stranger in charge. The latter said that he came from Wilkesbarre that day with instructions from General Paul A. Oliver, of New York, to pack the household goods preparatory to sending them away. The house, which is nicely furnished, has been vacant since December 16, on which day the doctor left Fanwood. Mrs. Oliver went home some two months ago.

A rumor was afloat at Fanwood, some little time since, coupling the doctor with a pretty village maiden, and it is thought by some that this was the cause of his mysterious disappearance, and also the cause of his wife going home.

The household effects are being prepared for shipment, but it will probably be several days before the house will be vacated. The premises belong to the Land Improvement Company. Gen. Oliver, the missing one's uncle, has paid all the Doctor's outstanding indebtedness in the town.

Horrible Stories of Suffering.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 8.—The physicians sent by the county into the mountain district along the Cheat River, in which diphtheria was reported to be epidemic, tell horrible stories of suffering. A temporary hospital has been erected. Thirty deaths have occurred in two weeks.

Murderer Cleary Sentenced to Die.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. Jan. 8.—The motion for a new trial in the case of Charles Cleary was overruled and Cleary was sentenced to be hanged. Cleary killed Chief of Police Philip Paul at Renovo last March while being taken to jail for disorderly conduct.

Threw His Father's Body in a Well.

RUSSELL, Kan., Jan. 8.—The authorities have just discovered the murder of Richard Boler by his son John ten days ago. The boy, aged 18, to obtain a few dollars, smashed his father's head and threw the body in the well. Two younger children witnessed the deed, but were kept still by threats.

Developed Into Pneumonia.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Jan. 8.—There are several hundred cases of influenza in this city. A number of the cases have developed into pneumonia and will probably result fatally.

Water Famine Threatened.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 8.—By a sudden gorging of ice in the Missouri River above St. Joseph the stage of the water here has fallen two feet below the average and a water famine is threatened.

A CANDIDATE for postmaster at Manistique, Mich., sent the following open letter to President Harrison: "Of course we are one of the many aspirants for the, to be, to-wit: new postmastership. Quite a number are around loose in the city, and the woods are full of them. We can all show scars received in the service of the grand old party. We can not all be postmasters, but do come and let us down from the high and dangerous qui vive of expectancy. Let us down easy like, or as easy as you can, from the giddy height, unless you have us pointed for the postmastership. In that case 'Let 'er go, Gallagher.'"

IT is said that "one of the most successful literary bureaus in the country is managed by women." Of course. A man has no success with a bureau. A woman can crowd more articles in one drawer than a man can jam into four. And when a man goes to a bureau to look for a pocket-handkerchief, he turns over about two cart-loads of one thing and another without finding the object of his search, and while he is grumbling loud enough to be heard all over the house, his wife comes into the room, pulls open the top drawer of the bureau, snatches a handkerchief and hands it to her angry husband with the conciliatory remark: "If it had been alive it would have bitten you."

THE secretary of the Bath (Me.) Board of Trade, E. Greenleaf, gives, in a comparative way, an idea of the extent of the ship-building industry in his city for over 100 years, and also the estimate for the present year. From 1781 to 1889 there were built in Bath 3,328 vessels of all kinds, with a total tonnage of 1,261,436.59. This list embraces 88 steamers, 890 ships, 253 barks, 673 brigs, 1,262 schooners, 155 sloops and 7 barges. The estimate for 1889 is 2 ships, 2 steamers, 1 bark, 28 schooners, 1 barge and 4 sloops —38 in all, with an aggregate tonnage of 34,841.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?
Do its Manufacturers Publish the Ingredients Used?
IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?
As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.
Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

Another Big Fire Said to be the Work of Destructionists.

A SECRET WAR ON SOCIETY.

The Burning of the Brussels Exchange Endangered 300 Lives.

Fears of the Outrages Spreading—A Keen Watch Kept by the French Police—A Branch of the Russian Nihilists Said to be the Real Incendiaries and More Fires are Expected.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 8.—The Bourse and the theater attached to it have just been destroyed by fire, which broke out at an early hour and spread with such rapidity that the firemen with difficulty saved the adjoining Hotel Central, in which there were 300 guests.

Only a few blackened walls are left standing to mark the site of one of the most splendid edifices in Europe. The Bourse was a noble structure, with facades decorated with Corinthian columns, with a fine flight of steps leading to a portico in which were allegorical marble groups and figures of Justice and Commerce.

No persons were injured, but the guests at the hotel were put to sudden flight. The theatre was a minor one where operettas and light comedies were given. Coming so soon after the fire at the royal palace, which was clearly incendiary, this new disaster creates a veritable panic.

Charged to the German Socialists.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The burning of the splendid exchange in Brussels, followed so closely upon the disastrous fire at the Belgian royal palace at Lacken, and the firing of St. Michael's Church in Aix la Chapelle, is attributed here to the Socialists and Anarchist agitators so numerous in Belgium and Germany.

A keen watch is kept upon the workingmen's proceedings in Belgium by the French police, because these workmen are so intimately allied with the populations of Northern France. A strike on one side of the frontier is pretty certain to be followed by a strike on the other, and several times since the Republic was established disturbances in Northern France have come near to provoking Socialistic outbreaks in Paris.

The Northern German Socialists intend to make a secret war on society, and Belgium, crammed with mansions, museums and churches filled with art treasures, and with teeming manufactories, is in terror before this threat.

The destructionists are a branch of the Russian Nihilists, and are vowed to wage merciless secret war on society. If they have got possession of the impoverished drink-frenzied miners of Belgium, far greater losses than those just registered may be expected.

WATCHING MISS PURCELL.

No Arrests Will be Made Until After the Inquest.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Prosecutor Bayard Stockton said to-day that when the detectives first searched the rooms in Dr. Kniffin's house on the morning of the murder they found Mrs. Kniffin's gold watch lying on the dressing case. The prosecutor says that this is sufficient to kill the theory that the crime was committed by burglars. Prosecutor Stockton also said that no arrests will be made until after the inquest, which is being held to-day at the Court House. Coroner Bower says that Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell will be required to appear at the inquest to testify.

Chief McChesney said that neither of the parties suspected had been arrested, but his men would keep a sharp lookout for the purpose of preventing persons suspected from escaping. The excitement over the murder has not subsided in the least, but is being discussed in all the stores and shops and at the hotels and public places. There are few people in Trenton who believe other than that Dr. Kniffin has not told all that he knows in regard to his wife's death. It is well-known that a close watch is being kept on Miss Purcell's movements.

KILLED ON HIS ENGINE.

Two Trains Meet on the Pennsylvania Road Near Belvidere, N. J.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Jan. 8.—A bad collision on the Pennsylvania Railroad, by which one of the oldest and best known engineers on the road lost his life and several others were injured, occurred about one mile below this city.

A heavy freight train, run by George Haggerty, engineer, and Thomas Kelley, firemen, received orders to run through to Phillipsburg, and it being their first trip a Pennsylvania pilot was put aboard the engine. As they were rounding a curve, running about 15 miles an hour, they saw an engine and a caboose approaching at a rapid rate. The two engines struck with fearful force.

Engineer Richard Walton was caught between the tender and cab just as he was about to jump, and received injuries from which he died in about three hours. The other engineer and both firemen jumped an instant before the crash and are but slightly hurt. The engines and cars were completely wrecked. Walton had been an engineer on the road for 20 years.

Daring Attempt at Robbery.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 8.—A daring noonday attempt to rob the First National Bank at Bloomsburg was made by a desperado, who rode into town dressed like a mountaineer. The fellow tied his horse to a post in front of the bank, and walking into the institution direct to the cashier's window, drew a revolver on Cashier Tustin, demanding $1,000. The cashier gave an alarm and the desperado fled. He was followed by a posse but escaped.

Jack Rowe Not Dead.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8.—The report of Ball player Jack Rowe's death was an error. While Mr. Rowe is very sick with pneumonia, his physicians do not consider him in immediate danger.

100 Boys Down With The Grip.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—One-hundred-and-sixty of the boys on board the training ships Exmouth and Shaftsbury, are suffering from la grippe.

CITY BUILDING BURNED.

A Big Blaze at Lewiston, Me., and No Insurance.

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 8.—The Lewiston City Building, containing the city hall, the various city offices, the armories of the military organizations, the Mechanics and Manufacturers' Association Library rooms and the post-office was burned last night, the fire originating in the elevator shaft. The building ten years ago cost $250,000. There was no insurance on it.

The court records were saved and the city records are supposed to be all right in the heavy safe. The military companies lose all their equipments.

The 11,000 volumes of the library were destroyed. They were insured for $6,000. Many of the volumes were rare works, not easily duplicated. Postmaster Walker saved all the mails and most of the Government property, either by carrying it away or depositing it in his safes. He has an office open for business to-day. The mails were dispatched from Auburn last night. The fire also destroyed Tracy's block adjoining

This was occupied by F. L. Hoyt, with a stock of pictures; Week's printing office; the Daily Advocate, and the Androscoggin Poultry Exhibit. Weeks was well insured. The poultry were all burned. The building was owned by Cyrus Greely and J. Y. Scruton.

DEATH RELEASES HER.

The Murderess of Stephen Pettus Dies in the Tombs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The troubled life of Mrs. Hanna B. Southworth, who shot and instantly killed Stephen L. Pettus near the Fulton Ferry on November 22, is ended. She died in the Tombs.

Mrs. Martin, the deceased's mother, W. B. Martin and George Martin, Mrs. Southworth's two brothers, were with her when she died.

The emaciated condition of the body after death was demonstrative of the suffering Mrs. Southworth had endured. It was wasted away almost to a frame.

The coroner granted a permit for the removal of the body on the strength of Dr. Chetwood's certificate of death, which stated that it resulted from anaemia, heart failure and general debility.

The remains were taken to Mr. W. B. Martin's residence, 335½ Lafayette avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Southworth formerly resided there with her brother and his wife.

The body will be encased in a metallic lined casket and temporarily buried in Greenwood to-morrow. In the early spring it will be taken to Louisville and interred in the family plot.

WILL BE EVICTED.

Judge Wilson's Reply to the Miners Who Asked for a Stay.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 8.—The petition of the employes of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Coal Company at Walston and Adrian, asking for a rule to show cause why the evictions should not be stayed, was refused by Judge Wilson at Brookville.

"When a miner signs one of these leases," said Judge Wilson, "he practically verifies the language of the good old hymn, 'Here, Lord, I give myself away 'tis all that I can do.'"

If the evictions do not take place it will not be because the law does not warrant them. The general opinion is that they will not be delayed much longer.

Robert Watchorn, of the National Executive Board, Knights of Labor, asked for an interview with Superintendent Haskell. Haskell replied that he would meet him socially and talk to him as an individual, but not as the representative of the Knights of Labor.

The miners held a mass meeting and discussed the situation, but have not formulated a programme.

She Would Not Marry Him.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 8.—Albert Tennet came from West Virginia to Dunbar, in this county to marry Miss Nettie Bartlett a pretty young schoolteacher, whom he had never met, but with whom he had corresponded. He had sent her valuable presents, some of which she had refused, among them being jewels, and $500 in money. On his arrival he offered her $500 more and a span of horses if she would wed. She refused, and he went sorrowfully back.

No Change in the Shoe Factory Strike.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 8.—The situation at J. H. Winchell & Co's shoe factory is unchanged, the bottomers being still out, with no prospect of returning to work. The Shoe Manufacturers' Association held a meeting and unanimously voted to sustain J. H. Winchell & Co. in refusing to sign the price-list presented by the officers of the Shoemakers' Union.

Philadelphia Printers Will Not Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Typographical Union No. 2, after considering the question of the demand for 45 instead of 40 cents per 1,000 ems, resolved not to strike to enforce the demand. The effect of the decision will be to indefinitely postpone the whole matter.

No Freight Trains on Sunday.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 8.—Under a recent order from Mr. Vanderbilt no freight trains except those transporting perishable freight are now being run on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad on Sunday. This reform was inaugurated last Sunday.

Ella White Escapes.

La Grippe in a Reformatory.

ELMIRA N. Y., Jan. 8.—La grippe has appeared at the Reformatory. There are twelve cases among the 1,000 occupants of the institution. All the cases are mild.

WON BY BARNES.

Declared the Victor in the Eighth Round on a Foul.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8.—Tommy Barnes, of New York, and "Scotty" Cox, late of Australia, fought eight rounds last night in a room over a saloon in Williamsville, a Buffalo suburb. The contest was for a purse of $250. Barnes was declared the victor on a foul in the eighth round. Barnes had the best of the fight all through. He drew first blood in the second round.

Cox used very unfair tactics, and several times fouled Barnes by striking him in the face while breaking away.

In the eighth and last round Barnes had much the best of it, with Cox well winded and very groggy. They clinched, and while breaking away Cox struck Barnes between the eyes. Barnes' friends cried foul, and the referee decided the fight in favor of Barnes. Another match is probable in the near future.

Several prominent members of the Buffalo Athletic Club have signified their willingness to back Barnes against Cox for any reasonable amount.

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB.

Lively Set-Tos Where the Police Had to Interfere.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 8.—The Gladstone Club opened its athletic club rooms last night with three exhibition set-tos.

The feature of the programme was a 15-round contest between Scully, of Woonsocket, and McManus, of New Bedford. Both men weighed 140 pounds and Scully had the best of the fight for seven rounds. In the eighth the police stopped the fight, as McManus' face was badly damaged and he was getting ugly.

George Dixon, colored, of Boston, and Joe W. Murphy, of this city, bantams, gave a four round exhibition which the export, Dixon, had the best of, and Tom Ashe, another colored bantam from Boston, and Martin Flaherty, of Lowell, fought ten rounds and made a draw of it. Four ounce gloves were used, and Queensberry rules governed.

Russian officials have decided that the telephone is "dangerous to the state." In Warsaw orders have been given that telephones be removed from all restaurants and coffee houses. Similar orders have been issued in all other large Polish towns.

First class passengers are carried between Glasgow and Greenock at ¾d. per mile and third class passengers for half the money, and this cheap traffic is considered so valuable that there is the keenest competition for it, one company having recently spent $600,000 in order to obtain a better share.

The wool called astrachan is likely to be popular. It is extremely fine, and is twisted in tiny loops about an inch apart that have sufficient elasticity to maintain their form when passed in and out over the knitting needles.

At the Indian cemetery on Indian hill, near Portland, Conn., the other day, John R. Lewis dug up a red man whose grave was liberally provided with culinary utensils. There were several bottles, an iron kettle with a copper ladle, a brass kettle and two Dutch mugs. The human remains, which were a skull and a dozen very fine teeth, were evidently those of a great chief; but what business the Dutch mugs had in the grave is a mystery to every one.

Mr. Irving's views on the prospects of those who adopt the stage as a profession are not very encouraging for youthful aspirants. Of the total number of actors in England, estimated to be above 20,000, he expresses the conviction that quite half of them would be glad of an assured £200 a year.

A first class composition for cleaning marble of all descriptions is made by adding whiting to common soft soap till it is as thick as good paste; then put it on the marble and leave it for a day or two—the longer the better—and, when the paste is taken off, all the stains will be removed.

The Sahara desert is said to be growing. The fertile strip of Egypt is less than it was within historic times and the sands are invading Tunis. A French scientific commissioner reports to his government that the whole southern part of Tunis is gradually becoming desiccated. The commissioner, E. Blanc, cannot suggest any measure for saving the oases of the desert from extinction. Sufficient water cannot be obtained by any means to support vegetation.

Did you ever see a child who would not return a smile? There may be a few children, but they are the exception, not the rule. The child face is a mirror in which is reflected the face of him who looks into it, as its mind gives back the image of the one who is training it. Those in charge of children should not forget this.—Mississippi Teacher.

The nutmeg tree looks like a pear tree of three years' growth. The leaves and bark, as well as the nut and its curious covering, are very fragrant. The nutmeg itself is the seed of the fruit, the fruit being about the size of a common hen's egg. As it ripens the outside cracks open and expose the nutmeg, wrapped in its thin, lacelike covering of mace. It grows on all the islands of tropical America and Asia, the trees of Jamaica being the most fruitful, some of them bearing as high as 4,000 to 5,000 nutmegs per year.

The Cat Killed the Eagle in Midair.

One day the cat was trotting out toward the barn, carrying in her teeth a piece of meat for her young. A bald eagle, which had been in the habit of hovering over the place, suddenly descended upon pussy and whirled her upward in a rapid vertical flight. The path of ascent, to the eye of a spectator watching the scene, was clearly indicated by loose feathers violently tossed from the point of combat.

In time the struggling pair attained a giddy eminence and came to a standstill in the sky. The eagle's wings had dropped now and then, and he had given plain evidence of pain and terror, yet not once had his awful grip appeared to relax.

At length a descent was begun, with a rapidity which every moment increased, and the two animals struck the ground at the very point where they had first encountered each other; but the eagle was dead, and pussy, as soon as she felt terra firma beneath her feet, shot away for the barn, still carrying her bit of meat.

Investigation proved that the cat had cut the eagle's throat, and so lacerated his breast that his body was literally laid open. After his death in midair, however, she had been too clever to relax her hold and fall to the ground, but had let her enemy serve as a parachute to ease the descent. At last accounts pussy was none the worse for her aerial flight and battle.—Union Point Bee.

The Incomparable Art of the French.

Admitting all the moral degradation of the lively Gaul, let us for one brief moment try to keep our excellent virtue from the question: Why is it that our educated people read novels still of style so bad, of texture so light, of meaning so vacant that no Palais Royal book stall would venture to imprint them? Or, rather, why are they of France such artists, and yet such wicked ones? Why do they still care for excellence in art, if in nothing else? Incomparable in "the calm pursuits of peace," they throw together a few thousand oils, a few hundred aquarelles, a few million bits of fused sand or baked clay, and all their mighty neighbors flock to Paris and step gingerly, admiring, through the show shelves of this beaten people. Such artists are they! so delicately, so consummately do they work, each in his quiet little shop, or field, or study!—Scribner.

Best Place Yet.

It is estimated that Americans have sunk $80,000,000 in Mexico in the last two years in mining and farming speculations, but you have only to form a company, put out a circular about a rich old hole in the ground dug by the Aztecs, and there will be plenty to subscribe.—Detroit Free Press.

ACCUSED OF MURDER

Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell Arrested.

BOTH PLACED IN PRISON CELLS

The Young Woman Refuses to Answer Questions at the Inquest.

The Prisoners Take Their Imprisonment Without Excitement — Their Lawyer Forced Their Arrest—A New Point Brought Out in the Inquest—Miss Purcell's Position When Found.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—Dr. A. J. Kniffin and Miss Emma Purcell have been arrested on the charge of murdering the the former's wife. Miss Purcell was in the court room, where she had been summoned as a witness before the Coroner's jury. When called to the stand she was calm, and showed no signs of nervousness.

When asked her name she hesitated, whereupon Chauncey Beasley, one of counsel, arose and said that Miss Purcel, under his instructions, would answer no question. She was practically under arrest, as she was not allowed to leave the house except when under the escort of a policeman. Being in custody, she was not allowed to testify.

Miss Purcell was then arrested and taken to the Grand Jury room below, and a few minutes later Dr Kniffin was brought in by Detective Leary, and the summons was read to the two prisoners. In the summons Detective Pilger complains that "one Myra Kniffin was by some person or persons, willfully murdered, and that he hath reason to suspect that Emma Purcell and Arthur J. Kniffin did willfully and feloniously kill Myra Kniffin."

Locked Up in His Prison Cell.

Both prisoners heard the complaint read with much composure. They waived a hearing and were committed.

When the formalities were finished Dr. Kniffin quietly picked up his hat and walked out into the corridor and down the stairs to the jail. A moment later the woman, still surrounded by her friends, followed after. Warden Muirheid took their respective pedigrees, and soon they were looking at the world through grated doors.

Attorneys Barton and Beasley appeared before Justice Beasley and presented a petition asking for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of the prisoners.

Justice Beasley refused to interfere until the close of the coroner's inquest, now in progress.

The first day's inquest produced no facts that were very new or startling, although it was brought out for the first time that Emma Purcell, when found upon the floor, was lying upon her face, not her back.

DEMOCRATIC DINNER.

The Battle of New Orleans Celebrated by a Banquet

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Business Men's Democratic Club tendered a banquet at the Hoffman House last night to Governors-elect Boies, of Iowa, Campbell, of Ohio, McKinney, of Virginia, Abbett, of New Jersey, and Toole, of Montana. The dinner was also in celebration of the battle of New Orleans.

Governor-elect Abbett was the only one of those named above who found it possible to attend. The others sent regrets, as did also Governor Hill.

Among those present were Henry Hilton, ex-Governor Hoadly, W. E. Russell, Leon Abbett, J. Edward Simmons, Mayor Chapin, of Brooklyn, W. R. Grace, W. T. McManes, John C. Sheehan, and many other lights of the party.

The following letter of regret from ex-President Cleveland was read:

"The activity of the members of your club in political action is in direct keeping with that participation in public affairs which I have at all times insisted was the duty of our business men and which cannot be otherwise than exceedingly important in our national welfare.

"For every reason, therefore, I shall be glad to be the guest of the association at their banquet given in favor of the grand old Democrat whom we all delight to remember with enthusiasm and in recognition of our sterling party associates who have been elected to the chief magistracy of their respective States."

The following telegram from Gov. Hill was read:

"I had hoped to this hour to be able to attend the annual banquet of the Business Men's Democratic Association, but unexpected engagements will prevent me from leaving Albany. Please present my regrets to members of committee. I trust the entertainment will be a pleasant one."

Corporal Tanner Talks.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—The Butler Club celebrated the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans by a banquet at the Parker House. Colonel Eben Plympton presided. Addresses were made by General Benjamin F. Butler, Corporal Tanner, Charles Levi Woodbury, T. R. Kelly, of New Hampshire, and E. M. Chamberlain. General Butler, in his address characterized the Australian ballot system as an enemy to the workingmen. Corporal Tanner said he left the pension office because he would not be the liar for the administration, and that Civil Service Reform emasculated an office-holder and made a cringing, fawning hypocrite of him.

Died in the Penitentiary.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—William Wakely died at the penitentiary late yesterday afternoon. He had been sent from Rome for intoxication. Just before Wakely died he said that his cousin, James Wakely was a sporting man living in 14th street, New York.

ECHOES OF THE PRIZE RING.

Several Arrests for Complicity in the Sul. Ryan-Kilrain Fight.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Editor W. E. Harding, of the Police Gazette, Mike Cleary and Mike Donovan were arrested on a requisition from the Governor of Mississippi, which was signed by Gov. Hill, charging them with aiding and abetting in the fight between Sullivan and Kilrain at Richburg, Miss., in July last.

The trio were arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court before Judge Hogan, by Detectives Cottrell, Aloncle and Creed, who made the arrests.

Ex-Judge Peter Mitchell appeared for the defendants. He argued that Harding should not be held, as he was merely a press representative at the fight and was in no way connected with the affair.

They were all put under $500 bail each to appear for examination a week from next Saturday.

Wm. Muldoon, Sullivan's trainer, was arrested at the Vanderbilt House, where he has been nursing a black eye which he received from Evan Lewis, while wrestling with him in Philadelphia last Saturday. He was paroled until this afternoon.

It is rumored that the requisition also calls for the arrest of Frank Stevenson, Charlie Johnston, Jim Wakely and others, who took part in arranging the details of the fight.

DEATHS ON THE RAIL.

An Employe Killed and a Justice of the Peace Found Dead on the Track.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9.—James A. O'Hara, aged 25, of Fitchburg, Mass., a brakeman on the Canal Division of the Consolidated road, was run over and killed at Belle Dock, while coupling cars. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The body of a man was found on the railroad track west of this city and in one of his pockets were found several legal documents having on them the name of W. C. Molloy, Justice of the Peace. Mr. Molloy has been a Justice of the Peace for several years. He was somewhat dissipated.

Young Democrats Take Charge.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—The deposition of Secretary Alger and Treasurer Lewis, of the Democratic State Committee, means the virtual overthrow of the old Democratic "liners," who have fought the party battles for years, and the assumption of control by the younger portion of the party, including such men as Josiah Quincy, George Fred Williams and Nathan Mathews, Jr., the last named of whom presided over the last Democratic State Convention. The victorious elements are locally known as the "Kindergarten" and "Silk Stockings."

His will is made in favor of his niece, Mrs. Clark, of New York city, and virtually disinherits his wife and child. There is a clause in his will which prohibited his wife and child from attending his funeral. The property is said to be in Newark, N. J.

A Prominent Methodist Dead.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The Rev. Dennison S. Kinney, financial manager and agent of the Wesleyan Methodist Association of America, died here yesterday afternoon. The deceased was born in Dresden 59 years ago and came here from Boston. Previous to this time he had been pastor of several churches in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Southern Opposition.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Several members of the Southern Society opposed the recent adoption by the society of resolutions eulogistic of Jefferson Davis. There is also some opposition to the holding of a banquet in honor of General Lee on the 20th of this month. The dissentients admire the characters of Davis and Lee, but are afraid that by publicly honoring the Confederate chieftains they will lose standing in Northern business and social circles.

Will Submit to Arbitration.

WOBURN, Mass., Jan. 9.—The leather workers and the bosses have agreed to submit their dispute about wages to the State Board of Arbitration and abide by the result, and it is hoped that the trouble will be settled early next week.

MITCHELL ON THE WARPATH.

Lord Mandeville Severely Beaten by England's Pet Pugilist.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Lord Mandeville was violently assaulted by Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, in the Abington restaurant. The noble lord was severely mauled before friends could interfere.

Mitchell first struck at Baird, Smith's backer in the Slavin fight, but Baird dodged, and the blow landed on Mandeville, who was standing behind Baird. Mandeville resented it, and was punished. Mitchell subsequently chastised Baird. The other sports present interfered, and Mitchell and "Pony" Moore had to make a hurried exit. They were hooted by a crowd on reaching the street.

To Abolish Grade Crossings.

There is a call for the State Legislature to pass a law making it obligatory upon the railroad companies to protect their tracks with gates and fences until a plan can be mutually devised by the companies and the State to abolish grade crossings. Such an enactment would largely reduce the annual mortality in this State at the railroad crossings, and it would expedite the adoption of a plan of abolishing grade crossings altogether.

MANNING—PALMER.

The Wedding Bells Ring in Evona, and Dr. Yerkes Officiates.

For several weeks Evona society has been on the qui vive, owing to its anticipation of a wedding, which was privately celebrated last evening, at the residence of the bride.

The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. The contracting parties were Mr. Daniel H. Manning, and Mrs. Harriet B. Palmer, both of Evona. The bride was tastefully attired in black silk. Mr. John Day acted as best man, and Miss May Palmer, as maid of honor to her mother. The bridal couple upon entering the parlors took their positions under an arch way, where the ceremony was performed.

The guests were as follows: Mrs. D.J. Yerkes, of Plainfield, Mr. Howard Randolph, of Samptown; Mrs. Katharine Randolph, of Samptown, and Mrs. Adaline Townson, of Newark, both sisters of the groom; Miss Edith Manning and Master Clifford Manning, children of the groom; Misses May and Grace Palmer, daughters of the bride; Mr. E. Bedell and Miss Eliza Bedell, of Peapack, Mrs. Josephine Wright and nephew of Orange, Mr. John Day, and son and daughter, and Miss Margaret Keenan, of Evona.

A supper was partaken of, after the ceremony, and was duly appreciated. The bridal party left by the 8:31 train from Plainfield, connecting with the 9:30 train at Elizabeth, for Washington.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. U. B. Crane is one of the worst of the grip victims in this vicinity.

A young son of Mr. William Ross of West Front street, died this morning.

Officer George Grant who has been ill of the grip for some days past, was worse this morning.

Mr. D. C. Bird's family, of West Second street, are slowly recovering from a severe attack of La Grippe.

Miss Lizzie Dean and Miss Gertie Derby have returned to their home in Harlem, after a very pleasant visit with friends in North Plainfield.

Miss Jennie L. Demarest, of East Fifth street, has been appointed to a Government clerkship in the Census Bureau department of religious statistics located in this city.

At the home of Mr. Peter Hoagland on West Front street, yesterday evening, took place the marriage of Miss Amanda Randolph and Mr. Julius M. Williams. The Rev. Dr. Ketcham officiated.

Messrs H. VanEmburgh, W. Lowry, R. Jackson, H. Emerson, C. Teel, M. Haven, C. Rogers T. J. Carey, C. Reed and J. Davis, of the Crescent League, will be the team that bowls the 15th game of the Union county championship at Westfield, this evening.

It is said that several years ago when the Central railroad stock was down to about 7½ per cent., the late William Moore went to New York with $60,000 in cash to buy up the stock, but he was persuaded not to purchase it, and returned home with his money.

Since Friday morning and afternoon and Monday evening of each week have been set apart for the ladies to enjoy the Crescent League's alleys, the fair friends of the members have attended in large numbers and are rapidly becoming proficient bowlers. Mrs. J. A. Haynes is so far the championess, having rolled 160.

The wealthy Cumberland Cement Company, of which Mr. Ernest R. Ackerman of this city is the principal sales agent in New York, have issued as usual at the beginning of each year, a calender for 1890, designed and engraved on steel by Lowell of Boston. It is less "set" than the past designs, and far handsomer than that of 1889 though not equal in anyway to that of 1888.

The statement that the late James H. Canniff was the first member of the Plainfield Royal Arcanum to die since its organization seven years ago, was erroneous so far as it mentioned Mr. Canniff as a member. He had spoken of joining but his application, even, had not been presented. The life roll of the Royal Arcanum of this city, is yet unbroken.

Conductor Fitzhugh took occasion at the Monday evening rehearsal of the Plainfield Choral Society, to praise the members for their really fine work in the choruses and part songs of the recent opening concert of the season. He added that the professional soloists, who accompanied him to New York on the train that evening, were unanimous and sincere in their opinion that the chorus' work was the best of the evening.

The Inaugural Ball.

Messrs Jacob Klotz, Wm. M. Wilson and W. S. McKean, the Executive Committee of the Democratic Society of New Jersey, have made arrangements for an invitation reception to Gov. Abbett, at the Trenton House, on Jan. 20, from 8 to 10 P. M., and the Democratic League of Trenton has issued the announcement of the Inaugural Ball in honor of Governor Abbett, to be held under the auspices of the League, at the Masonic Temple, in Trenton, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, at 9 o'clock.

The price of a ticket for the ball is five dollars, including supper for gentleman and one lady. A ticket admits gentleman and ladies.

—The borough fire department is sadly in need of new hose, as was demonstrated at the Bock fire early on Tuesday morning.

ALL EYES ON PRESIDENT MOFFETT.

Will He be Honest and True to the Party Which Elected Him?

The people will await with much interest the announcement of President Moffett's committees. If he appoints his fellow Democratic Councilmen to the best places on the most desirable standing committees, he will be commended as doing perfectly right under the circumstances.

If, however, he gives to the Republicans the control of either the Streets or the Fire Committees, everybody will certainly find fault. The honest Republicans will then claim evidence of "the deal" they are so righteously condemning, and the Democrats will call Mr. Moffett a traitor.

Before the roll of the Council of 1890 was called at the organization meeting, Councilman Gallup asked Councilman Moffett if he had pledged himself to the Republicans in anyway—apart, of course, from the "understanding" that the Democrats would vote for Clerk Coggard if they were given the Presidency. Mr. Moffett denied emphatically that he had pledged himself on any point, and Mr. Gallup, accepting his word, nominated him as President. The next evening Mr. Moffett repeated to a PRESS reporter that he was not pledged to the Republicans in any particular.

But a private view of the list of committees as proposed, shows that the Fire Committee, for instance, is composed of Smith, Rushmore and Spangenberg. If President Moffett selected that committee he has given the Democrats only the tail end. The effect of this is to be overcome, THE PRESS is now informed, by putting the lone Democrat at the head of the committee as Councilman Smith "does not want to serve as chairman of both the Fire and the Streets Committees."

But it would be discourteous to the President of the Plainfield Common Council, for THE PRESS to publish in advance the full list of the committees or to further comment on them. That can all come later. Suffice it to say that upon the make up of those committees will depend the verdict of the people as to whether the Republicans made a deal, and whether President Moffett told THE PRESS the truth.

He can give the control of the best committees to the Democrats. If he does not, why not?

FELL FORTY FEET.

Two Carpenters While at Work on the Public School Building at Scotch Plains Have a Narrow Escape from Violent Death.

John O'Reilly of Grandview avenue, North Plainfield and Richard Conover, who resides at what is known as the crossroads about a mile Northwest from Westfield, had a very narrow escape from death at Scotch Plains about five o'clock last evening.

The men were employed by contractor John Boorman, and were at work on the new public school building. Just before stopping work for the day, one of the crossbars which supported a scaffold near the eaves, gave away, and the two men were thrown to the ground below, a distance of about forty feet.

O'Reilly suffered a concussion of the spine, and Conover was badly cut about the head. The former was admitted as a patient to Muhlenberg hospital, where he is now improving rapidly and feeling as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. He is a brother of Mrs. Eugene Laine, and Mrs. H. K. Illsley of this city, and also Prof. O'Reilly, the well known conductor of music. Conover was taken to his home, and medical aid was summoned.

Funeral of Mrs. William Moore.

The last sad funeral rites following the sudden death of Mrs. William Moore, which occurred on Tuesday, took place from St. Mary's church this morning, at 10:30 o'clock. The church was well filled with the relatives and friends of Mrs. William Moore, many of whom were present at the service on Tuesday, when solemn high mass was celebrated for the repose of Mr. Moore's soul.

The service today was a solemn requiem and Rev. Father Stafford was the celebrant, assisted by Rev. Father Smyth as deacon and a visiting Father as subdeacon. The same choir from Father Corrigan's church of Elizabeth, which furnished the music on Tuesday, sang today. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Peter Flynn, Sr., D. S. Roberts, T. Horn, P. Sheridan, M Shannon and John Keegan. Interment was made beside her late husband in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The deceased was formerly Miss Kate Garrigan. She was the late William Moore's second wife, having been married about eleven years.

Vincent—Palmer.

George E Vincent, son of Bishop John H. Vincent, the Chautauquan leader, was married last evening to Mary Louise Palmer, daughter of Ex-Attorney General Palmer. The groom is private secretary to his father and is a prominent Chautauquan also.

The ceremony was performed in St. Stephen's church, Wilkesbarre, Pa., in which city the bride's parents have long lived. A number of prominent Plainfield people were present. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent will make their permanent home in Buffalo, N. Y., where the headquarters and business offices of the C. L. S. C., will in the future be located.

THE OPINION OF THE COURT.

Why Judge VanSyckel Refuses a New Trial of the Case That Takes Away the Church's Possession of the Lee Property.

In the October term of the Circuit Court at Elizabeth, last year, the jury give a verdict in favor of the ejectment of the Scotch Plains Baptist church from the real estate left under the will of Frazee Lee, the miser, who left his entire possessions to the church. The ejectment suit was brought by the heirs-at-law against John H. Jackson, of this city, the administrator of the Lee estate.

The church people appealed from the verdict of the jury, and ex-Chancellor Runyon recently made a motion before Judge Van Syckel to have the verdict set aside When court convened yesterday morning, Judge Van Syckel denied the motion to set aside the verdict. This was reported exclusively in THE PRESS of yesterday. Below is the opinion in full:

Union County Court.

Hetfield et al, vs. Jackson, et. al. } Ejectment.

Application for new trial.

VanSyckel, J.

I will state very briefly the reasons upon which my conclusion in this case is based.

The rule of law which must be applied to the consideration of the subject is well settled in this State. The verdict of the jury must stand unless it is so clearly against the weight of evidence as to show that it was reached through passion, prejudice or other improper motive, or a manifest misapplication of legal principles. The credit to be given to witnesses is peculiarly the province of the jury, and their judgment must be respected in anything like a fairly balanced case.

The jury was justified in finding from the evidence that Frazee Lee had an uncontrollable appetite for alcoholic stimulants. That for a number of years next preceding his death, he used strong drinks to excess, and was frequently in a state of beastly intoxication.

The very large quantity of whiskey and rum purchased by him and taken to his home confirms the testimony in that respect.

The Court cannot say that the jury had not a right to accept as true the testimony of Dr. Probasco that Frazee had the delirium tremens as far back as 1883, and to find that he continued to be a confirmed inebriate up to the time of his death.

On the other hand I think the clear weight of evidence is that at times Frazee did not appear to be under the influence of liquor, and that on such occasions he was competent to transact any business connected with his affairs and was possessed of testamentary capacity.

The real question in the case for the jury was, whether Frazee at the time he executed these wills was under the influence of alcohol to such an extent as to incapacitate him to make a valid testamentary disposition of his property? First, as to the will of June 26.

If the evidence of Mrs. House and Mrs. Garthwaite is accepted, the verdict is right.

If the testimony of Mr. Jackson and Dr. Long is believed, the verdict should be set aside.

If there were nothing else in the case my judgment would decidedly incline to the conclusion that the plaintiffs had failed to establish their case by sufficient testimony, the burden of proof being upon them.

But when we turn to the testimony in regard to the will of July 9, we find that Mr Jackson and Dr. Long are equally positive that the testator was sober when that will was executed. In this they are positively contradicted by at least four witnesses besides Mrs. House and Mrs. Garthwaite.

The testimony cannot possibly be reconciled; if that on the one side is received, that on the other must be wholly rejected.

If the testimony of Mr. Jackson and Dr. Long is rejected as to the will of July 9, it cannot be safely relied upon as to the other will. If Mrs. House and Mrs. Garthwaite testified truly in regard to the testator's condition on that occasion, the court cannot say that the jury was clearly wrong in accepting their testimony as to the other will.

Mrs. House and Mrs. Garthwaite manifestly feel a deep interest in the efforts to overthrow the wills, and while this must be considered in weighing their testimony it must not be forgotten that Mr. Jackson and Dr. Long have not only a considerable pecuniary interest in sustaining the wills, but that they must be averse to having it believed that they would assist in the execution of a will by Frazee when he was in a state of intoxication.

If Frazee did dictate the terms of the will as Mr. Jackson testifies, of course that would be very strong evidence to corroborate him, but that fact depends on the truth of Mr. Jackson's evidence.

It may be that Daniel's suggestions found expression in Frazee's will.

The case presented to the jury the duty of deciding as to the credibility of witnesses, and although it may be that if the duty had fallen on the court to settle the facts, a different result would have been reached, the court cannot say with confidence that the verdict was clearly unreasonable or unwarranted by the evidence.

The suggestion that Daniel would not have given his estate to Frazee or made him one of his executors if he (Frazee) had been in a state of beastly intoxication on the 26th of June does not strike me as entitled to controlling force. Daniel must have known of Frazee's unfortunate habit, but he also knew that he took very good care not to squander his property. In view of the relations which had always existed between the brothers it was not unreasonable to expect that Daniel would make Frazee the chief beneficiary in his will, notwithstanding the intemperate habits of the latter.

The evidence taken since the trial is mainly, if not wholly cumulative, and is not of a character to materially affect the result.

In my judgment the verdict of the jury is not so clearly against the preponderance of evidence as to justify the court in setting it aside.

The rule for a new trial is denied.

LOCAL MINSTRELSY, MUSIC AND FARCE.

The Crescent League's Greatest Show on Earth Will Take Place February 25 in Music Hall.

At the regular meeting of Plainfield Crescent League held in their club house last evening, Chairman Howard Emerson of the committee on entertainment, reported the most favorable progress. He said Music Hall had been engaged for Tuesday evening, February 25; a double quartette consisting of the pick of local vocalists, were also rehearsing for the opening part; double acts and specialties were being arranged, and the play that would close the programme, would be selected in a day or two.

It seems undoubted that the Hall will not hold the audience. Over three hundred tickets have already been applied for. The programme will be varied and extended, and principally carried out by the well known young men of the city and borough. Mr. Robert F. R. Huntzman will be the middle man of the minstrel opening, a position he is particularly well fitted to fill because of his pleasantry and pompadour.

A New County Detective.

Ex-Chief John Keron, of Elizabeth, who has been for several years Crier of the Union Court, yesterday resigned his position to accept the office of County Detective, to which he was appointed by Prosecutor Wilson at a salary of $1,000. Edward Neuberger, of Elizabeth, has been appointed Court Interpreter under an act passed by the Legislature last Winter.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The prospects for the National Skating Races, down on the card for the 17th and 18th inst. is very doubtful, as the present weather indicates continued mildness. Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Judge Kelley's Death Momentarily Expected.

SKETCH OF HIS PUBLIC CAREER

He Spent Twenty-Eight Years Successively in the House of Representatives.

Senator Voorhees Makes a Bitter Speech on the "Blocks of Five" Letters—His Resolution Defeated by a Party Vote—The President Has a Slight Attack of the Grip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The latest report is that Judge Kelley is very low, and his death is only a question of a few hours.

Judge W. D. Kelley was born in Philadelphia in 1814, and his title, "The Father of the House," was given him because he has spent twenty-eight years successively in the House of Representatives. For the last two sessions it was apparent to his friends that he lacked the vigor of speech that had always characterized him, and when the fifty-first Congress opened he was still strong enough to swear in Speaker Thomas B. Reed. It was on account of his feeble condition that he declined the honor of the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee, which Mr. Reed offered him. The Speaker then appointed the Judge chairman of the Committee on Manufactures, but Judge Kelley was too sick to attend to the duties regularly.

At the opening of a new Congress, by unanimous consent, Judge Kelley would be relieved from the lottery seat drawing. No one in the House will be more missed than Judge Kelley. While not taking an active part in general legislation, when he took part in a debate it never lacked for spirit. It was always, however, when on the tariff that he felt most at home, and he received in the title of the champion of protection.

Judge Kelley studied law while working a s journeyman jeweler. In the 40s he was chosen Prosecuting Attorney for Philadelphia, being then a Democrat. He served ten years on the Common Pleas bench, and then, because of his anti-slavery views, he became a Republican. He was a delegate to the National Republican Convention at Chicago in 1860 and supported Abraham Lincoln. His election to the 37th Congress followed, and he has been successively re-elected ever since.

VOORHEES ON DUDLEY.

The Senator from Indiana Talks About the "Blocks of Five" Letter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Senator Voorhees made a savage denunciatory speech in favor of his resolution for a committee to find out why Dudley was not prosecuted for his "blocks-of-five" letter in Indiana.

He accused Dudley of trying to play "Jekyll and Hyde" without costume, and said it was President Harrison's duty to spurn this man, who would attempt an outrage upon his ballot.

Senator Quay arose in his place to contradict the statement that he went to Indiana to help avert the disaster with which the Republican party was threatened through the discovery of the famous letter.

Mr. Edmunds offered an amendment to Mr. Voorhees' resolution as follows:

"That the Attorney-General be and is hereby instructed to inform the Senate what instructions, if any, the Department of Justice has given to S. N. Chambers, District Attorney for the District of Indiana, on the subject of the arrest of W. W. Dudley, or his exemption from arrest, and by what authority of law any such instructions have been given; and that copies of all such correspondence be transmitted to the Senate."

At the close of the discussion Mr. Edmunds' amendment was agreed to by a party vote (31 to 24), and the resolution thus amended was adopted, Mr. Voorhees remarking that he would find some way to ascertain the judgment of the law department on the action of its subordinate.

The President Gripped.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Harrison has the grip. He shows every symptom of the disease, and is satisfied that he has it, but his doctors insist that nothing worse than a bad cold has a hold upon him.

To Select a United States Senator.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 9.—There will be a caucus of Democratic members of the General Assembly to-night to nominate a candidate for a successor to U. S. Senator E. K. Wilson, whose term expires March 3, 1891. Gov. Jackson launched forth a boomlet a week ago, but it is rapidly swamping, and it is said that his name will not be presented to the caucus. The popular opposition to the politicians' idea of sending Jackson to the Senate is overwhelming. He is very wealthy, and the agitation in the other States against sending men to the Senate for the sole reason that they are millionaires, has had its effect in Maryland. Senator Wilson's path to a second term is clear, and he will probably be nominated to-night by acclamation.

Nurse Donnelly Wants $10,000 Damages.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Mary Donnelly, the nurse who was stabbed by Eva Hamilton at Atlantic City last summer, and has since been on exhibition in a Bowery museum, has brought suit against Eva Hamilton and Robert Ray Hamilton for $10,000 damages alleged to have been incurred by reason of the assault. She claims to have permanently lost her strength, necessitating constant recourse to medical aid.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The State Board of Civil Service Commissioners met at the Capitol, William A. Post, John A. Sleicher and Alex. C. Eustice taking their seats for the first time. The Board organized with Alexander C. Eustice as chairman, Clarence B. Angle as Secretary, and J. B. Reilly as chief examiner. No other business was transacted.

EX-SENATOR LAPHAM DEAD.

The Successor of the Late Roscoe Conkling Lies at Canandaigua.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Hon. Elbridge Ger. y Lapham died at his residence at Canandaigua last evening.

Mr. Lapham was born in Farmington, Ontario county, on October 18, 1814. He was educated in the public schools there and later at the Canandaigua Academy with Stephen A. Douglas. Afterward he was a civil engineer on the Michigan Southern Railroad. Later he returned to Canandaigua, studied law with Jared Wilson, was admitted to the bar in 1844 and practiced law until the time of his election to Congress in 1874. Most of the time Judge James Smith was his partner.

He was a member of the State Constitutional Convention in 1867. He was re-elected to Congress in 1876, 1878 and 1880, and was elected United States Senator for the term ending in 1885 to fill a vacancy caused by resignation of Senator Roscoe Conkling.

LA GRIPPE IN NEW ENGLAND.

La Grippe Spreading at a Fearful Rate in Many Cities and Towns.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—There is no decrease in the number of la grippe cases in this city and undertakers and doctors are constantly on the go. In Athol, Mass., there are over 300 cases of "la grippe." The leading physicians are ill, several schools are closed and the factories are running short-handed. About 8,000 persons have been prostrated in Lowell. Dr. Phelan died of capillary bronchitis, superinduced by la grippe. There are hundreds of absentees from the mills and schools. In Salem 35 per cent of the school children are out, and the Superior Court has suspended its sittings. Two schools in Middleboro and Hollis-ton are closed. In Marlboro Father McKenna is dangerously ill with la grippe. Many teachers and scholars are sick in New Bedford and Marblehead. Natick reports from 25 to 33 per cent. of the people in the shops afflicted and the doctors are sick.

In Nashua, N. H., it is estimated that there have been 2,500 cases and the number is increasing. In Great Falls, N. H., over 100 are ill with the disease. At Manchester, N. H., three deaths have occurred from la grippe.

At Windsor, Vt., there are nearly a hundred cases.

In Providence Mr. Howard, Democratic candidate for the mayoralty, was delirious with the grip last night.

The disease is severely felt along the valley of the Blackstone and Pawtuxet rivers.

New York and Bristol counties in Rhode Island have it lightly, but elsewhere there is much and severe illness. There has been a marked increase of the death rate throughout the State.

New York's Morgue Crowded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Morgue is crowded to its utmost capacity.

The reports from Bellevue Hospital to the Central Office to-day showed that 90 bodies, the greatest number in the history of that institution, were there awaiting removal.

The returns to the Bureau of Vital Statistics show that 250 deaths occurred in this city for the twenty-four hours ending at noon.

The like of this has never been known in the history of the department since the time of cholera.

The disease in this city and Brooklyn, owing, it is said, to the damp and foggy weather, if not checked within twenty-four hours, invariably brings on pneumonia, and in 75 cases out of 100, when pneumonia is induced by influenza, the result is fatal. Doctors give as a reason for this that there is little that can be done for a pneumonia patient other than aid the system, by proper nourishment, in throwing off the disease from the lungs and that influenza so completely exhausts, that if pneumonia follows, the patient is in no shape to baffle the disease and death usually follows in a few hours.

Four Deaths at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Four deaths from pneumonia have been reported at the office of the Registrar of Vital Statistics the past 24 hours, and in each case the physician was of the opinion that the illness had resulted from the Russian influenza.

Husband and Wife Die of Pneumonia

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Wm. Moore, whose husband, a wealthy contractor, died Sunday of pneumonia, has just died of the same disease. The large fortune which her husband left entirely to her will go to an only son.

Assuming Dangerous Proportions.

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 9.—Grocer T. Applegate, a leading citizen, father of Postmaster Applegate, died of influenza, developing into pneumonia. The disease is spreading, and has assumed dangerous proportions here.

Pasteur Has a Remedy.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Pasteur, on being asked what he considered the best remedy for la grippe, said: "Let men and women both quit smoking tobacco and smoke camphor instead, and they will escape the pest."

Increase of Deaths in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Jan 9.—There were 471 deaths in Brooklyn during the past week, an increase of 111 over the previous week.

Decreasing in London.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The influenza is decreasing in this city, but is extending to the provinces.

No Whiskers or No Work.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—In compliance with a general order issued by the Superintendent of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, the brakemen and baggage masters employed on the road will be compelled to report for duty in the future with clean shaven faces. This order has caused no end of talk among the men, many of whom have beards remarkable for grace and beauty.

Alice Told Stories.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—Alice Jackman, the 14-year-old heiress who has figured in two sensational abduction cases, and who claimed to have been abducted by three men, one of whom she named as Charley Brouthers, has confessed that her story was untrue and made out of whole cloth.

Elected by a Close Vote.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 9.—The two Houses of the Legislature in joint convention canvassed the vote for State officers and the acting President of the Senate declared E. T. Lampson, Republican, elected Lieutenant-Governor by 25 plurality.

BOUNCED ON A RAIL.

A Gang of Regulators Gave an Old Man Terrible Treatment.

HOOKSTON, Pa., Jan. 9.—This quiet village was startled by a gang of regulators. They called at the residence of Johnston Calhoun, one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of Beaver County, and demanded that he make amends for his alleged brutality to his wife. They called upon him to come out in the street. He first refused, but was finally induced to make his appearance.

The regulators then seized him, and placing him on a rail started on a march through the streets of the town. The constable and others attempted to interfere, but the men were determined. A constant fusilade of shooting from revolvers and shot-guns was kept up while they marched through the streets and around the square where Calhoun resides.

Calhoun is a very large man. At first he fought desperately, then he pleaded for mercy, appealed to his neighbors to protect him and finally offered the regulators any money they would name to release him. They refused his money and bounced him on a rail around the town for nearly half an hour, and only quit when their strength gave out. By this time he was badly hurt and terribly frightened. Upon his promise to treat his wife better in the future he was tossed from the rail and allowed to go home.

At first it was thought Calhoun was not hurt, but it was learned to-day that he had several ribs broken and is badly injured internally.

BIG WESTERN UNION BLAZE.

Operators Had to Slide Down the Fire Escapes in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—A fire broke out in the Western Union building here, caused by a broken electric light wire.

It started in the basement and passed quickly up the ventilator shaft to the fourth floor. The operators made their exit by the fire escapes.

The building was entirely destroyed, and the loss to the Western Union is estimated at $150,000.

A party of wealthy New Yorkers are negotiating for 1,500 acres of land, which takes in Sunfish Pond, on the Jersey side of the Water Gap. It is their purpose to make a private pleasure park for gunning and fishing.

The Franklin, Mass., Rubber Works have shut down for a few days to make necessary repairs, but it is generally believed they will be closed until business revives. There is a large stock of goods on hand.

The cordage factory of J. T. Donnell at Bath, Me., was entirely destroyed by fire and considerable finished product as well as new material was consumed. Loss $35,000; insured for $25,000. This factory was established in 1843.

A Little Nonsense.

"Boys, be wise, here comes a fool!" exclaimed a great theologian, ceasing to amuse himself by jumping over chairs and tables, as he saw a solemn, pedantic friend approaching.

"You don't know the luxury of playing the fool," said Lord Chancellor Eldon, as he danced in his own drawing room to a tune of his own singing.

"You are a father, Senor Ambassador, and so we will finish our ride," said Henry IV of France, when the Spanish minister discovered him riding round the room on a stick with his son.

Dugald Stewart, the philosopher, was once found by a friend trying to balance a peacock's feather on his nose. His competitor in this contest of skill was Patrick Fraser Tytler, the historian.

Dean Swift used to amuse himself by harnessing his servants with cords and driving them up and down stairs, and through the rooms of the deanery.

Faraday played marbles and ball with little boys, and took part in charades, playing once the "learned pig."

William Pitt delighted to romp with children. He was once playing with his niece and nephews, who were trying to blacken his face with a burnt cork. A servant announced that two members of the cabinet desired to see him on business. "Let them wait in the other room," said Pitt, catching up a cushion and belaboring the girl and boys. They got him down and were actually daubing his face, when he said, "Stop, this will do. I could beat you all, but we must not keep these grandees waiting longer." A basin of water and a towel were brought in, and the great prime minister washed his face, hid the basin, and then received the two lords.

Dr. Battie, an eminent London physician, used to amuse himself by gazing at the Puuch and Judy show. He was such a successful mimic of "Punch" that he once saved a patient's life by imitating that character. The patient was suffering from a swelling in the throat, and the doctor, turning his wig, appeared at the bedside with the face and voice of "Punch." The sick man laughed so heartily that the swelling broke, and a complete cure followed. Man is the only animan who can laugh; he, therefore, relishes a little nonsense.—Youth's Companion.

Green Rays and the Optic Nerve.

Herr Ebers, a German experimenter, has found that the human eye is more sensitive to green rays of light than to red rays, and to red more than to blue rays. Since the red rays are those of longest wave length, and the blue those of shortest wave length, it follows that the eye is most susceptible to the rays of medium length. This fact may explain why it is that some people in passing by a hedge or paling through which the sun is shining, sometimes see a succession of green and red flashes in the eyes. The green rays of the sunlight which pierce the openings in the fence may stimulate the optic nerve first, while the red rays are perceived a moment later.

Again it may account for the beautiful phenomenon of the "green ray" (rayon vert) on which Jules Verne has built one of his charming tales. The green ray is a flash of emerald light which appears to proceed from the glowing disk of the sun just as its upper limb vanishes below the sea. It is only seen in certain states of the weather, and the Red sea is a good place to watch for it. Some have supposed it due to a reaction of the optic nerve, on the withdrawal of the sunbeams, but since it can be seen just before the sun rises from the sea, or even from behind a mountain, it is more likely to be a consequence of the greater sensitiveness of the eye to the green light of the solar spectrum.—Exchange.

The Violin Workers.

In Markneukirchen, with its surrounding villages, Klingenthal, Fleissen, Rohrbach and Graslitz, in Saxony, are about 15,000 people who do nothing else day after day but make violins. The inhabitants, from the little urchin to the old gray headed man, the small girl and the old grandmother, all are engaged in making some parts of a fiddle. A good instrument consists of sixty-two different pieces. The older men make the finger board from ebony, and the string holder or the screws. The small boys make themselves useful by looking after the glue pot. A man with strong, steady hands and a clear eye puts the different pieces together, and this is the most difficult task of all.

The women generally occupy themselves as polishers. This requires long practice, and a family who has a daughter who is a good polisher is considered fortunate. Even a young man, when he goes a-wooing, inquires whether the young girl is a good polisher, and if she is, it certainly will increase his affection for her at least twofold. The polishing takes a good deal of time, some of the best violins being twenty and even thirty times polished. Every family has its peculiar style of polishing, and they never vary from that. There is one that makes nothing but a deep wine color, another a citron color, yet another an orange color, and so on.—Lewiston Journal.

Shining Shoes by Steam.

During a recent trip to New York city a sign in front of a Sixth avenue barber shop, reading, "Shoes shined by steam while you wait," attracted my attention, and wondering what next would be introduced in the line of labor saving machinery, I walked in. On a boot stand, such as are found in all the hotels, was a row of nickel plated machines, about two feet square. I placed my foot into an opening, my foot resting on an iron stand; the man in attendance turned on the steam, and a set of stiff revolving brushes were set in motion, and in a jiffy my boot was cleaned of the accumulation of mud and dust. I then took out the foot and placed it on a rest, while the operator applied the blacking by hand in the old fashioned way. I then stuck the foot into another machine just like the first, and in less than a minute my boot shone like ebony, and the shine lasted all day. The whole operation of cleaning and shining was done in less than three minutes. The brushes are on cylinders like those which were used in the hair brushing machines so popular fifteen or twenty years ago.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Navy of the Future.

A distinguished naval officer says: "It is my opinion that the war ship of the future will be a vessel that will sink out of sight whenever she wants to, and 'bob up serenely' when the danger is over. It is quite impossible to put enough armor plating on a vessel to keep out shot and shell. A ship can't carry it all and float. We've got to give up the idea of trying to make a ship invulnerable, or anything approaching it; for invulnerability we shall have to substitute invisibility. When the ship of the future discharges her guns, she will immediately 'take a header' and seek a new position. Science is bound to master the problem some day. Already vessels have been designed on a small scale that can keep under water for an hour or more on a stretch without any discomfort to the crew." This distinguished naval officer might have frankly confessed that he owed this bright idea to Frank Stockton.—Boston Transcript.

RELEASED ON BAIL

Dr. Kniffin and Miss Purcell Set Free.

GOOD BONDSMEN EASILY FOUND

Chief Justice Beasley Fixed the Amount of Bail at $20,000 Each.

The Prisoners Calm and Composed—Congratulated by the Chief-of-Police on Having so Many Friends—Miss Purcell to Leave Trenton To-Day—She Will Go to Her Home in Warren County.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Dr. A. J. Kniffin and Miss Emma Purcell were released from custody last night on a writ of habeus corpus issued by Chief Justice Beasley, their bail being fixed at $20,000 each. Twenty-eight of the most prominent business men of Trenton signed the bail bonds.

The Chief Justice sat at a round table in the center of the room. On an antique sofa to his left a short distance sat Dr. Kniffin; at the other end sat Miss Purcell. Both were calm and quiet. Dr. Kniffin bowed and smiled as he recognized intimate friends among his bondsmen. He wore a mourning band upon his silk hat, a black tie and a diamond in his shirt front. Miss Purcell was attired in black from head to foot.

When all were seated Mr. Barton read and the Chief Justice copied the names of the bondsmen. Then the Chief Justice said: "I suppose you are aware, gentlemen, that I have concluded that this is a proper case for taking bail. These persons are entitled to be discharged under our laws, and I know of no reason why they should not be. The prosecutor has been notified, and if there were objections he should appear and state them. I have fixed the bail at $20,000 in each case.

He then read the names of the bondsmen, who entered into recognizance in the sum named to produce the bodies of the prisoners at the Court of Oyer and Terminer on the third Tuesday of this month.

There were 52 bondsmen present. The Chief Justice remarked that he had taken bonds before in similar cases, but he never had so many bondsmen.

The chief of police complimented Dr. Kniffin on his having so many faithful friends. Miss Purcell will go to her home in Warren county to-day, and remain there for the present.

BRICE NOMINATED.

Selected by Ohio Democrats for United States Senator.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10.—Calvin S. Brice will be the next United States Senator from Ohio. This was decided by the Democratic caucus last night. There were two ballots, the first being the usual complimentary one.

On the first ballot Mr. Brice received 94 votes, on the second 53, when the nomination was made unanimous.

Mr. Brice was sent for after the balloting, and made a speech accepting the nomination. He was warmly cheered. He will be elected on the 14th, and, it is said, will receive the vote of every Democratic member, no member bolting.

The committee appointed by the Republican members of the Senate and House decided to hold their Senatorial caucus next Monday evening in the hall of the House of Representatives.

Selected for Promotion.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Vice-Chancellor George William Curtis, has been selected by the Legislature for promotion to the position of Chancellor of the Regents made vacant by the death of Henry R. Pierson, and will probably be elected without opposition. It is possible, however, that no election will be held and that the Board of Regents will be abolished altogether. Such a recommendation was made a year ago by Governor Hill, but was never acted upon by the Legislature.

Two Deaths From La Grippe.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Jan. 10.—A. B. Goodale, one of the best known residents of the village has just died here. At Kansas City, Mr. Goodale was attacked with la grippe, which developed into pneumonia, resulting in his death. Deceased was appointed postmaster here in 1861 by President Lincoln and for 17 years held the position, being reappointed by the several succeeding administrations. Edward Nolan, a contractor, of Reading, Pa., engaged in constructing a bridge at Hancock, N. Y., is dead from la grippe.

A Grave Robber Sentenced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Dr. Beall, who was arrested about two weeks ago charged with robbing a grave in the Congressional Cemetery, has been convicted and sentenced to six months imprisonment and fined $400.

Lost All Courage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Joseph Kosco, who is said to be of noble Russian blood, committed suicide by severing the arteries of both wrists and slowly bleeding to death at his apartments in Second street.

Brazil's Heavy Expenses.

LISBON, Jan. 10.—A dispatch from Rio de Janeiro states that the Brazilian budget for 1889 fixes the expenditures at 154,000,000 milreis, instead of 60,000,000 as the Minister of Finance, Barbosa, announces.

Ashore on Gerrish Island.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 10.—The schooner Ada Ames, from Perth Amboy with coal, is ashore on Gerrish Island. The life saving crew are aboard, and hope to save the vessel.

JUDGE KELLEY IS DEAD.

The "Father of the House" Passed Away Last Evening.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—William D. Kelley, the "Father of the House of Representatives," died at 6 o'clock last evening.

The end was not unexpected, his physicians for the past two days, if not before, having given up all hope of his recovery.

The Judge passed away quietly, surrounded by his wife, daughter and two sons. During the day he was constantly delirious, and it was next to impossible to force him to take nourishment. Even when a brief lucid interval occurred he could not make himself understood.

Judge Kelley's demise, though regarded as certain almost from the day he took to his bed, was a shock to his associates in Congress. Besides being the oldest member of either house, as well as one of the ablest, he was beloved by Senators and members of the House alike.

The remains, accompanied by a Congressional committee yet to be named, will probably be taken to Philadelphia to-day for burial.

BRITISH EXTRADITION.

The Proposed Treaty Between Great Britain and the United States.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 10.—A special to the Globe from Ottawa says: "A confidential copy of the proposed extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain has been received by the Minister of Justice."

The scope of the proposed treaty is very wide, in contrast with the treaty of 1842, which contains only four offences. If the pending treaty is adopted legislation by the Dominion Parliament will be necessary to bring Canada under the provisions.

Raging in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Inside of five hours yesterday 21 deaths were reported here from la grippe and pneumonia, and seven deaths at near-by out-of-town places. Among the Providence victims were James Greely, a well-known North End business man; Sullivan Moulton, aged 76, the oldest merchant tailor in Providence, a business partner of the late Mayor Rodman, and the bartender at the Dorronce House.

Accident in the Black Rock Cut.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—John Hartwood and John Lich, section hands, were struck by Superintendent Burrill's engine in the Black Rock Cut on the Central Hudson Railroad near this city. Hartwood was so badly injured that he died soon after at St. Peter's Hospital. Lich is not expected to recover. The place where the accident occurred has been the scene of many similar fatalities in the past two years.

Memorial Building to Mr. Beecher.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 10.—The turstees of Plymouth Church have accepted an offer by Thomas G. Shearman, John Claflin and S. V. White, to errect a building in honor of Henry Ward Beecher. The memorial chapel will occupy the site in which Mr. Beecher began his Brooklyn ministry and which is now used as the lecture room and Sunday School room of Plymouth Church. It is in the rear of the present church building.

Demand an Increase in Wages.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Jan. 10.—At a conference between the operators of the Connellsville coke region and Knights of Labor leaders, the workingmen demanded an increase of wages ranging from 8 to 14 per cent. This demand so startled the operators that they adjourned the conference at once. If the men presist in their demand there will probably be another strike.

A Police Judge Skips to Canada.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Police Justice Freeman, who was arrested last week charged with defrauding a wealthy farmer client, and bailed, has fled to Canada. His case was called this morning but he did not appear and his bail was forfeited. A new warrant will be issued for his arrest, charging him with forgery.

Drowning as a Means of Execution.

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 10.—Professor Brown, of Queens College, suggests drowning as a means of execution for capital offences. He says that it is painless, can be conducted out of sight, and by proper arrangement the criminal can be made to become his or her own executioner.

Several Deaths in Poughkeepsie.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Mrs. H. L. Young, the wife of one of Poughkeepsie's leading citizens, died this morning from pneumonia, following an attack of la grippe. There are over 1,000 cases of la grippe in this city. Several deaths resulting from the disease have been reported.

Rochester's Death Roll.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—There have been thirteen deaths from pneumonia in this city so far this week. The highest number of deaths from pneumonia reported for any month during last year was eleven. Physicians believe the disease in most, if not all cases, results from the grip.

Nearly Lynched.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 10.—Wm. Andrews assaulted Mrs. Adelaide Van Haltz, a young married woman, at Southport last night, throwing her down and attempted an outrage. Mrs. Van Haltz was seriously injured, and is now in a critical condition. Andrews was captured by a searching party, and nearly lynched.

Carried Over the Falls.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—An unknown man jumped from the Central avenue bridge here into the river and was carried over the upper falls, 90 feet high, and perished.

FOURTEEN DROWNED

Workmen Crushed Under Tons of Stone and Timber.

IMPRISONED IN A CAISSON.

The Massive Structure Gave Way Burying the Men Under the Waves.

Somebody Opened the Air Shaft—The Men Working in an Ugly Quicksand When They Were Overwhelmed—The Coarse Boss Censured by the Negroes Who Escaped—Names of the Killed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—Fourteen men were drowned at 6 o'clock last evening by the rising of water in a caisson of the new bridge across the Ohio, connecting Louisville and Jeffersonville.

The caisson at which the accident occurred is about one hundred yards from the Kentucky shore, and was built by Messrs. Sooy, Smith & Co., of New York, who are the bridge contractors. It was time to knock off rests, and some of the laborers had started in a barge for the shore, leaving eighteen men in the caisson.

The caisson was sunk in about 35 feet of water and was 7 feet high. It had two pipes leading to the air, one through which the excavated material was sent out and the other for the passage of the men.

A Rush for the Air Shaft.

The men in the caisson, just as they were preparing to leave, heard the rush of escaping air from the caisson. One of the doors of the air shaft had been left open.

Robert Baldwin was in charge of the latter, but it is said that Knox, the foreman, who was drowned, had given him some other duty which took him away from the shaft. As the air escaped the water rushed into the caisson from the bottom and rapidly filled the compartment.

The men made a rush for the air shaft. Four of them reached it and got to the surface of the water, nearly 30 feet above. The men in the barge had been notified of the accident by the spurting of the water through the rising of air shaft.

They pulled back to recue as many as possible, and succeeded in getting into their barge the four who had come through the shaft. The latter were Abe Taylor, Louis Couch, James Murray and Frank Hoddix, all colored.

Buried Under the Waves.

The remaining fourteen were overwhelmed by the water and were drowned.

Frank Hoddix was the last man out. He said he was at work digging for the pier excavation when he heard the rush of escaping air.

He ran for the ladder which led to the top, and found the other three who escaped there ahead of him. By the time he got to them the water reached to his waist. Murray, who was just ahead of him, reached back, grasped him and pulled him out. Ham Morris was just behind him on the ladder, and he saw him overtaken and buried beneath the water.

The negroes who escaped say that Knox dug too deep before allowing the caisson to settle. He also, they say, gave Baldwin, the shaft tender, orders to leave the upper door of the air pipe open, and that was the cause of the accident.

None of the bodies have been recovered. Work was at once begun pumping out the caisson.

List of the Killed.

The following are the names of the men killed:

White—William E. Haynes, Louisville; John Knox, Louisville; James McAdams, Hyde Park, Pa.; Frank Mahar, New Jersey; Patrick Naylor, Philadelphia.

Colored—A. Thomas, Monroe Bowling, Charles Chiles, Thomas Johnson, Joseph Gordon, Hamilton Morris, Thomas Smith, Frank Soaper, Robert Tyler.

All the colored men lived in Henderson, Ky.

The Cost of Marrying a Christian.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Charles Nathan, formerly of New York, bequeathed all his property to his children and grandchildren. The son, Charles, was cut off without a dollar. His counsel has filed a caveat against the admission of the will to probate on the ground of undue influence. Charles Nathan's wife is a Christian woman and Mr. Nathan has not, it is claimed since his marriage, lived up to the orthodox ways of the Hebrews. It is alleged this was the cause of his father disinheriting him.

Opposed to Austin Corbin.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Steps will be taken at once to secure an injunction restraining the voting trustees of the Reading Railroad Company from re-electing Austin Corbin as president. The matter has been placed in the hands of a lawyer. In addition to the legal measures taken, the trustees will be presented with a protest against Mr. Corbin's re-election by the stock and bondholders.

The Cronin Jury Bribers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The men indicted for attempting to bribe the Cronin jurors will be put on trial immediately after the motion for a new trial of the convicted men has been disposed of by Judge McConnell, who will also try the bribers. The new trial motion will come up on Monday next.

Kappell to Succeed Stovey.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Manager Sharing to-day signed Joe Kappell to play left field in Harry Stovey's place. Kappell led the Davenport Club in hitting last season and comes well recommended to the Athletic Club.

BY THE WAY.

—Oh! for a Y. M. C. A. building.

—Mr. "Brit" Higgins is confined to his home on Liberty street with the common complaint la grippe.

—The Potter Press Works employees are yet working nights in order to complete presses ordered recently.

Mr. Charles Hand's new building on West Second street, is now enclosed, and the work of fitting up the interior will now be rapid.

—Some new cases of la grippe are reported daily, but it is to be hoped that cold weather will soon put an end to the prevailing epidemic.

—Emerald Benevolent Society, No. 8, held a meeting in the Society's room on North avenue, last evening, but the business was of a routine nature.

—The Olympic bowling club of this city was defeated at Somerville, last evening, by a score of 1,430 to 1,325, which will be given in detail to-morrow.

—It is said that the grippe microbe clings tenaciously to paper money. People should, therefore, handle it with the greatest caution, particularly $1,000 bills.

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 305, Order of Tonti, held a regular meeting last evening, and among other business transacted was the initiation of three new members.

—The High and Grammar schools were dismissed at three o'clock, yesterday, in order to give the teachers an opportunity to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. T. E. Hazell.

—Mr. Oliver Worth, the Pond Tool Works employe who was so seriously injured at the Works about five weeks ago, was discharged from Muhlenberg Hospital on Tuesday.

—The thoughtful man should at once begin the erection of a snow shovel. The importance of this suggestion lies in the fact that it doesn't come from the signal service bureau.

—The heavy iron girders which are to serve as the foundation for Mr. P. M. French's new building on Somerset street, over Green Brook, have arrived, and they will be placed in position at once.

—The late John F. Smith, of Philadelphia, who gave to charities during the closing years of his life over $100,000 a year, said: "Everything I have to give away I shall give away before I die."

—The epidemic of influenza now prevailing in our midst is more general than any other disease which has been epidemic in the town. No class is exempt, and the victims can be numbered by the hundreds.

An Accident Results in Death.

John O'Reilly died at Muhlenberg Hospital about six o'clock of last evening. He was one of the two men injured the day before by the fall of a scaffold at Scotch Plains.

Yesterday afternoon, as told in THE PRESS, O'Reilly was much improved and the doctors and his friends who saw him expected that he would be out in a few days. Towards evening, however, a change set in and the unfortunate man died from concussion of the spine.

He leaves a wife soon to become a mother. His companion when the accident occurred, was a workman named Conover who is now confined to his home in Westfield with a broken jaw and nose. Matthew Ageny had just left the scaffold when it fell. He brought O'Reilly to this city, and supposed he was improving when he called at the Hospital to find him dead.

The members of the Alpha Lodge, Pleasure circle, gave a sociable in the Good Templars' room, corner of Park and North avenue, last evening. The main feature of the evening's enjoyment was dancing, and to that end Prof. Frazee catered in his usual excellent style. Supper was served during the evening.

Mr. Potter Johnson of East Second street, is again able to leave the house, after a ten day's illness.

While the Committee Delays, Public Interest Dies.

A dozen members were present at the adjourned meeting, last evening, of the Committee on the selection of a design for a soldiers monument in Plainfield. Additional drawings of original and beautiful construction were submitted, but the Committee again adjourned without deciding on the recommendation of anything, as yet.

"UNCLE BILLY'S" WEALTH.

His Only Son Will Have to Fight For Its Possession.

The late William Moore who died in this city recently and but a few days before his wife, is said to have left all but a small part of his money and property to that wife since deceased. Such a will entirely cuts off John Moore the son and only child of the testator. The will was drawn by ex-Judge Nelson Runyon; and the Rev. Father Smyth of St. Mary's church, and ex-County Collector Patrick Sheridan, of Elizabeth, were named as executors.

Some time ago William Moore, who could not write himself, had his particular friend Mr. Bernard Brady, of Liberty street, draw him a "will" leaving everything to his wife. It was reported that in that "will," Brady's son, who was also Moore's godson, was left the property at Second street and Park avenue known as the City Hotel. But that is not so.

However, friends later informed Moore that a "will" drawn in such a way would not stand. So just before his death the will referred to above was drawn by Mr. Runyon. By it a PRESS reporter is told, everything went to Mrs. Moore except a small amount to be paid yearly to the testator's son, John Moore, "as long as he behaved himself."

Of course the latter intended to file a protest against the probate of this will. He was Moore's son by his first wife during whose life the wealth had been accumulated in a great measure by that wife's care and economy. It was most unjust that this should all be left to a second wife who had no hand in its saving.

But before the will was offered for probate and the son had taken the first steps to break it, the legatee, Mrs. Moore, died. Now the property has descended by law to her heirs, who are no relatives of Moore, and probably perfect strangers to the son. Therefore he must now make a long fight for his rights, and maybe find but half of the property left even if he wins after years of litigation.

The estate of "Uncle Billy," as he was universally called, may foot up $200,000 against which are liabilities of probably half that amount. The two properties on the North and East corners of Park avenue and Second street, are alone worth $75,000 at a low estimate, and are mortgaged for $30,000.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Hon. John Ulrich is still confined to the house by illness.

Miss M. E. Case of Stanton, N. J., is visiting her cousin, Miss Ella Milligan, of 41 West Fourth street.

Mr. Richard Day lost his "grip," yesterday, and went out of doors for the first time in over a week.

The mother of Mrs. Robert Currie died at the home of her son-in-law on Westervelt avenue, North Plainfield, today, of pleuro-pneumonia.

The funeral of Miss Josephine E. Fowler, who died on Tuesday, took place from her parents' home, No. 19 Liberty street, yesterday afternoon.

The death occurred very suddenly about noon today, of the Rev. E. B. Edgar, at his home on Broadway. He was steadily recovering from the serious illness recently spoken of in these columns, and was feeling like himself again, when paralysis of the heart attacked him and he died within a few hours. He was 74 years of age. His daughters, Miss Edgar and Mrs. I. C. Pierson, were with him when he died.

The funeral of Mrs. T. E. Hazell was largely attended in Trinity Reformed church yesterday afternoon. The Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, a former pastor, came from Albany to conduct the services. He preached one of the most beautiful sermons ever heard on a like occasion. The pall bearers were: Elder O. W. Dunham, and Deacons E. E. Anthony, Daniel Van Winkle and A. L. Force. Among the floral tributes was a token of esteem from the Ladies' Christian Work Society to their dead sister.

Constables Demand Cash Payments.

The Constables of Somerset county met in the court house at Somerville, last Monday, upon the call of J. W. A. Bauersachs, of North Plainfield, who was elected chairman. They discussed the change of fees proposed by Sheriff Covington and a committee brought him before the meeting to state his case.

The meeting afterwards agreed by ballot to accept 30 cents instead of 35 cents for serving subpœneas, and $2.00 instead of $2.12 for writs of capias, to be paid in cash when the service is rendered without waiting until the settlement of the case.

Discussing the Way of Salvation.

The Young Peoples' Association of the Crescent avenue church will begin their series of meetings for Bible study on the "Way of Salvation," this evening, at eight o'clock, in the Church. Mr. W. D. Murray will lead in the introduction of the subject and the discussion of "What testimony shall we accept on this subject? Our Own? That of others? God's?"

Other meetings will follow on Friday evenings of each week, but hereafter they will be held in Bethel Chapel.

—There will be no prayer meeting at the Congregational church this evening.

—The accident at Scotch Plains on Wednesday afternoon demonstrates the fact that carpenters and other mechanics cannot be too careful in the construction of their scaffolds.

NAMELESS TIES FOR FIRST.

Plainfield Loses a Game to Westfield Through the Poor Bowling of Its Best Men.

The Crescent League team went to Westfield, last evening, to roll the fifteenth contest of the Union county bowling tournament for the championship. But although Captain Davis set his men a fine example, Westfield won by 77 pins.

Davis score of 204 has only been excelled one pin during the tournament. Cohen and Dudley of the Elizabeths have each rolled 205. But VanWinkle's score of 86 is the very lowest—Cash of the Pastimes has rolled 96 and 97, Gardner of the Mondays has rolled 98, and Kline of the Crescents has rolled 96. Added to VanWinkle's bad breaks, was the hard luck of Reed and Carey two others of Plainfield's best bowlers.

The score below will tell the tale. Captain Ike Seeley was umpire. By winning the game the Nameless team ties the Elizabeths for first place. If the latter beat the Crescents next Monday night, as is possible; and the Nameless beat the Pastimes next Thursday night, as is probable; the deciding match for the championship will be between the Elizabeths and Nameless, at Elizabeth, on the 27th inst.

HARKINS TO PITCH AGAIN.

But Somerville Will Have a Somerville Ball Club Next Year.

(From the Somerset Gazette.)

The annual meeting of the West End Base Ball Association was held in the Hook and Ladder Rooms in Somerville on Saturday evening.

The policy of the club for the coming season was discussed, and it was determined to place a team composed of more of the resident players in the field. The services of Williams and Bergen have already been secured and Harkins will be signed if possible. With a catcher, this will be all the outside players on the team. It is quite probable the club will enter a League which is now about to be formed, to include the Bergen Point and Amboy clubs.

M'lle Rhea a Social Success Also.

M'lle Rhea, who has been engaged to appear at Music Hall, Monday evening, is one of the most popular ladies in the profession among people of both state and society. Last October when she played in Washington, she was honored by the presence, in a box, of the President and his wife, Mrs. Harrison; also, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Noble and others. Later in the week she attended a reception given by a lady friend, and had the honor of being presented to Mr. Blaine.

Trouble at the Metuchen Home.

Some fears are entertained at Metuchen that Mrs. Van Pelt, Matron of the Van Pelt Home, will abolish the institution, and if this takes place it is thought that the paupers will become a burden to Raritan township. Mrs. Van Pelt is under bonds to support the inmates of the Home during good behavior while life remains, and the Township Committee say that they will hold the Board of Directors of the institution responsible if the township is called upon to house and care for the inmates of the Home.

REFORM CLUB.

Installation Meeting—Highly Interesting Reports—The Club in a Flourishing Condition.

The adjourned regular business meeting of the Reform Club was held last evening, President Harper in the chair, and Mr. Vanderbeek's full choir, with the exception of Miss Smith, present. Mr. George Rogers filled the place of organist.

After the usual devotional services, and the transaction of routine business, including annual reports, the Club proceeded to install officers elect for the year 1890.

Owing to sickness and other unavoidable circumstances some were prevented from attending.

The following appeared and were one by one duly clothed with official authority:

President—Nathan Harper.
1st Vice-President—George W. F. Randolph.
2nd " —Edward B. Titsworth.
Financial Secretary—J. W. A Bauersachs.
Treasurer—J. D. Spicer.
2nd Marshall—Wm. Q. Smith.
Serg't at Arms—Mark Lees.

Each officer elect responded in fitting terms. The remarks of President Harper were in full as follows:

"My friends: Returning thanks for the honor conferred, I accept the Presidency for the current year, not with the desire of holding office, but for the sincere purpose of devoting whatever humble efforts I can exert towards advancing and perpetuating the practical usefulness of the Club organization.

"It is honorable to be a member of the Reform Club of Plainfield, because its mission is most worthy, aiming as it does to succor humanity, dignify manhood, and make homes happy. What nobler cause, next to that of religion, the close ally of temperance, can be found on earth? To rescue the perishing, to display signals of danger to the tempted, to advocate and illustrate the blessed results of total abstinence from the ruin freighted drunk habit, and to antagonize intoxicating liquor, in every form and place, as the enemy of both public and personal well being, is the dedicated object of this Hall. We here bow in reverence before Almighty God, and ignoring sectarianism, implore His protecting strength to guide and sustain us; and here, while espousing the principles of truth and justice, we dismiss partisan politics to other and more appropriate spheres of action.

"Let us rally with zeal and harmony around that standard, endeavor to make our Sunday and Thursday evening meetings increasingly attractive and profitable, and let us greet with pleasure the co-operation of every one who desires to see right triumphant for the lasting good of all the people. With these brief remarks, I renew the tender of thanks, and assume the official duties assigned me."

The President nominated and the Club confirmed the following Committees:

Executive Committee:—Andrew Vanderbeek, H Newton Spencer, John H. French, Jacob Voehl, Wm. C. Smith.

Finance Commietee:—W. R. Codington, S. P. Hoffman, L. A. Hummer.

A pleasant re-union around refreshment tables in Reform Hall parlors, closed the enjoyable occasion.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Plainfield Reform Club enters upon the seventh year of its existence with the prospects of a greater field of labor before it than ever. The past year's work compares favorably with that of recent years. Additions have been made to the Club roll, and about two hundred signatures have been obtained to the pledge. Our financial status is also up to the standard. Two excursions have been given during the year—one to Rockaway Beach, which netted $150, and one to Mauch Chunk that enriched the treasury $10. Both were occasions of great satisfaction and enjoyment to all who participated. A set of folding doors have been placed in the parlors of the Hall, whereby about one-half the room can be set off (from the portion occupied by the Club members as a reading room), for the purpose of holding religious services, committee meetings, etc.

Your committee has also made the necessary repairs to the building as occasion required. In consideration of the many new attractions continually presenting themselves, the average attendance at our meetings has been good.

The Woman's Temperance Aid Society holds its regular business meetings on Tuesdays at 3 P. M., and religious services on the Sabbath at 9:15 A. M., and 4 P. M., at which considerable interest is manifested. They have given a series of entertainments which were well attended and highly appreciated. They also gave a goodly number of receptions which were well patronized by the Club members and their friends. And a very prominent feature of their work was a fair held at the Hall, from the proceeds of which an elegant upright grand piano was procured, and for which the Club are greatly indebted to them for their untiring efforts on that occasion. It is, however, a source of deep regret that so great a number of our people display so little interest in this great question, involving, as it does, the welfare of so many—not only in this World, but in the World beyond.

Too much cannot be said in honor of the noble women, who with Mabee and English were instrumental in bringing about this great reform movement, and with whose co-operation the Club has been enabled to reclaim so many who today command the respect of society; and not a few who are filling positions of honor and trust, are living testimonials to this fact.

In conclusion, suffice it to say, that while this Club will make every endeavor to maintain the prestige it has already attained, it would most earnestly appeal to each and every one having the interests of their fellow beings at heart, to aid us in every possible manner to save from the doom which awaits them those who are victims of this terrible traffic. Therefore, let us "rescue the perishing," for the sake of "God, and Home, and Native Land."

Plainfield, January 9, 1890.

A. VANDERBEEK, Ch'n.

Some Facts About Pills.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In your issue of the 8th inst., you comment on the unreliability of a large proportion of the quinine pills now in the market.

It is probable that the authority whom you quote exaggerates the evil, but it remains true—as the result of excessive competition and of an idiotic demand for "Cheap Medicine" from some people, even from some doctors—that quinine pills have been sold, adulterated with cheap cinchona alkaloids, or actually of short weight. This to the number of millions, and wholly because they are cheap. For instance: Two-grain quinine pills have been offered by "cutters" at four cents per dozen; that is, one-sixth of a cent per grain for quinine, with no allowance for making and coating and boxing.

There is one brand of coated quinine pills in the market absolutely true to name, as to weight and purity. Perhaps it is no more than just to name it, though I do not say there are not other good pills. The quinine pills of W. H. Schieffelin & Co., are absolutely true to name in every respect. By demanding these of their druggists, people may be sure of getting quinine only. But they are not sold at four cents a dozen.

Let me correct you as to quinine in powder: It is subject to the same adulterations as though it were to be made into pills—adulterations which can only be detected by chemical analysis.

The only recourse open to the public in the matter of drug-adulterations is to buy only of reputable dealers, and to demand the steady enforcement of our laws against adulterations.

REYNOLDS.

He Cheated the Widow.

A story is told to the effect that a farmer living near New Market recently bought a pig,—or rather a hog—from a widow for six cents a pound, live weight. After the man got the hog home, he found out that it weighed more than he wanted. He then asked the widow to take back the head of the hog which she did.

In order to get his pork cheap, it is said, the buyer also cut off the shoulders of the "Cincinnati Beef," and personally took it back to the widow's house, but she at first refused to accept it. Latterly however, the woman got the stated price for the hog—minus the cost of the head and shoulders—and the buyer got fresh ham and loin for six cents a pound.

PORTUGAL'S NOTE TO ENGLAND

Great Britain's Refusal to Allow the Pope to Arbitrate—A Statement from the Emperor of Austria Creates Uneasiness. The Empress Augusta's Body Embalmed and Now Lying in State.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—Alfonso XIII., King of Spain, died this morning.

Alfonso XIII., King of Spain, was the posthumous son of Alfonso XII. He was born May 17, 1886, and was therefore 3 years 8 months and 23 days old. He was proclaimed King on the day of his birth, with his mother as Queen. The next in succession to the throne is the little King's sister, Maria de las Mercedes, Princess of Asturias, who was born September 11, 1880. There is a second sister, Maria Theresa, born November 11, 1882.

Great Britain's Big War Fleet.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A despatch from Zanzibar states that there is much excitement and conjecture over the constant arrival of British men-of-war. The British fleet now in those waters is said to be the largest ever assembled.

Surmises are ripe as to its object, but the prevailing opinion is that it is destined for the coast of Mozambique, to put a stop to Portuguese aggression and protect British interests in the interior.

The fleet is under sealed orders, and awaits final despatches from London.

It is generally believed that, in the absence of satisfactory assurance from Lisbon it will be ordered to proceed to occupy Delagoa Bay.

The correspondent of the "Standard" at Lisbon says that Senhor Gomes, in his reply to the latest note of Lord Salisbury, will agree to the demands of the English Government that Portugal suspend all action in the Shire district and Nyassaland, and withdraw all armed force from debatable territory. In event of the failure of the subsequent negotiations Portugal will appeal to the good offices of the powers.

THE EMPRESS AUGUSTA

Her Body Has Been Embalmed and a Death Mask Taken.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The body of the Empress Augusta has been embalmed. A wax death mask was made from her face, and her face was also sketched by Werner. Plockhorst sketched the death chamber.

A platform has been erected, with a balcony, in a room on the first floor of the palace, where the body will lie in state. This room will be opened in the presence of the Ministers and other state officials.

A touching episode is related that occurred when the Emperor and Empress were leaving the palace after the death. The Emperor saw his father's own footman standing in the court-yard and went to him and grasped his hand with much emotion.

At nine o'clock last evening a requiem service was held in the chapel at the palace. A squadron of the corps of guards, acting as a guard of honor, escorted the body of the dead Empress to Schloss Chapel, followed by the Emperor, the Grand Duke of Baden and other royal relations, on foot.

England Refuses to Arbitrate.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The "Chronicle's" correspondent at Rome says that Portugal suggested that the Pope should act as arbitrator in the dispute between herself and England, but that England, refused point-blank to accept any arbitration.

England at the Vatican.

ROME, Jan. 10.—It is learned on excellent authority that General Simmons, the special envoy from Malta to the Vatican, is making little or no progress in his negotiations. The Pope, it is said, in addition to his desire to retain the existing privileges enjoyed by the church in Malta, demands other concessions far in excess of those which it was deemed advisable to give them as a last resort.

Lord C. and Lord L.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—At the trial of the West End scandal at the Bow Street Court, a boy witness mentioned in the course of his testimony the names of two members of the aristocracy as frequenters of the house in Cleveland street. The court ordered that no indication of the names be given for the present beyond the descriptions of Lord C. and Lord L.

Disturbed the Money Market.

VIENNA, Jan. 10.—At the recent Court dinner, the Emperor Francis Joseph remarked, that the financial condition of Europe caused him more anxiety than the political situation. This statement, together with rumors that the Emperor favors a modification of the protectionist policy of Austria, causes some uneasiness on the Bourse.

The Parnell Libel Suit.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The libel suit of Mr Parnell against the "Times" is among the first cases that will come up before the Hilary sittings, which commences to-morrow. The case will probably be heard before the report of the Parnell Commission is published.

Arrested for Swindling.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Frank D. Lesclide was arrested here on a telegraphic description from Chief of Police Nicholson, of Pittsfield, Mass., who said Lesclide was wanted for swindling W. G. Backus & Co., of that city. The prisoner was committed to await a requisition from Massachusetts.

Sullivan's Trainer Released.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Edward L. Merrifield, the proprietor of the Continental Hotel, appeared in Jefferson Market Court, and furnished bail in the sum of $500 for Wm. Muldoon, charged with aiding and abetting in the Sullivan-Kilrain prize fight.

Destructive Fire at Braddock.

PITTSBURG, Pa. Jan. 10.—Fire started shortly before midnight in H. B. Gravis' planing mill at Braddock. In 40 hours' time the entire block was burned over and every building on it was destroyed. The loss will exceed $25,000. The insurance is small.

CITIZENS AROUSED.

Murderer Laplant May be Summarily Dealt With.

HAVERHILL, N. H., Jan. 10.—This usually quiet town is aroused to the highest indignation, and it is only by the strong efforts of the law-abiding citizens that Laplant, the murderer of his innocent grandchildren, has not already been summarily dealt with. The feeling has been so strong against him that the officers of the law keep the closest watch, lest a mob should force an entrance to the jail.

Laplant cries constantly: "Oh, why did I do it," and starts at the slightest noise for fear some harm may reach him. He admits that rum has been the cause of the ugly fits, as he terms them, and he repeatedly calls upon the Almighty for vengeance upon those who sold him liquor during his life.

Such is the feeling among the most prominent citizens and others who have visited the jail, that, should sufficient evidence be given as to where he got liquor before the murder, that they would strenuously demand the rigid enforcement of the law.

TWO FIREBUG SISTERS.

Both in Jail Now for Attempts to Burn a Reform School.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 10.—A second attempt has been made to burn the Dormitory Reform School at Morgan, Pa., this time by Mollie Burck, a sister of the girl who made the first attempt some time ago.

The only reason given was that she wanted to be with her sister in the county jail.

The flames were discovered just in time to avert the destruction of the building and probable loss of life.

Brotherhood Suits Coming.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 10.—Al Johnson stated to-day that every Cleveland Brotherhood deserter will be sued. "I talked with a lawyer," said Johnson, "and he made a careful examination of not only the regular three-year contract, but also of the original agreement. He tells that that agreement is as good a contract as was ever made, and no man who signed it has the slightest chance of getting away. For the Cleveland Players' League club, I will say that every man who signed that agreement and has since signed with the league will be taken into court.

The Reading Railroad Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The directors of the Reading Railroad Company authorize the publication of the following announcement: "No formal action will be taken on the subject of the payment of the interest upon the income bonds until the first meeting of the board after the annual election, but the members of the board were unanimously of the opinion from an examination of the accounts, that the interest has been earned, or can be paid upon any series of the preference bonds.

Settled by a Blow on the Jaw.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Thirty sporting men met in a barn in the suburbs about midnight, to witness a two-ounce glove contest for a purse of $100 between young Badger of Quincy, weighing 130 pounds and Sol Hall, colored, 120 pounds. The fighting was hard and scientific. Badger forced matters and, except in the fourth round, got the better of the exchange. In the eighth Badger landed heavily on the wind and knocked Hall down with a swing on the jaw, and the negro gave up the contest.

Gov. Hill Will Make Another Change.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The term of Robert A. Maxwell Superintendant of Insurance of the State, expired a year ago the 14th of the month and it said that Gov. Hill will send in the name of Charles R. Deforest of Troy, to the Legislature next week to succeed him. Mr. Maxwell was appointed in 1886 by Gov. Hill. He was a firm friend of ex-President Cleveland and has always worked for that gentleman's interest.

The Patronage a Stumbling Block.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The City Council has again failed to organize and has taken a further recess until Monday. The blame for the failure to organize rests with the Democratic members, who are in the majority, but who cannot agree upon a division of the Council patronage. There are three candidates for President among the Democrats, and neither will give way, hence the deadlock.

Died in London.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 10.—M. A. Sheldon, a leading lawyer of this city, died in London, whither he went last November on business relating to the purchase of various interests by an English syndicate. Isaac Untermyer, of New York, and the wife of Supreme Court Judge Tappan, were with him when he died. Mr. Sheldon was 60 years old, a native of Essex county. He was a member of the legal firm of Sheldon, King & Ashley.

The Shoemakers' Strike.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 10.—The shomemakers' strike here continues. The Shoe Manufacturers' Association met and agreed that the demands of the men are unreasonable, but deferred final action. The chief demands are that only union men be employed, and that all work be done by the piece at union prices.

Granted an Extension of Time.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 10.—The Ledge River Worsted Company, of Oakdale, which made an assignment a few days ago, has been granted a four months' extension of time by the creditors. The company claims they will then be able to pay their bills in full. At present they are paying in cash all bills under $100.

Senator Wilson Captures the Prize.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 10.—The Democratic caucus renominated United States Senator E. K. Wilson to succeed himself. The name of Gov. Jackson was not presented and Mr. Wilson was nominated by acclamation.

Resigned His Office.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Ira Otis, manager of the State Industrial School, has forwarded to Gov. Hill his resignation of that office. Mr. Otis has held this position for several years.

Stricken With Paralysis.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 10.—Gen. E. L. Dudley, Vice-President and General Manager of the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad, was stricken with paralysis last evening.

THE JURY BELIEVED HIM.

Miss Rowe Loses Her Suit for Damages Against Lawyer Farrar.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The trial of Lawyer Farrar, who was sued by Miss Rowe, of Grand Rapids, for $50,000 for alleged assault, was concluded here in the Circuit Court. Farrar's story of what occurred in his office differed very materially from Miss Rowe's. He testified that after the conclusion of her business the plaintiff lingered in the inner office and took a seat on the couch of her own accord.

A Hamilton detective and others testified that Miss Rowe had a bad reputation. In rebuttal, however, other witnesses testified to the reverse. Evidently the jury believed Mr. Farrar, and discredited Miss Rowe, for two hours after being out a verdict for the defendant was brought in.

NEW YORK'S DEATH LIST.

A Decided Falling Off in the Past 24 Hours—Pneumonia Heads the List.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—There was a decided falling off in the city's mortality for the past 24 hours. During that period the Bureau of Vital Statistics, recorded only 207 deaths, a decrease of 43 from the 250 reported yesterday. The following table shows the various causes of the 207 deaths:

Pneumonia	63
Bronchitis	22
Phthisis	24
Influenza and pneumonia	12
Influenza and bronchitis	1
Influenza and phthisis	1
Other diseases	84

Sunk in Collision.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A London despatch to the Maritime Exchange states that the Bristol Line steamer Llandaff City, from Swansea which had put back to port damaged by heavy weather, and had again sailed for New York, was in collision with the steamer Virent, and sank near Bristol. The crew of 27 men and Capt. Gore were saved and landed at Bristol. The Virent was badly damaged, but remained afloat. The Llandaff City carried a valuable cargo.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Vice-President Morton and Mrs. Morton entertained President Harrison, Mrs. Harrison and a number of guests at dinner last night. Covers were laid for about 30 guests, including, besides the President and Mrs. Harrison, most of the members of the Cabinet, their ladies, and a number of prominent diplomats.

Great surprise is expressed in Berlin at the Government's haste in calling the elections for the Reichstag. It appears that the Government has abandoned hope of passing the Socialist bill.

A LARGE party of American women are making a tricycling tour through France.

THE Mille Lacs Indians object to settlers entering their reservation in Northern Minnesota.

THE modern war ships seem to be much freer from strokes of lightning than the old wooden vessels, the modern precautions being so much more effective.

THE Southern Pacific Railroad Company has made preparations for fencing both sides of its tracks in Oregon. It will require 700 miles and will cost $168,000.

THE Chinamen in New York are threatening to depart utterly out of the great Babel and to form a new community just on the outskirts, because their landlords in Mott street are raising their rents. They are quite capable of carrying out their threat and establishing a town of several thousand persons, "heathen Chinee" in every thing.

THERE has been so much smuggling into New York of late by vessels coming through Hell Gate and along the sound that Uncle Sam is going to patrol the sound with two revenue cutters. As in past years there has not been a single revenue cutter from Montauk Point to Hell Gate it is believed that the smuggling must have been carried on upon an extensive scale and that it will be difficult to break it up.

AN experiment in ocean time-saving has just been tried by having the steamship City of Rome discharge her passengers at Milford Haven instead of at Liverpool on her last voyage out. Milford Haven is the extreme western point of England, and it is believed that sailing direct from New York to that point will save from eighteen to twenty-four hours in the passage. It is likely to become the great point of sailing between the two countries.

SOMEWHAT SINGULAR.

BRICE NOT SO SURE

His Fate Lies in the Hands of Three Democrats.

THEY MAY NOT SUPPORT HIM.

The Slender Majority in the Legislature Reduced by Sickness and Death.

A Rumor that the Republicans Will Help Elect Thurman Senator—Considerable Excitement Over the New Turn in Affairs—The Legislature Has Adjourned Until Monday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Many friends of Calvin S. Brice are afraid that he may not be elected United States Senator after all.

A story has been started to the effect that the Republicans were willing to vote for Allan G. Thurman in order to defeat Brice.

There are sixty Democrats and fifty-four Republicans in the House, and nineteen Democrats and seventeen Republicans in the Senate, making the total vote on joint ballot 150. It takes a majority of all the members elected to the General Assembly to elect a United States Senator, in this instance, 76. But sickness, death and desertion have been making havoc with the Democratic majority. Representative Knapp, of the Defiance-Paulding district, died on Wednesday, and Representative Lawler, of Franklin County, is dying of pneumonia at his father-in-law's home in Newark. Representative Brown was unable to attend last night's caucus, but wrote a letter announcing his intention to support the caucus nominee if able to be present on the 15th inst. Representatives Courts, of Shelby, Munson, of Licking and Smith, of Franklin refused to go into the caucus last night, and it is said to-day that they have announced that they will not vote for Brice either in the separate balloting of the two Houses or in joint session.

These Democrats with a few others who are not altogether pleased with Brice's nomination and the 71 Republicans could elect another man Senator.

Seventy-three Democrats took part in the caucus, three less than enough to elect Brice. Brown, however, will vote for the nominee. That makes seventy-four, two less than enough to elect.

The legislature adjourned until Monday.

TRENTON'S MYSTERY.

The Two Suspects Leave the City and the Excitement Subsiding.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Both Dr. Kniffin and Miss Pursel lost no time in leaving the town which was filled with so many unpleasant recollections. Miss Pursel was the first to take her departure. Accompanied by her brother David she boarded a train for Broadway, Warren County, where the Pursel family is located.

She seemed in remarkable good spirits, but somewhat nervous. She refused to talk of the murder, and her brother took care that no newspaper man could secure an interview. Later in the day brother and sister arrived at Easton, Pa., and were at once driven in a closed carriage to their home at Broadway.

Dr. Kniffin was not slow in following. After packing up whatever personal articles he required and accompanied by his 10-year-old son, Lennie, and Dr. and Mrs. Parker, he took a train for New Brunswick, where the Parkers reside. Mrs. Parker is Dr. Kniffin's sister and he will stop at their house for several days.

Coroner Bower will resume the inquest on Monday. He said he had nothing to do with the defendants being admitted on bail. He will go on with the investigation and endeavor to clear up the mystery. Although there is talk of sensational developments at the inquest on Monday, the coroner is reticent as to what evidence the authorities have against the parties suspected.

The fact that the prosecutor was not represented when the application for bail mas made is regarded by many as evidence that the prosecution is weakening in the stand it has taken.

SIXTEEN MEN DROWNED.

Further Particulars of the Awful Caisson Accident.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 11.—The loss of life by the flooding of the caisson on the new bridge over the Ohio, proves to have been 16—two more than at first reported. The additional victims are Hamilton Morris and Lewis Cox.

The work of pumping out the caisson to get at the other bodies is still in progress, and a gaping and excited crowed watches the proceedings from the river banks.

The indications are that the bodies will probably not be recovered before to-night.

The foreman of the work reports that he can do nothing, and that before the bodies can be removed it will be necessary to cut them to pieces. By doing this the doors could be closed and air could again be forced under the caisson in order to raise it.

Among the five white men under the caisson are: Frank Mayer, 25 years, Newark, N. J.; James McAdams, aged 26 years, Hyde Park, Pa., and Patrick Nailor, aged 27, Philadelphia.

EVICTING MINERS.

Several Families Ejected at Adrian and Walston.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 11.—The evictions have commenced. Several families were ejected at Adrian and one Italian family at Walston. The parties evicted took lodging with their friends and their household effects were taken charge of by the Miners' Committee.

No resistance was attempted but it is expected that the Italians will resist and cause trouble. The company give the men the option of going to work at the old rates or be evicted. The men seem to prefer the latter. The Miners' Committee are making preparations to accommodate the homeless women and children.

KILLED HIS MOTHER.

It Was an Accident and the Young Man is Almost Insane.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—While John Drake, aged 20 years, was cleaning the cylinder of his revolver the trigger snapped and the pistol was discharged. The bullet entered the head of Drake's mother, who was standing near by, killing her instantly.

The killing was clearly an accident. The young man is almost insane over the result and attributes it to his own carelessness. The family reside near Munhall Station on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston Railroad.

Railroad Employes Discharged.

BUFFALO, Jan. 11.—The blue envelope has again made its appearance on the Erie railroad. Conductor Brooks, of the Hornellsville division, is one of the victims; also Conductor John Gavin, of the Bradford division. Two freight conductors have also been discharged. No reason is furnished by the officials for this wholesale discharge, and the men are given little satisfaction when they apply at the office for redress.

RUMORS ABOUT THE BABY KING

Madrid Greatly Excited Over the Report That He Was Dead.

Emperor William Angry with a Newspaper—How the Czar Was Poisoned—Empress Augusta's Funeral—Parnell Says the Ennis Letter Was a Forgery—Dr. Dollinger Dead.

LISBON, Jan. 11.—It is semi-officially stated here that Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, regards the reply of Senhor Gomes, Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs, to the last British note relative to the Anglo-Portuguese dispute concerning territory in East Africa, as affording the basis for an amicable settlement of the trouble. All the political groups in the Cortes concur in the opinion that the Serpa Pinto incident will not retard the two Governments in reaching a satisfactory agreement.

SPAIN'S ROYAL BABY.

Great Excitement Over the Report that He Was Dead.

MADRID, June. 11.—Great excitement existed here all day yesterday over the conflicting reports about the infant King.

At noon it was bulletined that the King was dead and mourning was soon visible in many places. Then a report was given out that the King was still alive and in a precarious condition. All efforts to obtain reliable information were fruitless and it was stated that the authorities were withholding news.

In the evening it was officially announced that the King was alive and that there was a slight improvement in his condition.

The latest news from the sick chamber is that the infant King is progressing favorably and that there has been a change for the better in his condition.

At a cabinet council, at which Senor Sagasta presided, it was unanimously decided that the Ministry should remain in office, with unimpaired powers, and that in the event of the King's death the crown should pass immediately to his eldest sister, with Queen Christina as regent.

The government has adopted special measures to prevent an outbreak in the event of the King's death.

LONDON SHOCKED.

Police Unearth a Scandal Even Worse Than the Cleveland Street Affair.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The world of society and aristocracy in England was absolutely astounded by the intelligence that the police have discovered another scandal in the West End of London, exceeding in its suggestions of immoralities those which have been brought to light in connection with the Cleveland street club house.

The most general details of the new scandal are all that have as yet been given out by the police, who are busily engaged in unearthing the unsavory villiany.

The list of persons implicated is reported to be a long one and to contain some very prominent names. Two notables of society have already fled the country in consequence of the disclosures.

PARNELL'S DENIAL.

He Denounces the Ennis Letter and Will Bear the Expenses of the Trial.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—An appearance has been entered in the Divorce Court on behalf of Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea, the counsel acting in both cases being Sir Charles Russell and Mr. Lewis. Captain O'Shea's solicitor is a son of Justice Day, of the Parnell Commission. He is very young and inexperienced.

Mr. Parnell, it is stated, opposes the idea of a subscription to defray the expenses of his trial.

Mr. Parnell says that the letter published over his name Wednesday, addressed to the Ennis Board, is a forgery. The internal evidence, he thinks, should have been sufficient to convince any one that it was not genuine.

Empress Augusta's Funeral.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The funeral ceremonies of the Dowager Empress Augusta will be exactly the same as those of the late Emperor William I., but owing to lack of time the municipal authorities have abandoned the idea of decorating Unter den Linden.

The will of the late Empress is made public by the provisions contained therein. The palaces in Berlin and Babelsberg are bequeathed to her grandson, the present Emperor William. To her daughter she bequeaths 4,000,000 marks. Numerous legacies are left to her servants and charitable and religious societies.

In answer to a number of inquiries, THE PRESS would state that the term of Postmaster Force, of this city, expires on March 1. When a Republican government keeps a Democratic appointee in office, is only when it is impossible to find a single well founded complaint to use as cause for removal.

The Hon. Alvah A. Clark, law partner of Borough Counsel Charles A. Reed, has broken ground for a handsome new barn and stables on his recently purchased property near Peters brook. The hillside is being graded so as to form a gentle slope to Mountain avenue, Somerville, and with the new and elegant house soon to be erected thereon, will, without doubt, make the handsomest country seat in Somerset county, if not in the State.

At an entertainment given at the Star Theatre, New York, Thursday, for the benefit of the Greely Statue Fund, the editor of the Mount Ararat Standard was the principal attraction of the programme. The World said: "Mr. A. E. IS IT A SUICIDE!

Paul Axmann, of This City, Found Dead.

Last evening a well dressed and perfectly sober man who registereed as "Paul Axmann, Plainfield, N. J." was assigned to a room in the Somerset Hotel by Mr. Richard A. Boyce the proprietor. This morning at eleven o'clock as the lodger had not made an appearance, the room was entered and he was found dead in the bed.

The man told Mr. Boyce last evening that he lived in Plainfield, but it was too late for him to go home. Late in the night Mr. and Mrs. Boyce, whose room was directly under the one occupied by the lodger heard him snoring.

Dr. W. E. Mattison was summoned when the man's condition was discovered, and he pronounced him dead. County Physician Wagoner was sent for at once, and until his arrival and examination it will not be known if it is a case of suicide or natural death.

The man lies on his side with his arms folded, his eyes almost tightly closed, his legs in an easy position and the expression on his face perfectly calm. Not a feature nor muscle is drawn. The entire appearance and position of the body points to a quiet, natural death. The dead man's clothing is partly hung upon the wall and partly placed carefully on a chair beside the bed.

Judging by the name registered and the face of the man, he is the coachman who was recently arrested by Chief Carey for being intoxicated and driving recklessly through the streets. He probably was discharged and has since had no other regular situation. He is a Dane, but whether he has any family is not known.

GODKINS & CO CAN KEEP THEIR LUMBER.

Rheaume's Assignee Establishes a New Point of Law as to Foreclosing Mortgages.

Mr. Godkins claimed that the lumber was sold to be delivered at Plainfield free of freight charges, and that Rheaume was first to examine the lumber to see if it suited and if did, he was to send the cash or a sixty day note before the sale was completed. Mr. Rheaume, on the other hand said, that it was an ordinary sale without conditions.

Judge Van Syckel in so many words told the jury that it was simply a question which side the jury believed. If they believed the defendant's witnesses, their verdict should be for the defendant. If they believed the plaintiff's witnesses, then verdict must be for the plaintiff. On this question of fact the jury found a verdict of six cent damages in favor of the plaintiff, which is in addition to the costs. Jackson & Codington were counsel for the plaintiff, Craig A. Marsh for the defendant.

Mr. Rheaume has always desired to have Godkins & Co., get back their car load of lumber, but the assignee being under $30,000 bonds to represent the creditors interests, could not safely let lumber go without having the disputed

In another case before the Chancellor, a new question has been decided. It was to the effect that when a suit has been begun to foreclose a first mortgage, the second mortgagee cannot bring an independent suit to foreclose his mortgage. The Chancellor heard argument in this novel point of law from John H. Jackson on behalf of Jacob Voehl, the second mortgagee, and from Craig A. Marsh counsel for Mr. Buttfield, the assignee. The Chancellor decided in favor of the assignee. This is the first time that the point has been raised in this State, so far as the reports show, and naturally the assignee feels that he has been instrumental in establishing a sound legal principle for the first time.

Will No One Save Her from Potter's Field!

The death occurred last night of Bessie Andersen, who until a few days ago was a servant in the employ of Mr. T. E. Hazell. The cause of death was pneumonia which within two weeks had also taken away Mrs. Hazell and her sister.

Miss Andersen had left Mr. Hazell's and gone to the home of Martin Gaghen, 250 West Front street, that she could be better cared for away from where the care of the dead naturally claimed all attention. She died without telling who were her friends or relatives, except that she mentioned a brother living in Hull, England. No letters nor anything were found on her person to connect her with anyone in the world. She had no money, and if her death is not heard of by some one who will provide the means for a better burial, she will be interred in "Potter's Field" after the funeral to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock at the house where she died. Rev. Dr. Ketcham will officiate.

That Dam Fight.

The trial of the suit in Chancery brought by Charles Hyde against P. M. French to compel latter to reduce the height of his dam at Tier's Lake, will begin on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the City Court room in Plainfield, Vice Chancellor Bird having consented to come to this city to try the case.

Like a Little Man.

ONE QUARTER OF A MILLION RECEIPTS.

Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle's Yearly Income as Reported at the Trustees' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Chautauqua Assembly was held at Rochester, Thursday, President Miller presiding.

The publishing department of the Assembly was referred to at length in Chancellor Vincent's report. The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle and the programme for the coming Assembly were discussed. An important recommendation was that of a union of the forty Chautauqua assemblies, which now act independently of each other. The death of Professor Olson, late professor of Greek, was referred to and a committee was appointed to draft resolutions.

Secretary Duncan's report showed that the receipts were $124,538 and the expenditures $121,527. The debt was reduced $5,000. The present indebtedness is $30,000.

Much of the afternoon session was devoted to the consideration of the president's recommendations about the co-operation of the assemblies.

A Beauty in Tragedy.

The Music Hall management takes especial pleasure in announcing the engagement for next Monday evening of the distinguished artiste and most beautiful society lady, M'lle Rhea, in the grand historical drama, "Josephine, Empress of the French," written by Albert Roland Haven, Esq., of New York. It is in six acts, and is said to be one of the strongest productions of recent years. Its success in other cities has been something phenomenal. The story is one of intense human interest, powerful in its conception and execution, logical in its conclusion, warm and vivid in its effects and with a heart interest that draws and chains the attention, from the rise of the curtain on the first act, until the fall thereof on the last act.

An exceptionally talented company has been engaged in support and embraces the names of many well known ladies and gentlemen, among whom may be mentioned, the leading man, Mr. Wm. Harris, who plays Napoleon, and who not only acts the part in the most finished manner, but whose make-up, walk and general appearance bears a striking resemblance to the Napoleon of history; also, the pretty and bewitching little blonde leading lady, Miss Ida VanSicien, fresh from the Pacific slope, where she was known as the "California Rosebud," and whose portrayal of the part of Pauline Bonaparte has won her the highest encomiums; the distinguished and queenly Miss Marie Knowles, clever Miss Dantes and pretty Miss Vanetta. Also, Messrs W. R. Owen, C. J. Birbeck, Lauren Rees, J. R. Amory, F. S. Pierson and others.

Shall the Women's School be Closed.

The Board of Education have announced that they do not feel justified in keeping open the evening school for women, unless there can be a regular attendance of at least thirty. If there are not more present on Monday and Friday evenings of next week, than there have been of late, the classes will certainly be discontinued. The ladies of the Relief Association wish to urge those who need such teaching as the school furnished, not to neglect this rare opportunity, nor let slip from them the means of laying the foundations of a good education.

SOMERVILLE'S IMPROVING.

Her Crack Bowlers Win a Match Against the Olympics of This City.

Thursday night at Somerville, as told in yesterday's PRESS, the "Somersets" of that place bowled their first match with the "Olympics" of this city. The former had a "Harkins" in disguise under the name of Matthews, who with the help of W. Smith won the game for Somerville. VanAlstyne and Captain Stover did the best bowling for Plainfield's team. The score in full was as follows:

LAST NIGHT'S GAME.

But the Olympics balanced their account last evening by defeating the heavy Fanwood team that was strengthened besides by some of the best of Westfield's bowlers. The game was closely contested at the finish, and the score shows how little will change the result.

Each team had 18 strikes and 53 breaks, but the Olympics had one more spare than the Fanwoods, and won as given in detail below:

Ways of Doing Things.

HOW TO INJURE A TOWN.

Oppose its improvements.
Mistrust its public-spirited men.
Speak of its enterprise disparagingly.
If a stranger wants to buy your property ask him two prices for it.
If he is about to buy from some one else interfere and discourage him.
Be particular to discredit the moves and plans of public-spirited men.
Don't invest a cent in improvements.
If you have any money to spend, spend it away from town.
Don't patronize your merchants.
Refuse to see the merit in any scheme that does not directly benefit you.
Don't patronize your town paper.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR TOWN PROSPER.

Talk up her interest.
Paint your houses and fences.
Keep your sidewalks in good repair.
Beautify and improve all the streets.
Avoid gossip about your neighbors.
Do your trading with home merchants.
Sell anything you have at fair prices.
Buy liberally and pay promptly.
If you are rich invest your money.
Employ all the labor you can.
Remember that every dollar you invest in improvents is so much on interest.
Be courteous to strangers that come among you that they may go away with good impressions.
Always cheer on the men who come to the front and are doing their mightiest for improvements.
Don't kick at any proposed improvements because it is not at your own door, or for fear that your taxes might be raised fifty cents.—Toms River Courier.

HOW TO LEARN OF YOUR TOWN.

Read THE PRESS, it is Plainfield's only daily news paper.

Those Interested Should Heed.

The Bound Brook Chronicle reprints THE PRESS' exclusive account of Judge Magie's ruling in the matter of a recent liquor license application, and editorially comments on it as follows:

"The information conveyed by Judge Magie to Frank Linke of North Plainfield respecting the position of a licensee (published elsewhere)—that it is unlawful for a beer bottler to allow his customers to drink on his premises, even though they get out of the house and out of his sight—carries with it an intimation of liability to indictment which it may be well for those interested to heed."

Indigestion
IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—
"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and, with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

MR. CLARKSON TO MANAGE IT

Funeral Services at the Capital Over the Remains of Judge Kelley.

The Body Taken to Philadelphia—Mr. Randall Sitting Up and Busily Employed in His Correspondence—Secretary Blaine Inquires About the Detention of American Vessels—The World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The report that the Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson intends to resign his position and enter into the newspaper business in New York city is probably not well founded. There is reason to believe, however, that the report that he is negotiating for the Chicago "Times" has a better foundation.

The last report, which comes from persons in the West who are presumed to know of the negotiation, is that a syndicate composed of General Alger, ex-Senator Platt, of New York, George M. Pullman, of Chicago, Mr. Clarkson himself and a few other friends, have made arrangements to purchase the Chicago "Times" if they can get it, and that there is some probability that the negotiation will be made. An attempt was made some months since by the same syndicate to purchase the Chicago "Tribune," but Mr. Medill declined to sell.

JUDGE KELLEY'S FUNERAL.

The Obsequies at the Capital and the Body Taken to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Committee of Arrangements, the Pennsylvania delegation, the Senate Committee and such members of the Kelley family as are in the city assembled at the Riggs House this morning at 11 o'clock and proceeded thence to the Capitol with the body of the late Judge Kelley which was conveyed to the floor of the House. After the House had been called to order the funeral services commenced. The Rev. Dr. Cuthbert, the acting Chaplain of the House, conducted the services assisted by the Rev. Dr. Butler, the Senate Chaplain. The services were simple and at their conclusion the body was conveyed to the Baltimore & Potomac Depot, where the first train for Philadelphia was taken by the Committee and the Pennsylvania delegation.

Messrs. Sherman, Cameron, Manderson, Butler and Colquitt will represent the Senate at the funeral.

Mr. Randall at Work.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Hon. Leonard Myers and John H. Fow, of Philadelphia, called on Mr. Randall yesterday. With the exception of Victor E. Piolette they were the only persons who were admitted to the sick room of Mr. Randall this week. Both gentlemen unite in saying that Mr. Randall's sickness has caused him to resemble the portraits of General Jackson, and that he now bears a most singular and striking resemblance to the hero of the Battle of New Orleans. The Philadelphia visitors found Mr. Randall dressed, sitting up and busily employed in his correspondence, which shows but little diminution on account of his illness.

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A caucus of Democratic Representatives was held in the House last night. The attendance was slim. Mr. Holman, of Indiana, chairman of the caucus, presided and announced that the meeting was called for the purpose of appointing a committee of Representatives, according to custom, to manage the Congressional campaign of next fall. It was agreed that each State delegation should select one of its members for the committee, making 42 in all. As only about one-third of the State delegation had a majority present, the committee was not nearly completed. Another meeting will be held for the completion of the committee.

The World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The New York and Chicago delegation are talking to the committee to-day on the merits of their respective cities as a location for holding the World's Fair. New York's chances have improved wonderfully since the delegation arrived here.

Blaine Inquires About It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Secretary Blaine has telegraphed to Minister Abbott, at Bogota, to ascertain and report all particulars relating to the enforcement of custom laws by the United States of Colombia and the consequent detention of American vessels for refusing to obey said laws.

Fighting for Postoffices.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—Senator Quay writes a friend here that he will not be able to leave Washington on his proposed trip to the South before the first of next month and probably not then. He finds that his business is accumulating and that the pressure on him for postoffices is on the increase. The candidates for the McKeesport postoffice have repudiated the agreement to submit their chances to a popular vote and have renewed the fight at this end of the line. DuBois, in Clearfield county, is now the only town of importance in which the postmastership will be decided by a popular vote.

Electric Light Employes Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11.—Eighteen of the employes of the East End Electric Light Company announced their intention of doing no work for a company that had been declared by the American Federation of Labor to be non-union, and joined the strike against the Allegheny County Electric Light Company. The places of the East End strikers were filled shortly after they quit. The company announces that all lights will burn as usual.

Boiler Explosion.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—A terrific boiler explosion occurred in the basement of the John Morris stationery and printing Co., Nos. 118 and 120 Monroe street, causing $20,000 damage, but no loss of life, though several of the small army of employes were seriously and many others badly hurt.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

An Elmira Widow Arrested on a Charge of Murder.

ELMIRA, Jan. 11.—Chief of Police Little was summoned to the house of Mrs. Eilenberger, at 520 East Church street, where, it was reported, that a man had shot himself.

When the chief opened the front door it struck against the body of Wm. Edwards, a well-to-do farmer, residing in this county. He was lying on his face in a pool of blood and a revolver was lying by his side. Mrs. Eilenberger was the only living inmate of the house. She said that she and Edwards had quarreled over money matters and he drew a revolver and threatened to shoot her. In attempting to get the weapon from him it was discharged and the ball entered Edwards' head. It was discovered that the ball had been fired into the back of Edwards' neck and that the coat collar was burned by the powder. Mrs. Eilenberger was arrested for the murder.

The couple have maintained intimate relations for a number of years. Mrs. Eilenberger is a widow. Edwards was married and had a family.

JUDGE COOLEY'S NERVE.

Remarkable Display of Coolness When Alone With a Crazy Negro.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 11.—A frightful tragedy was undoubtedly prevented in this city by the nerve and coolness of Judge Thomas M. Cooley, Chairman of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

He was reading in his library and his negro coachman armed with a double-barreled shotgun entered. The Judge was satisfied from his appearance that he had become insane, but betraying no alarm he asked him what was the matter. The negro replied that he had decided to kill the whole family as they talked too much and left him no time to think.

The Judge betrayed no alarm, and told him he agreed with him and that he would attend to it.

By the use of consummate tact the Judge succeeded in molifying the madman until he at last laid down his gun and at the Judge's suggestion, left the room.

As soon as he was out of hearing the Judge telephoned to neighbors and in a short time a deputy sheriff placed the coachman under arrest.

BOTH WERE KILLED.

A Ponderous Snow Plough Causes a Fatal Accident.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 11.—The Quebec express train on the Intercolonial Railroad, with a ponderous snow plough attached to the locomotive, met with a serious accident near Jacquet river.

When running about 35 miles an hour the snow plough left the track, pulling the engine after it. The engine turned over, burying the fireman, P. Gaudet, who, with the engineer, J. McGowan, was instantly killed in attempting to jump.

Three Men Arrested for Murder.

GOWANDA, N. Y., Jan. 11.—A sensation was created here by the arrest of William Burdick, John Hobacher and William Lacey for the supposed murder of Earle Gillman, who died suddenly last September. Gillman's body was exhumed last week and examined, and its appearance gave color to the suspicion that he died a violent death. The three men under arrest and Gillman boarded together, and it is known that they quarreled over a girl who has since been married to Burdick. She will be examined.

Congressman Kelley's Successor.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—The death of Congressman Kelley leaves a vacancy which State Senator John E. Reyburn, James Dobson and Common Council President William M. Smith are anxious to fill. It is the paramount ambition of each of these gentlemen to succeed the "Father of the House," and one of them is almost certain to do so. The conditions seem more favorable to Senator Reyburn, mainly because his name has been more frequently mentioned for the place.

Latest Arrival on Record.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 11.—The bark, Falmouth, has just arrived here. This is the latest arrival of a vessel on record. Boats have left here just before New Year's, but none have ever arrived after that date. The Falmouth had a rough voyage. Off Provincetown, Mass., she was compelled to jettison part of her cargo. A tow of boats has proceeded to Poughkeepsie and Kingston

David Dudley Field's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—David Dudley Field, in an address before the Reform Club last night on "Some Reprehensible Practices of American Government," dwelt upon what he termed the evils of bribery at elections, of the spoils system and of the protective tariff. He especially condemned the latter as an unwise and harmful attempt by Congress to regulate the industry of the country.

One in Five Killed.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11.—There was an explosion at the Lucy furnace, Fifty-second street. The bell on the top of the furnace fell and five men fell with it. Mike Melshons was killed and John McGinnis, Michael Murray, Thomas and Martin Somerville were probably fatally injured.

ROBBED AND MURDERED.

An Old Maid Brutally Assaulted and Choked With a Rope.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—Jane Speers, an old woman was found in her house in the rear room of No. 18 Agnes street so badly assaulted and choked with a rope that she died a few hours later at the hospital from her injuries.

Miss Speer was an old maid who lived alone and was thought to have considerable money. Her neighbor, Mrs. Ward, heard her call for help and going into her apartments found her on the floor with blood issuing from the mouth, nose and ears.

The police have not yet found the perpetrators of the crime. It is believed the first intention of the woman's assailants was robbery but being interrupted by Miss Speer attacked her. Her house was ransacked and all the valuables stolen.

Salmon Fishing Sold to Americans.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 11.—The Quebec government has sold a number of leases for salmon fishing, several Americans being among the purchasers. The federal authorities had requested that the sales be postponed, as they claimed exclusive jurisdiction over all the fisheries of Canada, but the Quebec government refused to acknowledge this claim, and the Dominion authorities will carry the matter into the courts.

A REMARKABLE spot in Vermont is the farming town of Waltham, which contains 9,760 acres of land and has 246 inhabitants. It has no post-office, church, town house, poor house, store, lawyer, doctor, blacksmith's shop, nor even a bridge, and yet it is one of the thriving towns of Addison County. Its taxes are merely nominal.

NEWS has been received at St. Louis from the Government expedition for the survey of Alaska. The letter is dated August 21, and says there are luxuriant forests, the grass was green, flowers in bloom and the weather very warm, but ten inches below the surface the ground is frozen hard, even as deep as twenty-five feet.

GREAT BRITAIN mined almost 10,000,000 more tons of coal, iron and other minerals last year than in 1887, and employed 10,000 more men in the work, but fewer lives were lost in the process. The total number of fatal accidents was 885, and of deaths occasioned thereby 960, being an increase of four in the accidents, but a decrease of ninety-one in the lives lost.

THE villages and cities upon the rivers below Johnstown, Pa., are beginning to perceive the effects of the great disaster at that place in the lowering of their sanitary condition. Plainly the streams are contaminated; there are over thirty cases of typhoid fever in the hospital of Allegheny, and from two hundred to four hundred cases of the same disease under treatment in private families.

"PENNY FAMINE" is now what threatens the large cities of the West and Southwest. The people have learned to use the long-despised one cent coin, and the needs of circulation have increased far beyond the power of the Government machinery to supply them. The Philadelphia mint is two months behind with its orders for those pieces, in spite of keeping at work night and day turning them out.

FOR the first time on record a lady has been appointed a deputy collector of internal revenue. Miss Phoebe Couzins has been a deputy United States marshal and has wielded a revolver and carried handcuffs, but she never had to visit regularly the tough dives and more decent saloons of a wicked city and inspect Government licenses. This is what Miss Maud Cotton, just appointed a deputy collector for the Seventh Indiana district by Collector Throop, will have to do.

Charged With Killing Her Infant.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Marie Zolki, who is in a hospital, has been placed under arrest charged with killing her infant. She is the wife of Arthur Zolki, who on December 16th assaulted Dentist Delamater in the latter's office and nearly fractured his skull with an iron bar. Mrs. Zolki is charged with having neglected, starved and bruised her babe after its birth in the hospital, but the physician in charge admits that some of the child's injuries were caused by the carelessness of the nurses. An investigation will be made.

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, Jan. 13.—The 114th session of the Legislature will convene tomorrow afternoon. The eve of the session promises to be unusually quiet. There are none of the contests that generally mark the occasion. The Ballot Reform League of the State has appointed the following committee to take charge of ballot legislation during the session: The Rev. John L. Scudder, of Jersey City; D. M. Kane, of Amboy; J. A. Craig, of Patterson; J. W. Janeway, of the Federated Trades, and Judge W. P. Douglas, of Bayonne.

Archbishop Corrigan's Farewell.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—At the Cathedral last night Archbishop Corrigan bade his congregation a temporary farewell. He stated that he was about to make a visit to the Holy Father at Rome to make a report of the work of his diocese. He hoped to be with his congregation again in a few weeks.

National Guard Association.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 13.—The National Guard Association of the State of New York meets in this city on Wednesday morning instead of to-morrow, as announced. The principal business of the association will be to select a representative to the National Guard Association of the United States, to be held in Washington. The work at the State Camp of Instruction will be reviewed and a scheme to have a yearly mobilization of the troops will be talked over.

Badly Gutted by Fire.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 13.—Three frame buildings on Main street, owned by Stevens & Dunklee, the two larger being occupied by them as a stove and tinware store, and the other by F. A. Bates as a saloon, were badly gutted by fire. Stevens & Dunklee's loss is $10,000.

The City of Worcester Aground.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 13.—The Sound steamer City of Worcester, of the Norwich Line, while on her passage from New York, went ashore on Bartlett's Ledge, six miles from here. The few passengers were taken off in boats. The steamer still remains hard and fast.

WESTERN BLIZZARD

A Terrific Snow Storm Wrecks and Kills.

FOUR PERSONS DEAD IN ST. LOUIS

It Causes Havoc to Steeples, Roofs, Trees and Telegraph Poles.

Narrow Escapes from Death—Deep Drifts of Snow in Omaha and Railway Traffic Suspended—Ten Inches of Snow in Emporia, Kan.—Severe Effects of the Blizzard in Iowa.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 13.—The terrible blizzard which raged in this State throughout the Northwest two years ago was recalled by a blinding snowstorm which prevailed here all day.

The storm began about daylight. Street railway traffic was suspended, after vain struggles all day against the increasing drifts.

All passenger trains are from one to three hours late, and freight traffic is suspended. The Observer here reports the blizzard abating in the western part of the State. The thermometer ranged during the day in the neighborhood of zero.

CYCLONE IN ST. LOUIS.

It Causes Havoc to Steeples, Roofs, Trees and Telegraph Poles.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—This city was visited by a heavy rain and thunder storm yesterday, which assumed a cyclonic form. The track of the wind was through the central part of the city from a southerly direction to a little east of north.

A report is current that great damage was done at Venice, Ill., just across the river from the northern part of this city.

A dwelling house was wrecked at Tenth and Mound streets by the wind, and the following named persons were killed: Mrs. Maggie Connors, aged 40; Bernard M. Connell, aged 40; Joe Weaver, aged 8 years.

Mrs. Charles Miller, who resides with her husband at 30th and Eugenia streets, was sitting in a rocking chair with a babe in her arms when the roof was lifted from her house. She rushed to the window, and just then the wall gave way, and Mrs. Miller and her babe were buried under the debris. The babe miraculously escaped without a scratch, but the mother is badly hurt and may not recover. Mr. Miller was in another part of the house and escaped unhurt.

Kansas Has a Blizzard.

EMPORIA, Kan., Jan. 13.—A genuine Kansas blizzard has been raging here all day and still continues. About 10 inches of snow has fallen. A fierce wind is blowing it into drifts. Trains may be blockaded to-night.

Severe Effects in Iowa.

EMMETTSBURG, Iowa, Jan. 13.—A genuine blizzard—the first in two years—is now raging here. The wind is from the northwest. The storm is unusual in its severity.

AN OPERATOR'S NEGLECT.

It Causes the Wreck of Two Trains and the Death of a Brakeman.

OLEAN, N. Y., Jan. 13.—A head end collision occurred on the Rochester division of the Western New York & Pennsylvania Railroad between Hinsdale and Cuba. The colliding trains were the northward bound local freight No. 251 and the second section of through freight No. 288. Both engines were completely wrecked and many cars demolished.

Brakeman E. S. Walker was instantly killed and another brakeman injured.

It is stated that Night Operator B. F. Frobes of Hinsdale had orders for the local freight, which he failed to deliver. Frobes resigned his position after the accident and has disappeared.

Mrs. Rudert's Death.

TARENTUM, Pa., Jan. 13.—Coroner McDowell concluded the inquest in the murder of Mrs. Rudert and the jury returned a verdict charging the three men, Griffin, Conroy and Killin with the responsibility of Mrs. Rudert's death. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

All Quiet at Punxsutawney.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 13.—The latest reports from Punxsutawney say that everything is quiet at the scene of the evictions and every precaution is being taken to have the miners respect the law. How long they will be peaceable is very hard to tell.

A Dozen Business Houses Burned.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 13.—Fire entirely destroyed the Boyce block, in which were located P. J. King & Co's., dry goods and carpet house, and a dozen other business establishments. The total loss is $100,000, with insurance less than one-half.

TRUSTING IN PRESIDENT MOFFETT.

His Political Constituents Expect to be Satisfied.

A few days ago THE PRESS called attention to the fact that the Argus-eyed community was watching President Moffet, and the people all waited patiently the appointment of the standing committees of the Council for 1890, before rendering a verdict in relation to the election of a Democratic President by a Republican body.

There are ten committees to be appointed and only three Democratic councilmen, so President Moffett's political constituents do not expect him to accomplish impossibilities. If he gives the Democrats the control of the Water committee, and the Fire and the Police committees, and a representation on the Streets committee, the Democrats ought to be satisfied and the Republicans must be convinced that there was no "deal" that trip.

DR. STILLMAN NOT PURSUED.

His Wife Makes No Effort to Recover Her Boy—Broken Hearted Mr. Schaus.

No one could be found in New York yesterday who knew positively the present residence or whereabouts of Dr. Charles F. Stillman, brother of ex-Judge Stillman, whose latest atrocious act was to abduct his son Kirtland from the Irving Public School in this city. The boy ever since his father and mother separated had been living with the latter and Dr. Stillman's mother at the homestead on Grant avenue.

Mr. Wm. Schaus, the wealthy retired picture dealer, whose young daughter Mabel was Dr. Stillman's victim, said yesterday at his home, No. 30 East Thirty-eighth street, that he had not heard directly from his daughter since she and Dr. Stillman left the city last July. Some one had told him that they had gone at that time to Toronto, Canada, where they lived under the assumed names of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Starr.

"It is like having a knife plunged into my side every time I see anything published of that black-hearted scoundrel," said old Mr. Schaus. "He has ruined my child morally, physically and socially, and has given me in my old age a wound that can never heal while there is a breath of life left in my body. There should be an earthly retribution for such a man, but it does not seem to have overtaken him yet. If my daughter would leave him or express any repentance, I would take her back with all my heart and let her enter a convent or some retreat. She had all she could wish for here, and I never denied her a wish in her life. I cannot account for his abducting his boy, unless it is that he craves notoriety."

Dr. Stillman and his wife separated six months ago. He had become infatuated with Miss Mabel Schaus, and the two lived together as man and wife. When the scandal became public Dr. Stillman lost his place as a medical examiner of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, his membership in New York's most aristocratic clubs, and all his friends at the same time. Mrs. Stillman came to this city to live at the home of her husband's mother, Mrs. Mary S. Stillman, widow of Dr. Charles H. Stillman. She took her son Kirtland with her, a bright boy of 10, and lived there without disturbance on the part of her husband until last Friday, when Dr. Stillman visited the school which the boy attended and carried him off. Mrs. Stillman had never received any visits from her husband after their parting, and she never suspected there was possibility of losing her son. The two thought much of each other, and except during school hours Kirtland was rarely out of his mother's sight.

The boy attended the Irving public school, in Fourth street and Monroe avenue, hardly a quarter of a mile from his home. Friday afternoon a hack drove up to the school house, and word was sent in to Miss Susan Gilbert, the Principal, that Kirtland's mother wanted him. Miss Gilbert at first refused to allow him to leave, but when the man inside the hack said he was the boy's father, Kirtland was allowed to go down stairs. He had not seen his father in many months. The boy evinced no fear of his father, and when the latter asked him to step into the carriage and ride over to his home, Kirtland consented and stepped in. Miss Gilbert saw the hack door slammed shut, and the boy driven off without suspecting anything.

Mrs. Stillman, grew anxious when her son failed to return, and after seeing Miss Gilbert she was convinced that her husband had abducted him. Her brother-in-law, Wm. M. Stillman, told a PRESS reporter today that no action had been taken to recover the child, and he thought it probable that Mrs. Stillman would take none, as she believed the boy will be well cared for by his father. He said that the loss of her son had been a great blow to her, but she has already suffered so much without a murmur that this last act of her husband's probably would be endured as well. Mr. Stillman's theory of the abduction is that his brother drove from either Metuchen or Bound Brook, each of which is about six miles from the school house, and when he had captured his son, drove back, and got on an express train to New York, without exciting attention.

A member of the Stillman family said yesterday that he had heard that the Doctor and Miss Schaus had separated lately. Dr. Stillman's present address he did not know. It is generally suspected that the boy was taken to force his mother to apply for a divorce and thus free her husband. This she will not do under any circumstances. She is a woman of indomitable will, and even if it became a question of the life or death of her son, it is probable she would still refuse.

Sweet Instrumental Music.

Mr. Andrew J. Carpenter, of this city, has arranged and dedicated to his pupils four "Little Beauties," as they are entitled, in the way of piano compositions. the quartette includes a schottische, galop, waltz and polka. They are published by Swisher, of Philadelphia and Chicago, and are for sale at the music stores of this city. Although especially pretty they are arranged so as to be easily acquired by the less advanced pupils.

Axmann's Death Not a Suicide.

County Physician Wagoner and Dr. W. E. Mattison have decided that Paul Axmann died a natural death as THE PRESS said was evidenced by the man's appearance. It was considered unnecessary to put the county to the expense of an inquest, and a burial permit was granted by the Coroner.

NO HOT SOUTHERN BLOOD WAS SPILLED.

A Plainfield Ex-Councilman and a Fellow Club Man, Exchange a Blow and a Pistol Shot.

According to the New York papers of recent dates, and as referred to in Saturday's PRESS, a little social gathering of the Southern Society at the club rooms at West Twenty-fifth street was rudely broken up shortly after 6 o'clock Friday night by a quarrel between two members, who, so it was reported, had disputed over a game of cards. The parties, one of whom was Wilton Randolph, an ex-Councilman of this city, descended to the parlors on the first floor, where a war of words was renewed, and one of the disputants called the other a liar.

Directly after this two well-dressed men came out on the high stoop of the club house. The face of one was flushed with wine. His companion had a flushed face also, but was apparently sober. They were the principals in the quarrel, and one of them clenched his fist and struck the other in the face.

The other staggered back from the force of the blow, and moved his hand toward his hip pocket. His assailant ran down the steps. It is possible that his flight saved his life, for the other man whipped out a revolver and fired three shots after him with unsteady aim.

Capt. Reilly of the precinct heard of the shooting, and sent Detective Brett out to investigate. The members of the society were uncommunicative, but the detective was informed that the principals were William Hancock Clark and Wilton Randolph.

Mr. Randolph was a member of the committee that drafted the famous resolutions in memory of Jefferson Davis which caused the recent serious disagreement among the members of the Southern Society. The episode had nothing to do, that could be learned, with the feeling over the Davis resolutions. Mr. Randolph was for some time a resident of Netherwood, and a member of the Common Council of this city in 1888. Upon the death of his wife he gave up his home and resigned his official position here.

The funeral of the late John S. O'Reilly, whose death resulted from his falling off a scaffold on Wednesday last, took place from his late home on Grand View avenue, North Plainfield, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and from St. Joseph's church a half hour later. The Rev. Father Freeman, the pastor, officiated.

The marriage of Miss Emma Louise Roome, granddaughter of the late Judge Roome, of North Plainfield, and sister of Mr. William P. Roome, took place at the home of her mother, 47 West 58th street, New York, on the 2d inst. The groom was Mr. David Franklyn Harbaugh, a regular Summer resident at the Hotel Netherwood. RESULT OF A COMMITTEE'S APATHY.

While the Recommending of a Design for the Soldiers Monument is Delayed, the Enthusiasm of the People Visibly Cools.

When the project of erecting a monument in Hillside Cemetery as a testimonial by the people of Plainfield to her dead soldiers, was first thought of and a lot was offered, THE PRESS cried out for a change of location and suggested that the dead heroes be honored in the sight of everybody.

"Erect the monument in the heart of the city," we said, and proposed that the plot of ground at the junction of Crescent avenue and Broadway be secured if possible. The citizens were immediately aroused with enthusiasm, and were universally ready to contribute generously for a monument in such a spot.

The Grand Army men worked with zeal over the project, selected a committee of representative veterans and citizens of the City and Borough, and all that was wanting to set the ball rolling was a design and an estimate. The people were then ready to subscribe $35,000 and the hot iron should then have been struck. An ex-Councilman told a PRESS reporter that he alone would secure $10 000 in a few days if the site at Franklin place and LaGrande avenue was selected.

But the Committee on Designs have taken no final action. They have met and examined drawings of monuments suggested, and adjourned to examine other drawings to be prepared as proposed by them. They have then met and adjourned again because there were so few present, or else there was a concert at Music Hall. Meanwhile, the enthusiasm of the people has visibly cooled, and the possible subscription total has gone down and down. A few weeks ago but $25,000 could be raised, and now if the Committee select a monument costing over $15,000, they will probably make a mistake.

WALTZ, BEAUTY AND LOVE.

What is Offered at Music Hall Tonight.

One of the most striking features of the first act of "Josephine, Empress of the French," is a gavotte, danced by Rhea and the members of her company; also the the old-fashioned waltz of the period.

Miss Ida Van Siclen, the bewitching little blonde leading lady of M'lle Rhea's company, is a product of the Pacific coast, and is touring the east for the first time, although she is not a novice in the business by any means. She starred one season on the slope with her own company, and was known as "the California Rosebud." She is decidedly clever, and as pretty as she is clever.

It is one of the things that makes life worth living to be able to hear M'lle Rhea say "love." There is a something about that word which, when it becomes intermingled with this pleasing lady's vocal machinery, reminds one of the evenings when he used to sit tangled all up in a pair of pretty arms, looking at the dimly lighted ceiling, and suffering himself to swim through the boundless blue of illimitable space. The man, or woman either, who wouldn't walk several blocks to the theatre and back and pay the price for the privilege of hearing Rhea linger affectionately on that word "love," doesn't know what a good thing is.

ANOTHER BOLD ATTEMPT.

An Incendiary Sets Fire to Frank Linke's Beer Bottling Establishment Last Evening.

About ten o'clock last evening while Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linke were entertaining some friends at their residence on Somerset street, Mrs. Linke had a presentment that some one was prowling about the place. She opened the front door but saw nothing unusual. On opening the back door Mrs. Linke was surprised to see a bright fire burning in one end of her husband's beer bottling establishment, about fifty yards back of the house.

The flames were rapidly eating their way up to the roof, and Mrs. Linke immediately gave an alarm. Her husband and the other inmates of the house rushed out and with a few pails of water the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

Upon investigation it was found that the building had been saturated with kerosene oil, which had been taken from a barrel standing in the yard.

No one was seen to apply the match, but the fire was doubtless started by an incendiary. This makes the second fire in North Plainfield within a few days.

EVEN THE CLERGY NOT EXEMPT.

The Rev. Mr. Love, Mr. James McGee and the Rev. Mr. Honeyman, Preach for Brothers Who are Ill.

The Rev E. Love, of this city, preached in the Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning, the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck being ill. Mr. Love's theme was "The Love of God," his text being the third verse of the thirty-first chapter of Jeremiah.

In the evening Mr. Schenck had intended to occupy his pulpit but was prevailed upon not to run the risk of a relapse Mr. James McGee kindly consented to take Mr. Schenck's place, and although he had but a few hours notice, he preached an able discourse on "A Noble Life." His thoughts being gathered from the text as found in the thirteenth chapter of the Acts, and thirty-sixth verse.

The Rev. W. E. Honeyman occupied the pulpit of Dr. Ketcham's church, last evening, owing to the illness of the latter.

A SUGGESTION TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

Plainfield Has Engineers at Home Who Can Supervise the Construction of Her Water Works.

When the Council of 1889 went out, the Mayor had not signed the contract with Rudolph Hering who the Council had appointed as Engineer to supervise the construction of the Plainfield water works.

This "supervision" is to consist mainly in coming to Plainfield very occasionally and approving of a few carloads of pipe and fixtures, and comparing the work of construction as it progresses, with the specifications.

Mr. Hering's first figure for this work was ostensibly about $10,000, but with certain allowances which THE PRESS is informed would amount to $10,000 more. This was a "snap" that naturally appealed to other appetites, and offers from other competent engineers to do the "work" for half the money, filled the air.

Recently Mr. J. J. Henderson, of North Plainfield, the engineer who constructed the railroad bridges through this and many other cities, and whose original ideas in the construction of the roof of the big Crescent building on Place street, have been inspected and admired by many of the most prominent engineers in the country, called on Councilman Newhall, Chairman of the Water Committee, presented the written endorsements of the Central railroad and other corporations and individuals best calculated to know how to measure an engineer's competency, and offered his services to supervise the construction of Plainfield's water works at $3,600.

Mr. Hering's price has dropped to $5,500, but, as stated at the beginning of this article, the Mayor has not signed his contract Possibly it is not too late for another to be selected, and THE PRESS would call the attention of the Council of 1890 in this relation to the fact that it is not necessary to go out of town for a competent engineer, neither is it necessary to pay $10,000 nor half that figure, for one.

Why, for instance, there's Surveyor F. A. Dunham who has grown right up with the town from a boy No better selection is possible. The whole County knows his worth, for the Board of Freeholders whose majority belongs in Elizabeth and her vicinity, selected him from this city to build those Union county roads that are to be a model for other counties and the pride of the State.

Reform Hall Meeting.

Reform Hall contained a good-sized audience last evening. President Harper was in his chair, and George M. Angleman invoked the Divine blessing. The members of the choir were all present except the leader, Mr. Vanderbeek, who was home ill. Mr. King supplied his place.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Samuel A. Haines of Netherwood, and his subject was as announced, "Responsibility." To appreciate the address one should have heard and closely followed his line of argument from beginning to end. He held up plainly to view the awful results of liquor selling and drinking, and nailed fast the responsibility of the evil where, in his opinion, it justly belonged, excusing not the high-professing gentlemen and respectable voters who, for the sake of revenue, would permit a license system to exist that is flooding the land with crime, destitution and burning tears. Upon those who knowingly voted for men who would uphold the liquor traffic, and open the saloon doors according to law, Mr. Haines laid serious responsibility. The speaker fully sustained his fame as a platform orator.

President Harper gave notice that the Women's Temperance Aid Society would hold their regular prayer meeting in the parlors of Reform Hall, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock

After offering the pledge the meeting closed.

"Not a Fire Bug After All."

Under the above caption the Fireman's Herald in its last issue, contained the following item, which is incorrect in at least one respect

"The New Jersey Court of Pardons have pardoned Lewis VanNest, one of the Plainfield "firebugs," who was sentenced for five years in 1887 for burning one of the large hotels in the city named. A large amount of property had been burned in the city and the people were almost afraid to go to bed John M Jackson was caught in the act of setting fire to the hotel. He was arrested and subsequently Hiram Van Nest and Lewis Van Nest were also arrested. They were all members of the City Fire Department. Jackson pleaded guilty and was sentenced for fifteen years, and the two Van Nests were convicted and sentenced for five years each. Jackson and Hiram Van Nest recently made affidavits that Lewis was innocent, and a large number of petitions were presented to the court which resulted in his pardon."

In the first place it was a dwelling house and not a "large" hotel, in which John M. Jackson was caught in the act of firing. Secondly, they were not all members of the fire department, so we are informed.

From An Unidentified Source.

Oh! the clothes press is a swell affair for garments nice and neat; the hay press is a grand machine and does its work complete; the cider press is lovely, with its juices rich and sweet; but the printing press controls the world and gets there with both feet.

—The person who is contented with the present state of the weather, must be an easy one to suit.

No Change of Date for the Liquor Licenses.

The applicants for licenses to sell liquor in Plainfield will present their petitions this evening. No change of date from March 1, to February 1, will be proposed by the Council. In fact there is not time enough now to consider such an ordinance and advertise it according to law before and after adoption.

A Sensation Promised for Tonight.

It is possible that those present at the Council meeting of tonight, will be treated to a veritable sensation Some of Plainfield's citizens propose to protest against the recent election of a city official, in a document purporting to prove dishonest transactions on his part in the past.

DR. TALMAGE IN PARIS.

SERMON OF THE BROOKLYN DIVINE PREACHED SUNDAY, JAN. 12.

The Text of the Discourse Was Found in Second Kings xi, 2, 3, and Here Is a Report in Full—"How a King's Life Was Saved."

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., of Brooklyn, preached in this city today. He is making his way home, which he expects to reach in the early part of February. Dr. Talmage's text was: "Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram, sister of Ahaziah, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the king's sons which were slain; and they hid him, even him and his nurse, in the bedchamber from Athaliah, so that he was not slain. And he was with her hid in the house of the Lord six years."—II Kings, xi, 2, 3. He said:

Grandmothers are more lenient with their children's children than they were with their own. At forty years of age, if discipline be necessary, chastisement is used, but at seventy, the grandmother, looking upon the misbehavior of the grandchild, is apologetic and disposed to substitute confectionery for whip. There is nothing more beautiful than this mellowing of old age toward childhood. Grandmother takes out her pocket handkerchief and wipes her spectacles, and puts them on, and looks down into the face of her mischievous and rebellious descendant, and says: "I don't think he meant to do it; let him off this time; I'll be responsible for his behavior in the future." My mother, with the second generation around her—a boisterous crew—said one day: "I suppose they ought to be disciplined, but I can't do it. Grandmothers are not fit to bring up grandchildren." But here, in my text, we have a grandmother of a different hue.

I have within a few days been at Jerusalem, where the occurrence of the text took place, and the whole scene came vividly before me while I was going over the site of the ancient temple and climbing the towers of the king's palace. Here in the text it is old Athaliah, the queenly murderess. She ought to have been honorable. Her father was a king. Her husband was a king. Her son was a king. And yet we find her plotting for the extermination of the entire royal family, including her own grandchildren. The executioners' knives are sharpened. The palace is red with the blood of princes and princesses. On all sides are shrieks, and hands thrown up, and struggle, and death groan. No mercy! Kill! Kill! But while the ivory floors of the palace run with carnage, and the whole land is under the shadow of a great horror, a fleet footed woman, a clergyman's wife, Jehosheba by name, stealthily approaches the imperial nursery, seizes upon the grandchild that had somehow as yet escaped massacre, wraps it up tenderly but in haste, snuggles it against her, flies down the palace stairs, her heart in her throat lest she be discovered in this Christian abduction. Get her out of the way as quick as you can, for she carries a precious burden, even a young king. With this youthful prize she presses into the room of the ancient temple, the church of olden time, unwraps the young king and puts him down, sound asleep as he is, and unconscious of the peril that has been threatened; and there for six years he is secreted in that church apartment. Meanwhile old Athaliah smacks her lips with satisfaction, and thinks that all the royal family are dead.

But the six years expire, and it is time for young Joash to come forth and take the throne, and to push back into disgrace and death old Athaliah. The arrangements are all made for political revolution. The military come and take possession of the temple, swear loyalty to the boy Joash and stand around for his defense. See the sharpened swords and the burnished shields! Everything is ready. Now Joash, half affrighted at the armed tramp of his defenders, scared at the vociferation of his admirers, is brought forth in full regalia. The scroll of authority is put in his hands, the coronet of government is put on his brow, and the people clapped, and waved, and huzzaed, and trumpeted. "What is that?" said Athaliah. "What is that sound over in the temple?" And she flies to see, and on her way they meet her and say: "Why, haven't you heard? You thought you had slain all the royal family, but Joash has come to light." Then the queenly murderess, frantic with rage, grabbed her mantle and tore it to tatters, and cried until she foamed at the mouth: "You have no business to crown my grandson. You have no right to take the government from my shoulders. Treason! Treason!" While she stood there crying that, the military started for her arrest, and she took a short cut through a back door of the temple, and ran through the royal stables; but the battle axes of the military fell on her in the barn yard, and for many a day, when the horses were being unloosed from the chariot, after drawing out young Joash, the fiery steeds would snort and rear passing the place, as they smell the place of the carnage.

The first thought I hand you from this subject is that the extermination of righteousness is an impossibility. When a woman is good, she is apt to be very good, and when she is bad, she is apt to be very bad, and this Athaliah was one of the latter sort. She would exterminate the last scion of the house of David, through whom Jesus was to come. There was plenty of work for embalmers and undertakers. She would clear the land of all God fearing and God loving people. She would put an end to everything that could in anywise interfere with her imperial criminality. She folds her hands and says: "The work is done; it is completely done." Is it? In the swaddling clothes of that church apartment are wrapped the cause of God, and the cause of good government. That is the scion of the house of David; it is Joash, the Christian reformer; it is Joash, the friend of God; it is Joash, the demoralizer of Baalitish idolatry. Rock him tenderly; nurse him gently. Athaliah, you may kill all the other children, but you cannot kill him. Eternal defenses are thrown all around him, and this clergyman's wife, Jehosheba, will snatch him up from the palace nursery, and will run down with him into the house of the Lord, and there she will hide him for six years, and at the end of that time he will come forth for your dethronement and obliteration.

Well, my friends, just as poor a botch does the world always make of extinguishing righteousness. Superstition rises up and says: "I will just put an end to pure religion." Domitian slew forty thousand Christians, Diocletian slew eight hundred and forty-four thousand Christians. And the scythe of persecution has been swung through all the ages, and the flames hissed, and the gulliotine stopped, and the Bastile groaned; but did the foes of Christianity exterminate it? Did they exterminate Alban, the first British sacrifice, or Zuinglius, the Swiss reformer, or John Oldcastle, the Christian nobleman, or Abdallah, the Arabian martyr; or Anne Askew, or Sanders, or Cranmer? Great work of extermination they made of it. Just at the time when they thought they had slain all the royal family of Jesus, some Joash would spring up and out, and take the throne of power, and wield a very scepter of Christian dominion.

Infidelity says: "I'll just exterminate the Bible," and the Scriptures were thrown into the street for the mob to trample on, and they were piled up in the public squares and set on fire, and mountains of indignant contempt were hurled on them, and learned universities decreed the Bible out of existence. Thomas Paine said: "In my 'Age of Reason' I have annihilated the Scriptures. Your Washington is a pusillanimous Christian, but I am the foe of Bibles and of churches." O, how many assaults upon that Word! All the hostilities that have ever been created on earth are not to be compared with the hostilities against that one book. Said one man, in his infidel desperation, to his wife: "You must not be reading that Bible," and he snatched it away from her. And though in that Bible was a lock of hair of the dead child—the only child that God had ever given them—he pitched the book with its contents into the fire, and stirred it with the tongs, and spat on it, and cursed it, and said: "Susan, never have any more of that damnable stuff here!"

How many individual and organized attempts have been made to exterminate that Bible! Have they done it? Have they exterminated the American Bible society? Have they exterminated the British and Foreign Bible society? Have they exterminated the thousands of Christian institutions, whose only object it is to multiply copies of the Scriptures, and throw them broadcast around the world? They have exterminated until instead of one or two copies of the Bible in our houses we have eight or ten, and we pile them up in the corners of our Sabbath school rooms, and send great boxes of them everywhere. If they get on as well as they are now going on in the work of extermination, I do not know but that our children may live to see the millennium! Yea, if there should come a time of persecution in which all the known Bibles of the earth should be destroyed, all these lamps of life that blaze in our pulpits and in our families extinguished—in the very day that infidelity and sin should be holding jubilee over the universal extinction there would be in some closet of a backwoods church a secreted copy of the Bible, and this Joash of eternal literature would come out and come up and take the throne, and the Athaliah of infidelity and persecution would fly out the back door of the palace, and drop her miserable carcass under the hoofs of the horses of the king's stables. You cannot exterminate Christianity! You cannot kill Joash!

The second thought I hand you from my subject is, that there are opportunities in which we may save royal life. You know that profane history is replete with stories of strangled monarchs and of young princes who have been put out of the way. Here is the story of a young king saved. How Jehosheba, the clergyman's wife, must have trembled as she rushed into the imperial nursery and snatched up Joash. How she hushed him, lest by his cry he hinder the escape. Fly with him! Jehosheba, you hold in your arms the cause of God and good government. Fail, and he is slain. Succeed, and you turn the tide of the world's history in the right direction. It seems as if between that young king and his assassins there is nothing but the frail arm of a woman. But why should we spend our time in praising this bravery of expedition when God asks the same thing of you and me! All around us are the imperiled children of a great King. They are born of Almighty parentage, and will come to a throne or a crown, if permitted. But sin, the old Athaliah, goes forth to the massacre. Murderous temptations are out for the assassination. Valens, the emperor, was told that there was somebody in his realm who would usurp his throne, and that the name of the man who should be the usurper would begin with the letters T. H. E. O. D., and the edict went forth from the emperor's throne: "Kill everybody whose name begins with T. H. E. O. D." And hundreds and thousands were slain, hoping by that massacre to put an end to that one usurper. But sin is more terrific in its denunciation. It matters not how you spell your name, you come under its knife, under its sword, under its doom, unless there be some omnipotent relief brought to the rescue. But blessed be God, there is such a thing as delivering a royal soul. Who will snatch away Joash?

This afternoon, in your Sabbath school class, there will be a prince of God—some one who may yet reign as king forever before the throne; there will be some one in your class who has a corrupt physical inheritance; there will be some one in your class who has a father and mother who do not know how to pray; there will be some one in your class who is destined to command in church or state—some Cromwell to dissolve a parliament, some Beethoven to touch the world's harp strings, some John Howard to pour fresh air into the lazaretto, some Florence Nightingale to bandage the battle wounds, some Miss Dix to soothe the crazed brain, some John Frederick Oberlin to educate the besotted, some David Brainard to change the Indian's war whoop to a Sabbath song, some John Wesley to marshal three-fourths of Christendom, some John Knox to make queens turn pale, some Joash to demolish idolatry and strike for the kingdom of heaven.

There are sleeping in your cradles by night, there are playing in your nurseries by day, imperial souls waiting for dominion, and whichever side the cradle they get out will decide the destiny of empires. For each one of those children sin and holiness contend—Athaliah on the one side, Jehosheba on the other. But I hear people say: "What's the use of bothering children with religious instruction? Let them grow up and choose for themselves. Don't interfere with their volition." Suppose some one had said to Jehosheba: "Don't interfere with that young Joash. Let him grow up and decide whether he likes the palace or not, whether he wants to be king or not. Don't disturb his volition." Jehosheba knew right well that unless that day the young king was rescued, he would never be rescued at all.

I tell you, my friends, the reason we don't reclaim all our children from worldliness is because we begin too late. Parents wait until their children lie before they teach them the value of truth. They wait until their children swear before they teach them the importance of righteous conversation. They wait until their children are all wrapped up in this world before they tell them of a better world. Too late with your prayers. Too late with your discipline. Too late with your benediction. You put all care upon your children between twelve and eighteen. Why do you not put the chief care between four and nine? It is too late to repair a vessel when it has got out of the dry docks. It is too late to save Joash after the executioners have broken in. May God arm us all for this work of snatching royal souls from death to coronation. Can you imagine any sublimer work than this soul saving? That was what flushed Paul's cheek with enthusiasm; that was what led Munson to risk his life amid Bornesian cannibals; that was what sent Dr. Abeel to preach under the consuming skies of China; that was what gave courage to Phœbus in the Third century. When the military officers came to put him to death for Christ's sake, he put them to bed that they might rest while he himself went out, and in his own garden dug his grave, and then came back and said, "I am ready;" but they were shocked at the idea of taking the life of their host. He said, "It is the will of God that I should die," and he stood on the margin of his own grave and they beheaded him. You say it is a mania, a foolhardiness, a fanaticism. Rather would I call it a glorious self abnegation, the thrill of eternal satisfaction, the plucking of Joash from death, and raising him to coronation.

The third thought I hand to you from my text is that the church of God is a good hiding place. When Jehosheba rushes into the nursery of the king and picks up Joash, what shall she do with him? Shall she take him to some room in the palace? No; for the official desperadoes will hunt through every nook and corner of that building. Shall she take him to the residence of some wealthy citizen? No; that citizen would not dare to harbor the fugitive. But she has to take him somewhere. She hears the cry of the mob in the streets; she hears the shriek of the dying nobility; so she rushes with Joash unto the room of the temple, into the house of God, and then she puts him down. She knows that Athaliah and her wicked assassins will not bother the temple a great deal; they are not apt to go very much to church, and so she sets down Joash in the temple. There he will be hearing the songs of the worshipers year after year; there he will breathe the odor of the golden censers; in that sacred spot he will tarry, secreted until the six years have passed, and he come to enthronement.

Would God that we were all as wise as Jehosheba, and knew that the church of God is the best hiding place. Perhaps our parents took us there in early days; they snatched us away from the world and hid us behind the baptismal fonts and amid the Bibles and the psalm books. O, glorious inclosure! We have been breathing the breath of the golden censers all the time, and we have seen the lamb on the altar and we have handled the phials which are the prayers of all saints, and we have dwelt under the wings of the cherubim. Glorious inclosure! When my father and mother died, and the property was settled up, there was hardly anything left; but they endowed us with a property worth more than any earthly possession, because they hid us in the temple. And when days of temptation have come upon my soul I have gone there for shelter; and when assaulted of sorrows, I have gone there for comfort, and there I mean to live. I want, like Joash, to stay there until coronation. I mean to be buried out of the house of God.

O men of the world outside there, betrayed, caricatured and cheated of the world, why do you not come in through the broad, wide open door of Christian communion? I wish I could act the part of Jehosheba today, and steal you away from your perils and hide you in the temple. How few of us appreciate the fact that the church of God is a hiding place. There are many people who put the church at so low a mark that they begrudge it everything, even the few dollars they give toward it. They make no sacrifices. They dole a little out of their surplusage. They pay their butcher's bill, and they pay their doctor's bill, and they pay their landlord, and they pay everybody but the Lord, and they come in at the last to pay the Lord in his church, and frown as they say: "There, Lord, it is; if you will have it, take it—now take it, take it; send me a receipt in full, and don't bother me soon again!"

I tell you there is not more than one man out of a thousand that appreciates what the church is. Where are the souls that put aside one-tenth for Christian institutions—one-tenth of their income? Where are those who, having put aside that one-tenth, draw upon it cheerfully? Why, it is pull, and drag, and hold on, and grab, and clutch; and giving is an affliction to most people when it ought to be an exhilaration and a rapture. Oh, that God would remodel our souls on this subject, and that we might appreciate the house of God as the great refuge. If your children are to come up to lives of virtue and happiness, they will come up under the shadow of the church. If the church does not get them the world will.

Ah, when you pass away—and it will not be long before you do—when you pass away it will be a satisfaction to see your children in Christian society. You want to have them sitting at the holy sacraments. You want them mingling in Christian associations. You would like to have them die in the sacred precincts. When you are on your dying bed, and your little ones come up to take your last word, and you look into their bewildered faces, you will want to leave them under the church's benediction. I don't care how hard you are, that is so. I said to a man of the world: "Your son and daughter are going to join our church next Sunday. Have you any objections?" "Bless you," he said, "objections? I wish all my children belonged to the church. I don't attend to those matters myself—I know I am very wicked—but I am very glad they are going, and I shall be there to see them. I am very glad, sir; I am very glad. I want them there." And so, though you may have been wanderers from God, and though you may have sometimes caricatured the church of Jesus, it is your great desire that your sons and daughters should be standing all their lives within this sacred inclosure.

More than that, you yourself will want the church for a hiding place when the mortgage is foreclosed; when your daughter, just blooming into womanhood, suddenly clasps her hands in a slumber that knows no waking; when gaunt trouble walks through the parlor, and the sitting room, and the dining hall, and the nursery, you will want some shelter from the tempest. Ah, some of you have been run upon by misfortune and trial; why do you not come into the shelter? I said to a widowed mother after she had buried her only son—months after I said to her: "How do you get along nowadays?" "Oh," she replied, "I get along tolerably well except when the sun shines." I said: "What do you mean by that?" when she said: "I can't bear to see the sun shine; my heart is so dark that all the brightness of the natural world seems a mockery to me." O, darkened soul, O, broken hearted man, broken hearted woman, why do you not come into the shelter? I swing the door wide open. I swing it from wall to wall. Come in! Come in! You want a place where your troubles shall be interpreted, where your burdens shall be unstrapped, where your tears shall be wiped away.

Church of God, be a hiding place to all these people. Give them a seat where they can rest their weary souls. Flash some light from your chandeliers upon their darkness. With some soothing hymn hush their griefs. O, Church of God, gate of heaven, let me go through it! All other institutions are going to fail; but the Church of God—its foundation is the "Rock of Ages," its charter is for everlasting years, its keys are held by the universal proprietor, its dividend is heaven, its president is God!

> Sure as thy truth shall last,
> To Zion shall be given
> The brightest glories earth can yield,
> And brighter bliss of heaven.

God grant that all this audience, the youngest, the eldest, the worst, the best, may find their safe and glorious hiding place where Joash found it—in the temple.

The police in Paris are beginning, it is announced, to take some steps to prevent the sale of indecent literature. The "censure," as at present exercised, is a mere sham, so far as the morals of new books are concerned, and the third republic can boast of having inaugurated an era of literary reform undreamed of under the second empire.

DEATH IN THE STORM

Several Lives Lost and Property Destroyed.

CLINTON'S TERRIBLE RECORD

Twelve Persons Killed and Over Fifty Injured.

The Disturbance Was General—Buildings Unroofed in Syracuse—One Man Killed and Several Seriously Hurt—Twelve Thousand Oil Derricks Blown Down—Summary of the Havoc Wrought.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14.—A fierce northwest wind swept over all the counties in Kentucky between the Mississippi and Tennessee Rivers and as far south as Carroll County, Tennessee. Almost before people realized it the wind storm turned into a cyclone, accompanied by a deluge of rain.

Clinton, a few miles north of Oak Spring, in Heckman County, suffered most.

Here more than fifty buildings, including the Louisville & New Orleans depot, the Methodist Church, the Odd Fellows' Hall, the Baptist Church, six stores, both hotels and a score of residences were wrecked. The bodies of twelve of the dead were recovered.

It is now claimed that eight of the 53 wounded are so seriously injured that they are not likely to live. At Wickliffe, Ky., some of the principal business houses were wrecked and 20 people were more or less injured. A special from Jackson says the cyclone visited Moscow, Ky., and that two persons were killed and four or five wounded at that place.

Many strange stories are told of the freaks of the cyclone. A little girl two years old was picked up from the debris of its home, carried 100 feet and deposited in a pool of water, where it narrowly escaped drowning. The infant child of Mr. Geddis, a merchant, was found in its dead father's arms asleep and uninjured.

A brick house in Clinton was deprived of its first story, and the second story settled down upon the foundation as though it had been built there, leaving the inmates uninjured.

ACCIDENT AT SYRACUSE.

One Man Killed and a Dozen Persons Seriously Injured.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 13.—A terrific wind storm blew down the west wall of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad Company's new brick freight house here, which was all finished except the roof.

William H. Willis, a carpenter, was buried under the wall, and was taken out dead. A dozen people or more, mostly carpenters, were injured more or less seriously.

The wind blew off all the tin roof of the north wing of the Onondaga Penitentiary, wrecked the cement roof on the machine shop and blew into kindling wood fifty feet of the outer fence around the building.

Terrific Cyclone in Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Jan. 14.—A terrific cyclone struck this place shortly before 10 o'clock. Grace Episcopal Church steeple was blown down. Weaver's Arcade Building and American District Steam Company's roofs were blown off. Chimneys, trees and fences were blown down as if they were straws. The wires were all broken—telegraph, telephone and fire alarm. The severity of the gale was over in two hours.

A Fierce Gale at Oswego.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 14.—A fierce northwest gale blowing sixty miles an hour struck this town at noon. The tall steeple of the Church of the Evangelists was blown over and smashed into fragments, but fortunately no one was injured. Considerable minor damage is also reported. The lake is a mass of foam and damage to the breakwater is feared.

A Raging Storm in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—The storm has been raging for fourteen hours in this city. Street car travel has been abandoned. The blizzard is general throughout the Northwest, and trains in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin are from one to four hours late.

The Hurricane at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 14.—A hurricane struck here about noon and the velocity of the wind reached 75 miles an hour. Many building were partially demolished, and several persons have been injured by the falling debris.

Cold Wave in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The cautionary signal for heavy northwest winds and a cold wave has been hoisted. Advices from suburban towns report great damage to buildings and several accidents.

Oil Derricks Blown Down.

BRADFORD, Pa., Jan. 14.—Twelve thousand derricks were blown down in the Bradford fields by the high winds which prevailed all day.

Pitcher Welch With the League.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Pitcher Welch, of last season's New York League club, has renewed his contract with President Day of that organization. Welch's salary will be somewhat larger than what the Brotherhood was willing to pay, and is guaranteed by Mr. Day, personally, for a term of three years.

Judge Kelley at Rest.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—The remains of the Hon. William D. Kelley, the Father of the House, were consigned to the tomb. There was little show or display, privacy and quiet being insisted upon by the members of the family.

LIVES LOST AT A FIRE.

A Baltimore Elevator and British Steamship Burned.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 14.—Elevator No. 3 on the north side of the Patapsco River, belonging to the Baltimore Elevator Company, and used by the Northern Central Railroad Company, was burned last night with all its contents. The total loss is between seven and eight hundred thousand dollars.

The British steamship Sacrobosco, which was lying alongside, was also totally destroyed, involving a loss of $150,000. Three of the steamer's employes—the chief engineer, whose name is said to be Roby, and two seamen, whose names have not been learned, were either burned to death or drowned. The steamship Sacrobosco was an iron vessel. She belonged to Charles Turnbull, of North Shields, England, and was commanded by Captain Henry Gill. She was built in 1883, was of 1,476 tons, 300 feet long, beam 37, depth of hold 24 feet 4 inches.

The fire was discovered about 7 o'clock last evening. Its origin is unknown. A general alarm brought all the fire engines in the city to the scene, but the combined efforts of the force proved of little avail.

THE CRONIN PRISONERS.

They Appear in Court in a Hearing for a New Trial.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Judge McConnell's court resumed some of the familiar features which it wore during the Cronin trial. The hearing for a new trial was to be heard, and there was a fair-sized audience present. The prisoners' row had been shortened by one—John F. Beggs—and his chair was occupied by Coughlin.

Beggs sat at one end of the reporters' table. He looked worse in appearance than when he was a prisoner on trial. The four convicts seemed in excellent spirits.

When court opened Mr. Forrest asked for a week's delay, claiming he was not prepared to go on.

Judge Wing was delayed at Morris by a storm and the Judge himself was sick. Judge Longenecker declaimed against a delay and there was a wrangle and tussle over it. The case is being argued to-day.

CORBIN WINS.

His Opponents Badly Defeated in the Reading Election.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Mr. Corbin was re-elected president of the Reading Company. The Corbin ticket received a stock vote of 786,819 to 10 votes cast for each name on the opposite ticket.

Judge Hare, in Common Pleas Court, read a lengthy opinion, refusing to grant the injunction asked for by Messrs. Ervin and Shelmerdine against the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, the object of which at present was to postpone the election and in future to do away with the voting trustees altogether.

The Court only decided that it will not grant the preliminary injunction asked for, but does not decide any other questions of law raised by the bills filed.

The Hamilton Divorce.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 14.—E. O. Vanduzer, referee by stipulation, is taking testimony in the divorce suit of Robert Ray Hamiltion against his wife. Geo. M. Diven represents Mr. Hamilton, who is present in person, and Mrs. Hamilton is represented by Chas. W. Fuller, of New York. The proceedings are secret, but it is learned that a number of Elmirians have given damaging testimony against the defendant, whose escapades here with "Doty" Mann after her marriage to Mr. Hamilton, are matters of notoriety.

The McAuliffe-Carroll Fight.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The glove contest between Jack McAuliffe and Jimmy Carroll for a purse of $5,000 is set for March 1 next at the rooms of the California Athletic Club. The agreement, which still awaits McAuliffe's signature, stipulates that the men are to fight at 137 pounds. McAuliffe is on his way to the coast and will probably sign the agreement upon his arrival.

Lace Factory Hands Strike.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 14.—The men in the weaving department of the lace factory here struck for an increase of $2 per month in wages. This is the only lace factory in the United States, and employs 300 men, girls and boys, all of whom will be affected by the strike. Superintendent Atkins is willing to submit the matter to arbitration.

She Was a Homeless Girl.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Miss Mary Karasberg, a homeless girl, gave birth to a bouncing eleven-pound boy in the doorway of No. 208 Tremont street about 2 o'clock in the morning. Mother and child were taken to the Chardon Street Home, where both are doing well.

Shot by the Girl He Loved.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—During a lovers' quarrel last night John Henderson, aged 26, and Louise Collins, five years younger, both colored, the latter drew a revolver and shot the former in the breast. John was taken to the hospital in a dying condition and Louisa was locked up.

HIS LAST FIGHT.

John L. Sullivan to Meet Peter Jackson for $15,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—President Fulda, of the California Athletic Club, publicly announced that John L. Sullivan had agreed with a representative of the club on a purse for which he would meet Peter Jackson in the last fight of his life. The amount is $15,000, and Jackson has accepted the terms.

By a unanimous vote the club announced its approval of the proposition to empower the directors to make the match.

CARLISLE TO FIGHT

He Will Make an Aggressive Attack on the New Rules.

RUMORS OF DISSATISFACTION

Congressman Cummings Creates a Little Sensation in the House.

He Introduces a Bill for a Statue to Samuel J. Tilden—A New Member from the West Proposes an Amendment—Chinese Laborers Cannot Return Here from China.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Carlisle says he will not attend the meeting of the Committee on Rules of the House to consider the new rules. He says that the Republican majority has settled the disposition of the rules in the Committee and that he will make his fight on the floor of the House.

There are rumors of dissatisfaction in the Republican ranks with the new rules as framed by the Republican members of the Committee on Rules.

A number of measures were killed by filibustering in the last House on which party lines were not drawn and Republicans who are opposed to certain measures which will undoubtedly have a majority if they come to a vote are said to be opposed to the radical changes proposed by the Committee on Rules. If there should be any opposition in the ranks of the party the rules will be greatly modified before they are agreed to.

A STATUE TO TILDEN.

Amos Cummings Creates a Little Sensation in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the House Representative Amos Cummings, of New York created quite a little sensation by introducing a bill appropriating $50,000 to erect in Statuary Hall a monument to Samuel J. Tilden. The resolution as read was as follows:

"That there be appropriated from the Treasury of the United States the sum of $50,000, to erect a bronze statue of the late Samuel J. Tilden, to be placed in the center of the rotunda of the Capitol. That on a tablet on the front base of said statue there shall be conspicuously engraved these words, 'Samuel J. Tilden, Nineteenth President of the United States. Elected but not seated.' (Applause on Democratic side.) That on the right of the square base shall be engraven the date of birth, election and death of such President, and that on the opposite side shall be engraven an eagle with a snake in his talons, and under them these words, 'For the right.' That the President of the United States, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to superintend the appropriation of money, and that a copy of these resolutions, with the names and titles of said dignitaries, be engraven on the rear of said base."

Mr. Sweeney, of Iowa, inquired whether the gentleman expected the inscriptions to be in ciper. (Applause on Republican side.)

A Dinner to the Justices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Vice-President and Mrs. Morton gave a dinner last evening in honor of the Supreme Court Justices. Covers were laid for twenty-eight, and the table was very effective in its elegant simplicity. There were tall candelabras of silver and mounds of ferns were set in oval silver basins. The Vice-President took in Mrs. Fuller, and the Chief Justice took in Mrs. Morton.

CHINESE LABORERS.

They Cannot Go Back to China and Return Here.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Assistant Secretary Tichenor has directed the Collector of Customs at Fort Benton, Montana, to discontinue the practice of issuing to Chinese persons about to leave the United States certificates that they are qualified to return.

He says that a careful reading of the act of October 1, 1888, indicates that Chinese laborers are absolutely excluded from entering the United States, whether they have heretofore been residents of the country or not.

Shoemakers' Mass Meeting.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 14.—A mass meeting of the locked-out shoemakers was held in the City Hall last night, with an attendance of 2,000. Organizer H. C. Moulton and Secretary H. J. Skeffington made addresses. The latter severely criticised the action of the nine manufacturers who have closed their shops against the men, and declared that if the lockout is continued a week longer the manufacturers will have to pay 10 per cent. more for labor when they open their factories, which, he said, they will eventually be compelled to do. The strikers are orderly, and there are no signs of trouble.

Stranded in the Sound.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 14.—The steamer City of Worcester, of the Norwich line, which went ashore on the rocks near Bartell's Reef lightship, in Long Island Sound, remains in the same position as when first reported.

The Verdict in the Link Case.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The jury in the Link inquest brought in a verdict to the effect that he committed the deed while insane from the use of intoxicating liquors.

Ike Weir Knocked Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The finish fight between Ike Weir and Billy Murphy, of Australia, at the California Athletic Club last night, resulted in a victory for Murphy, Weir being knocked out in the fourteenth round.

—A passing train frightened a horse on Park avenue at 11 o'clock today. The animal turned too short, and in doing so wrecked the shafts of the wagon to which it was attached.

—Chas. Watson, a coachman employed by Mr. Pliny Fisk, of West Seventh street, was thrown from a horse under the Park avenue railroad bridge, yesterday afternoon, and had a narrow escape from probably fatal injury.

"Can Have Anything He Wants."

The New York World in publishing a portrait gallery of the members of the New Jersey legislature that organized today, says of one of them:

"Judge John Ulrich needs no introduction. There are few of all the sixty members of the House better known than he is, and none better liked irrespective of politics. He has only passed his thirty-third year, but he has more friends than many men could make in a century. He lives in Plainfield, and the people of that town say that they can't help letting him have anything he wants. He is way up in Masonic circles and is editor of the Royal Craftsman, the recognized organ of the craft in this State. He hesitated about complying with the request for this picture you see here, and finally acceeded with the remark that he "could not very well afford to refuse so popular a sheet as the New York World." He is a good talker, a splendid lawyer and a first-class parliamentarian."

The Facts Regarding Bessie Anderson's Sickness.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: — I desire to correct a statement made in THE PRESS of Saturday regarding Bessie Anderson the servant girl who recently died of pneumonia.

She was in my house but four days. She had a cold when she came and did nothing except the lightest work, and that only two days—another woman being engaged by the day to do the necessary washing and hard work.

My sister gave her medicine, and did much of her work. On my return from Portland on Sunday morning, January 5, she was suffering much with toothache and a swollen face, and said she wanted to leave. I accordingly placed a team at her disposal which carried her whither she desired to go.

At a later stage in the proceedings, upon motion of Mr. Smith, the Collector's bond for this year was increased to $25,000.

Other bonds were presented and referred as follows: Amos Moffett, Constables, sureties E. P. Thorn, W. R. Codington; Geo. R. Rockafellow, Constable, sureties Jacob Voehl, J. H. French; Jacob Kriney, Constable, sureties Wm. McD. Coriell, V. L. Frazee; Wm. R. Mattox, Constable, sureties E. R. Pope, W. W. Coriell.

Upon motion of Mr. Hetfield the Clerk was authorized to have committee cards printed and to procure the necessary stationery. One hundred copies of the rules were also ordered printed.

Mr. Hetfield offered a resolution which prevailed, authorizing the Treasurer to pay certain notes falling due within a few days.

Council then adjourned to the 20th instant.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Wm. C. Ayers, an old and respected resident of this city, is confined to his home on West Second street by illness.

Romeo Lascal, who has for some time past been a charge upon the city, died at his home on West Fourth street, during last night.

Mrs. A. M. Frazee, who has been confined to her home on Peace street, for the past eight weeks, with neuralgia and pleurisy, is no better.

So far in the history of the Council of 1890, the city can congratulate itself on one thing—that Mr. S. G. Smith is Chairman of the Committee on Streets.

President Butler, of the New Jersey Council of Education, has just announced its standing committees. He names Miss Buckley as a member of the Committee on Pedagogics, and Mr. Boss as a member of the Committee on Statistics.

An agreeable surprise party was tendered Miss Louise Pangborn at the home of her father on Rock View avenue, Washington Park, last evening. There were a large number of her friends present. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

The funeral of the late Margaret M. Baptist, who died on Friday last, took place from the house, corner Westervelt and Brook avenues, North Plainfield, yesterday morning, Rev. T. L. Murphy officiating. The remains were taken to Newark for interment, where additional services were held in the afternoon.

Work Begun on the Water Works.

Mr. Chas. K. Moore, representing "The Water Works Company, of Plainfield," commenced the work today of introducing a system of water works in this city. The Company met recently and appointed Mr. Moore to personally superintend the construction of the works, and that gentleman has opened an office in Mr. D. S. Roberts' building, on North avenue.

The preliminary work will consist of boring and drilling wells, and this work was commenced today on property owned by Mr. John Taylor Johnston, on Mountain avenue.

HONEST TO HIS PARTY.

President Moffett Proves That He Made no Deal For His Office.

There are seven Republican councilmen and only four Democrats to share the plums of power this year, yet one of the latter has secured the Presidency, and the other three in the matter of committee appointments, last evening, were given the Earth with a fence around it. No wonder that the machine Republicans look at one another today and say: "Somebody's blundered."

THE PRESS of yesterday said:

There are ten committees to be appointed and only three Democratic councilmen, so President Moffett's political constituents do not expect him to accomplish impossibilities. If he gives the Democrats the control of the Water committee, and the Fire and the Police committees, and a representation on the Streets committee, the Democrats ought to be satisfied and the Republicans must be convinced that there was no "deal" that trip.

President Moffett did just as was outlined above, as will be seen by reference to the Council proceedings. He even went so far in his zeal for his party as to make the Water Committee solidly Democratic.

He should be admired for such devotion and honesty to his constituents, even by those he left out in the cold.

PROGRESS AND ENTERTAINMENT.

How the Bi-Club Grows and Its Members Enjoy Themselves.

At a regular meeting, last evening, of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, there were elected thirty-six new members, the result of a boom accruing from the new gymnasium which is already well under way. At the same time committees were appointed to make arrangements for different tables at the fair to be held on February 21 and 22. The membership of the Club is now 85.

On last Saturday evening the Club held a progressive stag whist party which was a great success. Messrs F. L. C. Martin and W. Lee Simmonds were the Committee in charge who gave the entertainment. Refreshments were also served in abundance. The winners of the handsome prizes were Geo. C. Martin, Jr., F. W. Walz and Clarence L. Murphy.

Strikes and Spares.

The Crescent League have issued visitor's cards without which, signed by a member, outsiders are not admitted to the privileges of the club house.

The trustees of the Crescent League have in view the addition of a thousand-dollar billiard room to the club house. Plans and estimates are all in and work will probably begin in a few weeks.

Mr. George A Wadleigh of the Jersey City Athletic Club, during Tuesday evening of last week, rolled the perfect score of 300, and keeping on made 15 consecutive strikes. This was accomplished in the presence of 50 members

D. W. Littell, the coming bowler of the Crescent League, rolled ten frames without a break, Friday. The score was 188.

The following games have been scheduled by the Olympics of this city, to be bowled on the Olympia alleys, Sycamore street: This evening, West Ends of Somerville; Friday evening, Young Americas of Newark; Tuesday evening of next week, Alphas of Newark; Friday evening of next week, Somersets of Somerville.

Last evening the 16th match for the county championship was rolled on the Crescent League's alleys against the Elizabeth team. The Plainfield boys after a bad start fought an uphill contest and pulled their opponents' lead down to 28 in the eighth frame. But it was too hot a pace for any team to keep up, and the visitors' superior wind-up left the Crescents 93 pins behind.

The score was as follows:

Always Ahead.

Manager Charles Runyon, representing the New Jersey Telephone company, in this city, closed the metallic circuit with Trenton, yesterday, one day ahead of time. Mr. Runyon pushed the work so rapidly that the wire factories could not keep his men supplied. Otherwise the work would have been completed even sooner.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

What He Thinks About the Water Works, Street Railroads, Liquor Licenses, the Fire Department, a City Hall and Other Matters of Public Concern.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—Those whom the citizens of Plainfield deem worthy of the honor of representing them in the City government do not need to be reminded of the grave responsibility they assume in accepting the office of Councilmen. Men who without pecuniary compensation voluntarily undertake to devote their time and labor, to invite and withstand the criticism of those who honestly differ from them, to endure the unjust but inevitable attacks of the grumbler and captious fault-finder, and the even more hostile and sometimes virulent assaults of parties whose selfish hopes an upright Council is bound to disappoint, have almost uniformly justified in this City the wisdom of the popular will. But it is proper that agreeably to established custom, I should on the occasion of your first meeting briefly call attention to what in my judgment are the more important matters requiring consideration at this time.

WATER.

The Common Council of 1889, after painstaking preliminary investigations and negotiations, authorized the execution of a contract under which the City and its inhabitants are to be supplied with water for fire protection and other purposes. It is a matter of great satisfaction that the gentlemen who compose the corporation with which the contract has been made are so well and favorably known in this community for their integrity of character and business ability. The terms of the contract too are believed to be highly advantageous to the City, and the City holds the $50,000 bond of the company and its sureties to ensure the faithful performance of the contract. But the water works yet remain to be built; the contract remains to be performed; and it is the necessity of the most watchful care and prudent forethought in connection with the numerous details in the execution of this contract, that I respectfully suggest as a matter of the first importance. True, the judgment of the engineer selected by the City is required to be satisfied and his approval obtained by the company; but to render his judgment in all cases the most enlightened possible, it is essential that he should be supplied with accurate data and kept fully advised concerning the views of your honorable body in the respects contemplated by the contract. In case of failure by the company to faithfully execute its undertaking, the City is clothed by the contract with extraordinary powers. While the City should not hesitate to invoke these powers should a proper occasion be presented, yet the interests involved are so vital that the City, before having recourse to such high powers, should always in the first instance receive the benefit of the most thoughtful deliberation of your honorable body, guided by sound legal advice.

STREET RAILROAD.

There is one proposed improvement about which our people seem at last to have but one mind. I refer to a street railroad. In urging the consideration of this matter upon prior common councils, I have been at some pains to specifically point out the advantages to be derived from a street railroad, properly constructed and conducted under proper management, and it was a source of great satisfaction to observe that not only did the project receive the emphatic support of taxpayers, but that the common council of last year were heartily in favor of the proposed improvement, and early took active steps looking to its speedy accomplishment. Your honorable body is doubtless familiar with the history of the efforts made in this direction and the reasons why they proved abortive. The labor recently bestowed upon the consideration of this question will not have been wasted, if, by timely action of the present council, the question is reopened. Other improvements have necessarily in most instances entailed additional expense upon the City government, while the one now under consideration, although hardly second in importance to any other, may, it is believed, be successfully introduced without the burden of one dollar upon the City treasury. I earnestly recommend that among the first subjects to which the attention of the present council should be directed is this subject of providing our City with such means of transit as will comport with the advanced position of the City in most other respects.

LICENSES.

The result of the last charter election would appear to leave no doubt as to the views of a large majority of the voters of this City respecting the best method of dealing with the evil of intemperance. With the views so expressed and recorded, I am in entire accord. Yielding to none in the abhorrence with which I regard the alarming results of intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors, I believe that the only practicable method of lessening the dangers, and diminishing the suffering and crime incident to such intemperance, is by high license and strict police regulations, and rigid enforcement of penal enactments, to confine the evil within the narrowest possible limits, and to reduce its disastrous effects to a minimum. There are few communities anywhere in which there are so many and such severe restrictions thrown about the liquor traffic as, from time to time, have been prescribed in this City, and as today constitutes the provisions of the city liquor license ordinance. I had the honor to suggest to the last Common Council certain additional restrictions, some of which that body incorporated into the City law. No licenses have been granted since those amendments were made, and while with many other citizens I should be glad to see further restrictions imposed, yet in deference to what I believe to be the present state of public opinion which your honorable body represent, I am content to urge a full and fair trial of the ordinance as it stands, asking only that the members of the Council will, as they have opportunity, assist the executive officers of the City government in their effort to rigorously enforce the existing law.

CITY HALL.

On the score of true economy as well as the real needs of the City government, I renew the suggestion made in my last annual message and in the special message of July 5, 1887, recommending the purchase of a suitable lot and the erection thereon of a city hall. These ends may be accomplished without difficulty under existing laws, and I still believe that the best interests of the City would thereby be subserved.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The legislature of 1889, acting in accordance with the request of the Common Council, and the recommendation of the Mayor of Plainfield, amended the state law so as to give the same benefit of limited exemption from taxation to Plainfield firemen who became exempt in the service of the old fire department, as if that department had always been controlled by the City. Reference is made to this legislation because, with the introduction of fire-hydrants, it is not improbable that your honorable body may introduce some changes in the management of the Plainfield Fire Department. Should any such changes be contemplated, it is respectfully suggested that the recognition which the State makes of the status of volunteer firemen, both as to those now active and as to those who by a proper period of service have become entitled to exemption from active duty, should serve as a guide in the enactment of City ordinances, and that the objects of such legislation should not be unwittingly contravened in letter or in spirit. Until the fire-hydrant system shall have been perfected, the necessity of preserving the present apparatus of the department in good, serviceable condition is obvious, and suggests the need of continuous careful inspections in order to maintain the efficiency of this important department of our local government, while at the same time it is equally important to bear in mind the change in the method of protecting property from fire that will in the near future be brought about by the introduction of water works, and to guard against unnecessary expenditures that may serve a temporary purpose only.

STREETS.

How best to provide for maintaining in proper repair the many miles of permanently improved road-beds in Plainfield, and gradually to extend such permanent improvements, and yet scrupulously to keep within a just limit of expenditure for these purposes, are very practical questions. The law lately enacted which enables the City at the general expense to make permanent improvements in road-beds, while confessedly highly beneficial to this and other communities, should not be too freely invoked. The admirable plan that has before been adopted to a considerable extent, and which consists in requiring the property owners along any such proposed improvement to subscribe in advance two-thirds or some other fair proportion of the total cost, leaving the remainder as the City's share of the burden, is fair and equable to such property owners, is just to taxpayers in other parts of the City, and tends to foster public spirit and interest property owners in the affairs of the City government.

It is the just expectation of property owners who have subscribed to the funds for such permanent street improvements, that the city shall keep the road-bed in repair. Experience shows that the economical way to repair and the way to keep the streets always in good condition, is to act at once upon any defect appearing in the surface of the road-bed. Delay is not only vexatious but expensive.

Under a salutary State law, this City lately adopted a general ordinance concerning sidewalks, by virtue of which it is competent for the Street Commissioners under direction of your honorable body to cause suitable sidewalks to be laid, where needed, at the expense of the adjoining property owner. Within a narrower district, a similar provision regulates the curbing of streets. These ordinances call for the exercise of sound discretion. The law contemplates the machinery being set in motion by a notice served on the property owner. There are cases in which the public interests require that such a notice should be served. I suggest that in such cases prompt steps be taken and the powers conferred by the law be exercised.

So much of the comfort and attractiveness of living in Plainfield, and of the reputation of the City depends upon the conditions of our sidewalks and road-beds, that the subject is worthy of the constant and careful consideration of those having the care of the streets under their supervision and control.

TAXATION.

While the rate of taxation in this City compares favorably with that of most of the other cities of the State, yet it is undeniable that on the whole, our taxes have gradually increased in rate, notwithstanding the very large increase in the value of taxable property, and the fact that the City has been and is practically free from debt. It has been before pointed out that this increase is chiefly attributable to the increased amounts raised for the school taxes, and that last year, with respect to City taxes assessed under direct authority of the Common Council, there was an actual decrease as compared with the preceding year. Our present system does not contemplate any direct cooperation between the school department and the Common Council with reference to the amount of taxes to be assessed for local school purposes. The law provides that the Board of Education shall determine what amount is required within the prescribed limits, and that amount, upon being certified to the taxing officers, is required to be assessed and collected in the same manner as the other City taxes. General legislation, subsequent to the laws incorporating the Board of Education, enable the people to cause the reorganization of Boards of Education so as to create a closer relation between that board and other departments of the City government. Our citizens, however, have always taken a just pride in the high character of our Boards of Education and in the efficiency of our schools, and it is believed that there exists no desire to change the general scheme under which the schools are managed. Nevertheless, I respectfully suggest that there should be conference and co-operation to some extent, regarding the matter of taxes for school purposes, between the Board of Education and the Common Council. The Common Council, as the chief fiscal body of the City, should, it would seem, be consulted in advance of the peremptory demand which the old law provided should be made upon the taxing officers of the City. Such conference, had prior to the enactment of the annual tax ordinance, might result in mutual concessions that could do no harm and might materially benefit the interests of the taxpayers. I recommend, therefore, that your honorable body by some appropriate action, such as the appointment of a committee on conference with the Board of Education, take cognizance of this matter, with a view of maintaining a just ratio between the taxes to be assessed for school purposes and those to be assessed for other purposes strictly within the charter powers of the Common Council. I take it as an augury of pleasant and harmonious relations between your honorable body and the executive department of our City Government, that your members have already so freely and cordially solicited mutual co-operation. Assured as I am of the sincerity of such expressions, and of the soundness of the principle that the business of our City Government, like any other business may be most successfully transacted when such a spirit actuates those to whom the several branches of the business are confided, I cheerfully and cordially greet your honorable body upon that basis, and tender myself ready at all times heartily to assist in all that makes for good government in this community.

Your obedient servant,
JOB MALE, Mayor.

A Nuisance That Should Be Abated.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will you kindly spare room in your valuable paper for these few lines. I have had occasion to come out from the city within the last year and a half on the midnight train, but I have not before last Sunday seen or heard so much vulgarity and corrupt manners committed by a party of young rowdies from Westfield. I, like a good many more, like to enjoy a quiet smoke coming out, and therefore it is my duty to go in the smoking car. But no sooner than the car starts from the station than the promising youths commenced their work by passing around bottles of liquor, threatening to turn the car upside down, using the most indecent language, and otherwise making it very unpleasant to gentlemen. The writer is a total stranger to the party, but would judge the average age of them is from 20 to 30 years. Upon inquiring I find that a six-foot son of a well-known livery man seems to be the ring leader, or otherwise the captain.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va.

PORTUGAL EXCITED

The Ministers Resign and the Situation Critical.

SENHOR GOMEZ APOLOGIZES.

He Expresses Regret for the Attack on the British Legation.

Wild Excitement in Lisbon—Students Shouting "Viva Portugal"—Trying to Form a New Ministry—A Movement to Boycott English Commerce—Sympathy From France and Spain.

LISBON, Jan. 14.—The Portuguese Ministry has resigned. The agitation continues and the situation is critical. Senhor Pimental, the liberal-conservative leader, voted with the minority at the meeting of the council when the demands of England were acceded to.

The minority were in favor of evacuating the Shire district, but opposed the other demands made by England, unless that country submitted the dispute to arbitration forthwith.

The Republican papers are trying to incite the people against what they call the cowardly monarchy of Portugal.

Lord Salisbury's ultimatum was unexpected. It was in reply to Portugal's fair and moderate proposal to restore the status quo in Africa and invoke a conference of the powers or resort to arbitration to settle all questions at issue between Portugal and Great Britain.

The anti-British demonstrations were repeated, but were of a less violent nature. The political situation is critical, and the Government finds in it a serious problem.

Senhor Pimental is endeavoring to form a ministry to supplant the Cabinet that resigned, but is meeting with very difficult obstacles.

There is a movement for the formation of a Patriotic League to put into operation an international boycott against English commerce.

The fermentation in the streets continues. Crowds of students in the streets in the neighborhood of the Cortes are shouting "Vive Portugal!" "Vive Pinto!" and at a meeting of students it was proposed to wire congratulations to Serpa Pinto.

At Oporto a public meeting has been called to protest against the submission to England's demands.

Spanish Sympathy.

MADRID, Jan. 14.—Nearly all the Madrid papers sympathize with Portugal and declare the conduct of England unjustifiable.

England's Attitude Condemned.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Several of the papers discuss England's demands upon Portugal, and condemn the menacing attitude taken in support of them.

THE SOMERSET SCANDAL.

The Prince of Wales has no Sympathy for the Aristocrats.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The scandals which have touched the Prince of Wales' household have left their mark upon him, and he is using whatever influence he possesses to secure, if possible, a complete revelation of the actual facts. In this connection it may be remarked that a singular rumor is afloat to the effect that the stories about the young heir presumptive were started with a view to keeping the Prince of Wales quiet. The report is that the men of rank and title who are implicated in the Somerset scandals knew that they need expect no sympathy from the Prince and that none of the influence of the royal family would be used to shield them from police investigation and judicial exposure.

It so happens, however, that the Prince's belief in his son's innocence is stronger than his natural repugnance to the publicity which further ventilation of the affair must entail, and the outlook is bad for the accused aristocrats, whatever it may be for young Prince Albert Victor.

Frenchmen Abuse a German.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 14.—The crew of a French steamer at this port maltreated a German sailor who had been sent ashore to tighten the hawser of his steamer because of a coming storm. Complaints about the affair made to the French officials proved futile and the German Consul has complained about the matter to the authorities at Berlin.

OHIO'S NEW GOVERNOR.

He Favors the Australian Ballot System in His Inaugural Message.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—The inauguration ceremonies of Gov. Campbell took place on the east terrace of the State House where, sheltered from the wind by the high capitol, the judges of the Supreme Court, members of the Legislature and State officers witnessed the administration of the oath of office by Chief Justice F. J. Dickman and listened to the inaugural address which contained about 6,000 words. He recommends the immediate repeal of the laws enacted during the administration of his predecessor, putting the government of a number of municipalities in the hands of the Governor. This he denounces as contrary to the spirit of our institutions and opposed to home rule.

He warmly commends the Australian ballot system, giving a brief history of its operation where tried, and pronouncing it the most thorough and practical reform of the ballot system that has ever been proposed. The completion of the intermediate prison, improvements at the Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Home; at the Soldiers and Sailors' Home and at the Idiot Asylum are urged, and other recommendations of local interest are made.

Governor Foraker came from a sick bed, where he had been confined by a severe attack of la grippe, to see his successor inaugurated.

Fire Caused by a Stove Explosion.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 14.—Fire at Enosburgh Falls destroyed Mrs. W. E. Burt's dwelling and millinery store, Burt & Potter's hardware store, the D. A. Harvey block, Rublee Brothers drug store, the Kendall patent medicine office, and Mrs. Tillotson's tenement. The loss is quite heavy, but the exact amount is not known. The explosion of a coal stove in Mrs. Burt's store is said to have been the origin of the fire.

Dry Goods Merchants Assign.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Messrs. Howe & Ambler, dry goods, have assigned. The liabilities are not known, but the firm's assets are placed at $15,000.

DEFIES THE CORONER'S JURY.

Justice Matthesson Refuses to Answer Questions in the Kniffin Inquest.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 14.—The Coroner's inquest in the Kniffin murder case was resumed this morning, and of course there was a crowded courtroom. Counsel of both sides were present, but refrained from interruption at any stage.

There are no new developments in the case, except a rumor, which is not verified, that Mrs. Kniffin's life was heavily insured. Assistant Prosecutor Apgar said that only skimmed milk in the way of evidence would be offered before the Coroner's Jury, and that the cream would be placed before the Grand Jury.

Another of the prosecution said that in his opinion there was no evidence to hold Dr. Kniffin, and that the circumstantial evidence against Miss Pursel was not strong enough to insure her conviction. He thought it would be a good thing to prolong the Coroner's investigation so as to throw the case over to the Grand Jury of the May term.

The feature of the evidence before the Coroner was the testimony given by Police Justice Matheson, who has made himself so conspicuous by his volunteer work in the case. The Justice announced that he would testify from notes and he drew from his pocket several sheets of paper filled with writing and also a diagram of the room where the murder took place. In reply to a question of the Coroner regarding a statement made by Miss Pursel, the Justice said:

"For the benefit of justice I refuse to answer. You can ask me any question you wish to and I will do as I like about answering," replied Mr. Matheson. "Why do you refuse to give us information that will assist us?" asked Foreman Sterling. "We are not here to try any one for this crime, but to endeavor to ascertain who it was that committed it."

"I don't care what conclusion you arrive at, as it don't matter anyhow." The Grand Jury meets on Tuesday, and the important facts will be given to them, and they are the proper ones to look into the matter," announced the Justice.

The Power of Realism.

The force and realistic nature of theatrical performances have often evoked amusing interruptions from the more emotional of the spectators, while in a few other cases the sympathetic feeling created in a member of the audience has been so strong as actually to lead to fatal results. In 1739, when Harvard's play of "Charles I" was being given at York, a young lady was so overcome one evening by the painful emotions excited by the piece that she fainted and died. This was tragedy indeed. It is somewhat curious to find that Churchill, describing in the "Rosciad" the author of this tragically effective play, thus ridicules his pretensions as an actor:

Here Harvard, all serene, in the same strains,
Loves, hates and rages, triumphs and complains;
His easy vacant face proclaim'd a heart
Which could not feel emotions, nor impart.

The Gentleman's Magazine of 1783 records another fatal instance of excess of emotion. In this case tragedy resulted from comedy. A Northamptonshire lady, a Mrs. Fitzherbert, went one Wednesday evening to Drury Lane theatre to see the "Beggar's Opera," a revival of which amusing play was then delighting the town. As soon as Banister, the comedian, appeared upon the stage, "made up" as Polly, the audience laughed loudly at his absurd appearance. Mrs. Fitzherbert was greatly affected and laughed immoderately. She found herself unable to control her emotion, and left the theatre before the end of the second act, but soon after fell into hysterics, in which she continued until Friday morning, when she died.

Some time ago a sensational piece called "A Mother's Sin" was being performed at the Queen's theatre, Manchester. One night, toward the close of the third act, where the villain appears triumphant and the hero seems to be hopelessly in his power, a man in the gallery rose excitedly, shaking his fist at the actor who was playing the villain, and then jumped from the gallery on to the stage, on which he fell heavily just clear of the footlights. The distance jumped was about thirty feet. The unfortunate man was taken to the infirmary, where it was found that in addition to other injuries, his leg was broken. It was afterward discovered that his name was the same as that of the heroine of the piece, and hence it was supposed his excitement.—Cornhill Magazine.

Personal Ignorance.

In traveling through Persia some fifteen years ago, Mr. Bellew, an English engineer, found the people of almost every rank willing to admit and to lament their ignorance. A native official whom he met explained how it is that the English are so much better informed.

"You go riding along and come to a village. To the first man you meet in it you say, 'What do you call that hill?' and he gives you its name. Out comes your notebook and down go the names, and by and by all the world knows that there is such a hill near such a village, a fact nobody else in the country is aware of except the inhabitants of the actual locality.

"By way of illustration I will tell you what occurred to me many years ago, when, as a young man, I went to Bangalore with a batch of horses for sale. An English officer who spoke Persian asked me one day about my country, and when I told him the name of my village he turned it up in his map and said:

"'Yes, I see. There is a place near it called Ganda China.'

"'No,' said I, 'there is no such place near it, nor even in the country.'

"'There must be,' maintained he.

"Well, considering I knew my own country best, I thought it useless arguing the point, so I remained silent, allowing him to have his own way. When I returned home and recounted my adventures in the Deccan, I mentioned this circumstance, with no very flattering allusion to the English officer's persistent obstinacy.

"'You are wrong, Shah Sahib,' said two or three voices, 'Ganda China is the briny bog at the further end of the hollow behind our hill.'

"'Well,' said I, 'I never knew that before.' So the English officer, you see, knew what I did not of my native place."—Youth's Companion.

Myths of the Departed.

Long after Bonaparte had been dead and buried, and his heart, to use Sir Lucius O'Trigger's expression, "pickled and sent home," the veterans of the grande armee continued to believe that their emperor was still alive and would return some day to lead on the French eagles again to victory. This superstition gave occasion to a heartless practical joke. There was quartered in a provincial town of France a veteran of the Old Guard, who was firmly convinced of the future coming of the emperor, and would descant upon this topic at a cafe he used to frequent at such a length as alternately to amuse and bore a party of young men whom he used to meet there, and who would often draw the old man out. One day it became known to them that a certain relative of Napoleon, who bore a striking resemblance to him, would enter the town that night in command of a detachment of troops.

Seeing an opportunity of indulging in a joke at the old man's expense, they told him, as a great secret, that his hopes were about to be realized, and that, if he desired to witness the emperor's return, he should get himself placed on duty that night at the gate of the town. The veteran did so, and, palpitating with joy and expectancy, awaited the appointed hour. It came, the sound of drums approached, the troops entered the place, and at their head rode one whose calm face and clear cut features awakened in the old soldier's mind memories of the glorious past. In an agony of joy he exclaimed "C'est lui!"—he dropped his musket, threw up his arms, and with a cry of "Vive l'empereur!" fell dead.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Reproduction of Bacteria.

As regards the reproduction of the bacteria, many of them can double their numbers every hour when placed in the best conditions for their activity. In such circumstances, then, a single bacterium would, in twenty-four hours, produce no less than 16,777,220. At the end of forty-eight hours the offspring would amount to 281,500,000,000, and would fill a half pint measure—all produced in two days from a single germ measuring 1-15,000 of an inch. Fortunately, however, bacteria can rarely so propagate themselves, they meet with all sorts of drawbacks, and thus, in spite of their enormous fertility, the survivors are in a general way only enough to keep up a fair balance in nature. The diseases producing bacteria, however, have no claim upon our forbearance, and in these the enormous fecundity we cannot too closely contemplate. Some, like the bacteria of tuberculosis and glanders, propagate themselves slowly, but the great majority of the bacteria causing animal plagues will, in favorable cases, double their numbers hourly.—New York Telegram.

The public library which Mr. Gladstone is building at Hawarden is a large building with five rooms. It is to contain 16,000 volumes, and the rooms are purposely built small in order to allow of quiet for those who are to use them for reading purposes.

WORK AT ALBANY.

A Tilt Over the Appointment of Committees in the Senate.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—When the Senate convened the list of committees was sent to the desk by President pro tempore Fassett, and read by the clerk.

Mr. Cantor, after the list had been read, made a vigorous protest against the reduction of the Democratic representation on the important committees from three to two, and said this was the first time in the history of the Senate that such a thing had been done. It was an outrage on the minority. They were entitled to more than a one-third representation.

Mr. Fassett replied that Senator Low had named two Democrats only on the Finance and Commerce and Navigation Committees. He assumed the entire responsibility for the committees. Governor Hill had severely criticised the action of the majority in the Legislature, and had touched lightly on the failings of the minority. The majority should be responsible for legislation. Heretofore there had been two committees with only two Democrats; now there were three such committees. That was the sum and substance of the whole matter, and he accepted the responsibility.

Mr. Cantor responded that in the three committees to which political matters were entrusted the Democratic representation had been reduced. Politics alone had dictated the change.

The Bank Superintendent's and Railroad Commissioner's annual reports were then presented.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

Providing for eight female deputy factory inspectors.

Empowering the Forest Commission to purchase lands at a cost not to exceed $1.50 an acre in the forest preserve; also, making the services of persons aiding in extinguishing forest fires a town charge.

Imposing a tax on all inheritances of $3 on each $100 in estates of over $500. In the event of a transfer to father, mother, brother, sister, wife, child or widow of son, or husband of daughter, or adopted children, the tax shall be 50 cents on $100.

A communication was received from the Governor reciting the facts in connection with the suspension of Judge Pitaike, of the New York City Court and recommending the final removal of the Judge from duty on account of his continued illness.

In the Assembly.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—The following appointments as committee clerks were announced by the Speaker: James Sherwood, Ways and Means; John W. IN PRISON FOR LIFE

The Cronin Convicts Taken to the Penitentiary.

KUNZE GRANTED A NEW TRIAL

Judge Longenecker Partly Promises to Give Him His Liberty.

The Imprisoned Men Take an Appeal—They are Still Hopeful of a New Trial—The Trip to Joliet—Sullivan Wept, Burke Laughed and Coughlin Was Furious and Denounced the "Outrage."

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Judge McConnell rendered his decision on the motion of the attorneys for the defense for a new trial of the Cronin case.

He decided that John Kunze was entitled to a new trial. In the other cases the Judge decided that the verdict must stand. The prisoners were then formally sentenced.

The prisoners' attorneys gave notice that an appeal to the Supreme Court would be taken and the Court allowed them time in which to file a bill of exceptions.

The prisoners were then taken back to jail but a minute later Kunze was brought back at the request of his counsel, Mr. Donohoe, who wanted to make a motion to admit him to bail. Judge Longenecker opposed it and then wanted the bail put at $20,000, but Judge McConnell fixed it at $4,000. He would have discharged him, he said, if there was no new evidence against him but the State's Attorney had informed him that there was some. Judge Longenecker intimated that if they let Kunze stay in jail a few days he might conclude not to bring him to trial at all, but let him go. He promised to let the Court and counsel know this week and accordingly no effort will be made to get Kunze out on bail in the meantime.

Coughlin, Burke and O'Sullivan were taken to Joliet last night on the 9 o'clock train on the Chicago & Alton Railroad, and at 11 o'clock were admitted to the penitentiary to begin their life terms of penal servitude to the State.

The trio were handcuffed and manacled together. Burke was in the center, Sullivan was on the left and Coughlin on the right. Thus Sullivan had only his left hand and his left leg free, Coughlin a right hand and leg, while Burke was steel bound literally hand and foot. Sullivan took the matter bitterly to heart and wept. Burke laughed outright. Coughlin denounced the proceeding as an outrage.

STILL A MYSTERY.

The Coroner's Inquest in the Kniffin Murder Adjourned Until Monday.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—The Kniffin inquest has been adjourned to Monday. There was some interesting evidence during the day, its tendency being to dissipate the theory that Dr. Kniffin or Miss Pursel is responsible for the death of the dentist's wife.

Mrs. Mary N. Murphy, the aged mother of Mrs. Kniffin, recited the story of the first burglary and stated that the boy Lennie had gone to her house the night of the murder because he was afraid to stay with the women alone. He had frequently come to her house since the first robbery. The witness said that her daughter believed that the house was visited by burglars Nov. 30. She had every reason to think that her daughter's married life was a happy one. She married Dr. Kniffin secretly and the secret was kept for two months after the wedding.

Dr. Leavitt's testimony related to the autopsy. He assigned chloroform as the cause of death. Dr. Coleman subsequently corroborated County Physician Leavitt. The jury wanted to know if he thought it reasonable that Mrs. Kniffin should be killed by the chloroform while Miss Pursel lingered under its effects just long enough to be discovered by her friends and then so thoroughly recovered herself as not to need a physician's attention. Dr. Coleman thought it all within the range of probability.

Boodlers in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 15.—A morning paper publishes this morning a statement submitted by an expert bookkeeper showing irregularities in the city's old account aggregating about $3,000,000. Julius Lembeck, one of the expert accountants, sent the Council a communication asking that his name be stricken from the record, saying that he had been induced to sign the same under false representations. One entry shows $234,579 paid for Lake View Park, although the property had been offered the city for $59,000.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.—Calvin S. Brice (Democrat) was elected United States Senator on the first ballot, receiving 76 votes. Foster (Republican) received 66 votes.

Jersey City's Elevated Road.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 15.—Work has been commenced on the new elevated railroad which is to be erected in this city at a cost of $750,000. It is announced that the road will be completed in less than a year.

No More Chinese.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, has introduced a bill absolutely prohibiting the entrance of any Chinese into this country, whether they come directly from China or not.

PREDICTED HER OWN DEATH.

Funeral of Mrs. Kehoe Who Was 106 Years Old.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Julia Kehoe, who was 106 years old, was buried from St. Mary's Catholic Church at St. Clair. Mrs. Kehoe, who was popularly known as "Granny" Kehoe, lived at New Castle with her daughter, Mrs. John Ball. The old lady's 106th birthday was on Saturday, and she is said to have predicted her death within the next 24 hours. Saturday night she failed rapidly, and on Sunday morning died. Her end was calm-like and peaceful.

Mrs. Kehoe was born in County Wexford, Ireland, just eight years after the Declaration of Independence in America. She came to this country in 1854, and settled in New Castle, where she has since lived. She was always hearty and never took any medicine.

When 80 years of age she received her second eyesight and could thread a needle without the aid of glasses. Ten years later she became stone blind, but she became so well used to her surroundings that she could walk about the house and grounds as if she had the full power of her eyes. On Saturday afternoon she had taken a walk around the yard when she came into the house and told her daughter that she felt that death was close to her. She then went to bed and awaited death, which came to her softly at dawn on Sunday.

STILL FIGHTING CORBIN.

An Effort Will be Made to Have His Election Declared Void.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—It was announced to-day that the next step of the Reading stockholders who are opposed to President Corbin's administration will be an effort to have his election declared void. No details were given, but it is expected that the case will be brought into court before the close of the week.

Concerning the rumors of Mr. Corbin's retirement, Vice-President McLeod said that there would be no change in the management.

Mr. Corbin's board of managers has reorganized under the new election. The amount available for interest upon preference income mortgages being but $68,000, no payments can be made for the last fiscal year.

Must Restore a Grand Army Veteran.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 15.—State Treasurer Danforth was served with the notice, or writ, compelling the reinstatement of Clerk Philo T. Backus, or making it incumbent to show cause why he should not. Mr. Backus is a Grand Army veteran and has taken to the courts to compel his retention. The writ is returnable in 30 days before Judge Learned in this city. The State Treasurer hopes to prove the plaintiff's unfitness for the office, but the latter's friends say that he will be unable to do so. The Grand Army men in this section are awaiting the result with interest.

Death of an Assemblyman.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Assemblyman P. Andrew Sullivan, of the Second Monroe District, died at his home here, aged 34 years. He was elected to the Assembly in 1887 on the Democratic ticket and again last November. Previous to his first election Mr. Sullivan had been prominent in labor organizations, but had not been especially active in politics. His death resulted from inflammation of the brain. A special election will be necessary.

Reducing Its Working Force.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The working force of the Erie Railroad Company is bein reduced in all its shops. At Port Jervis thirty-five men were laid off, and discharges upon a like scale occurred in the shops all along the line to Dunkirk. It is understood that other discharges are to follow. The explanation is had in the low demand for coal occasioned by the unseasonable winter, which is fairly paralyzing the coal.

The Johnstown Relief Fund.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—The Johnstown Flood Commission meets here this afternoon, when the final report of the Secretary will be submitted. The report will show the distribution of nearly $1,500,000 and the question of the disposition of $200,000 remaining on hand will be one of the important matters to be decided at the meeting.

Strikers Score a Victory.

BIRDSBORO, Pa., Jan. 15.—The strike in the nail factory of the Brooke Iron Company has resulted in a victory for the workmen. The firm has agreed to restore the 10 per cent. taken from the wages of the men four months ago. The firm has also voluntarily increased the wages of puddlers to $3.75 per ton.

Both Parties Have the Same Vote.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 15.—The Iowa Legislature deadlock continues. The House cannot organize, there being fifty Republicans and fifty Democrats, and a deadlock occurred on every motion to choose a clerk or other officer. The five so-called Independents voted solidly with the Democrats.

Federation of Railroad Men.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—A committee from the Grand Council of Massachusetts, Steam Railroad Men's Protective Association, will leave Boston for Albany, N. Y., Friday to confer with a committee of the men from the New York Central Railroad with a view to federation on matters of joint interest.

Special World's Fair Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Speaker Reed has requested the four World's Fair Committees, representing New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Washington, to suggest the names of three members of Congress each for appointment on the Special World's Fair Committee of the House, of which Mr. Reed will select the chairman. The committee will consist of 13 members.

THE GRIP'S RAVAGES

New York Physicians Confident that the End is Near.

THE DEATH RATE INCREASING.

Fears that Influenza Will be Followed by an Epidemic of Cholera.

La Grippe Attacks the Nobility in London—Walker Blaine Seriously Ill—Physicians Suffering in Rhode Island—A Decreased Death List in Boston—Five Fatal Cases in One Town.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the Sanitary Bureau, said to-day that from now out la grippe would decline, and he based his expectation on the promised reappearance of the cold wave, a slight touch of which is now apparent. He has calculated that up to the present about 200,000 persons have been victims of la grippe since it first visited the city. He bases his estimate upon the returns made from the police records.

When asked if he thought the influenza would be followed by an epidemic of cholera, he said he did not know. "It depended greatly on the condition of the atmosphere and the consequent physical condition of our people. It is impossible for me or any physician to tell what is going to happen. All we know is that we are in the midst of an epidemic and are doing our best to bring it to an end. Favorable weather, such as we had for the past two days, will aid the medical fraternity in the treatment of the malady."

The 1,424 deaths in this city during the past week represent a death rate of 46.24 per 1,000, against 39.31 the week before, and 24.79 of the corresponding week of last year.

The total reported from influenza, either simple or complicated with other diseases, was 17 on Monday and on Sunday it was 15. The death rate reported from influenza for the 24 hours ending yesterday at noon, not only exhibits an increase over the mortality for the two preceding days from this cause, but is also the largest recorded since the epidemic attacked the city.

Jack Dempsey Has the Grip.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Jack Dempsey, the "Nonpareil," and the club's favorite in his coming fight with McCarthy, is sick. The "Nonpareil" has for the past ten days suffered from a severe cold, which has settled on his lungs. It began to show a discouraging phase last Friday, and on Saturday Director Billy Vice was notified of the fact. Since then it is said that Dempsey has been worrying considerably. The cold has gradually developed into the influenza and will probably cause his fight with McCarthy to be postponed.

La Grippe Has the Nobility.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Lord Cairns and Lord Napier, of Magdala, have died of influenza. Lord Hartington is very ill, and also the Duchess of Teck and the Countess of Zetland. The general scare is renewed. Lord Wimborne was unable to receive the Prince of Wales and Prince George at his country seat, being suddenly stricken down, and authoritative rumor says that the Princess of Wales is sneezing and unable to go out. This bad news throws a damper on social proceedings.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Crippled.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been compelled to refuse freight for the seaboard during the past few days on account of la grippe. The freight crews on the Eastern division have been paralyzed during the past two weeks to such an extent that it has been impossible to get enough men to handle the freight with any degree of promptness.

Boston's Death Rate Decreasing.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The mortality consequent upon the epidemic of la grippe continues abnormally large, but each of the last three days has shown a slight decrease in the reported deaths, as compared with the corresponding three days of last week. The total decrease is nineteen. But one death was reported here yesterday from la grippe alone, the victim being Henry Wallace, aged 67.

Physicians Attacked.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 15.—La grippe has claimed another victim here, Dr. Edward W. Perry, the most prominent physician in the Wanskuck district, died Monday night of pneumonia. Nearly a dozen other physicians are confined to their homes here with pneumonia, and one of these had 180 cases of the grip when taken sick himself.

Walker Blaine Seriously Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Walker Blaine is seriously ill. Dr. G. Magruder, his physician, says: "To-day will settle the case. It is the crisis in Mr. Blaine's sickness. He will either be out of danger or in a condition which will prove fatal." Mr. Blaine succumbed to the grip last Friday.

Five Fatal Cases in One Town.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 15.—The fifth fatal case of la grippe has occurred here. T. Brennan, foreman in a box shop, dying after a week's illness. At Manchester, Lorenzo D. Colby, a prominent resident, died of pneumonia, aged 70 years. He had represented the city in the State Legislature.

General Woodruff Elected.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 15.—Hon. Franklin Woodruff was last night re-elected chairman of the Republican General Committee of Kings County by 210 votes to 169 for David A. Baldwin. There was considerable excitement at the meeting.

BY THE WAY.

—Oh! for a Y. M. C. A. building.

—Mr. Edward Campbell has been ill for several days past with la grippe.

—There were forty-five present at the night school for men, last evening.

—Sebring Bros., the Park avenue clothiers, announce today that they will dispose of their stock of Winter goods at cost.

—The Columbia College Glee and Banjo club of New York, will give a concert in Music Hall, on the evening of Monday, January 27.

—It was not "Mr. Pliny Fisk's coachman," but John Watson, Mr. Charles Fisk's gardener, who was thrown from a horse on Park avenue, Monday afternoon.

—It is understood that there will be five new applications for liquor licenses this year, but an after consideration is whether or not the Council will grant any new licenses.

—The attention of Ladies is called in another column by Howard A. Pope to his stock of water proofs. A very appropriate thing to advertise the way the weather has been lately.

—At the last regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., a set of resolutions of condolence was adopted on the death of their late brother, John A. Laible, Jr., which appears in another column today.

—The prices for the Conried Opera Company's production of "The King's Fool" in this city, on Monday evening next will be 50 cents, 75 cents, and $1.00, Manager C. A. Marsh having brought about a reduction from $1.50.

—Gen'l Greely says that the severe storms and cold weather in Canada, draw the warmth of Southern latitudes up in this locality. A prominent business man of this city suggests, therefore, that Canada be annexed and the extremes of weather assimilated.

—Quartermaster General Donnelly, of the G. A. R., was administered the oath of office by Governor Green at the Executive rooms Trenton, on Monday, in the presence of a number of friends and State officials. He subsequently entertained the Governor and others, including General Plume.

—From the several notices in THE PRESS today, it would appear that the Plainfield street boys were going to be looked after. This city has the most unruly and vicious lot of lads under fifteen years of age, a community was ever afflicted with, and they are even worse in the East end of town, than about the "Boulevard."

—A disgracefully small audience was present at Music Hall, Monday evening, when M'lle Rhea presented her play of "Josephine," well supported. She was but imperfectly understood, though her power was fully recognized. It becomes more apparent every day, that the people of Plainfield can appreciate only variety shows.

President—Harry H. Coward.
Vice President—William Crawford.
Secretary—A. J. Spicer.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Winfield Scott Post and the Woman's Relief Corps Publicly Install Their Officers.

The joint public installation of the newly-elected officers of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, took place in the post room, last evening, and there was a large number of spectators in attendance. Following are the officers of the Post installed—Commander Fisher of Jersey City, being the installing officer:

Commander—Isaac Brokaw.
Senior Vice Commander—Charles B. Stevens.
Junior Vice Commander—Wm R. Moore.
Quartermaster—S. C. Terry.
Surgeon—Wm. R. Northrup.
Chaplain—John A. Goodwin.
Officer of the Day—I. McVoy.
Officer of the Guard—Wm. H. Day.

Mrs. Jennie V. Atwood installed the officers of the Corps as follows:

President—Mrs. Jennie D. Smith.
S. V. P.—Mrs. Hannah Westphal.
J. V. P.—Mrs. Emma L. Stevens.
Secretary—Mrs. Jennie D. Brokaw.

Asst. Cond'r—Mrs. Henrietta Moore.

Asst. Guard—Mrs. Prosher.

The retiring President made a few very interesting remarks, after which a handsome basket of flowers was presented to her by four of her associate officers.

At the close of the installation services, Commander Brokaw, of Post No. 73, made a few appropriate remarks, thanking the installing officers.

During the evening, Mrs. Welcome and Mrs. Canfield contributed some excellent vocal music, and Miss Try Mattox and Miss Mabel Benedict each recited.

Included in the programme was also a speech by Commander Vickery of Wadsworth Post, No. 75 of Somerville, a speech and presentation by Col. J. T. Van Cleef of Somerville, a song by Mr. Sam'l Chilvers, recitations by Col. VanCleef and Mr. J. H. Carney, and an address by Ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph.

A bountiful collation was afterward provided for all who attended, and at a late hour the gathering dispersed, every one expressing themselves as well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Decorations Unequalled.

A New York paper speaking of the floral decorations at the Hyde-Godfrey wedding and reception, says:

"Never were lovelier decorations seen before in the United States. Probably they have never been equalled either here or elsewhere. The large front room, where the reception was held, was a bower of American beauties and Palma violets. In the drawing room white violets and white orchids screened the walls. Every room in the whole house was decorated with flowers and plants, each in a different style, but all harmonizing, strong contrasts being avoided. A more wonderful and luxuriant, yet perfectly chaste, floral display has never been made on this continent."

The Hon. James Martine Praises Him.

To the Editor of the Summit Record.

DEAR SIR: My attention has been called to a communication in your issue of December 31, signed by one J. V. Hopping, of this city, which reflects severely upon the management of Morrissey's Hotel at Summit. From my own experience as traveler and sojourner in your delightful town, I feel that the charges made are unfair and unjust. Having been the recipient, as a guest, upon many occasions of Mr. Morrissey's kindness and attention, I bear cheerful testimony to the universal hospitality, comfort and general efficiency of the management of his hotel.

Very respectfully,
J. E. MARTINE.

December 31, 1889.

Don't Mistake Us!

An explanation of the sentiments of THE PRESS in one particular, seems necessary. While it was natural and appropriate to praise President Moffett's enthusiam for his party in appointing only Democrats on the Water Committee, yet such praise for such a reason was not intended as any approval of the good judgment of such partisan apportionment.

President Moffett's party must now shoulder the entire responsibility of all acts or accidents that may be laid at the door of the Water Committee. If but one Republican had been included in the committee, the "other party" would have had to bear a share of the just and unjust criticism and reproach that will befall the Water Committee.

City Bank Election.

The shareholders in the City National Bank met yesterday and elected Directors for the ensuing year as follows: Messrs Chas. Hyde, E. R. Pope, J. F. Hubbard, J. B. Coward, J. T. Closson, J. K. Myers, C. Schepflin, J. F. MacDonald and F. H. Gardner.

The Directors met today and re-elected Mr. Chas. Hyde, President; Mr. E. R. Pope, Vice President, and Mr. F. H Gardner, Cashier.

Clothesline Thieving.

Some time between eight and nine o'clock on Monday evening, some person or persons unknown, entered the door-yard of Mr. Geo. P. Mellick on Broadway and stripped the clothesline of a large quantity of valuable wearing apparel, which had been left out after dark to dry. Every article of clothing on the line was confiscated and carried away, and the clothes-pins were found scattered about on the ground.

AN UNUSAL CONTEST.

Over Seven Hundred Votes Cast at the Annual Election of First National Bank Directors.

In past years the total shares of stock voted on at the election of a Board of Directors for the First National Bank, has been about 70; yesterday it was over 1,700. The following was chosen by the vote stated:

John Simpson, 1,782; P. M. French, 1,782; I. W. Rushmore, 1,548; W. McD. Coriell, 1,548; D. F. Randolph, 1,548; Charles Potter, Jr., 1,531; I. D. Titsworth, 1,526; H. M. Estil, 1,470; W. M. Stillman, 1,194.

The Board met this morning and elected the following officers of the Bank for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT—Isaac D. Titsworth.
VICE-PRESIDENT—D. F. Randolph.
CASHIER—Carman Parse.
ASSISTANT CASHIER—Frank S. Runyon.

Mr. Abram Dunlap, a stockholder, says the time stated in the notice sent him was wrong, and when he arrived at the meeting the polls were closed and he was debarred from voting for Directors. There was no other complaint of the same sort, however.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCarthy, of this city, will spend the Winter in New York.

Miss Mary Osborn, of Bloomfield, is visiting Mrs. J. P. LaRue, of Liberty street.

Mr. William Drake, one of Mr. Albert Hedden's employes, was admitted as a patient to Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, suffering from an attack of typhoid pneumonia.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Julia Marx, who died on Saturday, took place from her late home on East Front street, Monday. Interment was made at Cypress Hills, New York.

Stephen Rushmore died yesterday at his home in Westbury, L. I., aged 76 years. He leaves two sons residents of this city—Dr. Edward Rushmore and Howard P. Rushmore, ex-Secretary of the Queens County Agricultural Society.

Mr. J. T. Vail broke ground yesterday for the erection of a handsome new dwelling house on Broadway, nearly opposite the Crescent Avenue church. The building will be 26x48 feet in dimensions, with side projections, and two-and-a-half stories in height. It will cost about $5,000.

The Rev. Dr. Edgar's Funeral.

The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Edward B. Edgar, who died on Friday, took place from the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. Included among the clergy were many former associates of the Rev. Dr. Edgar. A special choir furnished appropriate music.

The Rev. Dr. Embree of Jersey City, offered the opening prayer, and the Rev. W. R. Richards read from the Scripture. The Rev. J. C. Bliss of New York, a former pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, told of his happy relationship with Dr. Edgar, adding that it was the latter's greatest pleasure to be present at the communion service His presence was the benediction. The reverend gentleman characterized Dr. Edgar as a noble and true follower of Christ; one who had a most earnest zeal to labor for the Master. He was also devoted to missionary work. Dr. Bliss said that when he last visited Dr. Edgar on the evening of December 15, the latter told him that he seemed to be in the border plains, and was only waiting for the summons.

The Rev. Dr. Mott of Flemington, offered prayer, after which the Rev. Dr. Kempshall of Elizabeth, spoke on behalf of the Presbytery of Elizabeth. He said among other things that he had known Dr. Edgar with love and affection for the past quarter of a century. Twenty-eight years ago, on the 18th of last September, he said, the Rev. Dr. Edgar delivered the charge to the people when the speaker was installed pastor of Christ church of Elizabeth.

The Rev. Dr. Kempshall eulogized Dr. Edgar as a man who was so imbued with the spirit of the great truth, that he was intended to walk hand in hand with God.

The Rev. Mr. Richards also spoke in eulogy of Dr. Edgar, and after the choir sang a hymn, the Rev. Dr. Kellogg of Mt. Pleasant pronounced the benediction.

The remains were taken to Westfield, and interred in Fairview Cemetery.

Wait Till They Come to Plainfield.

The Crescent League team went to Newark, last night, to bowl the celebrated "Pin Knights" of that city. They found the latter such a first-class lot of fellows, that the Plainfielders hadn't the heart to beat them, especially as the Newarkers rolled up a score of 1,574.

The Crescent League team scored as follows: VanEmburgh, 155; H. Teel, 125; Carey, 131; Emerson, 160, Littell, 125; Codington, 114; Haven, 160; Rogers, 147; Thiers, 117; Davis, 160. Total, 1,404.

Emerson's score was admirable as he had a very sore thumb. Cadiz, of the "Pin Knights," made six strikes and six spares, without a break, with a total of 214.

Adjourned Again.

The Committee appointed to select a design for Plainfield's soldiers monument were to meet to-night but have again adjourned the meeting for a week.

—The House and Senate at Trenton adjourned for the week, today at noon, after passing the bill to increase the Governor's salary for the next term to $10,000 per anumn.

A NEW ROAD TO PLAINFIELD.

He for Orange by Way of the Jersey Central!

The signified willingness of the Central Railroad of New Jersey to build a spur crossing the city of Newark and skirting in the direction of South Orange, is considered significant. The General Superintendent of the line informs the West End Improvement Association that the proposed branch will make connection with the main line near Fanwood or Plainfield. This would take the line through a region that is growing rapidly. The spur would offer facilities to the people living in the suburbs of Plainfield and Newark and in the cities themselves, and would aid materially in developing the country round about. The proposed scheme will doubtless stir the Pennsylvania railroad to action, it being understood that that line has a speculative eye on the traffic to be had by building a branch through the Oranges and the adjacent country.

The people of Newark are rejoicing at the prospect of having no longer to submit to the "rates, and charges, and delays and inconveniences of the Morris and Essex branch of the "Delay, Linger and Wait" corporation."

All those interested in the formation of a Boy's Evening Club for the reformation and improvement of the street boys of our city, are invited to meet in the Unitarian church, Second place, on Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, to listen to a description of the Brooklyn Boys' Club, by Ellis Gray Seymour, Esq., who has charge of that enterprise.

Numerous petitions are being circulated among the members of the Union county bar and other citizens, for the retention on the Supreme bench of Judge Bennet VanSyckel, whose circuit includes Union and Ocean counties. The petitions have been signed by every lawyer of prominence in the county and officials and other prominent citizens, without regard to party. The papers will be presented to Governor Abbett when he is inaugurated.

Rally For Col. Thomae.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS—Alluding to the World's sword contest now going on, what is the reason that Colonel Charles W. Thomae shouldn't capture the blade? Colonel Thomae is one of the Governor's staff, and is highly popular. The residents of Bound Brook, where the genial Colonel lives, are booming up his vote. Why not give him a lift from Plainfield? Vote for Colonel C. W. Thomae.

AN ADMIRER.

They Miss His Pleasant Calls.

The Printers' Circular of Philadelphia, says: "David E. Titsworth, the well-known and highly respected representative of the Potter Printing Press Co., met with a painful accident, a few weeks since, while jumping from a carriage. A compound fracture of one of his legs was sustained that will keep him in the house for some time yet. Those who miss Dave's pleasant calls will know the reason why."

—Today is another malaria breeding day.

DOWN GO THE WEST ENDS.

Plainfield Defeats Somerville on the Bowling Alley, "Allée Samee" as on the Ball Field.

The West Ends of Somerville came to town, last evening. They did not have Harkins with them nor their batting clothes, but Mack was there with the score book, and VanArsdale was on hand to fill the pitcher's box. But the Somervilles were not looking for Gately and gore on the ball field. They had in view the defeat of the Olympic bowling team on Collier's alleys. They got left as usual.

VanAlstyne of the Plainfielders went to bat first, and the umpire called a strike. Frelinghuysen, the West End's handsome fielder, did not do so well, and the mighty Davenport did less. Yet at the finish of the first inning, the West Ends were 16 ahead.

After that, however, the Olympics got on to the curve of the ball and wound up in fine style with the score in their favor by 242 pins, as follows:

Caring for the Boys.

One of the most promising departments of the Young Men's Christian Association work has been that for boys. The managers of the Associations believe in training the tree while it is young.

Very many of the Associations throughout the country now do this important work. Prayer meetings, Bible classes and Training classes for boys only, are conducted. Receptions, sociables, talks, lectures, debating societies, gymnasium classes and outdoor sports are some of the means used to get the boys and influence them for good. Some Associations even go so far as to employ a man to give all his time to the boys work.

THE PRESS mentions these facts not so much to show what others have done, as what could be done in Plainfield with the proper facilities—facilities which have been arranged for in the Association's new building. In the mean time the association here has not been idle. It has a boys branch in working order. In the past there have been mock trials, lectures on travel, postage stamps, etc. Bible studies, singing classes, socials and other entertainments. Boys have gone each year to the boys camp at Lake Wawayanda. The Plainfield Association appreciates the important work that can be done for boys and is working for them and will do more. It is a part of the plea for a new building.

That Newark and Plainfield Extension.

The Jersey City News on Saturday contained the following item with reference to the extension of the Newark and New York Railroad to this city:

"The meeting of the West End Improvement Association at Cort's Hall, on South Orange avenue, last night, was well attended. The principal business was the discussion of rapid transit. The committee had on December 20 written a letter to the Newark and New York Railroad company regarding their extension of their line across Broad street and into the Western portion of the city. They received in reply the following letter from General Superintendent Olhausen."

In response thereto I beg to say that this company is ready and willing to entertain a proper proposition for extending their road from the present terminus at Newark across Broad street and through the western section of the city, making a connection again with our main line at or near Fanwood or Plainfield. The only question will be what kind of a charter we can get for the proposed extension, and what the probable cost of such extension would be.

An Interesting Legal Point.

Chancellor McGill has filed at Trenton an opinion in the case of Susan Harrison vs. John E. Harrison, in which he denied the motion to strike out the cross-bill. He decides the following interesting point: "Where a wife, who has lived away from her husband more than three years, files a bill against him for support and maintenance, upon the ground of his constructive abandonment of her and his refusal and neglect to provide for her, the husband will be permitted not only by answer to deny the abandonment, but by cross-bill to ask for a divorce from his wife because of her desertion to him."

The New Series of Sunday School Lessons.

Quite a stir has been made in Sunday school circles by the fact that some schools have abandoned the International series of lessons for a new series called "Inductive Studies on the Gospel by Luke." The author of this new form of lessons is Prof. Wm. R. Harper, of Yale, who is to lecture in the Crescent Avenue church, on the evening of January 31. He will illustrate his method of study. The lecture will be free.

His Name is Not in the Directory.

The Summit Record on Saturday said: "Judgment was given to Charles Schooley, a tailor of Plainfield, against Patrick Murphy, of Summit, for $195, before Justice Behan, on Thursday."

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

A Bill Passed Increasing the Governor's Salary to $10,000.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—A bill was passed, under suspension of the rules in the Senate, increasing the salary of the Governor from $5,000 to $10,000, after the present term expires.

A protest was offered against the seating of Hon. Edward F. McDonald, Democratic Senator from Hudson, and John S. Harris, a Republican Assemblyman from Camden county. They were referred to the Committee on Legislation.

Senator Rue, of Mercer County, introduced a ballot reform bill, and Assemblyman Marsh a bill giving power to the Court of Pardons to grant "ticket of leave" to prisoners.

Assemblyman Smith, of Passaic County, introduced a bill providing that all electric wires must be placed underground before November 1 of this year.

Governor Green's Message.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—In his annual message to the Legislature Gov. Green shows that the total revenue of the State for the fiscal year was $1,337,905.09, and the total of disbursements $1,405,849.02. The school-tax receipts amounted to $1,870,055, all of which was expended. He calls attention to the fact that each political party is pledged to better the ballot; laments displays of partisanship in this connection and deprecates cavilling objections as inimical to the cause of real election reform, but does not seem to wholly approve of the Australian compulsory system of voting. He recommends to the Legislature a proposed State constitutional amendment giving that body authority to pass measures regulating local affairs of towns; disapproves of another which allows more powers in creating corporations; advises an increase of the salary of the Governor; commends the decisions of the New York and New Jersey Boundary Commissioners; requests that the Board of Assessors be constituted Railroad Commissioners; and praises the appearance of the New Jersey troops in the late Washington centennial celebration. He shows that the National Guard is 4,986 strong; that 32 schools have been added in the year; and that there are in all 1,642 public schools, with 4,299 teachers and an average attendance of 327,441 pupils. He lauds the work of the State Agricultural College, of the Deaf Mute School, of the Morristown Insane Asylum, of the Inspector of Factories and Workshops, of the Bureau of Statistics and of the Geological Survey. He urges enforcement of compulsory education, and asks additional support for the Industrial School for Girls, the State Prison and the Reform Schools, the State Charities Aid Association and the Home for Feeble-minded Women. He concludes with the hope that he has discharged with fidelity the trust reposed in him three years ago and adds that in a few days he will resign it to his successor with the prayer that the Ruler of Nations will continue to bless the State with 'Liberty and Prosperity."

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

THE NEW MINISTRY

Senhor Primenthal Secures a Cabinet for King Carlos.

CIRCULAR NOTE TO THE POWERS

Portugal Asserts That England Did Not Wait for Senhor Gomes' Reply.

Russian Officers Driven to Suicide—The Czar's Brother to Be Exiled—A Testimonial to Cardinal Manning—Hayti Insults a British Consul—Victorious Miners Indulge in a Celebration.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—Senhor Pimental has succeeded in composing a Ministry as follows: Premier and Minister of the Interior and ad interim Minister of War, Pimental; Minister of Justice, Loyronaz; Minister of Finance, Bianco; Minister of Marine, Arroyo; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Ribiero; Minister of Public Works, Aronca.

The Continental press, without exception, condemns the course of England in dealing with Portugal, and openly accuse the British Government of having, after the manner of a freebooter, arrested from a helpless power territory, her right to which she dared not submit to arbitration.

The Goverment sent a circular note to the Powers relative to the dispute with England. It alleges that England did not wait for the reply of Senhor Gomes of Jan. 10 to the note of Lord Salisbury, but submitted her ultimatum on mere reports that Major Serpa Pinto had disobeyed the telegraphic orders sent him by the Portuguese Government in compliance with the wishes of Lord Salisbury.

Russian Officers Commit Suicide.

ST PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—Colonel Voleikoff, of the Czar's bodyguard, and several other officers suspected of plotting against the life of the Emperor, have committed suicide. It is stated that a brother of the Czar will shortly be banished from the capital for meddling in political affairs.

Victorious Strikers Celebrating.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Experience of Engineer Curren in the Baltimore Steamer Fire.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 16.—A peculiar incident connected with the elevator fire was the remarkable escape of Robert Curren, the chief engineer of the English steamship Sacrobosco, who was reported to be missing.

About noon Curren made his appearance at the office of the Furness Company, and had some difficulty in making his comrades believe that he was not a ghost. When the fire broke out on the steamship Curren was below, and the smoke not only prevented his reaching the deck but forced him to seek refuge further down. He finally got to the manhole in the keel of the boat.

Here he was overcome by the smoke and lost consciousness. There he lay all night while the fire was raging fiercely throughout the ship above him. When he recovered consciousness in the morning he found himself covered with the debris which had fallen all about him. He finally succeeded in making his way out, and returned to the world without even having his whiskers singed. The two other members of the crew supposed to have been burned or drowned are still missing. They are John White, fireman, and Charles Johnson, sailor.

ANCIENT ASTROLOGERS.

Some of the Wonderful Tricks Performed by the Wonderful Men.

"I believe," said Charles I, shortly before his death, "that Lilly understands astrology as well as any man in Europe." The reference was to William Lilly, who was well born and received a good education, but who finally entered London with but a few shillings in his pocket and had to earn his living by his wits. He obtained employment and for a time did well, but in 1864 his wife, real or alleged, died, leaving him a collection of sigils and charms, which she professed to have received in a very remarkable manner, some through the agency of Dr. Forman. The legacy proved a curse, for Lilly soon left his work and applied himself to the study of astrology under the guidance of one Master Evans. This individual is described as poor, ignorant, boastful, drunken and knavish, but he was credited with power to call up spirits, restore stolen property and discover secrets.

Lilly made considerable progress under this not very desirable tutor and soon began to claim supernatural power for himself. In 1646 he printed a collection of prophecies which he called "Aquila; or, The White King's Prophecy." This attracted great attention and encouraged him to further literary effort. On one occasion about this time Lilly and a fellow astrologer named Booker were summoned to the headquarters to Gen. Fairfax. The men were held in much esteem at the time, and their journey to Windsor was frequently interrupted by presentations of addresses. The general himself in saluting his guests said they sought not themselves, but the welfare and tranquility of the good people and whole nation, and for that end were resolved to sacrifice both their lives and their fortunes. As for the art they studied, he himself understood it not, but doubted not they both feared God, and he therefore had a good opinion of them both.

Lilly made very large sums out of his astrology business, and was always prepared to prove, first, that every prophecy he made was fulfilled, and second, that he had foretold every event. Some of his almanac predictions were marvels of obscurity, and were so general in their character that they could safely be applied to any subsequent event. Three years before Charles was beheaded Lilly wrote that "before long" a king would die. When the king was beheaded Lilly thanked God for having allowed him to foretell the event. When his second wife died he gave expression to no feelings of grief, explaining that he mourned when the future was revealed to him. The horoscope showed him his third wife and his period of widowerhood was very brief. He claimed to have foretold the restoration of Charles II, the plague and fire of London, and, indeed, nearly every event of his time. Finally Lilly went into the country and worked up a large practice as a faith healing physician.

Among those disconcerted by Lilly's assumption of power and his unmitigated impudence was one William Hodges, a country schoolmaster with a great reputation for being able to read future happenings in the glass. For a long time Hodges honored the man; then he maligned him, and finally he admitted that Lilly could do more with the stars than he could with the crystal. Hodges professed to have frequent interviews with the Angel Gabriel, Raphael and Aries, and his only regret was that he could not predict many victories for the royalists, with whom he very heartily sympathized. One John Scott, in the employ of Lilly, once spent a few days with Hodges. The latter produced his favorite glass, and Scott, looking into it said:

"I see a ruddy complexioned wench in a red waistcoat, drawing a can of beer."

"She will be your wife," cried Hodges.

"You are mistaken, sir," rejoined Scott. "So soon as I come to London I am engaged to marry a tall gentlewoman in the Old Bailey."

"You will marry the red woman," replied Hodges with an air of imperturbable assurance, which subsequent events amply justified. When Scott arrived at the Old Bailey he found that the tall gentlewoman had taken to herself another husband. Two years later he was traveling in Kent and called at a wayside hostelry for light refreshments. The young lady who brought in his crust of bread and piece of cheese and the tankard of home brewed ale was conspicuous for having red hair and a red waistcoat, and was the original of the picture he had seen in the glass. The sequel may be imagined.

Another story about Hodges shows how implicitly his neighbors believed in him. One of those neighbors lost his horse and consulted the astrologer. Hodges consulted the glass, said he could see the horse at a certain place and demanded his fee. The neighbor went as directed and found his horse. Subsequently he planned a joke on Hodges. Leaving his horse in charge of a boy, he visited the astrologer and told him he had not recovered the horse. Hodges exposed the trick and added: "Now, you have lost your horse and will never see it again." "Neither boy nor horse," says Hodges' biographer, "was ever seen again."

Lilly seems to have had several partners at various stages of his career. One of these was the John Scott already mentioned, and whose great forte was finding lost bodies or treasures by aid of divining rods. There was a great deal of talk at the time about a treasure having been buried in the cloister at Westminster Abbey, and, the requisite permission having been obtained, Scott went to work to find it. Lilly was present in the capacity of general adviser and he gives a full account of the proceedings. The regulation hazel rods were placed round about the cloister and those on the west side turned one over the other, "a proof," according to Lilly, "that the treasure was hid there." Sure enough, after digging down six feet, a coffin was found, but for some reason it was not opened. The investigation was continued until a terrific wind arose, frightening the searchers almost out of their lives. The candles and torches all went out, the rods refused to work and there were various evidences of the presence of demons. The work had to be hurriedly abandoned for fear that "most part of the abbey church would blow down."—Exchange.

A new substitute for coffee may turn up in a berry known as "gaertnera." The British consul at Reunion says that at one time he has received many letters from merchants in England asking for information respecting a shrub then called "mussaenda," the discovery of which, it had been said in some commercial journals, would deal a severe blow to the coffee and chicory trade. About two years ago a rumor was spread that the berry of this shrub could be advantageously employed as a substitute for coffee and chicory. It grows to about ten feet high, has very few leaves and its branches are wide apart. The berries do not grow all along the branches, as is the case with coffee, but in bunches at their extremities.

Frogs are improving with the rest of the world, and are evidently developing a capability for turning the tables on their persecutors. One of the frogs put into the snake cage at the Worcester (Mass.) Natural History museum to be swallowed, turned swallower and "absorbed" so much black snake that the latter died after being pulled from the fighting frog.

In the northwestern part of Kansas the snow fall is unprecedented, and in the town of Hiawatha all travel is stopped except in beaten paths. Railroads have met with much trouble, not only from the snow, but from tracks being damaged by high water.

Diphtheria in a malignant form has broken out in Pittston, Pa., and vicinity and threatens to work terrible ravages unless its grip is soon broken. There have been over ten deaths from this cause during the past week. Jacob Sherrer, a prominent citizen, has lost three children and four others of his family are lying dangerously ill from the same disease. Theodore Britigan, a merchant, has lost two and Thomas Berryman has also buried two.

Spider Weir's Lame Excuse.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Ike Weir takes his defeat very badly. Since his arrival here he has indulged in debaucheries of all kinds. The fight was postponed several times because he was not in condition to go into the ring. Several weeks ago he injured his hand with a shot gun. He made this an excuse for postponements, but the surgeon of the club decided that the wound was healed before he went into the ring. Weir now says that his wrist was powerless and that the pain of it sickened him.

ON A DESERT ISLAND

Thrilling Experience of Seven Shipwrecked Sailors.

A BRAVE MAN'S DARING FEAT.

Scaling a Rock With a Rope Just as the Vessel Foundered.

Landing in the Devil's Den and Living a Week on an Uninhabited Island—Life Sustained on a Few Crackers Taken from the Wreck—Rescued by a Volunteer Crew.

ROCKLAND, Me., Jan. 16.—The schooner Ida Grove, Captain Hiram Smith, arrived here from Martinicus with a crew of six men of the schooner D. Sawyer, of Jonesport, wrecked on Seal Island, near Martinicus.

The Sawyer was homeward bound from New York, light. In attempting to head off shore in the thick snow storm on Friday the vessel went ashore on Seal Island.

The place where she struck is one of the most dangerous on the coast, being a narrow hole in the cliffs, known as Devil's Den.

As soon as she struck she began to break up. One of the crew succeeded in scaling the cliff which towered above the masts, shutting the vessel in, and secured a rope at the top by which the crew escaped, taking only 50 crackers, which were in the galley.

The island is uninhabited, but the men found a fisherman's camp which they occupied, they portioned off the crackers, three a day for each man, and helped out their bill of fare by digging mussels at low tide.

The cliff the sailor climbed is 75 feet high, a sheer blank wall with but few chances for foothold.

It is thought a wonderful feat. The vessel disappeared just as the last sailor reached the top of the cliff.

It was the only avenue of escape. Their signals of distress were seen early yesterday morning, and they were rescued, although with difficulty, as they were exhausted and nearly frozen.

They are being taken care of here. All they owned went down with their vessel.

CONVICTS ON STRIKE.

They Object to the Yarn Used in Making Stockings.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 16.—About 13 prisoners in the Montgomery County Jail struck against the cops yarn, which has been used in stocking making for some time past.

Each prisoner was required to make 18 pairs of stockings a day and receive six cents a dozen for all extra work. They claim that the cops yarn is so poor that they cannot make any extra work, and demand that cone yarn be submitted. They have been growling for some time, and to-day took advantage of the warden's absence, due to the grip.

The cops yarn comes from Plattes & Co., of Manayunk, and the Norristown Hosiery Company, which takes the product of the jail, claims it is the best yarn of its grade to be obtained.

A Local Political Sensation.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 16.—The Grand Jury has summoned the election officers of Precinct A to appear before it and testify in regard to the disappearance of 41 ballots from a package of 1,500 sent by the Secretary of State to town Clerk Prentice, before the last election. When the package was delivered to the precinct officers the seal was broken, and 41 ballots were gone. Mr. Prentice in an interview denies all knowledge of the affair. The matter is a local political sensation.

Strikers and Bosses Firm.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 16.—President Gardiner, of the Manufacturers' Association, denies the rumor that the combination is weakening or that there is any probability of their yielding to the striking shoemakers. The workmen are also firm. They claim that higher wages are paid elsewhere, and they want a committee of business men to investigate and report if their claim is not correct.

Mass Meeting of Workingmen.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—A large mass meeting of carpenters, at which other trades were also represented, adopted resolutions favoring a reduction in hours, an increase in pay, and the abolition of piece work. The meeting was called in pursuance of the eight-hour agitation recommended by the International Workingmen's Congress at Paris last summer.

The Worcester Will be Floated.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 16.—Captain Ward of the stranded steamer City of Worcester came ashore for the first time since the accident, and confirmed the statement that the vessel will be floated safely unless some unexpectedly bad weather occurs. The leaks are nearly all stopped and the big pumps will be started to-day.

No Trouble on the Central.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—General Superintendent Toucey of the New York Central Railroad said to-day that no notice had been received by the management of any trouble of discontent among the engineers and firemen on the portion of the road between New York and Syracuse as reported. No grievance was known to exist, and no strike was expected.

An Irish Editor Sentenced.

DUBLIN, Jan. 16.—Edward Walsh, the Mayor of Wexford and proprietor of the Wexford People, has been sentenced to prison for two months for publishing a boycott notice.

LOCKWOOD'S FORGERIES.

They are Very Extensive and His Old Father Ruined.

ROXBURY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The extent of the forgeries of Snyder Lockwood, of Shehan, is far greater than was supposed. Dispatches received from various sections of the Catskills, where Lockwood has been doing business, greatly increase the amount. It is thought that his entire liabilities of nearly $30,000 is for money borrowed on forged commercial paper.

One of the worst features of Lockwood's crime is the ruination of his aged father, whose name he so extensively used. No criminal action has yet been taken against Lockwood who is still confined to his bed. His sickness is not regarded as serious.

It is said that he has spent a great deal of money in buying lottery tickets.

MUST STAND TRIAL.

Gov. Hill Willing to Surrender Several Fugitistic Sports.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Gov. Hill has temporarily revoked the warrant for Johnson, Harding and Wakely as accessories in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, but decides that Muldoon, Donovan, Murphy, Cleary and Butler must be taken to Mississippi in pursuance of Gov. Lowry's requisition. If the Governor of Mississippi thinks the first three can be convicted, after reading their affidavits, they will be surrendered.

In Inspector Byrnes' Custody.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Wm. E. Harding, Wm. Muldoon, Jim Wakeley, Mike Cleary and Mike Donovan, wanted in Mississippi for participation in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, were taken into custody by Inspector Byrnes, on the ground that Justice Hogan had no authority to release them on bail.

They applied for bail to Recorder Smyth, through their counsel, Judge Mitchell. The Recorder decided that as they were held on a requisition bail could not be accepted.

Next Judge Mitchell had the prisoners in the Superior Court on a writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Dugro compromised matters by remanding the men to the custody of Inspector Byrnes until to-morrow, when the writ will be argued.

SULLIVAN'S PRICE.

He Will Fight for $25,000 After the Mississippi Trouble is Settled.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—John L. Sullivan received a telegram from President Fulda, of the California Athletic Club, offering a purse of $15,000 for a fight between Sullivan and Jackson.

Sullivan displayed some impatience. He said the club knew he would make no arrangements until he got out of the Mississippi trouble. He also said he had been offered as high as $30,000 for a fight, but as this was a very good club he would go to them for $25,000, but not a cent less. The club would also have to change some of its rules if they wanted him.

Tried to Save His Son from Prison.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 16.—The trial of Gilman P. Robinson, ex-Register of Brown University, has been continued to the March term, on the representation of the defendant's counsel that he has not had time to examine the books. It was brought out in the argument that ex-President Robinson paid the trustees $15,000 to cover the alleged shortage in his son's accounts.

Strike in a Leather Factory.

WOBURN, Mass., Jan. 16.—Twenty-four setters in the leather factory of Beggs & Cobb have struck. Some time since the men were doing 178 sides at $10 per week but agreed to do 200 sides a week by working overtime receiving $11.27. The firm notified them yesterday that 200 sides would be expected without extra pay. The other operatives will be effected by the strike.

Working for Johnstown.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The Johnstown Commission is discussing to-day the erection of staunch bridges, the erection of a hospital, and arrangements with the Girard Trust Company for establishing an Orphans' Annuity Fund, by which all orphans by the flood will receive $50 a year until 16 years of age. The commission's balance is about $200,000.

Accused Powderly of Theft.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—Thomas Barry, Grand Secretary of the Brotherhood of United Laborers, arrived here last night. In the course of his remarks he charged Powderly with having stolen $22,000 from the order. His remarks caused a row, in which Mortimer D. Shaw drew a revolver and chased Frank Witt, secretary of District Assembly No. 17, from the hall.

The Conemaugh at Flood Height.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 16.—The waters in the Conemaugh River and Stoney Creek are again at flood height. The Cambria City bridge is in danger of being swept away. The lower part of Millville, near the stone bridge, is under water, and the occupants are preparing to move.

Subway Explosion in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Another subway explosion occurred last night, the manhole covers on Sixth avenue at 16th and 17th streets being blown up. It is thought that electric light wire in the conduit became crossed, and that a spark ignited gas which had leaked into the subway. No one was injured.

Injured by a Boiler Explosion.

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Jan. 16.—The boiler of a steam shovel used on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad, at Fallston, exploded, and Wesley Francis and Benjamin Jackson were fatally injured. Ten more employes were seriously hurt.

HE DIED SUDDENLY

Walker Blaine's Illness Terminates Fatally.

HIS DEATH DUE TO LA GRIPPE.

It Developed Into Pneumonia and Baffled Washington's Best Physicians.

President and Mrs. Harrison Arrived Just Before the End Came—A Severe Blow to Secretary Blaine—Regret at the Capital Over the Young Man's Death—A Sketch of His Career.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Walker Blaine, the eldest son of Secretary of State J. G. Blaine, and Solicitor of the State Department, died at 8 o'clock last night of acute pneumonia, in the 35th year of his age. Around his death-bed were Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, his two brothers, Emmons and James, and Miss Dodge.

Mr. Blaine was taken ill with a cold at his office in the State Department on last Friday morning, and was so much indisposed that he never came to his office afterward. At first it was thought that he had only the prevailing influenza, but his cold developed into pneumonia which rapidly became worse. He was not, however, thought to be in a critical condition until yesterday morning, when his symptoms would not yield to treatment.

Walker Blaine was graduated from Yale College in 1876, and, studying law, received his diploma from Columbia College, New York, in 1878. In 1881, while General Garfield was on his death-bed, he sent for Walker Blaine and appointed him Third Assistant Secretary of State, saying that he appreciated his ability and desired to show it. After serving in this capacity very acceptably for nearly a year he was appointed on the Alabama Claims commission, where he served with great credit from 1882 to 1885. On the advent of the present administration he was appointed Solicitor of the State Department, a position which he has also filled with great credit and ability.

Mr. Blaine was of frank and genial disposition, a man of magnetism and ability, and was personally popular with all with whom he came in contact, socially or in business matters.

The President and Mrs. Harrison called at the house just before the end came, and Mr. Morton, Senator Hale and members of the Cabinet called soon after.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, but the burial will probably be at Augusta, where he was born.

Messages of condolence have been pouring in upon the Secretary. All testify to the esteem in which his favorite son was held.

Mr. Walker Blaine's death will be a great shock to the social and political circles of the city. He was a widely and justly popular young man. He inherited to a great degree his father's genial and tactful disposition. He was the Secretary's chosen friend and confidant. The relations between the two were more like those of devoted brothers than of father and son. Mr. Blaine the elder, whether walking or driving about the city, was of late seldom seen except in his son's company.

Appointed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The President has sent to the Senate a long list of nominations for postmasters, among them the following: Connecticut—Morris Drew, Ansonia; Silas K. Montgomery, Bristol; J. C. McKinney, Hartford; W. B. Hall, Wallingford. Massachusetts—F. P. Howard, Waltham; S. R. Moseley, Hyde Park; C. F. Holman, Milbury. New Jersey—E. M. Fleming, Belvidere; G. H. Tice, Perth Amboy. Pennsylvania—J. A. Fielder, Belleport. New York—C. H. McNaughton, Schuylersville; W. A. Crandall, Cazenovia; Sarah L. Christie, Nyack; H. H. Bailey, Norwood; S. P. Arnold, Gowanda.

Sullivan Will Run for Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Congressman O'Neil, one of the two Democratic members from Boston, is authority for the statement that John L. Sullivan will surely run for Congress next fall. Mr. O'Neil says that Sullivan told him recently that he would not run in his (O'Neil's) district, but would go in and beat John F. Andrew, because Andrew is a "d—d Democratic mugwump."

Clover Club Banquet To-Night.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Under the chaperonage of Moses P. Handy, the President of the Clover Club, of Philadelphia, a party of well-known men left Washington on a special car attached to the 10:40 Pennsylvania train this morning to attend the annual dinner of the club to be given in Philadelphia to-night.

Libel Suit by DeLancey Nicoll.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Leander Richardson, editor of the Dramatic News, has been arrested, charged with libelling DeLancey Nicoll, the lawyer, by printing a statement that Mr. Nicoll had been seen riding in a carriage on Long Island with Mrs. J. G. Blaine, Jr., and with his arm around the lady's waist. Mr. Nicoll pronounced the story false in every particular.

Colonel Clark Declines.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Col. Emmons Clark has declined the appointment of Street Cleaning Commissioner. Mr. Coleman has vacated the office.

Earthquake Shock in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 16.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 6:4 last evening. No alarm was caused by the disturbance.

—The many housekeepers of this city who always want Erwin Waters to wait on them, will find that he has left Coriell's and is now at the "People's" market corner of Park avenue and Second street.

—One of our local merchants offers club skates at fifty per cent. reduction, and another is offering straw hats at reduced rates. Before long it will be in order to advertise fans and linen dusters "at a bargain."

—Mr. A. D. VanSciver, of No. 47 North avenue, announces a big reduction in prices, in his stock of fine wall papers. He is also making specially low estimates in papering, painting and shading. A glance at his advertisement in another column will tell the whole story.

—A correspondent requests us to state that a certain colored woman, who resides on Third street, went before his Honor, Judge Codington, a few days ago, "for the purpose of retracting an abusive and insulting letter sent to Mrs. Louis Peterson, of East Third street."

—The Rev. W. C. Snodgrass of the Hedding M. E. church, Jersey City, who made so favorable an impression at the conference in this city last Spring, will lecture in Vincent chapel, to-morrow evening, on "A Love That Comes Too Late." Admission will be free, and all are welcome.

A Good Woman Entered Into Rest.

The funeral of the late Althea DeCamp, which occurred at Chester, Morris Co., N. J., Thursday, January 9, was largely attended, a number of friends and acquaintances of deceased from this city attending.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Brewster, of Chester, who, in his remarks, paid glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. DeCamp—her Christian fortitude and precepts; her charitableness in life; her love as a mother and wife and her worth as a friend. With moist eyes the assembled friends and relatives listened to the remarks of the able divine, who knew deceased so well in life, and who so ably eulogised her in death. The remains were interred in the family burial plot at Chester.

La Grippe.

That troublesome malady known as "la grippe" still holds its own in this city, as indeed it does throughout the country. In the cities last week there were many deaths from it, and there were several in this vicinity. Many victims have suffered a relapse, which all authorities argee is liable to occur repeatedly but each time with less violence. Let us hope that the malady may speedily pack its "grip" and skip the country.

Special Reduced Rates.

The Central railroad on its Bound route to Trenton has made special reduced excursion rates to Trenton for the inauguration of Governor Leon Abbett which will take place on Tuesday, January 21. Special excursion tickets from this city to Trenton will be sold from 12 noon January 20, to 12 noon January 21 at $1.34. Tickets will be good to return until January 22.

WRECK AT GRANT AVENUE.

Twenty Empty Coal Cars Wrecked and Splintered Up, And Thirty More Disabled—All Broken Wheels Caused the Accident.

A bad wreck occurred on the New Jersey Central Railroad at Grant avenue, at one o'clock this afternoon, which resulted in the total destruction of twenty empty coal cars, and the disabling of thirty more.

At that hour, Central Engine No. 367, of the camel-back pattern, passed through this city, drawing a heavy train of empty coal cars. When about 50 yards East of Grant avenue, a broken wheel on one of the forward cars caused the car to jump the track, carrying nine others with it. The derailed cars ran along over the sleepers for fully 100 yds., to a point West of the station, where they were piled up promiscuously and wrecked.

The sudden stopping of the train wrecked ten other cars, fully half a train's length in the rear. These cars were thrown on the trestle and piled up down the embankment directly in the rear of Kline & Staats lumber yard, making two distinct wrecks.

Besides the wrecked cars already referred to, thirty additional cars had their journals or wheel boxes torn away. Fortunately all of the wrecked cars were thrown clear of the main tracks, and in consequence travel was but little delayed. A wrecking crew came up from Elizabeth, but up to the hour of going to press, but little progress had been made at the wreck.

The company's loss will aggregate several thousand dollars.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

By the re-election of Assessor Isaac Brokaw, of North Plainfield, to the Commandership of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., the post has for the first time in its history, elected a commander for two consecutive terms. Mr. Brokaw is to be congratulated for his popularity and efficiency.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Angleman, of No. 17 Berckman street, will celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary by holding a wooden wedding at their home, on the evening of Tuesday, January 21. Invitations have been sent out to the relatives and near friends of the host and hostess, and a pleasant time is predicted for those who attend.

Their Charter Draped in Mourning.

At a regular meeting of Ivanhoe Council, No. 1074, American Legion of Honor, the death of our late companion, Charles P. Tyrrell, was announced and the following resolutions were adopted and ordered published in both daily papers of this city:

WHEREAS: In the Providence of an All Wise God, a deep affliction has been visited upon our Council, in the calling home of our beloved and esteemed companion, Charles P. Tyrrell, therefore be it;

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the family of our deceased companion in their sad bereavement and commend them to the tender mercy of Him who was "a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief;" to Him who doth not willingly afflict but who "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That the charter of this Council be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days in memory of our beloved companion.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes of this Council and a copy of the same be forwarded to the bereaved family of our deceased companion.

An Alleged Prize Fight.

It is reported that a prize fight took place in the vicinity of Front and Grove streets, late on Saturday night, between a light and heavy weight. Each man, it is said, selected a second, and at the end of eight hard fought rounds, the fight was decided a draw.

"Do You Think He's a Goner?"

An unusual story is told in conection with the death of the late Romeo Lascales, the Frenchman who died on Monday, and whose funeral took place from his late quarters on Fourth street yesterday afternoon.

When the man was at the point of death on Monday, two men were sent from a livery stable with a carriage to convey the dying man to Muhlenberg Hospital. When they arrived at the house, they found the man lying on the floor, almost destitute of clothing. The man was breathing his last, and the two liverymen refused to move him without an order from a physician. Mrs. Lascales was about the house attending to her duties, and presently she remarked to the two men: "Do you think he's a goner?" then bending over the prostrate form of her husband, she raised his head and said: "Wake up, deary, I've got a nice porterhouse steak for you." The man died soon afterward.

Lascales was a peculiar individual. It is said that he was well educated and was a fluent talker on almost any subject. He was also a good penman, but in spite of all these good qualifications, only eked out a miserable existence. The dead man was buried in the Methodist cemetery.

Injured at the Potter Press Works.

Edward Birmingham, an employee of the Potter Press Works, was seriously injured while at work in the machine shop, yesterday afternoon, and it is feared that the accident will result in the loss of the unfortunate man's left leg.

Birmingham was employed as a helper about the shop, when in some unexplained manner a 1,500 pound iron casting fell on his leg, crushing the latter in a frightful manner.

The injured man was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, where Dr. Tobasco found upon hasty examination that the leg had been fractured in at least eight places. The medical staff of the hospital will hold a consultation this afternoon, to decide whether it will be necessary to amputate the leg in order to save the man's life.

Birmingham is a married man and the father of a large family. He was for a long time employed as coachman by ex-Councilman W. R. Potts.

THOSE WESTFIELD ROWDIES.

The Central Railroad Should be Petitioned to Refuse Them Commutation Tickets.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: — I have read the communication in Tuesday's PRESS signed "Victim," making reference to the actions of a "gang" of young rowdies who live at Westfield, make themselves obnoxious to passengers on trains of the C. R. R., and prove a disgrace to the town from which they hail.

On Tuesday evening's train from New York., I witnessed just such a disgraceful scene perpetrated by these young Westfielders, presumably of the same gang. Knowing very well that the train was crowded, they endeavored to use four seats for the purpose of resting their feet, and when a man, old enough to be the father of any of them, entered the car and tried to take one of the seats, his action was met by a shower of abuse. One of the rowdies actually had the audacity to use his feet in trying to prevent the new comer from occupying the seat.

How this man ever possessed patience enough to ride as far as Elizabeth without resenting their insulting remarks is, to me, a wonder. As it was their abuse continued until the gentleman found an opportunity to secure another seat, and when at last Westfield was reached, one of the young scamps called out upon leaving the train, "We'll lick you to-morrow night, old man."

The writer has been a commuter for several years, and has always found the passengers between this station and Jersey City, a peaceable, agreeable and gentlemanly lot, but this intrusion on the part of the Westfield youth should not be passed unnoticed.

By giving the above space in your bright and lively paper you will receive the appreciation of

AN EYE WITNESS.

Much Depends on the Lawyers.

The Hyde-French controversy before Vice Chancellor Bird, if decided upon testimony, will probably be decided upon the testimony alone of thoroughly disinterested witnesses.

Messrs French and Tier don't want to lower the dam, else the latter would have a field of less ice to cut, and the former would not have the depth that is so convenient for filling his watering carts; while on the other side of the case, Mr. Hyde is just as personally concerned and equally as biased.

The result of the contest will be awaited with interest, as much depends entirely upon the sagacity and skill of the opposing counsel—Craig A. Marsh and Charles A. Reed.

Changes in Realty.

So far this year changes in real estate have been made in North Plainfield, as follows:

January 3—J. B. Mills et ux. to C. H. Mills, lot in North Plainfield, $1,300. W. J. Pearson et al. to R. H. McCulloch, lot in North Plainfield, $400.

January 6.—Isaac Brokaw et ux. to W. R. Cain, property in North Plainfield, $800.

January 7—P. H. Heideloff et ux. to N. H. Heideloff, property in Plainfield and North Plainfield, $1,000.

January 9—D. C. Adams et ux. to Eliza Ann Parse, half interest in property in North Plainfield, $125. E. A. Parse and Carmon Parse to Mary Adams Lee, lots in North Plainfield, $1,500.

Wetumpka Lodge.

No. 3401, Knights of Honor, will hold a regular meeting in the lodge room, corner of Park avenue and Front street, this evening. The lodge already has a membership of 69, and with the admission this evening of Messrs Elmer E. Runyon and David K. Sutphen, of Plainfield, Eaton McL. Kempshall, of Fanwood, and James H. Harrold, P. M., of Dunellen, the membership will reach 73. This shows industry, perseverance and push on the part of the workers in the lodge.

Down Go the Pins.

The Crescent League bowlers are rolling up some big scores in practice games. Monday evening W. R. Codington made a record in the contest for the silver cup, of 206. This was surpassed the next day by Littell, who rolled 211 with six strikes, three spares and one break. But on the following afternoon, J. J. Kenny with eight strikes, one spare and one break, put up 228.

Exactly So.

The Central Times, Plainfield's only Republican paper, says:

"President Moffett, the democratic head of the republican common council, pleased his party in making up the council committees. Well, why not?

"No one can blame the democrats of the council for getting all they can out of the opportunity given them in the peculiar organization of that body."

The Somerville Messenger says: "A servant girl recently employed in Somerville, while on a visit to Plainfield, died from la grippe and was buried in the Potter's field."

RUMORS OF THE ROAD.

New Rolling Stock for the Central—Completing the Four Tracks—Color Blindness Reduces Engineers to Yardmen.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has ordered five new passenger engines, eleven consolidated freight engines from the Baldwin Locomotive Works; 250 box cars, 500 hopper cars of 50,000 pounds capacity and 100 of 60,000 pounds capacity, and twenty-five passenger coaches from the Pullman shops.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey is making its four-track system between Jersey City and Bound Brook as complete as possible, by replacing some of the old double-track bridges with four-track bridges. One was built at Passaic some time ago, and the next one will be built at the Point of Rocks. The long double-track trestlework across Newark Bay will probably not be changed.

Several months ago the engineers on every division of the Central RR. of New Jersey had their eyes tested. Half a dozen men on the Lehigh and Susquehanna division were made firemen or yardmen because they were found to be color blind. They complained to the Grievance Committee of their division of the Brotherhood. The committee asked the general superintendent to reinstate the men as engineers. The conference was amicable, and the committee was brought to see that the rule incapacitating engineers for service who were color blind was a proper one, and necessary for the protection of the company.

Literary Note.

The amateur editor (and he has been at the helm of many recent ventures in periodical literature) has one favorite way of swamping his periodical. He thinks he knows the value of names, and so simply engages men of literary note to send him anything they choose. But big names are only a guarantee of excellence and if the guarantee obviously fails—if the authors engaged do not send in excellent matter—the public is quick to recognize the failure.

Good matter readable, striking, original, novel in idea and in method—that is what the public wants, whether it comes from an old established name or from a new one. And it is on this principle that the Illustrated American—the new journal soon to be launched in New York and Chicago—will be conducted. Its matter will be chosen with regard to its intrinsic excellence. It will keep an eye ever open to the clever young people who will furnish the famous names of the future; it will seek to foster and promote the best interests of American literature; and, above all, it will attempt to make a paper where every article and short or serial story will be readable and entertaining. While great names will be welcomed, the greatest will not find admittance when his article does not contain these prime requisites.

"The King's Fool."

Next Monday evening this opera will be produced for the first time in this city. Apart from the tuneful music, the plot is highly interesting, and the principal parts are sung by four prima donnas and four artists of reputation.

The chorus numbering fifty it is reported, both male and female voices, THE PRESS is told is composed of young and graceful persons, with good voices, and all were engaged by Mr. Conried for special fitness of the part assigned to them. The Vienna lady fencers are a feature in the opera, and cannot fail to interest many of the fair sex. Their work is performed with a grace and so scientific as to delight alike those who know and those who do not know anything about fencing. Their engagement was purely accidental and they accepted Mr. Conried's offer more as a means to see this country than for any mercenary purpose. A critic made the remark in an exchange: "The march in the third act has many new figures, and was so well executed as to win hearty applause from the most hardened theatre-goers, who have for the last twenty years seen marches ad nauseum."

Unitarian Trustees.

(From the Central Times.)

The annual business meeting of the Unitarian church was held on Monday evening. The members of the old board of trustees were re-elected. They are: Job Male, H. B. Wells, Mrs. D. W. Pond, Mrs. R. C. Leonard, C. W. Opdyke, H. B. Nichols, G. D. Patten. The success of the church during the few months of its history was commented upon by D. W. Pond, who congratulated the society upon surpassing in its prosperity even some of the missions founded in New England, the seat of Unitarianism.

An Interesting Case.

A case of particular interest to men who insure their lives for the benefit of their wives, was recently decided in St. Louis. The case was one in which a man had taken out such a policy. His wife died and he married again—having children by both marriages. At his death a dispute arose as to who was entitled to the insurance. The decision of the Court was that, as the insurance was taken out for the benefit of the first wife, her children alone were entitled to the money.

Catarrh

Is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

ENGLAND'S MISTAKE

A Belief that Portugal Was Unfairly Treated.

SALISBURY RECEIVES A HINT

The Portuguese Trouble May Lead to Republican Activity.

Agitation in Lisbon Over the Arrival of the British Fleet in the Tagus—A Report that the Czar is Insane—Emin Pasha Dangerously Ill—An Irish Editor Sentenced.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—It is stated that several eminent European statesmen have, in a friendly manner, expressed to Lord Salisbury their fears that England's action in the Portuguese dispute will be made a pretext for republican activity in Spain and Portugal, which will endanger the thrones at Madrid and Lisbon.

The Queen Dowager of Portugal has resolved to implore the influence of her brother, King Humbert, of Italy, in behalf of Portugal.

The King in a manifesto declares that he has yielded to England under protest, out of a desire to avert bloodshed and save Portugal's colonial possessions, which England could seize in event of war.

Portugal's appeal to the Continental powers for justice is taking effect, although slowly, owing to their hesitation in interfering with a power like England, with whom all are on good terms. Portugal has the unreserved sympathy of France and Spain.

There is an enormous agitation here because of an announcement in the papers of the arrival of the British fleet in the Tagus and the departure of Mr. Glynn Petre, the British Minister tomorrow. Nothing is known of this at the British Legation.

STRONG ANTI-ENGLISH.

Portugal's New Ministry Not Favorable to Great Britain.

LISBON, Jan. 16.—The fact that the new Portuguese Ministry under Senhor Pimental is strongly anti-English is widely commented on and leads to general belief that the dispute between England and Portugal will shortly be reopened.

At 1 o'clock in the morning the police arrested seventy persons who were parading the streets and shouting "Down with England."

A Delagoa Bay despatch states that affairs there are quiet. Two Portuguese corvettes are at anchor in the harbor.

Owing to insubordination on the part of the colonial officers of the Portuguese Government in Africa, the newspapers predict it will be some time before the civil and military officials in Nyassaland can be prevailed upon to withdraw from their respective posts.

IS THE CZAR MAD?

A Report that He is Living in a Chronic State of Fear.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—There is a rumor current here, based, it is said, upon unquestionable authority in the Imperial Palace at St. Petersburg, that the Czar has gone insane, owing to the chronic state of fear in which he lives, and the events of the past three years.

The report has it that the physicians in attendance have grave fears that his case is incurable, as he at times becomes raving.

The Emperor's Speech.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The Emperor's speech at the opening of the Prussian Diet was devoted to proposed measures of internal reform, including an income tax, the acquisition of private railways by the State, and the establishment of leasehold estates for the benefit of small farmers. The Emperor expresses the hope that the understanding arrived at in regard to the miners' hours and wages will result in lasting peace between owners and operatives.

English Manufacturers Interested.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The testimony before the Congressional Committee of Ways and Means is followed with great interest by European manufacturers. They say, and probably with truth, that, owing to the United States consuls in Europe and the endless squabble about invoices, their business has been greatly damaged and any additional burden placed upon it would prove ruinous.

London's Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—In the Parke trial the Earl of Euston testified that, with the exception of the time when, in consequence of receiving the pose plastique card in Piccadilly, he visited Hammond's house and left it indignant on learning its true character, he was never in Cleveland street in his life. He did not know the witness Saul, and denied that he had made any of the visits to Hammond's house testified to by preceding witnesses.

Church and State.

ROME, Jan. 16.—The Pope has issued an encyclical which sets forth the principles which shall guide Catholics in their relations toward the State, which, the encyclical says, they must obey when such a course does not entail disobedience to divine laws. In countries where the State opposes Catholicism, Catholics must combat the enemy, but must not tie the Church to any political party.

Twelve Rescued Seamen Landed.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Twelve men who were rescued from the American bark Nordcap were landed at Dover yesterday. The bark was wrecked in the Atlantic during the recent heavy gales. The Nordcap was dismasted and lost her boats in a violent gale on January 3.

Brazil Disturbed.

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Advices from Brazil are disquieting. It is said that the brother of the present Minister of Agriculture, four ex-Ministers, three Senators and several deputies have been arrested as implicated in the recent attempted revolt.

Carlos Scheming.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Reports are in circulation here that Don Carlos is plotting an uprising. The pretender has had an interview here with his brother, Don Alfonso, for the purpose of agreeing upon a policy to be followed in case of the death of the King of Spain.

Emin Pasha Critically Ill.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 16.—Emin Pasha has sustained a relapse and is lying in a critical condition.

KILLED BY ELECTRICITY.

The First Victim in Hartford Died in Less Than Ten Minutes.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 16.—The electric wire has claimed its first victim in Hartford. Oscar Williams, an employe of the Cushman Chuck Works, was almost instantly killed. His death is the result of his own carelessness.

Along the west side of the factory run two wires of the Hartford Light and Power Company. These wires are so near a second story window that by bending out of the window one can reach down and grasp them. The workmen in the factory have been in the habit of thus reaching down and receiving slight shocks. The electric company found this out and sent a warning to the establishment, and Mr. Cushman forbid the practice.

It was a very wet day and insulation was almost useless. Williams went to the window, and leaning out, grasped the wires. He leaned over a steam-radiator and a circuit was formed. Instantly he uttered a piteous shriek and a blue smoke was seen rising from his body. The smoke blew in through the window. Two employes ran into the room, and, seizing the unfortunate man by the legs, pulled him by main force off the wires in through the window. He was unconscious and died in less than ten minutes. Two fingers of the right hand were burned to the bone. Death resulted from the shock.

Albert Hollister, who saw the whole thing, says Williams only grasped one wire and that his wet clothes—he had just been out in the rain—leaning against the iron steam radiator formed the circuit. The current was an alternating one of about 1,000 volts.

DAN COUGHLIN WEEPS.

He Says He is Innocent of the Crime for Which He is Suffering.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 16.—Coughlin, the Cronin convict, is all broke up. Since his arrival here he has been in such a state of distress, caused by weeping, that the prison physician allowed him to remain in his cell. He is, indeed, a pitiable object. He looks haggard, and his eyes are red and swollen from constant crying.

He pitifully says that he is the victim of ill-luck, that he blames no one in particular for his position, but that he is innocent of any connection with the crime for which he is suffering. He does not seem to place any hope in his attorney being able to do him any good in the future.

Miss McKissick Indignant.

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Miss Dora McKissick, the young woman who created considerable sternation among her friends here by suddenly disappearing, has been found. Miss McKissick had gone to Syracuse unexpectedly to visit friends, sending word by a special messenger as to her whereabouts. The messenger failed to perform his duty, hence the alarm of her friends. Miss McKissic returned to this city this forenoon and is greatly indignant because of the newspaper notoriety.

Sensational Testimony.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The testimony in the Mowatt will case before Judge Barnard was highly sensational. The plaintiff rested and John Hopper, Miss Mowatt's brother-in-law, was the first witness for the defense. He testified that the plaintiff, Miss Mowatt, admitted in his presence having occupied the same sleeping apartment with her brother James. Mrs. John Hopper testified to finding her sister, the plaintiff, and her brother in a compromising position.

Pitcher Clarkson's Views.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Pitcher Clarkson has returned to this city. He says the Boston Club people had paid $10,000 for his release from Chicago, and had always treated him fairly, and he should have felt in duty bound to communicate with them before deserting them for the Brotherhood. He thought his old league associates who had signed with the Brotherhood will learn before many months have passed that they have made a serious mistake.

Pugilists Classified as Vagrants.

BUFFALO, Jan. 16.—Under the city ordinance, which says that fighters and gamblers who have no visible means of support are vagrants, the police made a raid on the pugilistic fraternity. Among those arrested were "Reddy" Strauss, who fought a 35-round draw with Tom Cavanaugh, Saturday night, and Ike Farrell, who is matched to fight Kennard, the St. Paul "Kid," for a purse of $800. Farrell's friends are trying to clear him.

Overcome by Gas in Hoosac Tunnel.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Jan. 16.—Fifteen men were overcome by gas in Hoosac Tunnel, and several barely escaped suffocation. They were brought here and it is thought all will recover. The damp weather seems to interfere with the circulation of the air in the tunnel, making it dangerous for workmen to remain inside.

New Mills for Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 16.—The Kerr Company of New Jersey have announced that a three-story stone mill, 400 by 125 feet, will be built here in the spring, to manufacture its own yarn to spin cotton thread. The company has a capital stock of $1,000,000. It intends to erect three mills in all.

Hanged Himself in a Police Station.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 16.—Charles Best, a German tailor, committed suicide in a cell at the police station here by hanging himself with a handkerchief. He came to the station suffering from delirium tremens and asked for protection from men who, he imagined, were following him about. He leaves a young widow.

A Swindling Contractor.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 16.—A man named Cronin, who came here from Pawtucket as contractor for the brick work on the new rubber works, has left town without fully completing his work, leaving an indebtedness of several thousand dollars to various parties, including his help.

An Attempt to Wreck a Train.

AVON, Mass., Jan. 16.—An attempt was made to wreck a train leaving Boston at noon for Fall River. Ties were placed across the track between here and Montello, probably by tramps, but the engineer discovered the obstruction in time.

Talmage Prostrated.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmadge, the noted preacher, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is prostrated in this city with influenza.

Col. Jefferson Davis at Buena Vista.

As Col. Jefferson Davis charged the Indiana troops with cowardice at Buena Vista, it is interesting to recall the account written before any question could arise, that is, while Col. Davis was still a United States official—written for a northern periodical, Harper's Magazine:

"About 9 in the morning Pacheco's column debouched from a ravine and began to form coolly on a ridge of the plateau. Gen. Lane hastened forward, skirting the mountains with the Second Indiana volunteers and O'Brien's battery. At two hundred yards O'Brien opened with terrific effect; the close columns of the Mexicans were plowed by his shot. But the reply was steady and almost equally effective. Raked on the left by the 12-pounder battery, and assailed by a storm of bullets from the masses rising out of the ravine, the volunteers fell thickly round their colors, and, after some minutes, fled in spite of Lane's efforts to rally them. O'Brien was left almost alone with his guns. He fired one last discharge, then hastily limbering up, followed the flying infantry over the plateau. * * * To add to the danger, the Indiana regiment in its flight became entangled with the Arkansas volunteers, who caught the panic and fled likewise. However, nothing daunted, the Second Illinois, under Col. Bissell, received the Mexican fire, and returned it as fast as the men could load. * * *

"Meanwhile the lancers were driving the Indiana and Arkansas volunteers off the plateau, and cutting off the riflemen in the mountain from the main army. These, perceiving the danger, and trusting that the lancers would be checked by the Arkansas and Kentucky cavalry, toward which they were approaching, abandoned their position and came running down the mountain side, with a view of cutting their way back to the batteries. But the mounted volunteers made but a brief stand against the impetuous charge of the lancers, and Ampudia's light infantry no sooner saw the riflemen move than they followed close on their heels, firing as they went. The slaughter of our poor fellows was dreadful; the Texans were annihilated. In one confused mass, riflemen and volunteer cavalry, Arkansians and Kentuckians were driven back by the advancing columns of the enemy, and little was wanted to complete the rout. * * *

"Still the light infantry under Ampudia were pressing on by the left to the rear of Wood's position. Most providentially, at that moment Taylor arrived with Davis' Mississippi riflemen and May's dragoons. The former barely stopped an instant for the men to fill their canteens, then hastened to the field. Boiling with rage, Davis called on the Indiana volunteers to 'form behind that wall,' pointing to his men, and advance against their enemy. Their colonel, Bowles, the tears streaming down his face, finding all his appeals fruitless, seized a musket and joined the Mississippians as a private. Time could not be lost. Ampudia was close upon them. Davis formed and advanced with steady tread against a body more than five times his strength. A rain of balls poured upon the Mississippians, but no man pulled a trigger till sure of his mark. Then those deadly rifles blazed and stunned the Mexican advance. A ravine separated them from the enemy. Davis gave the word, and with a cheer down they rushed and up the other side; then forming hastily, with one awful volley they shattered the Mexican head and drove them back to cover."

Time was when sentences like these would have raised a storm of angry discussions in many states; but there has been a war since then which taught men of every state that panic seizes the bravest men under some circumstances.—J. B. P.

Wouldn't Salute the Emperor.

Two new details, one significant and the other amusing, are told in the French papers of the sojourn of William and the empress of Germany at Constantinople.

The highest dignitary of the Mussulman religion, Omer Lufiie, whom the sultan has elevated to the position of Sheik ul Islam, high priest and first dignitary of the Turkish church, refused to pay his respects to the imperial guest. No influence, not even the sultan's, could induce him to stay in the palace to receive the ruler of Germany and his wife. In vain did they quote to him passages from the Koran recommending hospitality to crowned heads; Omer Lufiie, who passes for the most learned man in the Mussulman world, quoted others which exempt from such obligation, and left the sultan's palace to shut himself up in his own with his very black wife. He did not again make his appearance in the city until after the departure of the emperor and empress.

While the empress was in the city she paid three visits to the sultan's seraglio. On each occasion all the white slaves of the sultan received her with music and singing, and two young daughters of the sultan, one 12 years and the other 9, played some Strauss waltzes for her. On her last visit the elder of the young girls, to entertain her, said that she knew how to recite verses very well, and, the empress assenting, she began to recite, to the great astonishment of the German, some verses from Hugo. The empress, putting the best face on the matter she could, applauded the young girl and then said:

"You don't know German, then?"

"I do," spoke up the younger daughter. "I know Schiller's 'Bell' by heart, but it is so hard to pronounce! You would be very kind, madame, if you were to give me a lesson in pronunciation."

And thereupon the empress and the young girl tried a mutual exercise in German pronunciation.

"Decidedly," said the child at last, with all the crudity of her age, "I prefer French: don't you, madame?"—Kansas City Times.

A Valuable Pigeon.

During the Knights Templar conclave last October a gentleman from Philadelphia, seeing the homing pigeons at the "Zoo," called from Capt. Weeden permission to take home a strangely marked bird, as he wished to breed it with some of his own, promising not only to return it safely, but to send a pair of birds in addition. Permission was granted and the bird was shipped to Philadelphia by express, and in return came the birds promised. Last Friday some one called the captain's attention to some birds fighting in the loft at the "Zoo," and upon investigation the bird that was making the disturbance proved to be the one which had been loaned and taken away to Philadelphia. If this bird escaped from the loft in Philadelphia and flew home without being trained, it will prove a valuable bird. The distance is about 122 miles air line. It was given to Capt. Weeden by Louis A. Schmid.—Washington Star.

Quick Winged.

According to a French physiologist, the wing of the ordinary house fly makes 330 strokes in one second; the wing of the bumble bee, 240; the honey bee, 190; the wing of the wasp, 110; the wing of the dragon fly, 28; the wing of the sparrow, 12; the wing of the wild duck, 9; the wing of the house pigeon, 8; the wing of the osprey, 5.

In China the ghosts who are supposed to watch over the mounds covering the dead do not wish to be disturbed by the rattling railroad trains. And most devout Chinamen would rather walk than disturb a regularly ordained ghost.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The population of Japan is just under 40,000,000.

The German reichstag has voted to exempt students of theology from military service.

The South Devon hounds took their followers a chase of twenty-five miles lately, the fox finally being left to continue his gallant run in the darkness.

The papal soldiers have given up their former headdress and wear helmets after the pattern in use in the German army. The rest of their uniform remains unaltered.

The Sandwich Islander's pipe is made of virgin cork lined with meerschaum, and is curious by reason of the pattern on the cork made by the insects that feed on the trees. It is like delicate lace work.

The last return of English naval courts martial shows that an ordinary seaman was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude for striking an officer and two others condemned to five years' penal servitude for a similar offence.

A gentleman in Indiana who was so indiscreet as to leave $30,000 for the establishment of a home for maiden ladies, has been adjudged insane by the courts and the will is to be set aside.

During the year ending Oct. 31 there were no fewer than 439 suicides in the Austro-Hungarian army, of which twenty-three were officers, and the remainder non-commissioned officers and privates.

The Calcutta Public Health society are agitating for legislation to prohibit lepers being employed in washing clothes or preparing any sort of food. The native population, however, objects to the law affecting any but paupers.

By the spirometer (or lung test) the average lung capacity when corsets were worn was 134 cubic inches; when the corsets were removed the test showed an average lung capacity of 167 cubic inches; a gain of 33 cubic inches.

Robert Giffen has read a paper before the Royal Statistical Society of England in which he estimates the wealth of the United Kingdom in 1885 at £10,000,000,000. This would give each inhabitant £270. Making a comparison of the richest three nations of the world Mr. Giffen finds that the wealth per head of population stands as follows: Great Britain, 290; France, 190; the United States, 160.

The standard of size for a lady's watch is little over an inch in diameter. A lady's watch usually has a hunting case or a half hunting case, a circular opening in the center of the lid showing the hands, and figures are enameled on the outside; thus the time is seen without opening the watch. Chatelaine watches usually have open faces. In some cases the monogram of the owner is engraved in long, slender letters on the outside of the smooth case, or the watch is elaborately decorated in enamels or jewels.

The wife of George Kennan is, like the wives of so many literary men, the busiest member of the domestic firm. Being without children, she devotes her whole time to the interest of her husband, has sole charge of the sale, distribution and receipts from his work, and acts as private secretary, banker, reviser, critic and translator. She is a few years her husband junior, a companion and copartner as well as wife, and a lady of strong character and great personal attractiveness.

At Atlanta, two well dressed men stopped on the corner of Broad and Marietta streets and began pointing upward, one of them often pointing to a telephone wire with his cane, as if trying to make his companion see something he was looking at. The other shaded his eyes with his hands, but shook his head, at which the first man mentioned caught him by the arm and led him backward a few steps. They kept up their antics until a big crowd collected. Finally, when asked, they said: "We were just experimenting to see how many gaping idiots we could collect in ten minutes."

The Belgique Militaire in its last number described experiments made with the defensive cupola, designed to protect guns of large caliber against artillery fire. The trials were carried out at Antwerp, at Forts Philippe and Sante Marie. The cupola is like an enlarged dome or metal cylinder, resting upon a foundation of masonry and revolving like a ship's turret. The cupola stood every test, and, although struck by the largest projectiles, remained uninjured in its mechanism to the last. Its weight was 320 tons.

The French government seems determined to make the "pleasant land of France" as unpleasant a land as possible for foreigners to live in. An order has been issued by the minister of the interior with a view to rendering still more stringent the existing regulations about the residence of foreigners. According to this, a foreigner domiciled in France will now have to go through the whole elaborate business of reporting himself to the police every time he wishes to move into another commune or department.

Products of Greece.

"The Hellenes appear to have no coal mines," says The Glasgow Herald, "but their lignite deposits are nearly as good, some descriptions yielding in pure carbon two-thirds of an equal weight of English coal. Milo supplies sulphur; Zante springs of excellent petroleum, used by the ancient Greeks and Romans; Seriphos, one of the best kinds of magnetic iron, and Laurfuma abounds in slag, derived from the old lead mines of the ancients. The dairy industry of Greece is very imperfect, and the flour mills are worked by water and wind. But there are distilling industries of considerable force in the production of alcohol and liquors, and Greece produces 1,800,000 hectoliters of wine, one-fourth of which is exported to European countries. There are also metallurgical industries, naval construction, perfuming, dyeing, tanning and cotton and silk industries, alike lively and successful, the cotton spinning mills supplying the numbers 1 to 12, which now come in place of English threads. This brief and rapid survey would be incomplete without some notice of the splendid marbles, which are yet only slightly developed, so rich are the fields."

He Knew It.

"You should have been around to the theatre to-night," said the agent to the dramatic writer. "It was a splendid house."

"Yes?"

"Magnificent."

"I can vouch for its being a good house."

"No doubt of it."

"I know the man that built it, and he is noted for putting up good houses."

And then the dramatic man wrote something about a fair sized audience.—Merchant Traveler.

Questionable Methods.

Jack—Pushing fellow, that Brown, the real estate dealer.

Jerry—Yes. But I don't like his methods.

Jack—Honest, isn't he?

Jerry—Well—in a way. But he found a suburban man with six boys. Gave each of them a drum. In one week adjoining property fell 100 per cent. Brown bought, made a stake and bought each boy a football. Now the boys are dead and Brown has all the real estate in that vicinity.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Work Suspended in a Big Coal Mine.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 16.—Work at the Henry Clay shaft, the largest mine of the Reading Coal & Iron Company, employing 1,800 men, was suspended indefinitely last evening. No reason is assigned for the stoppage other than the absolute stagnation of the coal trade in this section.

Selecting a Prison Site.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The committee appointed to select a site for the new State Prison handed in its report to the Legislature this morning. The Committee recommend that the village of Schoharie be selected as the place for the new prison.

MR. BLAINE'S GRIEF

The Secretary Prostrated Over His Son's Death.

PREPARING FOR THE FUNERAL.

The Remains Will be Interred in Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown.

Senator Butler's Crusade Against the Negroes—He Maintained that Emigration was the Only Solution of the Race Problem—Senator Hoar Considered the Proposition Absurd.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary Blaine is prostrated with grief over the death of his son Walker, and it is rumored that physicians attending him fear the shock will leave him a wreck, if, indeed, he survive it.

The funeral will take place Saturday at 11 o'clock from the Church of the Covenant. The remains will be interred at Oak Hill Cemetery in Georgetown.

The World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The debate today on a site for a World's Fair shows that Chicago has succeeded in antagonizing all the friends of the other cities who want the Exposition. St. Louis and Washington will continue to aid New York as against Chicago.

THE RACE QUESTION.

Senator Butler Discusses His Negro Emigration Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Senator Butler addressed the Senate on the bill "providing for the emigration of persons of color from the Southern States." He said whoever concluded that the quieting of the agitation concerning the political status of the negro would be a settlement of the race question disclosed how little he knew of its magnitude. It did not appear why the preponderance of thought should be bestowed upon the descendant of the African. It had cost the Government millions to settle the race question with the Indian, and still it was not settled. The Chinese branch of the race question had been summarily settled; settled, too, in defiance of treaty stipulations, humanity and justice. The Chinaman had to go or die. Cupidity brought the African and the Chinamen here; cupidity drove the Chinamen out. The Indian would not be reduced to slavery, and so he was hunted and corralled. The Indian was here before the white man, the African, or the Mongolian.

Mr. Butler quoted from Rev. Edward W. Blyden, Rev. J. S. Lee and Rev. B. Gaston, all colored, in support of his statement that emigration was the only solution of the race problem. He also read extracts from the political debates between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas in 1858, in which both of them favored the separation of the black and white races, also an extract from a speech of ex-Postmaster-General David McKay, holding that but little of the spirit of sectionalism remained among the Southern people.

Mr. Butler said that a fear existed that if the negroes emigrated there would be no other labor to till the soil. He thought not. What the South needed and what she would get if relieved of her superabundance of cheap labor, was an immigration of thrifty, intelligent citizens, free-holders and wealth producers. With this accession the progress in the development of the South during the past decade would be insignificant when compared with its future progress.

Mr. Hoar replying to Mr. Butler expressed his gratification at the tone and temper; as well as the ability and eloquence with which the Senator from South Carolina had presented his own view. But it seemed to him that the proposition was the most astonishing that had ever been heard in the legislative history of the Senate or in the legislative history of any free, civilized and prosperous people. The United States was at this moment growing in wealth, strength and prosperity; and still the demand for labor kept more than abreast with the general growth of the country. And yet in the Senate of the United States a proposition was made, that by the force of the Nation, aided by its treasury, 8,000,000 of laborers born on American soil, entitled to every right were to be deported.

Farewell to Archbishop Corrigan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—One of the most brilliant receptions ever given to any citizen of New York was given last evening to the Most Rev. M. A. Corrigan, Archbishop of New York. It was held in the handsome Lenox Lyceum, Madison avenue and 59th street, and attended by 3,000 ladies and gentlemen. The reception was not confined to Catholics alone, but representatives of all denominations were there. The wealth and fashion of New York was present, and distinguished representatives of the army, the judiciary, literature, banking and commerce generally.

Negro Boys from Liberia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Four young negro boys arrived here from Liberia, on their way to Nashville to be educated at the Central Tennessee College. They belong to the Karoo tribe, and when they return to Africa it will be as missionaries to that people. They all wear Harrison and Morton campaign caps.

A Bullet Ends Her Life.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 17.—Miss Dixon died from the effects of a bullet wound in the head inflicted by herself through disappointment in love. Miss Dixon was 23 years old, and of a prepossessing disposition. Her father is Special Officer John Dixon.

Bismarck in a Socialist Debate.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—Prince Bismarck has signified his intention to take part in the Socialist debate in the Reichstag.

SPORTS GO SOUTH.

Billy Muldoon, Mike Cleary and Mike Donovan Start for Mississippi.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Mike Donovan, Mike Cleary and Billy Muldoon left for Mississippi at 7 o'clock last night. Detective Jayne, a special agent of Gov. Lowry, was their custodian.

Inspector Byrnes received a new warrant from Gov. Hill. It did not contain the names of Wakely and Harding. The five men went to the District Attorney's office, and on motion of their counsel, Judge Mitchell, the writ of habeas corpus was dismissed by Judge Dugro, and Wakely and Harding were discharged from custody.

No opposition was entered by either Muldoon, Cleary or Donovan to going to Mississippi and they signed waivers in the office of Assistant District-Attorney Lindsey, and the three men were turned over by Inspector Byrne's men to Detective R. J. Jayne.

Harding, Wakely, Mike Kelly and John L. Sullivan accompanied their friends and their custodian to the Pennsylvania Railroad station and saw them on the train.

Everybody was as jolly as could be expected under the circumstances and Sullivan said: "Good-by, boys, I may see you down there."

FIVE BIDS FOR DEATH.

A Boston Man's Determined Efforts to Suicide at Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Conn., Jan. 17.—W. K. Kaiser, of Boston, is still alive here after five attempts to end his life, but he is so severely hurt that his recovery is doubtful.

He is a man about 40 years old and of respectable appearance.

He caused four trains to stop by throwing himself across the track in front of them, and then he obtained a bread knife and plunged it into his breast several times.

Nothing can be learned of him or his reason for attempting self-destruction.

The West Virginia Muddle.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 17.—The minority report of the Contest Committee shows a plurality of 140 for General Goff, and recommends that he be declared duly elected Governor of this State. It claims that the committee's labors have demonstrated that there was no organized effort to corrupt the ballot by either party, and congratulates the people of the State on the purity of the election. The joint Assembly has adjourned until Monday, when rules governing its deliberation will be adopted and it will begin its session as a judicial body.

Pennsylvania Towns Flooded by Rain.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 17.—Rain has been falling almost continuously for the past 24 hours and all the small streams in the western part of the State have overflowed their banks. Considerable damage has also been done in Washington, Westmoreland and Allegheny counties. Bridges, fences and trees have been washed away, and fears of a great flood are apprehended if the rain continues. It is still raining here and the rivers are rising.

Charges Against a Town Clerk.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 17.—The Board of Selectmen testified before the Grand Jury that Town Clerk Prentiss has violated the law by failing to keep full and correct records of town affairs. Prentiss is a cripple, and though there have been many complaints of his mismanagement, he has been elected four terms out of sympathy on the part of the public. The Grand Jury has not yet taken action.

The City of Worcester in Danger.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 17.—The steamer City of Worcester is still on Bartlett's Reef. It is understood that the pumps used are not of sufficient power, and others have been telegraphed for from New York. They cannot arrive before to-morrow, and danger to the vessel is hourly increasing. There is a heavy wind, but the wreckers are still confident of floating the steamer, nevertheless.

The Haverhill Labor Trouble.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 17.—In response to the request of the Manufacturers' Association, J. H. Winchell & Co. issued a notice to their locked-out employes inviting a conference looking to a settlement of the trouble. This shifts the responsibility of continuing the contest from the manufacturers to the union, and if the proposal is not accepted the men will lose public sympathy to a great extent.

National Trotting Legislation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The executive committee of the National Trotting Breeders are in secret session at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. President Mali is presiding. Dates will be fixed at this meeting for the opening of stakes for 1890, and the question of "tin-cup records" (records made at private trials) will be discussed.

JOHNSTOWN'S FUNDS

How the Money Was Distributed by the Committee.

GETTING RID OF THE BALANCE.

A Fund Put Aside to Take Care of the Widows and Orphans.

The Actual Number of Lives Lost Placed at 2,500—The Flood Left 116 Widows and 322 Orphans—605 Persons Missing. Johnstown to Have a Hospital—The Historical Report to be Published.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Johnstown Flood Relief Committee took steps looking to a final wind up of their affairs. Governor Beaver presided at the meeting. The other members present were Reuben Miller, J. B. Scott and S. S. Marvin, of Pittsburg, and Francis B. Reeves, Robert C. Ogden and John Y. Huber, of Philadelphia.

According to the secretary's report the total cash received by the commission was $2,982,072.68, of which amount $600,000 came from Philadelphia, $560,000 from Pittsburg, $516,199.85 from New York and $1,325,872.83 from other places.

Johnstown and vicinity received $2,430,393.09. The other expenditures were as follows:—Relief for other localities, $252,264.45; distributed as expressly directed by donors, $2,271.85; office expenses at Harrisburg, $1,398.42; general expenses $1,318.78; first payment on annuities to orphans, $16,100; making a total cash expended of $2,683,747.11; leaving a balance on deposit at Harrisburg of $218,325.57.

In addition to this balance at Harrisburg there is an undisturbed fund in Johnstown at present of $36,384.03, and there has been appropriated to other parts of the State $17,735.55.

After this is taken out there remained at the time of the meeting an available balance of $236,975.05. This was reduced to $70,631.40 by the payment of claims amounting to $22,442.65 and various appropriations.

The commission decided to build at Johnstown a hospital costing $40,000, and appropriated $5,000 for the hospital at Williamsport. The commission has found 322 orphans in the flooded district, and for the purpose decided upon for their support there was appropriated $115,000. This sum has been so arranged for distribution that when the youngest child arrives of age it will be entirely extinguished.

The flood left 116 widows, and for their support the sum of $179,471 has been paid. They will receive for the use of their children the sum of $95,250.

The commission has made a most careful investigation to ascertain the actual number of lives lost in the disaster, and they are of the opinion that 2,500 is the highest figure at which it can be placed. It has been definitely ascertained that 2,280 persons disappeared from the valley of the Conemaugh. The bodies of 1,675 of this number have been recovered and identified; 644 bodies have been recovered and are unknown, and the remainder, 605, are missing.

A complete historical report of the work of the commission will be issued and will include a statement of every dollar received and tell where it has gone.

SENATOR ALLISON SAFE.

He Secures Every Vote in the Republican Caucus.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 17.—The joint caucus of the Republican members of the House and Senate met last night. Every member was present except three, who are sick, and they sent proxies.

William B. Allison was nominated to succeed himself in the United States Senate upon the first ballot. He received the vote of every member present, 73 in all. This insures his re-election by a majority of three.

When a committee brought Senator Allison into the room after his nomination he was received with ringing cheers and applause. He made a brief speech promising to devote his abilities to protecting and caring for the great industry of the Northwest agriculture. He cited the revenue, currency and transportation questions as especially important.

Shot Her Three Children.

FARIBAULT, Minn., Jan. 17.—A horrible tragedy occurred at Cannon Lake, about five miles from here. Mrs. McNeil, the wife of a prosperous farmer, in a fit of despondency shot her three children, aged respectively 4 and 2 years, and 2 weeks old, forced another daughter, aged 6 years, to drink carbolic acid and then took a dose herself. She and her daughter may recover. Despondency owing to recent illness is the cause. She said she expected to die and could not bear the thought of leaving her children behind.

To Secretary Blaine there will go out a general sympathy in the affliction which he has suffered and its serious results upon his own health. A favorite son, upon whom he had learned to depend, and in whom the World saw many of the charming qualities which made himself so popular, is unexpectedly taken away at a time when he needs him most, and under circumstances which embitter every feature of the loss.

Wants the Conductor to Tackle the "Gang."

To the Editor of The Press:—I have read the communications in your valuable paper, in regard to the Westfield rowdies who make themselves obnoxious to passengers on trains of the Central Railroad. I noticed the occurrence which happened on the train last Sunday evening, and can say that it was one of the worst "gangs" that I have ever met on a train, especially the "livery man's son." He was a fine built young man, and one who had ought to have better sense.

Don't you think that something can be done whereby this nuisance can be abated? I think that the conductor on the train should see that this would not happen again.

Passenger

Applicants Must Have a Good Record.

By a recent order issued by Superintendent Peddle of the Central Railroad, all applicants for positions as conductors, brakemen, switchmen, etc., must give references as to character, ability, sobriety and honesty; they must state where last employed and the reasons for leaving. Blanks for that purpose will be supplied by the company, and no person will be employed until his previous record has been satisfactorily investigated.

His Condition Improved.

The condition of Edward Birmingham, the Potter Press Works' employee, who had his leg crushed at the works on Wednesday, is reported by the hospital officials today as slightly improved. The medical staff of the hospital held a consultation yesterday, and in view of the fact that the patient was doing so well, it was decided not to amputate the leg unless unfavorable symptoms were noticed.

Why Not Enforce the Law Here?

The first prosecution in the State under the law to prevent the sale of cigarettes to children under sixteen years of age was made in Camden yesterday before Mayor Pratt. The defendant was Frederick Fielder, and the prosecutor was George W. Rich. Mr. Rich swore that Fielder sold cigarettes and tobacco to his two sons. The prisoner was held in $300 bail.

The Court at Elizabeth.

Judge VanSyckel was in attendance at Court yesterday morning, and the jurors and other officials were present. There were no matters in readiness, however, and the jurors were discharged until Wednesday next. Today the Court will hear arguments.

—The subject of Bible Study for the Young People's Meeting at Bethel Chapel this evening, will be—"The Man Who is Not a Christian:—His past sins." Mr. F. H. Andrews will conduct the Study.

"UNCLE BILLY" MOORE'S WILL.

Made Two Days Before His Death, Bequeathing One-half of His Vast Estate to His Wife, and the Use of the Balance to His Son—A Few Minor Bequests.

"Uncle Billy" Moore, as he was familiarly called, died at his home on East Second street, early on Sunday morning, January 5, and his funeral took place from St. Mary's church on the following Tuesday. It was expected that the will of the deceased would have been read on the day of the funeral, but the sudden death of Mrs. Moore on that day prevented.

The will was drawn up on Friday, January 3, two days previous to Mr. Moore's death, and provides first for the payment of all funeral and testamentary expenses as soon as convenient. Secondly, it bequeaths $500 to the trustees of St. Mary's church; third, $500 to Mother M. Xavier, of Madison, N. J., for the Sisters of Charity; fourth, $1,000 to Bernard Michael Brady, son of Bernard Brady of this city. The remaining provisions of the will are hereunto published in full:

Fifth—I give, devise and bequeath to my wife, Catherine Moore, the undivided one-half of all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real and personal, and wheresoever situate, to have and to hold unto her, her heirs and assigns forever, the same to be in lieu of her dower in my estate.

Sixth—I give, devise and bequeath unto my son, John C. Moore, the use, interest and income of all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate for and during his natural life, hereby authorizing and empowering my executors, hereinafter named, and the survivors of them, to pay over to my said son the whole or any part of the principal of his said share of my estate, when in their discretion or the discretion of the survivors of them, my said son gives satisfactory evidence that the said share of my estate so held in trust for him will not be squandered, taking his receipt for the amount or amounts so paid over to him, which shall be their or his full discharge for any payments made by my said executors or the survivors of them under or by virtue of said trust. In the event of my said son dying, leaving lawful issue, then any portion of his share not paid over to him by my said executors, shall go to such issue, share and share alike; but in case my said son shall die without lawful issue, then any portion of his said share remaining in the hands of my executors at the time of my said son's death, shall go to my said wife, Catherine Moore, to have and to hold unto her, her heirs and assigns forever.

Lastly—I hereby nominate, constitute and appoint my friends, Patrick E. Smyth of Plainfield, N. J., and Patrick Sheridan of Elizabeth, N. J., and the survivor of them, executors and executor of this, my last will and testament, and I direct that they shall not be required to give bonds for the performance of their duties as such executors, and I hereby authorize and empower my said executors and the survivors of them, to sell any and all of the real estate of which I may die seized, wheresoever situate, and to make, execute and deliver good and sufficient deeds of conveyance in the law, to the purchasers thereof, hereby revoking all other and former wills by me at any time heretofore made.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this third day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety.

William X Moore,
mark.

The witnesses to the will were William H. Shaw and Nelson Runyon.

The next move in the great will contest will be for the Surrogate to issue citations for all parties interested in the case to appear and show cause why the will should not be admitted to probate.

Mr. Walter L. Hetfield, of this city, and Mr. R. V. Lindabury, of Elizabeth, have been retained by Mr. John Moore, to protect his interests in the contest. Mr. Moore's ground for contesting the will is undue influence and incapacity.

For the Benefit Only of the Already Rich.

(From the Messenger of Somerville)

Ernest R. Ackerman of Plainfield, (an earnest advocate of Protection, we suppose), was before the Ways and Means Committee at Washington last week, in the interest of the cement industry. Less than $2,000,000 worth of foreign cements are used in this country annually. Divide this sum among American workmen engaged in the industry (some of whom have to buy cement), and how much would the average benefit amount to? The manufacturers, of course, could arrange the price, given a prohibitive tariff rate, to increase their profits immensely.

The Stelle and Runyon Families.

A pamphlet of thirty-two pages has just been published containing a complete genealogy of the families of Stelles and Runyons, extending from 1666 and comprising about 1,500 names. There is only a limited edition, and any person wishing a copy can obtain the record for one dollar (the cost price) by communicating with the compiler, O. B. Leonard. The pamphlet contains outline sketches of many of the pioneer progenitors of this locality, including the Dunns, Drakes, Dunhams, Daytons, Mannings, Martins, Clarksons, Smalleys, Walkers, Randolphs and others.

—Mr. J. Bicknell, an employee of Mr J. P. Homan, the carriage manufacturer of Somerset street, is suffering from the effects of a felon on the thumb.

WESTFIELD TIES ELIZABETH.

The Deciding Match for the Union County Bowling Championship, to be Rolled on the 27th Inst.

On the Westfield alleys, last evening, was bowled the seventeenth of the twenty match games between the clubs of Plainfield, Elizabeth and Westfield, for the amateur team championship of the county.

The result was a victory for the "Nameless" over the "Pastimes," thus placing the former on an equal footing with the Elizabeth Athletic Club team for first place exactly as was prophesied in THE PRESS of January 10.

The deciding game for the championship will be the one scheduled for Monday, January 27, on the Elizabeth alleys between the Elizabeth team and the "Nameless." Whichever team loses will then tie the "Mondays" of Westfield for second place if the latter defeat the "Pastimes" on the 20th inst., which is very probable.

There being no schedule game to decide the tie for second place, it would have to be rolled-off on a neutral alley. Plainfield would undoubtedly be selected for the purpose.

Last night's score was as follows—M. E. Alpers, of the "Nameless," acting as umpire:

What Will the Harvest Be?

With a third of the Winter gone and not a pound of ice harvested anywhere in the country, the outlook for next Summer is decidedly unpleasant. Even when in other neighborhoods the prospect often looked dubious at this season, Maine and New Hampshire could be depended upon to furnish ample supply. This year, however, these two States were as destitute of ice on the first of January as the district around us is. Last year at this time there was nearly a third of a crop left over from the large supply gathered the previous Winter. This reserve, added to the scant crop of last Winter, proved to be enough for the demands of the Summer. But there will be no stock left over this year, and the country will have to depend upon what can be gathered between this date and Spring. So the prospect is more than usually dubious, but Jack Frost may have some meteorological surprise in store, as Andrew J. DeVoe, the Hackensack weather prophet, predicts that "during this month the present conditions of mild weather will change, and there will be a great fall in temperature."—Exchange.

"My Love is Fair Columbia."

The above is the title of the new waltz song which is being sung by Miss Della Fox, now with the Conried Opera Company, which will present the new opera "The King's Fool," at Music Hall, Monday evening.

Manager Conried visited Vienna last Summer and called upon Mullen, the composer of "The King's Fool," to induce him to write an American topical song for his prima donna. "There," he said, "is a basketful of waltzes I composed years ago and which were never used. If you find something to suit you, take it—I make you a present of it. Only do not ask me to create something new and to order."

Mr. Conried was quick to find this melodious waltz, and Mullen regretted his rash promise. Mr. Conried himself wrote the English text for the waltz, and Conductor Paul Stendroff arranged the orchestration.

New Jersey Fruit Exchange.

The organization known as the New Jersey Fruit Exchange, and doing business in Flemington, reports 62,249 baskets of peaches sold the last season for $45,855.67, or an average of 73⅞ cents per basket. Owing to the storms near the close of the season, hundreds of baskets sold for from 15 to 30 cents per basket, thereby decreasing the general average materially.

Disappointment in Love.

The fraternity of "Disappointed Lovers" has been formed in Maryland and is establishing branches in Delaware. We are not informed whether married people are admitted to membership in the order, but they should be, as they are often the most disappointed of lovers.

Weak eyes and inflamed lids indicate an impure condition of the blood. The best remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It vitilizes the blood, regulates the secretions, and expels all scrofulous humors from the system. Try it. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

AS VIEWED BY THE VISITOR.

Matters Worth Noticing Among the Methodists That Attracted Their Minister's Attention.

From the January number of The Visitor, edited by the Rev. C. B. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. Church, and circulated gratuitously among the members of his congregation, the following items are reprinted:

The flower-stand on the pulpit presents as desolate an appearance as a Siberian steppe in mid-winter.

Mrs. Chas. M. Raybert, of 53 North avenue, is quite ill.

Mr. Joel R. Bryant, 41 West Fifth street, has been confined to his house for several weeks with bronchitis.

Mr. C. C. Cokefair hopes soon to be in his home at 9 Crescent avenue. It will be a beautiful home worthily occupied.

Mrs. Melissa French is spending the Winter in Florida. We who remain at home are spending a Florida Winter in New Jersey.

Dr. Hurlbut has gone on a long tour through the South, visiting in his official capacity the Southern conferences. He will be absent a month or six weeks.

Last Sunday night Mr. James McGee preached in the Trinity Reformed church, the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck being sick. Our Trinity Reformed brethren, so accustomed to good preaching, know where to secure the right substitute when they are deprived of the services of their able and well-beloved pastor.

Mr. James R. Joy is very busily engaged in preparing for the press a book on English History, to be used in the C. L. S. C. course of study. If the book be the equal of his Roman History his friends will not be surprised, and his reputation as a writer and historian will be further enhanced.

The aged mother of G. Thorn is still very ill and requires constant care and nursing.

We have a membership of five hundred and seventy-five. Of this number one hundred and sixty-one are unmarried young people.

Mrs. Clinton VanVliet is confined to her home with bronchitis, and her physician gives no hopes of permanent recovery for several weeks.

Mrs. Edward Winter, so active in missionary and other kinds of Christian work, has been confined to her home with illness for some days.

Mrs. Sparling, 183 Arlington avenue, was confined to her bed most of the past Summer. She is now sufficiently improved to be about the house.

Miss Hattie Lunger, of the Choir, is engaged in the office of the Bureau of Church Statistics in this city. She is a beautiful penman and an efficient clerk.

Much praise is due chorister Davis and his excellent choir for the beautiful and appropriate music rendered at the Christmas service, Sabbath morning, December 22.

Dr. Larrabee's Sunday School Class manifested their appreciation of their faithful and efficient teacher by presenting him an elegant gold-headed cane on Christmas.

The subject for the Epworth League meeting next Sunday evening is: "The Day-Spring from on High." Mr. Walter McGee is the leader, and the room should be crowded.

From the reports gathered from the other city pastors concerning the attendance of their meetings, held during the Week of Prayer, we do not regret that we decided to hold no extra meetings that week.

These lines are printed to inform you that you and your friends are personally invited to hear Dr. Snodgrass lecture on Friday night of this week. Subject:—"A Love That Comes Too Late." Admission free.

All our people are urged to send clothing, groceries, bedding, and money, to a meeting of the ladies, which will be held in the Church Parlor next Tuesday, at the close of the Pastor's Class. The ladies are planning to make some comfortables at that time for our poor ministers' families on the frontier.

Many kind friends of the Pastor's wife presented her on Christmas eve with an excellent crayon-portrait of her husband. Mrs. Anna M. Griffin, the artist, has won for herself great praise in that she could draw so good a portrait with such a subject. The portrait was elegantly framed and presented with a beautiful easel to match the frame. The kind gift was most duly appreciated.

Westfield News.

The citizens of Westfield have subscribed for a flag for the public school with the idea of having it displayed daily as an additional education for the children and youth of the town.

Last evening Fireside Council, Royal Arcanum, publicly installed the newly-elected officers for the ensuing year. These are: S. W. Reese, Regent; Geo. H. Brown, Vice Regent; Herman Rapp, Orator; B. J. Crosby, Past Regent; Chas. H. Day, Secretary; W. C. Barton, Collector; B. J. Crosby, Treasurer; F. B. Baker, Chaplain; L. A. Lightfoot, Guide; Hy Wyckoff, Warden, and E. S. Brokaw, Sentry. W. C. Barton and B. J. Crosby have attended every meeting of this Council since its organization seven years ago.

The great popularity of Ayer's Pills as a cathartic is due no less to their promptness and efficacy than to their coating of sugar and freedom from any injurious effects. Children take them readily. See Ayer's Almanac for this year, just out.

The Grand Jury Through.

The Grand Jury at Elizabeth this morning handed in 28 bills of indictment, announced their labors completed, and were thereupon discharged by Judge Van Syckel.

—The auction sale of the valuable real estate advertised in THE PRESS to take place at Dunellen on Wednesday, has been indefinitely postponed.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

PORTUGAL'S PLIGHT

An English Squadron Will Soon Visit the Tagus.

MERCHANTS BECOMING UNEASY

English Commercial Houses Preparing to Protest Against the Ultimatum.

Editor Parke Sentenced to One Year in Prison—Parnell Endorsed—Mousaa Bey's Case to be Reopened—Stanley Dined by the Khedive—Bismarck to Take Part in the Socialist Debate.

LISBON, Jan. 17.—Twenty men belonging to the Royal Marine Corps have been arrested for participating in an anti-English demonstration.

It is understood that a British squadron will shortly take a position in the Tagus.

The Portuguese merchants are meditating a concerted boycott of England by refusing to receive English money.

Premier Pimental is ill with influenza and was absent from the House of Peers. Senhor Logronaz, Minister of Justice, spoke in a strain similar to that of Senhor Pimental in his speech yesterday and a recriminatory debate ensued on the programme of the Ministry. All the speakers, however, denounced the ultimatum of the British government.

Several Colonial Governors, including the Governor of Mozambique, have resigned.

Several English commercial houses in Lisbon and Oporto are preparing a protest against the ultimatum of the British government, declaring that they regard the despatch of English men-of-war to Portuguese waters as injurious to their business.

The French captain, Trivier, says that while aboard the British steamer Lady of Nyassa on the Shire River, the Portuguese compelled the crew to haul down the English flag and hoist the Portuguese colors. Trivier declares that the English have lost all prestige through their pacific policy. The natives ascribe the gentleness of the English to weakness, and think that Portugal is the stronger nation.

EDITOR PARKE GUILTY.

Convicted of Libel and Sentenced to One Year in Prison.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The libel suit of the Earl of Euston against Mr. Parke, editor of the "North London Press," ended in the conviction of Mr. Parke, and he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

Justice Hawkins, before whom the case was tried, in his charge to the jury, reviewed the evidence carefully. He declared that there were great discrepancies manifested in the identification of the plaintiff. Referring to the testimony of the witness, John Saul, the justice said if his story was true he marveled why he had not been arrested and prosecuted, and also why a warrant had not been asked against the Earl of Euston.

The verdict astounds everybody, although upon a strict interpretation of the laws relating to libel it is doubtful that the jury could have found otherwise. It is perfectly plain, however, that Mr. Parke's defeat and discomfiture are due to his inability to produce reputable witnesses, the smirched character of those who testified having militated against their credibility.

Parnell Indorsed.

CORK, Jan. 17.—At the meeting of the Board of Guardians Mr. Tanner, speaking to a resolution expressing confidence in Mr. Parnell, made a violent attack upon Smith-Barry, who was present, accusing him of exterminating tenants in order to obtain the title of Lord Barrymore. An exciting scene ensued. The chairman left the chair and the Mayor took his place. The resolution was finally adopted unanimously.

A Railway on the Black Sea Coast.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—The Czar has given his approval to a proposal to construct a railway along the coast of the Black Sea from Novorosusk to Novosenck, and work will be begun on it immediately.

Mousa Bey's Case.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 17.—In consequence of the appeals against the judgment of the Turkish court in the case of Mousa Bey, the Sultan has ordered the Minister of Justice to have the case reopened.

Dom Pedro at Cannes.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The ex-Emperor of Brazil has arrived at Cannes. Dom Pedro appears to be terribly aged and enfeebled both in body and mind. He intends to spend the winter there.

Stanley Entertained by the Khedive.

CAIRO, Jan. 17.—Henry M. Stanley was entertained at a banquet by the Khedive last evening. All of the Ministers and many native officials were present.

Ballot Reform Mass Meeting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Henry George, Wheeler H. Peckham, Senator Fassett, Wm. M. Ivins, Samuel Gompers and others addressed a Ballot Reform mass meeting at the Cooper Union last night. The audience was very large, and much enthusiasm was displayed.

Acquitted Because He was Insane.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 17.—Geo. Freh, a young German, who killed his friend, Bernard Bonnell on November 23 in Seltzer's meat packing establishment, was acquitted by the jury on the ground of momentary insanity.

Four Men Killed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17.—Four men were killed and several others badly wounded by the premature explosion of a blast at a camp near Johnson City, on the Atlantic & Ohio Railroad. Wm. Davis, of Knoxville, Tenn., was one of the killed.

The Mowatt Case Decided.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Jan. 17.—Judge Barnard has decided the Mowatt case, declaring that Miss Mowatt was induced to sign the agreements through threats of conspiracy and fraud. An appeal has been taken.

Jack Dempsey Very Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Jack Dempsey's illness has taken a serious turn, and it is feared that he is in the first stages of consumption.

A ROW IN COURT.

Plaintiffs, Defendants and Lawyers Put Under Bonds to Keep the Peace.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Jan 17.—The third day of the Mary Washington monument libel suit opened with the court room densely packed with people from all portions of the country eager to hear the merits and demerits of the case.

The Court informed Mr. Fitzhugh, counsel for defense, that he must withdraw his remarks, in which he denounced Kertley, one of the plaintiffs, as a liar. Mr. Fitzhugh did so.

J. W. Colbert then took the stand and matters progressed smoothly until Attorney Fitzhugh attempted to throttle Attorney Dickson, counsel for plaintiff, in his examination of Colbert. Dickson told Fitzhugh that he was a d——d scoundrel, whereupon canes, inkstands, fists, etc., were used promiscuously, and for a time a general riot ensued in court, which caused Judge McLaughlin to suspend proceedings.

The plaintiffs, defendants and counsel for both sides were placed under $1,000 bonds to keep the peace. Great excitement prevails and more trouble is feared before the suit is ended.

EX-PRIEST BOYLE'S CASE.

He is Granted a New Trial by the Supreme Court.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 17.—The Supreme Court has filed an opinion in the notable capital case of ex-priest Boyle, who was convicted of rape upon Geneva Whitaker, a young girl who was an organist at his church. The opinion is by Chief Justice Merriman and it gives Boyle a new trial.

The Court holds that there was an error in the judge's charge in the Superior court, in failing to sufficiently and plainly state the evidence given and explain the law arising thereon. The judge should have called the jury's attention to the evidence as to the place where the alleged rape was committed, and the presence of persons near the house who heard no outcry from the girl; and the fact that afterwards she joined her companions without telling them that she had been outraged.

SIX MURDERERS DIE.

The Hangman Has a Busy Day at Fort Smith, Ark.

FORT SMITH, Jan. 17.—Six condemned murderers were hanged here without trouble and little excitement. They were Sam Goin, James Burris, John Beily, Thomas Willes, Jefferson Jones and Madison James.

George Tobler and Charles Bullard, who were also to have died on the gallows with the above named, were respited until the 30th inst.

They received the respite with a bad grace, saying that if they are to be hanged they would have preferred going with the others. The six men were hanged at 12 minutes after noon.

In Honor of Judge O'Brien.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The reception given last evening at the Executive Mansion in honor of Judge O'Brien, who this week took his place on the bench of the Court of Appeals, was a most brilliant and successful one. All of the Judges of the First and Second Divisions of the Court of Appeals were present. The other guests included the State officers, the members of the bar of Albany and Rensselaer counties, and a large number of prominent out of town lawyers.

Decrease of Deaths in the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The death rate in this city has fallen to almost its normal figure. There were 125 deaths reported for the past twenty-four hours, against 173 for the previous twenty-four hours. Of these 23 were from pneumonia and 37 from other bronchial troubles more or less complicated with influenza. In Brooklyn, though the mortality for the past week has been far above the average, the epidemic is now rapidly decreasing.

An Old Man's Selection.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 17.—Next Tuesday Perine C. Whitney, aged 68, and Miss Josephine Ward, aged 28, will be married in this city. The great difference in the ages of the parties excites no more comment than the fact that the bride-elect is a deaf mute. The grom-elect, whose first wife died only about a year ago, was formerly connected with the electric light companies in Brooklyn and Newark.

The Finest Banquet of All.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—Of all the banquets that have been held this winter none have surpassed the eighth anniversary dinner of the Clover Club, the greatest dining club in the world, which was given at the Hotel Bellevue last night. The banquet room was a blaze of light from hidden incandescent lights. The floral decorations were magnificent.

Narrow Escape from a Serious Fire.

BROCKTON, Mass., Jan. 17.—Brockton narrowly escaped a serious conflagration in a fire which destroyed the four-story wooden block on the corner of Montello and Center streets occupied by its owners, Gardner Brothers, fruit dealers, and also by J. A. Nelson, boot manufacturers, Bruce & Co., druggists, and Brown and Morrow, plumbers.

Buried Two and Four More Dead.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 17.—Wednesday notice of the funeral of two children of William Boyle appeared, and now four little ones lie dead in the house. Another child that has been ill is expected to recover. Originally the children were attacked by influenza, which developed into lung troubles.

Paulsen Defeated by McCormick.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 17.—The five-mile skating race between McCormick and Paulsen was won by McCormick in 17:54 2-5. Paulsen is near sighted, and owing to insufficient light fell on the third lap and was never afterward in the race.

End of the Stewart Will Case.

Amending the charter of the city of Brooklyn in regard to the sale of land for arrears of taxes. Incorporating the Poughkeepsie Associated Fire Department. Appropriating $25,000 for the support and maintenance of the New York Soldiers and Sailors' Home.

The report sent from Buffalo that Rev. R. S. Fuller, of that city, was hopelessly insane, is denied by Mr. Fuller's relatives and friends, who say the story is without foundation.

Great surprise is expressed in Berlin at the Government's haste in calling the elections for the Reichstag. It appears that the Government has abandoned hope of passing the Socialist bill.

Influenza is making fearful ravages among the striking coal miners in the Charleroi district of Belgium. The men are destitute and their families are unable to obtain proper and sufficient food.

The will of Thomas Chapman, a wealthy Roseville, N. J., miser, was admitted to probate in Newark. His entire fortune, consisting of $150,000, was left to his only daughter, Valeria, the wife having been ignored entirely.

The Knights of Labor of New Jersey will form a State organization in Newark on Sunday. A number of matters will be discussed, including the introduction of a bill in the Legislature to limit the hours of work for women and children to ten hours a day.

In the northwestern part of Kansas the snow fall is unprecedented, and in the town of Hiawatha all travel is stopped except in beaten paths. Railroads have met with much trouble, not only from the snow, but from tracks being damaged by high water. Fourteen people have been found frozen to death in the snow and cattle are suffering.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

New York Scores a Point for the World's Fair.

A NEW COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Chicagoans Now Talk of Postponing the Exposition Until 1895.

Mr. Carlisle Ready to Discuss the Rules—The Eight Hour Law Considered by the House Committee—Walker Blaine's Funeral Largely Attended—Foreign Representatives Recognized by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—New York, by one of those turns of fortune common enough in a long debate, has got a special committee on the World's Fair after all. Whether she has gained anything thereby is a question yet to be tested. It did not take long to fight the battle. There was no debate until it was decided: nothing but long calls of the yeas and nays, which would have been monotonous but for the excited feelings of the participants, and also of the occupants of the crowded galleries, who could not be restrained from joining with the members themselves in applauding when some vote thought to be doubtful was recorded on their favorite side.

By a narrow majority the House decided that Speaker Reed should appoint a Special Committee to consider matters pertaining to the Columbus Exposition, and the Foreign Affairs Committee, upon which Chicago has rested her hopes, must give up all jurisdiction in the premises.

Chicago boomers are talking postponment instead of World's Fair. Their conversion is so sudden that it is creating laughter on all sides.

Perhaps the most notable result of the struggle over the reference of the World's Fair matters is the development of a strong sentiment in favor of postponement. A week ago you would occasionally find a Congressman in favor of postponement. To-day you can find plenty. They are mainly Republicans. Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, is one of them. He says that it is impossible to held such a fair as America ought to hold before 1895.

WALKER BLAINE'S FUNERAL.

The President and Cabinet and Ministers from Foreign Countries Present.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The funeral of Walker Blaine took place this forenoon. Private services were held at the Blaine mansion on Lafayette square at 10 o'clock. The President and members of the Cabinet were present.

The remains were then taken to the Church of the Covenant, where the public service began at 11 o'clock. Seats in the body of the church were occupied by members of the family and relatives, the President and Cabinet, the Diplomatic corps and Senators and Representatives.

The Rev. Dr. Hamlin conducted the services both at the mansion and at the church. The pallbearers were William F. Wharton, John Davis, Sevellon A. Brown, Marcellus Bailey, M. L. Ruth, A. F. Jenks, S. B. Loring and William Haywood.

Secretary Blaine bore his affliction well and gave no evidence of physical prostration.

The Eight-Hour Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The House Committee on Labor took up and discussed the bill introduced in the House by Mr. Gest providing for the adjustment of accounts of laborers, workmen and mechanics arising under the eight-hour law. The bill was discussed at some length and the committee finally decided to postpone its further consideration until the amount necessary for the payment of these claims was ascertained.

Carlisle Ready for the Rules.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Mr. Carlisle notified the Republican members of the House Committee on Rules that he was ready to meet them at any time to discuss the new code of rules, but he was informed that the majority was not quite ready, Mr. Carlisle has had a conference with Mr. Randall and has been authorized to make a report on the rules prepared and to sign Mr. Randall's name to it.

Franklin's Day Banquet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The New York Typothetæ commemorated the anniversary of the birthday of Benjamin Franklin by a banquet at the Hotel Brunswick last evening. The dinner was a notable one, the guests including well known authors and journalists, publishers, printers and leading representatives of other professions and pursuits of which Franklin may be said to have been the patron saint.

A Merchant in Trouble.

CORRY, Pa., Jan. 18.—Henry Lang, the oldest hardware merchant in Corry, whose store was closed by the sheriff, either accidentally shot himself or attempted suicide at his home. The ball lodged in his skull bone of the forehead, not doing any great injury. Mr. Lang is considered by his friends as mentally unfit to do business.

Twenty Years for Murder.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Jan. 18.—The jury in the case of John Knox, on trial for the murder of the colored woman, Annie Baird, at Millville, rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree after a deliberation lasting five hours. Judge Alfred Reed immediately sentenced Knox to 20 years at hard labor and close confinement in the State Prison. The verdict and sentence give general satisfaction.

NECK AND NECK.

Miss Bisland and Nellie Bly May Arrive on the Same Day.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The go-as-you-please race around the globe between Elizabeth Bisland and Nellie Bly promises to have a close and exciting finish.

Miss Bisland is now one day ahead of time, and should arrive in Paris at 9:30 o'clock this morning. On her arrival there she will be taken at once to a special train which will quickly bring her to Havre. There she will probably take the Transatlantique Company's steamer, which sails at 6 o'clock. The steamer is due in this city on January, 18, and the company has promised that every effort will be made to secure a quick passage."

The friends of Miss Bisland believe she will win the race. Nellie Bly, however, is due in San Francisco on the 2nd of this month. It is six day's ride to New York, which will bring her here on the same day that Miss Bisland is expected. A few hours either way will, therefore, probably decide the race.

CHINESE LABOR.

Mongolians Brought East to Supply the Place of Union Workingmen.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 18.—There passed through this city nine Chinamen en route from the Pacific Coast to New York city. The Chinaman in charge of the party speaks English and resides in New York.

He stated that a firm of contractors in New York had sent him West for the purpose of securing Chinamen who are to be put to work as hod-carriers, laborers, etc.

If it is found that Chinamen can perform the duties required others will be brought East. The informant stated that it was the intention of his employers to thus protect their interests in case of a general strike among the building trades, laborers, etc., for the eight-hour rule next May.

Miss Willard Alarmed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Evidently alarmed over the rapid growth of the non-partisan Women's Temperance movement, Mise Francis Willard issues a national address, pleading that the old organization be kept up, saying that the local branches must be maintained so long as a single white-ribboner is left, and making the astounding statement that the Women's Christian Temperance Union does not make the supporting of the Prohibition party the pledge of loyalty to the Union.

Canadian Retaliation.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—Mr. Taylor gave notice in Parliament that he would introduce a bill on Monday next to prohibit the importation and immigration of foreigners and aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor in Canada. The bill will be drafted, word for word, after the alien labor act of the United States. The main object of the bill appears to be to strike at the United States for enforcing their own act to keep Canadians from working across the border for a short time.

Brush Electric Light Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—In the United States Circuit Court the suit of the Brush-Swan Electric Light Company of New England vs. the Brush Electric Company of New York, involving the exclusive right to sell and use the Brush electric lighting system in New England and certain other territory, was decided in favor of the plaintiff, and an injunction and accounting were ordered.

The Latest Boston Fire

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The losses and insurance in the Summer street fire yesterday, as far as has been possible to obtain them are as follows: Claflin, Coburn & Co., leather, $50,000; insurance, $100,000 in about 20 companies; Whicher & Emery, leather and shoe findings, $20,000; insurance, $25,000; Clegg & Fisher, leather board manufactures, $10,000; fully insured. The building which is owned by the Boston University is ruined.

Women Turn Against a Woman.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 18.—A sensation was caused in social circles here by the name of Mrs. Foster, wife of the Minister of Finance, being omitted from the list of invitations to Lord Stanley's state dinner. Mrs. Foster was divorced in the United States from a Canadian named Chisholm, and her marriage to Foster caused a good deal of scandal at that time.

Ex-Aldermen Receive Appointments.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Superintendent of Public Works Hannan appointed Hugh Trainor clerk to the assistant superintendent. The new man was formerly an alderman in Troy. Edward Duffy, of Troy, also an ex-alderman, was appointed to a $1,200 clerkship in the insurance department.

Lottery Agents Indicted.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—The Grand Jury this morning indicted seven persons for selling Louisiana Lottery tickets in this city. The action has caused considerable excitement among speculators in this class of chance game.

Suspect Kunze Bailed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18—John Kunze, the Cronin suspect who was granted a new trial, appeared in court to day and was released on $5,000 bail.

Lively Times in Denver To-Morrow.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 18.—The new sheriff, Mr. Barton, has ordered all saloons closed Sundays. The law on this point has hitherto been a dead letter. The order causes a sensation. Several saloon keepers say they will disregard it and lively times are looked for.

A DOMINION BREEZE

The Behring Sea Question Discussed by Canadians.

ENGLAND WILL TAKE A HAND.

She Will Refuse to Recognize Our Claim to Exclusive Jurisdiction.

An Explanation About Great Britain's Delay—The Correspondence to be Laid Before the Dominion Parliament—Aiming at a Friendly Solution—To Exclude American Workmen from Canada.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—Senator Abbott, a member of the Cabinet, in an address on the Behring Sea seizures, said the United States had themselves laid down in their dispute with Russia, the doctrine which the Dominion Government were now standing upon.

The opinion of their legal officers, the opinion of Chancellor Kent, one of the greatest writers on international law, was so clearly expressed that it was difficult to see how the United States could hold any other view.

The Dominion Government had no reason yet for believing that the United States had taken the ground in the controversy which has been going on for some time past that they have a right to control Behring Sea, nor did they understand that they maintain they can legally and constitutionally prevent Canadian fishermen from exercising their fishing rights beyond the three mile limit in Behring Sea. The precise nature of the discussion which had taken place he was not at liberty to say.

From his personal knowledge of the subject, however, and on the highest authority, he was in a position to state that England took the view the United States had no exclusive jurisdiction in Behring Sea. There had been some delay in the conclusion of the discussion, some delay in the declaration of the rights of Canada and the removal of the difficulty which Canadians had suffered, but to discuss that would be to discuss the correspondence which had not yet been laid before Parliament.

The correspondence, when brought down, would show that England had not been apathetic, but had done everything in her power to bring the matter to a favorable conclusion. If, with a little patience, England could succeed in bringing about a friendly solution of the question, the loss of a year or two in the operations of the fishermen on the Pacific would be nothing compared with the misery, loss and destruction that would follow any breach between England and the United States.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A Fast Train Runs Into an Accommodation Near Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—The vestibule train from Chicago on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, due here at 7:10 p. m. last night, ran into the Glendale accommodation at College Hill Junction.

Conductor Copeley and a brakeman, whose name has not yet been learned, were instantly killed. A passenger, supposed to be John Wilson, Superintendent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, was also killed. Two passengers were badly injured.

The engineer of the express supposed the accomodation was out of the "block" at the rate they were running, and he had barely time to reverse his engine and with his fireman jump to the ground before they crashed into the rear of the train preceding them. They were badly shaken up but otherwise uninjured. Three cars caught fire and were burned up.

West Virginia Legislative Battle.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 18.—There is a hard battle going on in the Committee on Rules of the Legislature. The question on which the Republicans and Democrats split is the limitation of debate. Democrats want almost unlimited debate but Republicans will not submit to this, and it is probable that the battle will be fought out in the full Assembly. A number of important bills were introduced, among them an Australian election bill, an anti-Trust bill and a bill limiting railroad charges and the establishment of a railroad commission.

Democrats Gain by Sickness.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—A special from St. Helena, Montana, says there is a break in the Republican ranks in the Senate. Brown, Republican, is suffering from la grippe, and was taken to the hospital yesterday, and the Senate now stands eight Democrats to seven Republicans. The Democrats and Republicans held another conference to discuss plans to end the deadlock, but the conference was without result.

Shot and Killed Himself.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 18.—Sidney Dillon, a nephew of Hon. Sidney Dillon, of New York, accidentally shot and killed himself while out hunting on his farm 10 miles northwest of this city.

Blew the Safe Open.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 18.—The jewelry factory of Mockridge & Sons, on Railroad avenue, was entered by burglars and $3,500 worth of jewelry taken. The thieves blew the safe open.

Jack Dempsey's Health.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—The story that Jack Dempsey is seriously ill and going into consumption is pronounced to be without foundation.

A Cure for Diphtheria.

The following remedy is said to be the best known, at least it is worth trying, for physicians seem powerless to cope with the disease successfully. At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child make the room close; then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Then hold the cup over a fire so as to fill the room with fumes. The little patient, on inhaling the fumes, will cough up and spit out all that membranous matter, and the diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosens the matter in the throat, and thus affords the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians.

Dr. Snodgrass' Lecture.

The Rev. W. C. Snodgrass of the Hedding M. At its close the speaker was voted hearty thanks for the treat all had enjoyed, and he modestly thanked his audience for their undivided attention and evident appreciation.

The Girls and the Lunatics Will be Well Looked After.

The work of enumerating has to be done during the month of June next.

It was also decided to hold the Division meeting in this city on Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, next, in connection with which there will in all probability be a lantern parade, races for the several championships of the State, a banquet and a theatre party. MAJOR CLARK INDICTED.

That Quarrel at the Southern Society's Club May Cost Him Dear.

The Grand Jury found an indictment Thursday for assault in the first degree—assault with intent to kill—against Major William Hancock Clark for shooting at Wilton Randolph, an ex-Councilman of this city, in front of the Southern Society's club house in New York, last Friday evening. Not less than five years' imprisonment and not more than ten years' is the penalty for assault in the first degree.

The Two Sides to The Story.

Johnnie MacDonald, better known as "Scotty," was around the city this morning with his head tied up in a rag, his nose cut and his clothes covered with his own blood, looking for a warrant for Tom Fayhe.

He said that he went to the latter's house this morning and demanded $1.60 back pay for "milk" delivered. Fay ordered him out, he says, and he "put up his fists" to protect himself. Thereupon Mr. and Mrs. Fayhe, he claims, threw him all around the house, upstairs and down, and out into the roadway, with general results in the way of wounds as above described.

Fayhe says "Scotty" insulted him in his own house besides hitting him with a brick in the forehead. He shows a cut head also, and does not deny that he gave MacDonald a good pounding, but only in self defence.

Not Too Literary to Enjoy Dancing.

The young ladies of the Shakspeare Club gave another of their delightful receptions at the home of Miss Grace Brown, Mercer avenue, last evening. All present enjoyed themselves immensely and the affair was but one more in the long line of Shaksperian conquests, won for him by his fair daughters. The interest of these receptions is only equaled by their frequency.

PRETTY GIRLS GALORE.

A Grand Production of Opera Promised on Monday Night.

Mueller's great Vienna success will be presented by the Conried Opera Company Monday evening at Music Hall.

Miss Dilla Fox has the reputation of being an incomparable soubrette. Her voice is beautiful and her vivacity charming. She is always graceful and her songs, notably, "My Love is Fair Columbia," are among the hits of the performance.

Miss Bertram, as the Young Prince, is a lovely singer, and her presence is delightful. Patti Stone is a young artist of fine voice and excellent method, acquired by one of the first teachers. She received her name owing to her similarity in looks and voice to her more renowned sister artist, Adeline Patti, as the latter was twenty-five years ago. The opera includes other female roles, which are properly executed by other artists of the company. The male parts are sustained by Mr. Jos. W. Herbert, Arthur Earle, J. Aldrich Libby, Ferris Hartman and others.

Mr. Herbert's great oration in the first act, reciting the cruelties endured by his father by orders of the Usurper, King Phillip, is a piece of acting worthy of Edwin Booth, or the late Forrest. His song, "These Words no Shakespeare Wrote," never fails to call for unlimited repetitions. This song was a special favorite of the late Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria. The opera was in its entirety a source of pleasure to the Emperor, who had it performed for him by special order at Ischl, his Alpine Summer home. The incidental fighting is done by the double quartette of Vienna Lady Fencers, who show unsurpassed skill with the rapier and sword. The marches of the guards are new and interesting. The costumes are made after the designs of the Imperial Opera House, Vienna. The orchestra is under the direction of Paul Steinderff. All the scenery is carried by the company.

The Grand Jury Completes its Labors.

The Grand Jury for the January term of Union County Court finished its labors yesterday and brought in twenty-eight indictments. The jury was then discharged for the term with the thanks of the Judge.

The time of the Court was taken up with arguments by City Attorney Bergen on behalf of the city, and R. V. Lindabury for Councilman Smith, to recover $1,000 salary which Mr. Smith claims is due him from the city. The point at issue was to determine the validity of the Councilmanic salary repealer passed by the Legislature in 1886.

Westfield Cannot Contradict It.

The Standard of Westfield is brave enough to acknowledge the disgrace brought upon the town by some of its citizens, and philanthropic enough to join with THE PRESS in trying to correct the evil.

In publishing one of the letters to this paper regarding the gang of rowdies who are such a nuisance to the decent people who travel on the Central railroad, the Standard says: "The following communication to the Plainfield Press, does not help Westfield's reputation. The worst of it is, it cannot be contradicted."

The Penalty for Shooting at a Plainfield Ex-Councilman.

Major William Hancock Clark did not appear in the General Sessions Court, New York, yesterday to plead to the indictment against him for firing three shots at Ex-Councilman Wilton Randolph formerly of this city. A detective looked for him all day without avail.

The Sun of yesterday made the remarkable statement that the penalty prescribed by law for the offense, was "imprisonment for not less than five years and not more than ten days."

Wing Shots to Contest.

A shooting match between D. J. Post, of Elizabeth, and W. Smith of Scotch Plains, for $25 a side, at live pigeons, 30 yards rise, 80 yards boundary, will take place January 27 on the Elizabeth Gun Club grounds. William Parker will act as referee and George Parker as judge. The contestants are crack wing shots.

A Settled Fact.

"What city will secure the fair?"
The question daily greets our ears,
Chicago thinks 'tis coming there,
St. Louis confident appears.
New York with faith is all aglow,
And Washington a hope doth see—
But all the same the fair will go
To Collier's for their jewelry.

Treat the Animal Kindly.

A horse kindly treated will obey his master in anything that he can understand, and he is more willing and better able to render good and satisfactory service when he is well fed and cared for and kindly spoken to, than when he is half-starved, either for food or water, or both, and whipped unnecessarily and scolded at without cause.

A Small Fire.

At one o'clock this afternoon fire was discovered in a clothes closet in the hallway over Voehl's bakery on West Front street. Mr. Voehl and his employes rushed up stairs and with a few buckets of water extinguished the fire, after about fifty dollars damage was done. No general alarm was sent out.

Grapes and Grape Juice.

The art of Preserving Grape Juice without fermentation, and the art of fermenting the Oporto Grape into wine in this country has been brought to a greater degree of perfection by Mr. Alfred Speer, of New Jersey, than by any other person. The Claret and Burgundy are very popular as dinner wine and the Port and Unfermented Juice as evening wines as well as for the communion table and for invalids. For sale by druggists.

PORTUGAL'S APPEAL

The Powers Asked to Interfere in the Trouble.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

England Denounced at a Public Meeting in Paris.

A Boomerang for Mr. O'Shea—The Ennis Letter from Parnell a Forgery—A Severe Blow to Tory Unionists—Alarm Caused Over a Rumor that Queen Victoria Has the Grip.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The activity and earnestness of the new Premier of Portugal, Senhor Pimental, in the pursuit of the policy of the Ministry is winning many adherents from the majority, and fast disarming the republicans who saw in the surrender of the Gomes Cabinet to the demands of England a pretext for agitation, if not actual revolution.

Senhor Pimental has summoned to Lisbon the Portuguese Ministers to Berlin, Vienna and Rome in order that he may verbally instruct them regarding the desire of the Government that they will persistently insist that the Powers shall interfere in the dispute with England in behalf of Portugal, whose rights have been wantonly trampled upon.

The announcement of this action has greatly conduced to the flow of a tide of popular confidence in the Ministry, and it is believed that the efforts of the representatives thus instructed will result in a considerable mitigation of the severity of England's ultimatum, to the end that a mutually satisfactory understanding may be arrived at.

The English residents of this city who have been victims of the public animosity occasioned by the attitude of England toward Portugal, propose to appoint a deputation to wait on Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, and urge that Great Britain adopt a more conciliatory policy.

The feeling toward England is very bitter. Many English employes of Portuguese houses have been discharged.

The rumors that a British fleet has entered the Tagus has had a quieting influence upon the hitherto belligerent newspapers. The Journal of Commerce, the organ of the people, entreats the people not to unjustifiably prolong their anti-English manifestations, which involve breeches of the peace and possibly fresh national humiliation.

Queen Victoria Ill With La Grippe.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Much alarm has been occasioned here by the rumor that the Queen is laid up with the influenza at Osborne. The fact that the news has been kept back causes general uneasiness, which is naturally increased by the knowledge that she has suffered much recently from rheumatism. Her health has been poor for many weeks past.

A Blow to the Tory Unionists.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The severe illness of the Marquis of Hartington, which necessitates a trip to the Continent, and will extend beyond the time of the reassembling of Parliament, is a severe blow to the Tory-Unionist coalition, which will need the presence of every one of its leaders to combat the contemplated assaults of the opponents.

Our Mary Engaged.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. de Navarro, of New York, cabled congratulations on their son's engagement to Miss Mary Anderson, who is at San Remo with Dr. Sheppard's family. Mr. Antonio de Navarro is at the same place and has been traveling with Miss Andersons' party for some weeks.

Pronounced a Pure Forgery.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The letter from the Ennis Board of Guardians, purporting to have been signed by Mr. Parnell, shows that it was not mailed from Mr. Parnell's postal district, and was not written on official paper. These facts bear out Mr. Parnell's denunciation of the letter as a forgery.

A Boomerang for O'Shea.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—O'Shea's action against Parnell, which no one doubts is a purely political move, has proved to be a veritable boomerang, and more than one of the instigators of the movement now wishes himself well out of it.

Influenza Abroad.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Influenza in a severe form prevails among the officers and crews of the American squadron of evolution now in the Mediterranean. There are 180 cases on board of the Chicago alone.

One Man Killed in a Railroad Wreck.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 18.—A bad wreck of a coal train occurred on the Newburgh branch of the Erie Railroad, between Washingtonville and Blooming Grove. It is learned that one man was killed outright and another badly injured. The train wrecked consisted of about fifty empty cars and was run into by an extra going in the same direction, derailing several cars and precipitating four of them down a steep embankment.

Assemblyman's Sullivan's Funeral.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The funeral of Hon. P. Andrew Sullivan, member of Assembly, took place at the Immaculate Conception Church. Every seat in the large edifice was occupied. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful in design. The services were conducted by Rev. Father O'Hara. The remains were interred in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Slavin's Challenge to Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Slavin cables from London a challenge to Sullivan to fight for $12,500 a side, London prize ring rules, in America or Europe, or to a fight to six small gloves, Police Gazette rules, for $5,000 a side at the California Athletic Club, provided the club will add a $15,000 purse to the stakes. Slavin has posted a $2,500 forfeit.

New York Board of Claims.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The State Board of Claims took a recess until February 18, the day that Snaith's Assembly Ceding Claim is to come up.

TRENTON'S TRAGEDY.

Evidence to be Produced Before the Coroner's Jury Next Week.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 18.—It is now stated that the foreman of the coroner's jury in the Kniffin murder case will ask David Pursel on Monday for evidence that his sister has not been intimate with Dr. Kniffin, and one of her relatives states this morning that a prominent physician will testify in reply that she is a pure woman. This statement will be another strong point in showing that her relations with the doctor were proper and will lessen the flimsy evidence of motive which the authorities have been trying to produce against her.

The remains of Mrs. Kniffin will not be exhumed, as requested by Prof. Cornwalls. The prosecution say the arsenical fluids used in embalming the body would render any satisfactory analysis impracticable. The analysis of the stomach has been completed, but the result will not be made known until Monday, when Prof. Cornwalls will testify before the coroner's jury, which will complete its work on the same day.

Isaac Johnson, a 16-year-old newsboy, turns up with the latest clue. He says that the day following the murder he was accosted by two strangers who asked him the way to a restaurant and then treated him to oysters. While they were eating one of the men said to the other that if they had only "given the girl a little more the doctor and she would now be clear." Other remarks excited the boy's suspicion, too, and he reported the matter to the police. Chief McChesney says that this clue has been investigated without any results.

A GOOSE IN COURT.

It Caused no End of Trouble and a Peculiar Suit at Law.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Juliana W. Michalowski vs. John Wisniewski is the title of a suit now in progress in the Superior Court here before Judge Hatch and a jury. The trouble originated over a silly, unpretending every-day goose.

The defendant owned the alleged dangerous bird, and claims that the son of the plaintiff injured its leg, when the defendant visited the plaintiff to ask that she pay the damage done. It is alleged that Mrs. Michalowski fell upon him and beat him severely with a stone, completely knocking him out in the second round.

On the other hand Juliana claims that the owner of the goose used violent and abusive language to her, winding up with an assault. She now asks $1,000 damages.

The goose was brought into the court room and seemed like a well behaved goose till the court opened, when she began a series of flops and quacks that made things lively for some time, much to the amusement of the many spectators. The case is a peculiar one, and a long trial will be the result.

The Hop Bitters Man Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Asa T. Soule died here last night, aged 65 years. He was the president of the Hop Bitters Company and was the man who made that patent medicine famous by extensive advertising. The deceased had very large interests in Western Kansas. He was the founder of Soule College at Dodge City and the president and owner of the First National Bank there. He also owned more than half of the town of Ingalls, which became the county seat of Gray County after a violent struggle with the residents of Cimarron. Mr. Soule was probably worth $2,000,000.

The Lockout Ended.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 18.—At a meeting of the State Board of Arbitration, at which representatives of the shoe manufacturers and their striking or locked-out employes were present, it was agreed that the strikers at Winchell & Co.'s factory return to work on Monday under a promise that the firm will strive to make a satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute. If no such settlement is reached, the matter will be referred to arbitrators, meanwhile the men will continue to work. There is great rejoicing over the ending of the lock-out.

Governor Abbett Dined.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 19.—The New Jersey Club tendered a dinner and reception to Govenor-elect Leon Abbett last night at their club house in Grand street. Governor Abbett is an honorary member of the club, and he received a very cordial greeting from President W. F. Taylor and the members of the club. Covers were laid for about 100 guests.

Death of Sister Simplicia.

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Sister Simplicia, superior of Carney Hospital, South Boston, since 1869, is dead, aged 69. Her secular name was Julia Rigney. Thirty-seven years ago she left a happy home in St. Louis to join the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. Before coming here she served in the hospital of the Sisters of Charity and the Infant Asylum at Buffalo, N. Y.

Shad for Sale in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—The weather has pushed the fish season ahead of time just about six weeks. Among the summer fish the fishmongers are already handling are tailors, spots, trout and pasih mackerel. This month they have had trout that were caught in the Rappahannock River. They usually come about April.

The Grand Jury of New York city has handed in an indictment against Major William Hancock Clark, of the Southern Society, who fired three pistol shots at Wilton Randolph, a fellow member, a few evenings ago.

Captain Comiskey, of the Browns, has written a letter to the St. Louis "Sporting News," in which he says, that before to-morrow night he will have signed a contract to play first base for the Chicago Brotherhood team.

A demand has been made by President Bancroft for immediate recognition for the New England Baseball Association by the National League. If it is not given the New England will join the Brotherhood.

The Republicans of Madrid, Spain, have abandoned their intention of holding a public meeting in that city to-morrow to express sympathy with Portugal in her trouble with England. Leading Republicans will, instead, leave their cards at the Portuguese Legation.

A private company has taken advantage of the agitation about colonizing Vermont's "abandoned farms" with Swedes, and has purchased a large tract of land in the northern part of the State, and proposes to immediately locate a colony of Swedes upon the lands.

John Ralbn, a mechanic of York, Pa., was found dead in his house with a bullet wound in his heart and his clothing burning, having been set afire by the powder. It is supposed that he committed suicide, but the rifle was found in an adjoining room, and the case is a mysterious one.

There is a possibility that when New York's $10,000,000 World's Fair bill goes to Albany it will have a hard time. Good lawyers here connected with the departments say they cannot see how the constitution of the State can be made to read so that it will permit of an appropriation for the purpose designated.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—For New England: Generally fair; warmer; southwesterly winds.

For Eastern New York and New Jersey: Warmer; fair; southerly winds.

For Western New York: Fair, except light local showers on the lakes; warmer; southerly winds.

Senator Ingalls to Deliver His Speech To-Morrow.

NEW RUMORS ABOUT MR. BLAINE

The Story that He Will Tender His Resignation Again Revived.

Mr. Windom Makes Public His Silver Bill. Solicitor-General Chapman's Death-General Interest in the Report of the Committee on Rules—Further Discussion of the Silcott Defalcation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The feature of the proceedings of Congress which will attract most general attention during the week is the speech to be delivered to-morrow afternoon in the Senate by Mr. Ingalls.

He had proposed to deliver this speech on the same day that Senator Butler addressed the Senate on the race question, the Kansas Senator having chosen the same subject for his forensic effort. But in view of the fact that there was considerable uncertainty about the hour when Senator Butler was to speak and as Senator Ingalls desired to be reasonably sure that he would have time to conclude his speech on the same day, it was deemed advisable to postpone its delivery until some more opportune occasion.

It is now the intention of Senator Ingalls to speak to-morrow, as soon as the morning business of the Senate is concluded and he will doubtless speak, as in the past, to crowded galleries.

There are only two speeches fixed on the calendar of this week in the Senate—the speech of Mr. Ingalls and a speech to-day by Mr. Pascoe, of Florida, on the views of the proposed Federal election control, taken in the President's message. There will, not unlikely, be a renewal of the controversy between Senator Call and Senator Plumb on the Florida swamp lands bill. The debate between them last week grew somewhat warm, and Senator Plumb made some charges against the Senator from Florida which he was very anxious to repudiate. A call for an executive session interfered materially with his reply, and it is not unlikely that he will call the matter up again that he may finish his remarks.

The Blair educational bill.

It is understood that Mr. Blair proposes at an early day to call up the Educational bill, so long before Congress, and with which he has become so thoroughly identified. There is an undoubted majority in favor of its passage in the House. It was defeated by indirection in the last Congress, and Senator Blair is anxious that it should be taken up at as early a day as possible that every opportunity may be given it to go through both Houses at this session.

The Morgan-Dorchester Nominations.

In the secret session of the Senate the first of the objected cases will be taken up and disposed of during the coming week—that of Thomas J. Morgan, Commissioner of Indian Affairs. The nomination of Dr. Dorchester, Superintendent of Indian Schools, will be taken up at the same time. Both of them will doubtless be confirmed.

Bills Before the House.

In the House the Oklahoma bill is certain to occupy at least one more day, but other matters cannot be given such definite places. Mr. McKinley will, if he sees a chance, call up for consideration the Customs Administration bill, on which the Ways and Means Committee has submitted a favorable report. There are only a few features of this bill that are not too technical to be passed over by the House, and these will be discussed and disposed of in short order.

The Silcott Defalcation.

There is a chance that further discussion will ensue on the Silcott defalcation. The House will have to dispose of the matter in some way and as both bills relating to it have been defeated, Mr. Holman's proposition to divide the funds in the Sergeant-at-Arms' safe stands a chance of being fully dissected.

The Report on Rules.

General interest centers in the reports of the majority and minority of the Committee on Rules. It is said that there will be some opposition on the part of a few Republicans to the code that Mr. Reed is expected to bring in. The party leaders will be well assured of the spirit of the Republicans before bringing in a report. The subcommittee of the Committee on the Judiciary has prepared a favorable report on the Commercial Conventions Bankruptcy bill and the full committee will probably report it to the House during the week.

Reduced Their Wages.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 20.—The engineers and firemen of the express trains between Hartford and Campbell Hall on the Central New England and Western Railroad refused to receive their pay envelopes Saturday night because their wages had been reduced without their knowledge. They say they will leave the road unless the old rate—$5 for engineers and $4 for firemen for the round trip—is restored. There will be no general strike; those affected will simply leave and seek other positions.

Miss Cammerer Awarded $12,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The jury in the suit of Caroline Cammerer against Clement Muller, for $100,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage, rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $12,000. A motion by defendant for a new trial was denied, and a motion for an allowance for the plaintiff's attorneys was granted. Daniel Dougherty was counsel for the plaintiff and Col. R. G. Ingersoll for defendant.

ABBETT'S INAUGURATION.

There Will be a Brilliant Military Display and Parade of Social Societies.

TRENTON, Jan. 20.—Leon Abbett, New Jersey's first $10,000 Governor, will be sworn in with an unusual amount of pomp. There was a brilliant military display when Gen. McClellan was inaugurated, but no demonstration of a civic character has ever occurred in New Jersey at the induction to office of any Chief Executive that equalled in magnitude the one contemplated to-morrow.

Immediately after the inauguration a reception will be given to the Governor in the State House, and while this is going on the street parade of political and social organizations will take place.

A brief evening reception will also be given him, and the inaugural ball in Masonic Temple will open at 9 o'clock. The ball decorations will be very elaborate. The programme will include 18 dances.

The State Street House will furnish the supper, served in the large dining room, egress being made by the balcony of the hotel and the west windows of Masonic Temple. A covered way and steps in the windows will obviate all difficulty of passage. Every effort is being made to make the affair non-partisan. The patronesses embrace many ladies whose husbands are Republicans, while men prominent in Republican political life have been asked to serve on the Floor and Reception committees.

Governor Green and his staff, General Grubb, the defeated candidate for Governor, and members of the Senate and House, and the State officials will be among the attendants.

WILL APPEAL TO ROME.

Bishop Ryan Has Trouble With a Polish Congregation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The Polish settlement at East Buffalo is in a turmoil over church troubles. The Rev. Father Klawiter has been pastor of the church of St. Adelbert since the parish was established, several years ago, and through his exertions a handsome church, school house and parochial residence were built. He is also much beloved by his parishioners.

On Wednesday last Bishop Ryan ordered Father Klawiter to the parish at Dunkirk and appointed a successor to the St. Adelbert's parish. The congregation protested against the removal of Father Klawiter but without result.

The trustees then closed the church, and at a mass meeting the congregation determined to send a committee to Rome to appeal to the Pope for redress. The committee will start to-morrow. The Bishop's reasons for his action are said to be based on Father Klawiter's lack of business qualifications.

A BIG YEAR'S BUSINESS.

Statement of Work Done by the New York Post Office.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Postmaster Van Cott has issued a statement showing the amount of work done by the New York post office during the year ending December 31, 1889. In that time 313,346,344 pieces of mail matter were delivered through boxes and by carriers, besides 1,345,140 pieces in the registered letter department. The deliveries included: Letters through boxes, 57,705,226; by carriers, 145,812,699; postal cards through boxes, 8,234,759; by carriers, 32,945,978; other mail matter, through boxes, 31,908,427; by carriers, 36,739,155.

In the distribution department 572,720,012 pieces were handled, including 186,162,967 letters of local origin, 32,037,409 received by mail, and 22,093,425 from abroad. The total number of pieces handled during the year was 889,088,468.

The total receipts of the office were $5,673,250.42, and the expenditure $2,160,260.94. More than 200,000,000 postage stamps were sold: nearly 50,000,000 postal cards and over 40,000,000 stamped envelopes.

THERE IS NO TROUBLE.

Untruthful Reports Regarding Dr. Beale and His Congregation.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 20.—Some of the despatches sent of late from this city concerning the Rev. Dr. D. J. Beale and the difficulties between him and certain persons in his congregation have not, it is claimed, been in accordance with the facts.

Although Elder Fulton, in a Congregational meeting, did make some accusations reflecting on Dr. Beale for borrowing $100 of money, it is now known that the lender, who was Mr. Fulton himself, had not asked for its payment; that Dr. Beale was paying 6 per cent. interest on the borrowed money, and that Mr. Fulton has publicly expressed his confidence in Dr. Beale's honesty.

It is deemed that Dr. Beale has been given the alternative of resigning his pastorate or answering charges before the Presbytery. His congregation have refused, and still refuse, to consent to the solution of his pastoral relations.

Put Poison in the Soup.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—In the police court a young colored girl named Laura Rollins was charged with assault with intent to kill Mrs. Georgiana Frederick, who lives at 231 East Capitol street. The girl was employed as a domestic in the family. On Monday Mrs. Frederick had occasion to reprove her. A little later she saw the girl put something in the soup, and when it was served there were lumps of grayish matter floating on the surface. The soup was not eaten, and a druggist who made a rough analysis of it said that it contained "Rough on Rats." The girl was held.

Blaine May Resign.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—It is generally believed now that, owing to the death of his son Walker, Secretary Blaine will soon withdraw from the Cabinet. His health has not been good for some time, and Walker relieved him of a large proportion of the exacting duties of the position.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE

The Portugal Trouble Must be Arbitrated.

WILL THE TRUCE BE BROKEN?

England's Bullying Action Censured by the Press.

A New Theory About the Suicide of Archduke Rudolph of Austria—Praise from Mr. Gladstone—The Crisis in Spain. The Duke of Aosta's Death—Died in His Brother's Arms.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—It seems to be taken for granted in this country that the Portugese difficulty is at an end, but there are many reasons for regarding this view with doubt. The Portugese are angry and they intend to press their demands for arbitration.

The semi-official "Journal de Saint-Petersbourg" comes forward, opportunely for them, to enforce this demand. "The English are bound," says this authority, "to submit the case to arbitration." If this attitude be seriously persisted in by Russia we are only at the beginning of complications arising out of the African dispute. Arbitration means that England will be ruled to be in the wrong, and not only that, but she will probably come out of court with fewer rights in Africa than she had when she went into it.

There is never any other result of arbitration where England is concerned. Russia knows this, and may press arbitration upon her for that very reason.

The issue of the affair all depends upon one thing—are the great Powers, or some of them, looking round for an excuse to break the present truce in Europe? If they are the quarrel between England and Portugal will afford them the desired opportunity, and nothing that England can now do will prevent it.

BLOODSHED MAY RESULT.

Excitement Continues High at Lisbon—England Censured by the Press.

LISBON, Jan. 20.—Excitement here is still high and unless England speedily takes action to pacify the people it is feared that bloodshed will result. The authorities have so far been able to suppress attacks made on English residents by the enraged Portuguese, but it is plainly noticeable that the ranks of the rioters are each day growing larger, that the recruits are from among the most influential and leading citizens and that each outbreak requires greater effort on the part of the authorities to stop. The press of Europe generally is severe in its denunciation of England's bullying action. Whether this is due to a surviving sympathy among the Latin nations or because it is a perfectly safe subject to dilate upon, now that England has gained her point in Africa, is not apparent. It was to be expected that the mob of the Portuguese cities would make some frothy demonstrations, but the Spanish and even the French papers have echoed the cry of "bully" and "pirates" in a surprising manner, and the majority of the Italian journals only refrained from joining them at the request of the Government, and it is given out that this request was not very positively extended, but merely a suggestion from Premier Crispi.

Protests against the action of Great Britain in the African matter are displayed on tables in the public squares and are being very numerously signed. The meeting called for in Camoens square to condemn the course of the Government was a fiasco. The Government organs deny that any changes in the Cabinet are pending.

News from Oporto is that the city is in a very disturbed condition. Rioting has occurred. The cause is the popular indignation against the Government's course in the dispute with England. Patriotic songs are being sung by groups of people in various portions of the city.

Portuguese officers have been sent to Copenhagen to buy torpedoes and other war materials for the Government.

Praise from Mr. Gladstone.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Gladstone, in an article published in "The Speaker," pays a glowing tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Doellinger. The article contains some reminiscences of the deceased, and concludes as follows: "He is to be honored for attainments perhaps never surpassed either for extent or for the wonderful manner in which he held them digested and at command for use. He is to be honored yet more fervently because in him the spirit of self was down-trodden and extinct that he might live a large life; and, because pursuing truth in a spirit of courage, he set a great example for generations to come."

An Appalling Theory.

VIENNA, Jan. 20.—An extraordinary and very sensational version of the Meyerling tragedy has been published in the Vienna papers. It is to the effect that Archduke Rudolf and the young Baroness Vetsera were brother and sister.

It is whispered that the Emperor Franz Josef made love to the dowager Baroness Vetsera, and the heroine of the Meyerling tragedy was born to them, that when the facts were told to the Archduke Rudolf he was so affected by the revelation of the terrible secret that he committed suicide.

The Duke of Aosta's Death.

ROME, Jan. 20.—King Humbert telegraphs Prime Minister Crispi from Turin that the last words of the Duke of Aosta were devoted to Italy and her army. The Duke regretted dying so early, only because he would be prevented from serving his country. When the King arrived, the Duke said he had allowed himself to be tortured by remedies in order to be kept alive until he could die in his brother's arms.

A Charge That Calls for Immediate Investigation.

One of the Crescent League bowlers who has been rolling the highest scores, is openly accused of bribing a pin boy to "bunch" the pins for him. The matter should be investigated at once by the Trustees, and submitted to the Club for action at its next meeting. If the member is innocent he deserves speedy vindication; if guilty he should be expelled.

Upset on Madison Avenue.

Messrs Manning and Sandford, the builders, were driving out of the yard at Spicer & Hubbard's mill at eleven o'clock today, when in some unexplained manner the wagon, in which they were seated, upset, throwing the occupants out. The horse broke loose from the wagon and ran away. The vehicle was considerably damaged, and both Mr. Manning and Mr. Sandford were badly shaken up.

A Disgraceful Row.

A party of white and colored men engaged in a free fight in North Plainfield, on Saturday night, but they eluded arrest and came to this city. On Grove street, near the Baptist church, the fight was resumed and several knock-downs took place. The police are in possession of the names of the participants and some arrests are likely to follow.

The death is announced at Manhasset, Long Island, on Saturday at 2 P. M., of Mr. John Heenan, son of Mr. J. B. Heenan of South Plainfield. The deceased was in the twenty-ninth year of his age, and his death resulted from Brights Disease. The funeral took place from the late residence of the deceased, today, and the remains were brought to this city and interred in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mr. James H. Stewart of the firm of Corey & Stewart, the well known hatters and furriers of Newark, who was prostrated by an attack of the grip two weeks ago, was out for a day or two when he was again laid up by a relapse, on Tuesday last, and has been very ill ever since. Mr. Stewart has a number of relatives in this city, who will be pleased to learn that his illness is not of a dangerous nature.

Mr. Walter A. Freeman, son of Mrs. Wm. B. Ostrom, of this city, has just been appointed Manager of the Michigan Telephone company with headquarters at Detroit. Serving Them Right.

The four tramps who were arrested Saturday by Chief Carey for nesting about the Berckman street bridge and frightening every timid woman or girl that passed, were released this morning. They promptly got out of town after leaving a signal warning their fraternity to steer clear of Plainfield and Chief Carey.

The four were kept in one cell so small that they could not lie down. They were not given a mouthful to eat and only one drink of water from Saturday until this morning. The hope of the tramp is to be sent to a county jail where he is fed and kept warm until he feels pleased to travel on again under the skies of Summer.

The Label for a Poison to Give an Antidote for the Poison.

Assemblyman Usher of the Tenth district, Hudson county, will introduce a bill in the Legislature to compel druggists to have printed on labels for bottles containing poison an antidote for the poison.

Arrested for Fast Driving.

Chief Carey has an eye to business, and he is constantly on the alert for evil doers. Yesterday he was the cause of bringing four fast drivers to grief, and this morning City Judge Codington fined them each five dollars. Two of the men were from Westfield and the other two belong in North Plainfield.

There is a law regarding fast driving and the Chief intends to enforce it. Section 10 of the ordinance relating to the "Morals, Peace and good order of the City of Plainfield," reads:

SEC. 10. For intentionally driving or riding any horse or other beast of burden, (whether attached to a vehicle or not,) in any streets, alleys or highways of the city, faster than an ordinary traveling gait, or for intentionally leading, driving or riding any beast of burden on any sidewalk of the city, any sum not exceeding five dollars; and for such fast driving or riding as above named, when a collision is thereby produced with any person, vehicle or other thing, or any injury is occasioned by such driving or riding, any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the city or county jail not exceeding sixty days, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

"The King's Fool" at Music Hall.

This evening, Conried's Opera Company, the largest organization that left New York this Winter, will appear at Music Hall, presenting Mueller's immense success, "The King's Fool." The music is of a light order, the plot romantic and the opera contains every element to make it as popular in this country as it has been in Europe.

Mr. Conried in selecting the artists and the chorus, has shown great tact in the discernment of the particular fitness of the person to interpret the part allotted to him or her. There are three prima donni, and four principal male artists. The fifty in the chorus are said to be all young, and possessors of fresh voices. A special point Mr. Conried makes in fitting out his company, is that he allows few 'sticks" in the chorus. Every person is perfect in the part assigned.

The orchestra is sufficient and under the direction of Mr. Paul Steindorff who has arranged the popular song, "Fair Columbia" for the orchestra. A full house should greet the pretty girls.

Mr. Charles Opdyke Talks at Reform Hall.

The speaker in Reform Hall last evening was Mr. Charles W. Opdyke of this city. Mr. Opdyke after appropriately reviewing the evils resulting from the saloon traffic, and in fitting terms eulogizing the good work accomplished by the Reform Club, passed on to an intelligent outline of Boys Clubs as instituted and maintained in various other cities, a project recently broached among some of the philanthropic people of Plainfield, for the purpose of rescuing boys from temptations and evil associations and raising them to a higher moral plane. Mr. Opdyke is deeply interested in the movement and elicited like interest from his hearers. He proved himself a very pleasant and able speaker.

President Harper was at his post of duty, and Mr. King led the singing with Mr. Rogers as orgainst. The devotional services were conducted by Mr. Angleman. The pledge received three signers.

Died From Over-Eating.

The young son of Peter Robinson who is a gardner in the employ of Mr. Charles Maltby, of this city, stuffed himself so full of stewed prunes and raisins, one day last week, that he was discovered a short time afterwards suffering the most intense pains.

A physician was summoned as soon as possible and relief administered. The unfortunate lad, however, swelled up and died in a very short time after taking the medicine. The funeral services were held in the South Plainfield Baptist church, Saturday afternoon.

Union County Courts.

There was a session of the the court of general quarter sessions at Elizabeth on Saturday, with Judges McCormick, Hyer, and Wiley on the bench. There were several matters in the Orphan's court, and in the criminal branch, on motion of Prosecutor Wilson the prisoners in the county jail, and others who had been indicted, were arraigned, and their pleading was taken.

As usual the event brought out a number of spectators, but no prisoners from this city were arraigned.

Tenders His Resignation.

Mr. Fredrick Moon, who has been a resident of this city for a few years past has unexpectedly changed his place of residence to Flemington, N. J. for an indefinite time. On this account Mr. Moon tendered his resignation to the Warren Union Mission Society yesterday as President and Trustee, and with unanimous regrets it was accepted. A Committee was appointed to draft resolutions and to present the same to Mr. Moon.

Switzerland—a Monologue.

Miss Allen is a young and attractive entertainer. The effect is novel and highly entertaining, and is interesting as presenting a new form of entertainment.—New York Mirror.

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. SOLDIERS' DEPOT.

THE WHOLE FAMILY JAILED.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parkinson and the Misses Parkinson, Languish in Cells at Norristown.

The quiet hamlet of Stirling was thrown into a state of excitement Saturday morning, by the report that George Doyle, section boss on the railroad, had been enticed into a bagnio and there robbed of about $36 by the proprietor or one of the inmates, while he slept.

The house in question is occupied by Thomas Parkinson and family, consisting of his wife and two daughters, besides a well known blacksmith of this city as an adjunct. The Parkinsons are well known in this city, where Thomas once through sympathy obtained the position of private watchman, while his wife and family played on the credulity of the kind-hearted philanthropic people of Plainfield. Thomas' reputation for honesty and sobriety was discovered to be somewhat shady—to such an extent that as a watchman he was a failure. His resignation was promptly asked for, and as promptly tendered.

After loosing his position he was helped to start a temperance eating house in North Plainfield, by some who had not lost all hope and confidence in him. Here he again abused the generosity of his friends and made the place the rendezvous of the worst kind of characters, to such an extent that it was closed through the influence of respectable neighbors. Last Spring Thomas and family moved to Stirling, Northwest of this city, where a large silk mill is situated, giving employment to most of the residents of the place.

The people of Stirling pursue the even tenor of their way—only varied by a trip to this city, or in gossiping about the stranger who might have gotten off the train which stops at the lonesome station; while the more enlightened leaders of society read THE PRESS, it being the only paper reaching there, except a few agricultural or religious periodicals. But they were not as long finding out the unsavory character of the new comers, as the people of this city were.

Hen roosts were robbed, and suspicion at once pointed to the Parkinsons, but no proof sufficient to warrant their arrest was obtained. One young man has since acknowledged that he helped them to steal. They were put out of house after house by the exasperated citizens, but always continued to find an empty place to move into.

George Doyle, it is said, was induced by the Parkinsons to enter their home, where he alleges, he was relieved of his money by some one of the inmates. In the morning he went to the Squire and entered a complaint of larceny from the person. Warrants were issued for the whole gang, but the wily Thomas smelt the battle afar, and hied himself to this city, where he was seen on the streets last Saturday.

The rest of the family, however, now languish behind cell doors at the expense of the city of Morristown, where the erring Thomas will join them. The residents of Stirling hope this is the last to be heard of the family in this vicinity.

Constable Harvey arrested Thomas this morning as he was on a visit to his home. Parkinson said he was satisfied to accompany the officer to the jail, as he would not have to support himself and family any longer.

He Can Shoot as Well as Bowl.

A team of twenty-five men from Company A, New York 7th Regiment, scored the highest total at 200 and 500 yards, the other day, ever made by a regimental rifle team. Mr. Howard L. Emerson, of this city, one of the most reliable of the Crescent League bowling team, was one of the shooters and high man at the longer distance, making 24 out of a possible 25.

A Plainfield Military Company Again Proposed.

The annual effort put forth in this city to enroll a company for the National Guard of New Jersey, seems this year to promise success. The names of forty-nine of the fifty-three necessary are secured, and a meeting will shortly be called at which Wm. S. Stryker, Adjutant-General of the State, is expected to be present.

State Chess Association.

Prof. Charles Jacobus, the President of the State Chess Association, and Mr. Henry S. Boice, its Secretary and Treasurer, met with the rest of the State Executive Association at Elizabeth on Saturday evening to make final arrangements for the next meeting of the Association. This meeting will be held in New Brunswick on February 22.

They Die Hard.

The State Executive Committee of the Prohibition party has elected Mr. W. W. Winans, State organizer. Chairman Burger, who formerly lived in this city, but now of Cranford, will direct the organizer in his work. It is proposed to have a Prohibition organization in every village in the State.

A Coming Prize Fight.

A New Brunswick paper said on Saturday: "It is said that prize fighter Dougherty of this city, who recently fought Dwyer of Bound Brook, will fight on Tuesday night with a Plainfield slugger. Everybody but the police can easily obtain information as to details."

Leading physicians recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Old and young take it with perfect safety. It cleanses the blood, strengthens the nerves, and vitalizes the system. Popular experience has long placed this medicine at the head of tonic alteratives.

POPULAR "PENN."

Westfield Claims the Handsomest Man on the Central Road.

(From the Mount Ararat Standard.)

The citizens of Westfield appreciate highly the consideration of the management of the C. R. R. of N. J., in providing a morning express train for their accommodation, stopping at no station till it reaches Jersey City and making the trip in 30 to 32 minutes. This train accommodates a large class of New York business men residing here. On this train may be seen daily the lawyers, the newspaper men, the bankers, the brokers, the gentlemen of wealth and leisure.

One great attraction on this train is the handsome, courteous and obliging conductor, Mr. Joseph Ross, familiarly known among train men as "Jo" Ross. Mr. Ross' uniform of blue cloth and brass ornaments is exceedingly becoming to him and he is allowed to be the handsomest man on the Road, unless it be our own station agent, Mr. Frank R. Penington. Mr. Penington is just superb in that new suit and Westfield is proud of him. Conductor Ross, we think, is more than a match for Mr. Penington on "killing neckties." Next to Charles A. Dana, whose "Sun shines for all," Jo Ross is the greatest living necktiest, unless it be that young man who devotes all his time to ties.

An Express Car Burned.

An express car of the United States Express Company, attached to a train bound for Washington from New York over the Bound Brook and Reading Road, was burned to the wheels on Friday, at Hopewell, a small station about a mile and a half west of Bound Brook. Hopewell is situated in a level country, and the wind sweeps across it with force sufficient to fan into a blaze the lightest spark. The train was running at a good rate of speed when the car caught fire, it is supposed from the stove. The messenger who was inside the car was burned in his efforts to extinguish the flames. The safe was taken from the car red hot.

In Union They'll Seek Strength.

A prominent Westfield bowler and a member of one of the league teams, predicts that next season Westfield will enter the league with only one team. He says: "With ten men picked from the members of the three clubs, we could beat any team in the State. The idea of Westfield supporting three league teams is absurd. The good men are so scattered about now, that it is a wonder to me the teams make as good a showing as they do. Plainfield has selected its league team from a total membership of over two hundred and Elizabeth from a membership considerably larger even than that."

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. B. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth, I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ¼ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

Confidence in "Cold Waves" is Gone.

(From the New York Sun of Friday.)

This seems to be a cold wave, but popular confidence in cold waves is gone. At the same time it behooves johnny-jump-ups, dandelions, and other delicate organizations to close up for a few days until it is known whether the cold wave is going to be an institution or simply a freak. Most persons feel so incredulous about the return of cold weather that even freezing an ear or two would hardly persuade them that January is not a Summer month.

Knights of Pythias Matters.

On the 21st at 22d insts, the Grand Lodge, K. of P., will be in session at Trenton. It is said that Grand Chancellor Bolton will put a good deal of new material into his committees. Doubling Their Offer.

Catarrh

is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

The Philippian Earthquake—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and Thou Shalt Be Saved"—Where the Text Should Be Applied—Who Is Christ?

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., of Brooklyn, preached in this city today, taking for his text Acts xvi, 31: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." He said:

Jails are dark, dull, damp, loathsome places even now, but they were worse in the apostolic times. I imagine today we are standing in the Philippian dungeon. Do you not feel the chill? Do you not hear the groan of those incarcerated ones who for ten years have not seen the sunlight, and a deep sigh of women who remember their father's house and mourn over their wasted estates? Listen again. It is the cough of the consumptive, or the struggle of one in the nightmare of a great horror. You listen again, and hear a culprit, his chains rattling as he rolls over in his dreams, and you say: "God pity the prisoner." But there is another sound in that prison. It is a song of joy and gladness. What a place to sing in! The music comes winding through the corridors of the prison, and in all the dark wards the whisper is heard: "What's that? What's that?" It is the song of Paul and Silas. They cannot sleep. They have been whipped, very badly whipped. The long gashes on their backs are bleeding yet. They lie flat on the cold ground, their feet fast in wooden sockets, and of course they cannot sleep. But they can sing. Jailer, what are you doing with these people? Why have they been put in here? Oh! they have been trying to make the world better. Is that all? That is all. A pit for Joseph. A lion's cave for Daniel. A blazing furnace for Shadrach. Clubs for John Wesley. An anathema for Philip Melancthon. A dungeon for Paul and Silas. But while we are standing in the gloom of that Philippian dungeon, and we hear the mingling voices of sob, and groan, and blasphemy, and hallelujah, suddenly an earthquake! The iron bars of the prison twist, the pillars crack off, the solid masonry begins to heave and rock till all the doors swing open, and the walls fall with a terrific crash. The jailer, feeling himself responsible for these prisoners, and feeling suicide to be honorable—since Brutus killed himself, and Cato killed himself, and Cassius killed himself—puts his sword to his own heart, proposing with one strong, keen thrust to put an end to his excitement and agitation. But Paul cries out: "Stop! stop! Do thyself no harm. We are all here." Then I see the jailer running through the dust and amid the ruin of that prison, and I see him throwing himself down at the feet of these prisoners, crying out: "What shall I do? What shall I do?" Did Paul answer: "Get out of this place before there is another earthquake; put handcuffs and hopples on these other prisoners, lest they get away?" No word of that kind. Compact, thrilling, tremendous answer; answer memorable all through earth and heaven: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

A DIFFERENT KIND OF EARTHQUAKES.

Well, we have all read of the earthquake in Lisbon, in Lima, in Aleppo and in Caraccas; but we live in a latitude where in all our memory there has not been one severe volcanic disturbance. And yet we have seen fifty earthquakes. Here is a man who has been building up a large fortune. His bid on the money market was felt in all the cities. He thinks he has got beyond all annoying rivalries in trade, and he says to himself: "Now I am free and safe from all possible perturbation." But a national panic strikes the foundations of the commercial world, and crash! goes all that magnificent business establishment. He is a man who has built up a very beautiful home. His daughters have just come home from the seminary with diplomas of graduation. His sons have started in life honest, temperate and pure. When the evening lights are struck, there is a happy and an unbroken family circle. But there has been an accident down at the beach. The young man ventured too far out in the surf. The telegraph hurled the terror up to the city. An earthquake struck under the foundations of that beautiful home. The piano closed; the curtains dropped; the laughter hushed. Crash! go all those domestic hopes, and prospects, and expectations. So, my friends, we have all felt the shaking down of some great trouble, and there was a time when we were as much excited as this man of the text, and we cried out as he did: "What shall I do? What shall I do?" The same reply that the apostle made to him is appropriate to us: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." There are some documents of so little importance that you do not care to put any more than your last name under them, or even your initials; but there are some documents of so great importance that you write out your full name. So the Saviour in some parts of the Bible is called "Lord," and in other parts of the Bible he is called "Jesus," and in other parts of the Bible he is called "Christ;" but that there might be no mistake about this passage all three names come in together—"the Lord Jesus Christ." Now, who is this being that you want me to trust in and believe in? Men sometimes come to me with credentials and certificates of good character, but I cannot trust them. There is some dishonesty in their looks that makes me know I shall be cheated if I confide in them. You cannot put your heart's confidence in a man until you know what stuff he is made of, and am I unreasonable this morning when I stop to ask you who this is that you want me to trust in? No man would think of venturing his life on a vessel going out to sea, that had never been inspected. No, you must have the certificate hung amidships, telling how many tons it carries, and how long ago it was built, and who built it, and all about it. And you cannot expect me to risk the cargo of my immortal interests on board any craft till you tell me what it is made of, and where it was made, and what it is. When, then, I ask you who this is you want me to trust in, you tell me he was a very attractive person. You tell me that the contemporary writers describe him, and they give the color of his eyes, and the color of his hair, and they describe his whole appearance as being resplendent. Christ did not tell the children to come to him. "Suffer little children to come unto me," was not spoken to the children; it was spoken to the Pharisees. The children had come without any invitation. No sooner did Jesus appear than the little ones pitched from their mothers' arms, an avalanche of beauty and love, into his lap. "Suffer little children to come unto me." That was addressed to the Pharisees; not to the children. Christ did not ask John to put his head down on his bosom; John could not help but put his head there. Such eyes, such cheeks, such a chin, such hair, such physical condition and appearance—why, it must have been completely captivating and winsome. I suppose a look at him was just to love him. Of how attractive his manner. Why, when they saw Christ coming along the street, they ran into their houses, and they wrapped up their invalids as quick as they could and brought them out that he might look at them. O! there was something so pleasant, so inviting, so cheering in everything he did, in his very look. When these sick ones were brought out did he say: "Take away these sores; do not trouble me with these leprosies?" No, no; there was a kind look; there was a gentle word; there was a healing touch. They could not keep away from him.

A LOVING CHRIST.

In addition to this softness of character, there was a fiery momentum. How the old hypocrites trembled before him. How the kings of the earth turned pale. Here is a plain man with a few sailors at his back, coming off the sea of Galilee, going up to the palace of the Cæsars, making that palace quake to the foundations, and uttering a word of mercy and kindness which throbs through all the earth, and through all the heavens, and through all the ages! O! he was a loving Christ. But it was not effeminacy, or insipidity of character; it was accompanied with majesty, infinite and omnipotent. Lest the world should not realize his earnestness, this Christ mounts the cross. You say: "If Christ has to die, why not let him take some deadly potion and lie on a couch in some bright and beautiful home? If he must die, let him expire amid all kindly attentions." No, the world must hear the hammers on the heads of the spikes. The world must listen to the death rattle of the sufferer. The world must feel his warm blood dropping on each cheek, while it looks up into the face of his anguish. And so the cross must be lifted, and the hole is dug on the top of Calvary. It must be dug three feet deep, and then the cross is laid on the ground, and the sufferer is stretched upon it, and the nails are pounded through nerve and muscle and bone, through the right hand, through the left hand, and then they shake his right hand to see if it is fast, and they shake his left foot to see if it is fast, and then they heave up the wood, half a dozen shoulders under the weight, and they put the end of the cross to the mouth of the hole, and they plunge it in, all the weight of his body coming down for the first time on the spikes, and while some hold the cross upright others throw in the dirt and trample it down, and trample it hard. Oh, plant that tree well and thoroughly, for it is to bear fruit such as no other tree ever bore! Why did Christ endure it? He could have taken those rocks, and with them crushed his crucifiers. He could have reached up and grasped the sword of the Omnipotent God and with one clean cut have tumbled them into perdition. But no; he was to die, he must die. His life for my life. His life for your life. In one of the European cities a young man died on the scaffold for the crime of murder. Some time after, the mother of this young man was dying, and the priest came in, and she made confession to the priest that she was the murderer and not her son; in a moment of anger she had struck her husband a blow that slew him. The son came suddenly into the room, and was washing away the wounds and trying to resuscitate his father, when some one looked through the window and saw him, and supposed him to be the criminal. That young man died for his own mother. You say: "It was wonderful that he never exposed her." But I tell you of a grander thing. Christ, the Son of God, died not for his mother, not for his father, but for his sworn enemies. O, such a Christ as that—so loving, so self sacrificing—can you not trust him?

HOW TO TRUST HIM.

I think there are many under the spirit of God who are saying: "I will trust Him if you will only tell me how;" and the great question asked by thousands in this assemblage is: "How? how?" And while I answer your question I look up and utter the prayer which Rowland Hill so often uttered in the midst of his sermons: "Master, help!" How are you to trust in Christ? Just as you trust any one. You trust your partner in business with important things. If a commercial house gives you a note payable three months hence, you expect the payment of that note at the end of three months. You have perfect confidence in their word and in their ability. You go home today. You expect there will be food on the table. You have confidence in that. Now, I ask you to have the same confidence in the Lord Jesus Christ. He says: "You believe; I take away your sins;" and they are all taken away. "What," you say, "before I pray any more? Before I read my Bible any more? Before I cry over my sins any more?" Yes, this moment. Believe with all your heart, and you are saved. Why, Christ is only waiting to get from you what you give to scores of people every day. What is that? Confidence. If these people whom you trust day by day are more worthy than Christ, if they are more faithful than Christ, if they have done more than Christ ever did, then give them the preference; but if you really think that Christ is as trustworthy as they are, then deal with him as fairly. "Oh," says some one, in a light way, "I believe that Christ was born in Bethlehem, and I believe that he died on the cross." Do you believe it with your head, or your heart?

AN ILLUSTRATION.

I will illustrate the difference. You are in your house. In the morning you open a newspaper, and you read how Capt. Braveheart on the sea risked his life for the salvation of his passengers. You say: "What a grand fellow he must have been! His family deserves very well of the country." You fold the newspaper and sit down at the table, and perhaps do not think of that incident again. That is historical faith. But now you are on the sea, and it is night, and you are asleep and are awakened by the shriek of "Fire!" You rush out on the deck. You hear, amid the wringing of the hands and the fainting, the cries: "No hope! We are lost! We are lost!" The sail puts out its wing of fire, the ropes make a burning ladder in the night heavens, the spirit of wreck hisses in the waves, and on the hurricane deck shakes out its banner of smoke and darkness. "Down with the lifeboats!" cries the captain. "Down with the lifeboats!" People rush into them. The boats are full. Room only for one more man. You are standing on the deck beside the captain. Who shall it be? You or the captain? The captain says: "You." You jump and are saved. He stands there and dies. Now, you believe that Capt. Braveheart sacrificed himself for his passengers, but you believe it with love, with tears, with hot and long continued exclamations; with grief at his loss, and with joy at your deliverance. That is saving faith. In other words, what you believe with all the heart, and believe in regard to yourself. On this hinge turns my sermon; aye, the salvation of your immortal soul. You often go across a bridge you know nothing about. You do not know who built the bridge, you do not know what material it is made of; but you come to it, and walk over it, and ask no questions. And here is an arched bridge blasted from the "Rock of Ages," and built by the Architect of the whole universe, spanning the dark gulf between sin and righteousness, and all God asks you is to walk across it; and you start, and you come to it, and you stop, and you go a little way on and you stop, and you fall back, and you experiment. You say: "How do I know that bridge will hold me?" Instead of marching on with firm step, asking no questions, but feeling that the strength of the eternal God is under you. Oh, was there ever a prize offered so cheap as pardon and heaven are offered to you? For how much? A million dollars? It is certainly worth more than that. But cheaper than that you can have it. Ten thousand dollars? Less than that. Five thousand dollars? Less than that. One dollar? Less than that. One farthing? Less than that. "Without money and without price." No money to pay. No journey to take. No penance to suffer. Only just one decisive action of the soul: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." Shall I try to tell you what it is to be saved? I cannot tell you. No man, no angel, can tell you. But I can hint at it. For my text brings me up to this point, "Thou shalt be saved." It means a happy life here, and a peaceful death and a blissful eternity. It is a grand thing to go to sleep at night, and to get up in the morning, and to do business all day feeling that all is right between my heart and God. No accident, no sickness, no persecution, no peril, no sword can do me any permanent damage. I am a forgiven child of God, and he is bound to see me through. He has sworn he will see me through. The mountains may depart, the earth may burn, the light of the stars may be blown out by the blast of the judgment hurricane; but life and death, things present and things to come, are mine. Yea, further than that—it means a peaceful death.

DEATH.

Mrs. Hemans, Mrs. Sigourney, Dr. Young and almost all the poets have said handsome things about death. There is nothing beautiful about it. When we stand by the white and rigid features of those whom we love, and they give no answering pressure of the hand and no returning kiss of the lip, we do not want anybody poetizing around about us. Death is loathsomeness and midnight and the wringing of the heart until the tendrils snap and curl in the torture unless Christ be with us. I confess to you to an infinite fear, a consuming horror, of death unless Christ shall be with me. I would rather go down into a cave of wild beasts or a jungle of reptiles than into the grave unless Christ goes with me. Will you tell me that I am to be carried out from my bright home and put away in the darkness? I cannot bear darkness. At the first coming of the evening I must have the gas lit, and the further on in life I get the more I like to have my friends around about me. And am I to be put off for thousands of years in a dark place, with no one to speak to? When the holidays come and the gifts are distributed, shall I add no joy to the "Merry Christmas" or the "Happy New Year?" Ah, do not point down to the hole in the ground, the grave, and call it a beautiful place; unless there be some supernatural illumination, I shudder back from it. My whole nature revolts at it. But now this glorious lamp is lifted above the grave and all the darkness is gone and the way is clear. I look into it now without a single shudder. Now my anxiety is not about death; my anxiety is that I may live aright; for I know that if my life is consistent when I come to the last hour, and this voice is silent and these eyes are closed, and these hands with which I beg for your eternal salvation today are folded over the still heart, that then I shall only begin to live. What power is there in anything to chill me in the last hour, if Christ wraps around me the skirt of his own garment? What darkness can fall upon my eyelids then, amid the heavenly daybreak? O death, I will not fear thee then. Back to thy cavern of darkness, thou robber of all the earth. Fly, thou despoiler of families. With this battle ax I hew thee in twain from helmet to sandal, the voice of Christ sounding all over the earth and through the heavens: "O death, I will be thy plague. O grave, I will be thy destruction."

JESUS THE CHIEF BLOOM OF HEAVEN.

To be saved is to wake up in the presence of Christ. You know when Jesus was upon earth how happy he made every house he went into, and when he brings us up to his house how great our glee. His voice has more music in it than is to be heard in all the oratorios of eternity. Talk not about banks dashed with efflorescence. Jesus is the chief bloom of heaven. We shall see the very face that beamed sympathy in Bethany, and take the very hand that dropped its blood from the short beam of the cross. O, I want to stand in eternity with him. Toward that harbor I steer. Toward that goal I run. I shall be satisfied when I awake in his likeness. Oh, broken hearted men and women, how sweet it will be in that good land to pour all your hardships and bereavements and losses into the loving ear of Christ, and then have him explain why it was best for you to be sick, and why it was best for you to be widowed, and why it was best for you to be persecuted, and why it was best for you to be tried, and have him point to an elevation proportionate to your disquietude here, saying: "You suffered with me on earth, come up now and be glorified with me in heaven."

Some one went into a house where there had been a good deal of trouble and said to the woman there: "You seem to be lonely." "Yes," she said, "I am lonely." "How many in the family?" "Only myself." "Have you had any children?" "I had seven children." "Where are they?" "Gone." "All gone?" "All." "All dead?" "All." Then she breathed a long sigh into the loneliness and said: "Oh, sir, I have been a good mother to the grave." And so there are hearts here that are utterly broken down by the bereavements of life. I point you today to the eternal balm of heaven. Are there any here that I am missing this morning? O, you poor waiting maid! your heart's sorrow poured in no human ear, lonely and sad! how glad you will be when Christ shall disband all your sorrows and crown you queen unto God and the Lamb forever! O, aged men and women, fed by his love and warmed by his grace for three score years and ten! will not your decrepitude change for the leap of a hart when you come to look face to face upon him whom, having not seen, you love? O, that will be the Good Shepherd, not out in the night and watching to keep off the wolves, but with the lambs reclining on the sunlit hill. That will be the Captain of our salvation, not amid the roar, and crash, and boom of battle, but amid his disbanded troops keeping victorious festivity. That will be the Bridegroom of the Church coming from afar, the bride leaning upon his arm while he looks down into her face and says: "Behold, thou art fair, my love! Behold, thou art fair!"

Saved by His Enemy.

A curious incident occurred at the well known Parisian Cafe de la Paix a day or two ago. A Republican deputy, M. Jules Roche, while breakfasting, was on the point of being choked by a mouthful of bread, and would probably have succumbed had not his critical condition been noticed by M. de Susini, the fiery Boulangist, and one of M. Roche's most pronounced political enemies, who was having his dejeuner at a neighboring table. M. de Susini, who happens to be a doctor, forgetting all about political differences, hastened to assist the choking deputy, and, having saved him from certain suffocation, escorted him to the chamber. Even French political rivals, it would seem, are not so bitterly irreconcilable as is often made out.—London Figaro.

Grade crossings in Chicago in 1889 caused the death of 200 persons. The record for the last four years is nearly a thousand lives.

FIGHT OVER A GRAVE

A Fierce Riot in Which Many Are Wounded.

THE WOMEN FLED IN TERROR

Catholic Poles Try to Prevent the Lithuanians from Burying a Child.

The Polanders Routed by a Constable, He Pulled a Revolver and Placed the Ringleaders Under Arrest—The Prisoners Brought to Wilkesbarre in Irons and Committed to Jail.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 21.—The Polish church war at Plymouth culminated in a riot last evening. On Friday last the younger son of the Lithuanian faction died. On Saturday an attempt was made to bury the dead body in the cemetery, but the Polish faction were present armed with shotguns and refused to allow the funeral procession to pass into the sacred ground. The mourners then started back with the body. A committee went to Scranton to wait on Bishop O'Hara. It is not known what advice the Bishop gave, but the Lithuanians again attempted bury the dead. They went to the cemetery in strong numbers. The Poles were not present, being under the impression that the body had already been interred in the Irish Catholic Cemetery.

It did not tak long, however, for them to put in an appearance after they had heard that the enemy were in possession of the cemetery. About a dozen Poles, headed by Anthony Gilkin, hastened to the place. The Lithuanians were about to lower the body into the grave. The Poles marched up to the crowd of mourners and demanded that the coffin be taken up again. The Lithuanians refused. The Poles then picked up stones and began to throw them into the crowd. The women fled.

The men stood their ground, and for about five minutes a fierce battle raged. Several of the combatants were badly cut and bruised. Constable Gallagher arrived while the fight was in progress. He ran into the crowd, and, pulling out his revolver, commanded the belligerents to throw down the stones. This had the desired effect. The fight stopped. Gallagher and three other constables then placed the ringleaders of the Polish faction under arrest. They were brought to this city in irons, and after a hearing before Alderman Rooney, were committed to jail.

PORTUGAL WILL SUBMIT.

Failing to Secure Mediation, She Yields to England Under Protest.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—The Portuguese Government, finding the Powers unwilling to mediate in the dispute between Portugal and England concerning territory in East Africa, will submit to Lord Salisbury's full demands under protest, while at the same time it will try to conciliate Portuguese public opinion.

The Government has given orders that the streets be patrolled nightly by cavalry and mounted police, while the present disturbed feeling continues.

An Immense Shipyard.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—It is stated upon good authority that the firm of Armstrong, gunmakers, intend to establish an immense shipyard in the United States, and bid, through Americans interested in the enterprise, for the construction of the ironclad vessels which it is proposed to build for the United States navy. The claim is made by the Armstrongs that they can profitably compete with the American shipbuilders on their own ground and easily command the American influence necessary to secure contracts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The steamships Servia, City of Chester, Rhynland and La Gascogne are slightly overdue. The Sorrento, from Hamburg, is considerably overdue, and some anxiety is felt about her.

DROPPED DOWN DEAD.

A Newburgh Laborer a Victim to the Electric Wire.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Thomas Dawson, laborer, aged about 45, was instantly killed by an alternating current from a wire of the Electric Light Company.

Dawson and a companion named Salts were standing on Water street, when a horse fastened to an awning post was seen to fall. The men thought he had slipped on the pavement, which was wet, and both sprang to its assistance.

As Dawson caught the horse by the bit he was thrown down, his head touching the awning-post. He dropped over dead.

Salts attempted to save Dawson, when he too was knocked over, but the current he received was taken through the body of the man and the horse, and did not prove fatal, although for some time his lower limbs were paralyzed.

The electric wire had sagged at this particular point in the line and the insulation wore off, the current descending through a sign board and the awning-rail to the post at which the horse was tied.

The accident caused intense excitement, and the streets were crowded with people who denounced the electric wires in unmeasured terms.

The horse which Dawson tried to aid got up and walked away subsequently, the shock having been insufficient to kill it.

"DUTCH FRANK" DEAD.

He Served Ten Years in Prison on a Life Sentence for Murder.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Frank Engleman, better known as "Dutch Frank," died at Fishkill Landing after a short illness.

About 20 years ago, a party of drunken three months' soldiers, called at Engleman's saloon after he had retired for the night. Upon his refusing to open the door they burst it in, and as they entered Frank took an axe and brained William Headdy, the ringleader.

He was tried, found guilty of murder and sentenced to imprisonment for life. After serving ten years he was pardoned by the Governor and returned to his old home.

MEXICO COUNTERFEITERS.

Flooding Our Market With Doctored Silver Dollars.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—For several months it has been noticed by bankers and other men who have to do with money in the portions of the United States contiguous to Mexico, that there had been a large, and unwontedly large, number of United States silver dollars in circulation. This fact has been noted by bankers in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

It was found that many of these coins could be traced to Mexicans living across the border who had given them in exchange for commodities purchased in this country.

This is the conclusion which the bankers in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona have arrived at as a result of their investigations: That a band of Mexicans, calling themselves a "private bank," have been coining United States silver dollars and uttering the same to Mexicans, who gave them in return for goods purchased on this side of the border. Perhaps there is more than one of these institutions; perhaps a half-dozen.

The gentlemen who are investigating this gigantic plot, if such it proves to be, are of the opinion, deduced from many minor details, that this wholesale counterfeiting has been going on for over two years, and that at least 5,000,000 counterfeit United States dollars have thus been foisted upon the citizens of this country by the keen-witted Mexicans.

City Officials and Gambling.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Mayor Cregier, Chief Marsh, ex-Chief Hubbard, Lieutenant Elliott, and Inspector Ebersold, were served with subpœnas instructing them to appear before the grand jury to tell what they know about the gambling going on in this city.

He was in command of Troop C, 8th Cavalry, at the time of his death. He was on furlough, and had been stopping at the hotel several days.

A Dividend to the Help.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan 21.—The Bourn mill declared a monthly dividend of two per cent., also a semi-annual dividend of 8½ per cent. to the help on the amount of wages earned during the six months from July 1 to January 1. This is the first dividend on the profit-sharing basis. The sum divided among the help amounts to a little over six per cent. of the dividends paid to stockholders during the same period.

NEW JERSEY'S DAY

Governor Abbett Inaugurated Amid Great Enthusiasm.

AN IMMENSE STREET PARADE.

Delegations Present from All Over the State, New York and Philadelphia.

The New Governor's Inaugural Message. He Favors Ballot Reform—The Inaugural Ball To-Night—Over 10,000 Visitors at Trenton—Speaker Heppenheimer Announces the Standing Committees.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 21.—Fully 10,000 visitors are here to-day, and the wonder is how all that entertainment in the way of luncheon and refreshment, as every public place is densly packed.

The parade in the morning was the greatest display of the kind ever witnessed in the State. Five thousand marching men were in line from Philadelphia, and the delegations from the northern part of the state were numerous. Large delegations are here from Newark. The Essex County Democratic Committee, the Jeffersonian Club and the Joel Parker Association attended with full ranks, and it is estimated that fifteen hundred Newarkers participated in the procession.

Besides the third battalion of Orange two other military companies, B and D of the seventh regiment, of this city, joined the parade. The pagant was one of the most imposing ever seen in this city, and the ceremonies and festivities indoors were on a grand scale.

Gov. Abbett was administered the oath of office by Chief Justice Beasley. The Governor's message, which is quite lengthy, was read. A large portion of it is devoted to ballot reform, a part of which is as follows:

"The best sentiment of the country in all the States demands ballot reform and honest elections. The safeguards which the law has thrown around the ballot have been found insufficient to prevent fraud, the intimidation of the voter and the corrupt use of money in elections. The oaths of election officers have not always prevented them from tampering with the ballot box and receiving and counting fraudulent votes. The great mass of election officers are honest and conscientious in the discharge af their duty, but there are a few who will violate their oaths of office and run the risk of punishment to change or attempt to change the result of elections.

"There are citizens entitled to the ballot who, notwithstanding the penalties of the law, deliberately sell their votes or demand money for voting in accordance with their political convictions. Men of high standing contribute large sums of money which in many instances is used by disreputable party agents to bribe voters or election officers. The penalties of the law seem impotent to stop these practices. This condition of affairs is an evil that every honest citizen should use his best energies to stamp out by radical measures. Different systems and modifications of systems have been tried in different communities. The experience of these communities will enable us to exercise an intelligent judgment in securing legislation in our State which will give us pure elections, expressing only the honest sentiment of the masses."

The preparations for the inaugural ball this evening are on a grand scale. Leading men of both parties in the State will be present, and a big crowd from Pennsylvania and New York will attend.

Legislative Doings.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 21.—Speaker Heppenheimer announced last night the standing committee of the House. The more important are as follows: Bill Revision—Ivins, Kerr, Nash, Asher, Hutchinson. Ways and Means—Johnston, Fagan, Trier, Voorhees, Potts. Judiciary—Marsh, Dalish, Campbell, Kerr, Voorhees. Education—Naughright, Bertram, Stull, Erwin, Cole. Elections—Kerr, Marsh, Boyle, Hudson, Norris. Municipal Corporations—Trier, Mallone, Jacques, Ulrich. Militia—Stull, Snyder, Mallone, Woolman, King. Corporations—Degnde, Kelly, Smith, Monahan, West. Riparian Rights—Klotz, Mallone, Jacques, Bertram, Ward. Railroads and Canals—Martin, Schroth, Robenstein, Toppen, Sharp. Miscellaneous Business—Murphy, Zimmerman, Perkins, Pollock, Glaspell. Labor and Industries—Asher, Robenstein, Haggerty, Cheseman, Ernst.

Celebrating Gen. Lee's Birthday.

Toasts were responded to by Congressman T. R. Stockdale of Mississippi, John M. Allen of Mississippi, Clifton R. Breckinridge of Arkansas, Charles T. O'Farrell of Virginia and Rev. Dr. Randolph M. McKim. Winfield Peter read an eulogy on the life of the late Jefferson Davis.

G. A. R. State Encampment.

The order announces that the next Department Encampment will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 25, at Syracuse. The department quarters will be at the Globe Hotel. CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

License Applications Presented, and Other Routine Business Transacted.

President Moffett called the City Council to order in adjourned session at 8:10 o'clock last evening, all the members being present except Mr. Newhall. The minutes of the last meeting were read, and the regular order of business was then taken up.

Mr. F. A. Dunham communicated with the Council with reference to the necessity of establishing a system of establishing grade marks at the street corners. Referred to the Street Committee.

Messrs. Jacob Kirkner, J. T. Fritts, F. A. Dunham, J. H. Mooney and others petitioned the Council for a franchise to operate a street railway, under the name of the "Plainfield Street Railway Company." The matter was referred to the Street Committee.

Petitions were received and referred asking for fifteen additional electric lamps on Park avenue, Southeast of Cedar Brook; and also for an extra lamp on East Fourth, near Richmond street.

LICENSE APPLICATIONS

Were presented and referred to the License Committee as follows:

Mr. Jenkins, from the Finance Committee, presented a resolution which prevailed, requesting each committee to prepare an estimate of their probable expenses for the months of January, February, March and April, and report the same at the February meeting. He also recommended that no bills be paid this month.

Mr. Smith, from the Street Committee, called attention to the necessity for immediate repairs to the North avenue and New street sewers. He also urged the grading and macadamizing of Plainfield avenue from the railroad East to Fifth street. The Committee was authorized and empowered to proceed with the work.

The Street Committee was also granted an appropriation of $100 for repairs on Randolph road, to be used in connection with a $200 fund, subscribed by the property owners along said road.

Mr. Dunham asked the Street Committee to first consider the New street sewer, at a request coming from the Board of Health. The Street Committee was also authorized to repair a cave-in at the corner of Front street and Washington avenue.

Mr. Hetfield made a motion that the Mayor's message be taken from the file and that that portion of it relating to taxation, be referred to the Law and Ordinance Committee. Mr. Hetfield explained the object of his motion by stating that in his opinion it was right and proper for the Council and the Board of Education to act together in the matter of taxation. The motion was adopted.

Upon resolution adopted, the City Clerk was authorized to have the City's safe removed to the Clerk's office.

Mr. Rushmore introduced a resolution authorizing the Clerk to have one hundred copies of the ordinances of 1888 and '89 printed. Adopted.

Mr. Smith asked for an appropriation of $500 for street cleaning purposes. Granted.

THE OFFICIAL PAPERS.

Mr. Gallup recommended the appointment of THE PRESS, Central New Jersey Times and the news as the official papers. Mr. Smith offered and amendment, cutting off the Times, giving as his reason that unnecessary expense would be incurred by designating three official papers when the law only required that the official business shall be published in two papers. Mr. Hetfield was not in favor of excluding the Times, nor was Mr. Jenkins. The amendment was lost, and the original recommendation adopted.

The Clerk reported that the contract with Engineer Rudolph Hering had been signed by the Mayor.

Council then adjourned.

It Was Only a Hamper.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In your issue of the 20th inst., you published an item to the effect that some of the trunks of the Conried Opera Co. were broken open and the contents scattered about the platform while being removed from the car. I wish to contradict this as it reflects on me as being very careless in handling baggage.

Night Baggage Master.

STOP RIGHT WHERE YOU WERE!

Gentlemen of the Council, There is No Reason for Granting Licenses for Any New Liquor Saloons.

A year's test has proven that the prohibition of "legal" liquor selling in Plainfield, closed thirteen decent and well-ordered saloons and opened sixty-three illicit rum-holes.

The people then rose up and elected a license Council throughout, with the exception of two whose terms had not expired. That was a grand victory of common sense over sentiment, and THE PRESS will always feel proud of its share in the successful result. But by their action neither the people nor THE PRESS meant that they approved of the unrestricted granting of liquor licenses.

Among the applications for licenses to sell liquor, presented at the Council meeting of last evening, were two designating new locations. These should both be refused. They are the applications of Wm. A. Schorb, at 11 East Front street; and John Goff, at the corner of Third and Liberty streets. Both are unnecessary, while Schorb's petition is particularly offensive because he proposes to locate his saloon in the basement underneath the post office.

Let every councilman show his independence and good judgment by refusing these applications. Councilman Newhall and Dunham will vote no—who will join them?

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING.

Trustees Re-elected, Financial Prosperity Reported, and the Janitor Pensioned.

A meeting was held in the Crescent Avenue church, last evening, for the purpose of electing seven trustees to serve for the ensuing year, and to listen to the annual financial and other reports. President Charles Place presided.

The election resulted in the chosing for another term of the present Board: Charles Place, J. K. Myers, I. W. Rushmore, J. W. Murray, H. D. Janes, Ephraim Miller and Wm. F. Arnold. The Finance Committee of which Mr. Rushmore is chairman, reported through the Treasurer of the Board, Mr. Arnold, that $14,122.64 had been subscribed towards the extension fund and about $9,000 more would be necessary to complete the alterations, remove the organ and refurnish the new Sunday-school rooms.

The receipts of the church fund for the past year, were $15,615.47, and the expenditures, $15,614.07. It was left in the power and discretion of the Board of Trustees, to care and provide for Henry Kline, the old sexton of the church, as long as he lives. He is now very ill and confined to his bed.

One Way to Make a "News" Paper.

The New York World of today contains eight distinct items of Plainfield news stolen from THE PRESS. They are:

The arrest of Thomas Parkinson and family for robbery;

The driving of test wells for the Plainfield water works;

The death of young Robinson from over-eating;

The proposed building of a church for Mr. Cleaver's congregation;

The enforcing of the ordinance against fast driving, by Chief Carey;

The coming jubilee of New Jersey wheelmen, in this city;

The formation of a Plainfield company of the State National Guard;

The serious illness of Freeholder Vanderbeek;

And yet the World imagines it issues a "New Jersey edition" that is of interest to New Jersey people.

The Prospect for Ice Manufacture Here.

The ice dealers in this city have given up almost all hope of harvesting a full crop of ice this Winter, and a movement is now well under way to form an ice manufacturing company here. The local dealers have heretofore been obliged to get most of their ice from Lake Hopatcong, but the supply at that place was exhausted several months ago, and they are now obliged to get their ice from Bare Lake, near White Haven, Pa.

In conversation with a local dealer this morning, a PRESS representative was informed that it required about six week's time to fill the Lake Hopatcong ice houses alone, and as yet no ice has been cut from the lake. The dealers here cannot therefore expect to get their next Summer's supply from that place, and in view of this fact they are considering the advisability of manufacturing their own ice.

Another Elizabeth Enterprise.

The Fidelity Paper Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the Clerk of Union county. The Company's capital is $10,000, and the incorporators are Augustus Howe of Elizabeth; Charles W. Minor of Stamford, Conn; Henry L. V. Warner and Frederick A. Trowbridge, of New York, and Charles Cooper Clark of Stamford. The latter is the principal stockholder. The Company's chief place of business will be Elizabeth, with a branch in New York.

As Usual.

A Great Discovery.

The fact that castor oil, as vile a medicine as was ever discovered, has so long held its own as a laxative, is because, until HAMBURG FIGS were discovered, no medicine could take its place. FANWOOD FACTS.

What the Citizens of Our Suburban Sister, Are Doing.

One of Fanwood's old timers who has taken up his abode elsewhere passed through Scotch Plains a few days ago, and meeting some of his old acquaintances he made the casual inquiry, "What have you people of the village been a doing in violation of the law?" Being asked what he was alluding to, replied, "That he thought that they must have been guilty of some misdemeanor, as he saw coming up the street that they were erecting a building that looked very much like a penitentiary or insane asylum!" When informed that it was the new school building, he observed, "Oh, I see now, you people require such a building to confine your talent in."

Mr George Kyte, the C. N. J. L. I. Co's affable and energetic agent, is now endeavoring to obtain from the C. R., crushed stone and slag to build up the roads around the freight house that are now in a horrible condition, and if there is anything in push and energy he will succeed. The present good condition of Fanwood's roads and sidewalks is entirely due to this same push and energy in soliciting material from this same source in liberal donations for the roads and sidewalks of Fanwood, and placing it there without one cent cost to the taxpayers.

Mr. Chas Richardson, Fanwood's experienced and competent builder, is now engaged in erecting a two-story dwelling. When completed he proposes to make it his home. The plans are by Mr. Clarence W. Smith, the architect, and judging from the beauty and artistic taste displayed by Mr. Smith on a number of Fanwood homes, this dwelling also promises to be a credit to the architect and builder.

The well and favorably known firm of Baker & Mead, of Scotch Plains, have concluded to establish a branch store on the corner of South avenue and Russell road, Fanwood. The contract for the erection of a handsome two-story store and dwelling, designed by Clarence W. Smith, the architect, has been awarded to Chas. Richardson, carpenter and builder, and Wm. D. Johnston, mason and builder, of Scotch Plains, N. J.

It is by the acquisition of enterprising trades people that a place becomes favorably known, and it may be said with a genuine feeling of unquestioned veracity that the establishing of a branch store by the enterprising firm of Baker & Mead, in Fanwood, will mark a new era in the prosperity of Fanwood. And it has been predicted that those who shall live to see 1893 will see Fanwood comparing favorably with her adjoining towns on the line of the railroad, and will far outstrip the inland old village of Scotch Plains in population, and it may also be able to boast of an equal amount of talent to the square inch.

TIED HEAD AND FOOT.

The "Mondays" Get Third Place in the County Tournament, and the Westfield "Pastimes" Are Even-up With the Plainfield "Crescents" as Tail Enders.

There are but two more matches to be rolled in the tournament for the bowling championship of this county. The one next Monday evening at Elizabeth will decide which team takes first place, and the one at Westfield on the evening of February 4, will decide which team takes last place.

The latter game will be between Plainfield's Crescent League team and the Westfield Pastimes. Captain Davis, of the former team, has been notified that he must win the game for Plainfield and not leave this city at the end of the tournament, in the position of McGinty. Monday evening's game will be between the Elizabeth team and the Nameless of Westfield. The winner will take first and the loser second place in the tournament. The value of the championship is about eighty dollars.

It was expected that the eighteenth game of the tournament, rolled at Westfield last evening, between the "Mondays" and "Pastimes" would be won by the former. In such case the "Mondays" would tie for second place the loser of the tie for first place. But the "ponys" beat them by the following score:

ABSOLUTELY SECURE.

How the City Bank Takes Care of Its Patrons' Valuables.

The only thing that would convince a newspaper man that there were fellow beings in the world who owned more valuables than they could carry in their pockets or could safely care for themselves, is a visit to the City Bank and an inspection of the five thousand dollar safe, weighing sixty tons and supported on a massive stone pier, in which are scores of compartments of all sizes separated by partitions of steel, and rented by numerous Plainfielders for the safe deposit of their Government bonds, mortgages, deeds, wills and other valuables.

This enormous safe stands fully exposed to view within a burglar-proof cage of steel, entrance to which can only be had by those who rent the inner compartments, upon the Cashier unlocking the door of the cage.

The safe door is provided with the latest improved time-lock, besides other locks requiring the manipulation of combinations of fifteen numbers. The inner safes are rented at from five to ten dollars a year. Each rentor is given the key that opens only his own safe, but even he cannot unlock his safe until the lock has been set in readiness by the insertion of a key in the possession of the Cashier. Yet the Cashier himself cannot open any of these inner safes.

At night the interior of the cage and the locks of the safe are entirely exposed to view from the street, and besides this fact, and that it would be impossible for any gang of burglars to get into the safe within twelve hours time, a watchman is on duty who is required to push on a button every time he makes his rounds, that registers inside the bank how often and at what times during the night he inspected the premises.

"TEE KAY" AGAIN.

What the People of the South Think of Him.

Thomas H. Kellar, of this city, that well-known, and perhaps notorious man, so far as prize shooting matches is concerned, has been "away down South in Dixie," arranging matches for most of the crack shots of the country, and the "Spirit of The Times," published at New Orleans, has this to say in a recent issue concerning him:

"The enterprise is fortunate in having an experienced newspaper man and popular gentleman in advance looking out for their interests. Mr. T. H. Keller, is a well-known writer in the sportsman's magazines as well as for the daily press. Here is what the Forest and Stream said of him in connection with this enterprise:

"The great tour of the United States Cartridge Company's shooting teams may now be said to be inaugurated, for although the shooters' car does not start till the latter part of January, the advance agent is now loose: which the same is Tee Kay. Any trap shooter and almost any sportsman of the country will know it is unnecessary to remark that Tee Kay is not a Japanese gentleman, but a straight-cut American from New Jersey and a whole aggregation of talent in himself. To a few intimate friends it is known that his real name is Thos. Keller; but this fact is rapidly becoming obscured in the drift of time and Tee Kay goes. The only misfortune that can happen to the boys in the Iolanthe is that they can't have Tee Kay with them, but must follow, after, vainly trying to stop the hole he leaves in the air on ahead; and if any imputation dare be put upon the management, it is that of possible bad judgment in selecting an advance agent who may have a doubt in a town as to whether he was the front man or the whole show himself."

A Plainfield Woman Arrested in New York.

A fashionably dressed young woman aged twenty-two years, who gave the name of "Miss Mamie Berrison," and said she was of Plainfield, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Police Court, New York, this morning, for stealing. The name does not appear in the directory, and it is supposed that the woman gave a fictitious name.

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. R. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth. I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ⅛ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

A Plainfielder's Big Winnings.

Almost all the large room traders at the New York Stock Exchange made handsome profits on the recent decline in Reading securities. W. B. Wadsworth of this city is credited with being particularly fortunate. In the first place, he wagered $1,000 some time ago that the Reading Company would pass the interest on its first income bonds. Isidor Wormser took the bet. In the second place, Mr. Wadsworth sold Reading stock short from 54 down to 37. It is said that besides bagging the $1,000 wager and the profit of 17 per cent on the stock, he made at least 20 per cent. bearing the income bonds.

Dr. England Pleads Not Guilty.

Dr. Charles W. England, of Newark, was arraigned in the Union County Court, at Elizabeth, yesterday, charged with malpractice, the complainant being a respectable colored girl named Minnie Williams, of Elizabeth. Dr. England plead not guilty and was held in the sum of $500 for trial. Harry Vandeveer, who is made a co-respondent with Dr. England, also plead not guilty. The trial is fixed for January 30.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish a the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

TRENTON'S MYSTERY.

The Coroner's Jury Adjourns for a Week Without Making a Decision.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 21.—After the examination of several witnesses the coroner's jury in the Kniffin murder case adjourned for a week, thus throwing the responsibility of the case on the grand jury. If this body fails to indict anyone for the murder the decision of the coroner's jury will be given to the grand jury of the May term of court.

The Hon. H. Scudder, one of the wealthiest merchants in the city, and also a prominent Democratic politician, is foreman of the grand jury which met to-day.

Professor John Cornwall, the Princeton specialist, who made an analysis of the stomach of the murdered woman, said he discovered no traces of vegetable poisoning. There was in the stomach a slight action that indicated the presence of morphine, but it was not positive.

Lennie, the 10-year-old son of Mrs. Kniffin, and other witnesses were examined, but nothing was developed.

Floods at Evansville, Ind.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 21.—The river is still rising slowly at this point, and was expected to come to a stand by morning, but even should it start to fall the decline will be slow, as the Green and Barren rivers are still rising at the rate of one inch per hour which will have considerable effect on the river at this point.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

A Number of Bills Introduced in the Senate and Assembly.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Mr. Fassett introduced in the Senate a bill for rapid transit in New York. He said there was no politics in his bill, nor any private interest. It contained provisions from the bills of Mayor Hewitt and Grant. He had hoped that an ex-President of the United States might be one of the commissioners named in the bill, but that seemed impossible. He believed the commissioners named would command general respect. The bill was ordered to be printed.

Bills were introduced in the Senate as follows: To increase the New York Board of Education by three members. Making the deer open season from Aug. 15 to Nov. 15; making more stringent laws as to the sale of venison; extending Utica's boundaries northerly; authorizing Utica to maintain the Deerfield Macadam road. Prohibiting the employment of Pinkerton or similar detectives in the State. Empowering police justices to designate certain of their number to act as a central criminal court.

In the Assembly.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 21.—In the Assembly the following bills were introduced: Preventing the taking of fish from the Hudson River by any means except angling (shad, herring, sturgeon, and smelt are excepted). Amending the act for the employment of women and children, and providing for the appointment of eight female deputy inspectors. Extending the boundaries of the City of Utica in a northerly direction and authorizing the city to reimburse expenditures for the building and maintaining of the Deerfield road. For the relief of applicants who may be entitled to distribute shares of moneys left in deposit for persons whose whereabouts are unknown and of whom the applicants have no knowledge whether living or dead. Incorporating the Troy and Green Island Bridge Company; also, providing for the building of a bridge over the Hudson River from the foot of Dover street, Troy, to Green Island. Appropriating $11,826 for the payment of the Assembly ceiling investigation. Amending the Penal Code with regard to punishment for destroyers of wires, poles and other property of electric railways. Amending the act for a State Armory in the village of Mohawk by appropriating $22,000 instead of $15,000. Authorizing the Supervisors of Schenectady County to convey certain lands in the Fifth Ward of Schenectady. Appropriating $25,000 for a State Armory in Geneva. Reducing the rate of interest on warrants issued for local improvements in Buffalo to five per cent.; Providing for women physicians on the medical staffs of the State insane asylums and hospitals. Amending the act relative to the review of commitments of children on appeal.

BIG SNOW BLOCKADE.

An Army of Men Trying to Clear the Central Pacific Railroad.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—The latest dispatches received say the snow blockade in the West and Northwest is one of the most complete on record. Not only has travel become an impossibility on the Western divisions of the Central and Northern Pacific, but every through telegraph wire is down on both routes.

On the Northern Pacific Col. Crocker's special train has been snowed in for three days.

There are 1,500 men at work on the Central Pacific road trying to clear the blockade at Emigrant Gap in the Sierras, but as the snow plough cannot work through the freezing ice, the prospect of the road being opened within the next forty-eight hours is poor.

La Grippe's Victims.

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—The following deaths from la grippe are reported: At Providence, R. I., a sister of Dr. Penny, the well known physician, who himself died recently of the same disease; at Dover, N. Mowe, aged 89, widow of the late Dr. Mowe, and who previous to her taking the grip had not had a sick day for 44 years; at Arlington, Mass., Dr. William A. Winn, aged 41 years, chairman of the local school board; and at Farmington, N. H., George M. Dixon, a carpenter.

Finding in the Andover Case.

SALEM, Mass., Jan. 21.—The finding of ex-Governor Robinson, special commissioner in the Andover case, is made known. It is not in terms for or against either side, merely reporting what the commissioner considers facts as proved. These are chiefly that the Rev. Dr. Eustis was not personally hostile to Professor Smith; that he was not subject to undue influence from the outside; that he was intelligent and conscientious and gave heed to all the evidence to the end that he might render a just decision.

Tracks Blocked With Coal Cars.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Reading confirms the report sent out that Reading Railroad officials in that city say that unless there is a decided improvement in the coal trade soon every colliery owned by the company, as well as by individual operators, will have to close. The company's tracks are blocked with coal cars, and at Port Richmond there are lying 1,500,000 tons of coal which cannot find a market. One-third of the collieries in the region, employing 8,000 men, have shut down.

Jack Dempsey Excited.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 22.—Jack Dempsey is much excited over the widely-spread report that he is dying. The "Nonpareil" was found town yesterday completely recovered from the attack of influenza that laid him up a week. His match with the Australian, McCarthy, on the 29th inst., will be postponed for a month, as the ceaseless rain prevents proper training.

SERIOUS LOCKOUT.

A Dispute About Apprentices Throws 1,200 Hat Finishers Idle.

DANBURY, Conn., Jan. 21.—All the hat finishers in fourteen of the sixteen shops here, numbering twelve hundred men, were locked out to-day by order of the Hat Manufacturers' Association.

The difficulty is of nine months' duration, and grows out of the employment of three boys in the finishing department of C. H. Merritt's shop. There is a dispute as to whether these boys are on finishing work or not.

There is an old agreement between the employes and men that such disputes must be decided by a committee. The manufactures claim that this agreement was violated by a summary calling out of Merritt's men Saturday night. Consequently all the manufacturers will stand together in refusing to treat with the finishers until the men in Merritt's shop return to work unconditionally.

PINKERTON TACTICS

Excitement Over an Outrage at Punxsutawney.

FORCING MINERS TO FIGHT

A Poor Wretch Beaten Until His Face and Head Were Covered With Blood.

The Men Drinking Heavily and an Uprising Imminent—Families Evicted from Their Homes by Armed Guards—One Hundred Writs of Ejectment to be Served To-Day and a Skirmish Probable.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 22.—There is much excitement here over an outrage perpetrated by the Pinkerton force. A Hungarian miner who was passing a locomotive received a shower of cinders which nearly blinded him. He made an effort to resent this act when he was attacked by the Pinkerton men and handled very roughly. He fought in defense but the men beat the poor wretch until his head and face were covered with blood. Several Hungarians interfered but were overpowered by the police and taken to jail.

The Pinkerton men, it is said, resorted to the lowest and most contemptible tricks to force the miners to strike back at them, but the miners kept their tempers under good control. Many of the miners are pleading with the labor leaders for a chance to revenge these insults but the Strike Committee maintain their former position and advise peaceable methods.

Notwithstanding the attitude of the leaders of the strike the fact is becoming apparent that an uprising is imminent. The men are drinking heavily, and in so doing show that they are beginning to ignore the advice of their leaders.

Five more evictions took place at Adrian. The sheriff, accompanied by 27 armed guards, removed the household effects of the five families out of their holdings and turned the wretched people out into the cold. The homeless ones were taken in hand by the strike committee and given temporary shelter.

Sheriff Sutler has 100 writs of ejectment to serve at Walston, to-day, and as that place is the stamping-ground of many belligerent miners a skirmish will probably take place.

MORE CHINESE LABORERS.

Another Gang of Mongolians on Their Way to New York.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—A second detachment of twelve Chinese laborers, bound for New York, passed through the city this morning. The first gang of laborers passed through to New York on the 17th inst.

Lein Chien, the representative of the Chinese company who brought the first squad through from San Francisco, met the party and took charge of them.

During a conversation, Lein Chien said the company he represented, which was to supply the New York contractors with laborers, had another party of fifty men on the way East in charge of one of the principal men of the company.

The party will go to New York by way of the New York Central road, and will arrive in New York the first of next week. Lein Chien says that although the men are good laborers, and have done well in the West, he thinks they will be a failure in New York. These Chinamen, Lein Chien says, belong to the very lowest class of their people, and at home do nothing but the very meanest kind of work.

Fears that the Erin is Lost.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—It is regarded here as extremely probable that the steamship that has succumbed to the unexampled fury of the January gales is the National liner Erin. She is 25 days out from New York to-day, and had not been spoken. She had a deck load of cattle in pens and a general cargo, including cotton below decks. She carried no passengers. She was commanded by Capt. Tyson, and had a crew of 60 or 70 men and about 15 cattle men. She was one of the swiftest and stanchest of the older vessels of the National line.

Noted for His Benevolence.

FLORENCE, Mass., Jan. 22.—Mr. Alfred T. Lilly, President of the Florence Savings Bank and who for many years was treasurer of the Nonatuck Silk Company, is dead at his home in this place, aged 77 years. The deceased was noted for his benevolence.

A Murderer Jumps from a Train.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Jan. 22.—It is learned here that a murderer who was being taken to New York for extradition to Europe escaped from custody by jumping from a New York Central train near Corfu and has not been captured.

New Brunswick Elections.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 22.—Returns from 39 of the 41 constituencies in the elections for the legislative assembly give the Government 31 seats, Opposition 16 and Independents 2. Provincial Secretary McLellan was defeated.

Found Dead in Bed.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Dr. Barlow Wright retired last night in his usual health, and was found dead in bed in the morning. He was 85 years of age and for over a half century was a practicing physician at Campbell Hall.

Election Proclamation.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—Governor Beaver has issued a proclamation fixing Feb. 10 as the time for holding an election for the successor of the late Judge Kelley in Philadelphia.

LAWMAKERS AT TRENTON.

Both Branches of the Legislature Adjourn for a Week.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 21.—In the Assembly the following bills was introduced: Providing for the incorporation of the Association of Retail Merchants; permitting county freeholders to issue additional bonds for the improvement of roads in first class counties; revoking the charter of the West Jersey Game Society; providing that no corporation's charter shall be forfeited for a defect in the title of incorporation, and the Interstate Commerce bill.

At the close of a brief session the Assembly adjourned for a week.

The following bills were introduced in the Senate: Allowing the Commissioners of Pilotage to appoint, when deemed necessary, pilots from among boat-keepers, beginning with seniors in the service, and making the act "To incorporate trustees of reliable associations" applicable to Hebrews. The Senate also adjourned for a week.

The Inaugural Ball at Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 22.—The inaugural ball, though not very largely attended, was nevertheless a highly successful event. Both Governor Abbett and ex-Governor Green were present, as was also General Grubb, the Republican candidate defeated by Governor Abbett. The grand march was led by Governor Abbett and Mrs. Green, wife of the ex-Governor. General Grubb escorted Miss Abbett and ex-Governor Green escorted Miss Effie Grubb. A large number of military men in full uniform were present.

Arrested for Cheating Chinamen.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Seth R. Johnston, a lawyer at 73 Wall street, and superintendent of a Sunday-school in Brooklyn, has been arrested on indictments charging him with forging a $1,500 note on the Chinese Sixth Society, and a $750 note on a Chinese firm in Mott street. He gave bail in $5,000. The arrest grows out of Johnston's connection with the Chinese forger Chu Feng, one of his Sunday-school scholars, who is in prison on charges of swindling his countrymen out of $40,000 by forged notes.

Martin Luther Society Annual Meeting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The annual meeting of the Martin Luther Society was attended by delegates from twenty Lutheran churches. Hon. Jacob F. Miller was elected president for the ensuing year; George P. Ockershausen, vice-president; A. J. D. Wedermeyer, secretary and Jacob A. Geisenheimer, treasurer. It was decided that all church missionary affairs be conducted in unison hereafter instead of the churches individually.

Held Up a Train.

TULARE, Cal., Jan. 22.—Two masked men climbed over the tender and compelled the engineer to stop the southbound passenger train about seven miles north of this place. Forcing the engineer and fireman to go with them, they ordered the expressman to open the safe door. The amount taken is reported to be several thousand dollars. A tramp stealing a ride was mistaken for a train man and the robbers shot him in the head. He may recover. The two men made good their escape.

Non-Union Glassworkers Strike.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Seven non-union glassworkers employed at the Poughkeepsie glass works have gone out on strike, having been induced to go by the union men now out. About 25 "carrying-in" boys have also struck for an increase in wages, demanding from $3.75 to $4 per week. The glass company and the strikers seem to be unable to come to an agreement.

The Syndicate After Lake Trade.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 22.—A syndicate, with headquarters in New York, as nearly as can be ascertained, is said to have closed a bargain for all the vessels owned by the "Red Stack" line, and proposes to gobble up all the others that it can. The first installment of the money was to have been turned over yesterday, but it did not reach here. The seven vessels owned by the "Red Stack" line are valued at $737,000.

Bad Weather for the Rubber Trade.

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Owing to the unfavorable weather for the rubber trade about 75 men and a large number of girls, employed in the various departments of the Fells Rubber Factory have received notices that after Saturday next their services will not be needed. The two Fells factories, which now employ over 3,000 persons, are running on three-quarters time, and unless more favorable weather sets in will probably shut down.

Hat Finishers Return to Work.

DANBURY, Conn., Jan. 22.—The 1,200 locked-out hat finishers held an excited meeting last night, and by a two-thirds vote passed a resolution that the action calling out C. H. Merrill's finishers be rescinded, and that they return to work this morning.

Murder at a Colored Ball.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 22.—At a colored ball held at Dunbar George Smith and Walker Powell became involved in a drunken quarrel over a woman, and Powell shot Smith in the abdomen. He then fired a second shot and wounded Smith's brother William in the shoulder. The first of his victims will die. Powell escaped.

Nellie Bly Nearing Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Nellie Bly was among the passengers who arrived on the steamship Oceanic. As soon as Miss Bly reached the harbor she was taken off by a tug and taken to Oakland, where she boarded a special train in waiting and started on her journey to New York over the Southern Pacific and Atlantic and Pacific routes.

THE SNOW BLOCKADE

Heavy Slides and Drifts in the Northwest.

RESCUING PASSENGER TRAINS.

Loss of Life Reported and Thousands of Cattle and Sheep Perish.

Snow Twenty Feet Deep—Over 1,000 Shovellers at Work in the Mountains. Railroad Passengers on Short Rations. Several Houses Crushed by Snow at Austin, Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 22.—Fifteen engines are at work with the rotary plow near Champion Spur. The snow was thrown 15 feet on either side of the track. One hundred and fifty snow shovellers who were engaged in digging a trench were surprised and completely buried by snow from the plow. They were not badly injured. The way is now clear to Tunnel No. 5. The railroad officials say that the road will surely be opened by to-night.

Heavy slides and drifts, however, are reported between Truckee and Boca. A rotary plow is clearing a road to Blue Canyon and during the night it is expected to clear the track to the two imprisoned passenger trains between Blue Canyon and Alta. None of the snow sheds have caved in, although the weight of the snow in some places is very heavy. The average depth of the snow along the sheds is 20 feet. Over 1,000 snow shovellers are in the mountains.

A dispatch from Tacoma says that most of the trouble has been on the Idaho division in the mountain passes. There has been no Chicago and Eastern mail for eight days, but this matter is sent via Portland and the Union Pacific, on which road these are many trains snowed in at various points.

The Okanagan country is covered with two feet of snow. The blizzard, which began with the year and lasted five days, caused a large amount of damage to property, killed much live stock and caused the death of at least ten men.

Cattle are dying by hundreds on the reservation. The ranchmen calculate that they will lose one-half of their stock this season, but 75 per cent. would be nearer the true estimate.

A special from Austin, Nevada, says more snow has fallen in that vicinity than was ever known before. The snow lies three feet deep and the town is cut off from outside communication, except by telegraph. The loss to stock is expected to be very great, and one rancher has already lost 4,000 sheep. Several houses have been crushed from the weight of snow.

On the Oregon road the passenger trains bound to and from Portland are still stuck in the deep snows of Siskyou range. The road is blockaded between Mott and Dunsmir, between Dunsmir and Sims, and between Sims and Redding. Supplies are being taken to the imprisoned trains at Sims from Redding. From Simsons north on to Edgewood road is still blockaded.

Variety Artists in the Blockade.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 22.—Grave fears are entertained regarding the probable fate of the Howard Athenæum Company of variety artists, who are in the snow-blockade on the Central Pacific. Nothing definite can be learned. Advices from Utah points say the road may not be opened in three weeks. A train with the theatre troupe on board is believed to be buried under demolished snow sheds between Reno and Truckee. It is a question whether the entombed passengers can be rescued before they perish of hunger and cold. The mercury is 30 to 40 below zero out there.

PORTUGAL'S TROUBLE.

Merchants Vigorously Boycotting English Goods and Crying for War.

LISBON, Jan. 22.—The supporters of the late Government are thoroughly incensed at the dissolution of the Cortes, because they are likely to lose their seats. It is supposed this action was intended to enable the Cabinet to deal with England unfettered by the Cortes, and to secure a majority during the tide of popularity. Over four thousand of the leading merchants of the city paraded the principal streets, shouting: "War on England!" "Down with England!"

The Government has given orders that the streets be patrolled nightly by cavalry and mounted police while the present disturbed feeling continues.

At a meeting of the Commercial Association to-day it was resolved to restrict trade with England. In consequence of the boycott of English goods, American, French and German commercial travelers are overwhelmed with orders. At Setubel a mob attacked the crew of an English ship and the dock laborers who were loading her and compelled them to abandon their work.

Several Portuguese officers and gentlemen who have at different times received English decorations have returned their medals to the British Minister.

Panic on an Ocean Steamer.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The Gallia's trip from New York was the worst her captain ever experienced. A succession of heavy seas flooded the steamship's decks and forced their way into the staterooms, causing a panic among the sleeping passengers. Five of the Gallia's lifeboats were smashed, and the davits were twisted and snapped off.

King Humbert and the Vatican.

ROME, Jan. 22.—It is stated that just before the death of the Duke of Aosta, his sister, Princess Chlotilde asked him to speak to King Humbert on the question of the relations of the Italian Government and the Vatican and that the dying prince complied earnestly beseeching the King to effect a reconciliation with the Church.

The regular sewing meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Newhall, 20 East Seventh street, Friday, at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. W. R. Richards and Mrs. Richards, will start at once for the South because of the continued ill health of Mr. Richards. They will be absent until the middle of February.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Evans, of Washington avenue, North Plainfield, entertained about twenty-five of their near friends, last evening, the occasion being a card party. Marezzi, of New York, furnished the supper, which was elegant in every respect.

To Let Politics Alone.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster of Iowa, who is in Cleveland attending the Convention of the non-partisan W. C. T. U., which begins today, addressed two large audiences Sunday.

Mrs. Foster explained the object of the new organization to be the protection of temperance reform, with no side issues. She said she believed that women should be allowed to vote, and was in favor of dress reform, but these things, she said, should not be sought for by the non-partisan W. C. T. U. The recent political phase of the W. C. T. U., work, she said, had driven many workers from the old organization. The new order would profit by the mistakes of the old, and would wish all God-speed in the work of reform.

FELL FROM A SCAFFOLD.

Cornelius Stryker While at Work Painting the Netherwood Hotel, Falls Fifty Feet, and Receives Injuries Which May Prove Fatal.

An accident happened at the Netherwood hotel, about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, which may result in the death of Cornelius Stryker, a painter, who for the past nineteen years has been employed by Mr. W. F. Adams, of this city.

The unfortunate man was at work painting on the East side of the building. He was standing on a swinging platform, when the platform tipped, throwing him headforemost to the ground, a distance of about fifty feet. The injured man was carried into the hotel, where Dr. Jenkins temporarily dressed the wounds. The doctor found upon examination that the left leg was fractured in two places, and that the patient was suffering from injury to his spine.

Later the injured man was placed on a cot and conveyed to his home in Bound Brook, where Dr. Compton and another physician attended him. Today the patient's condition is reported as but little improved.

A Dentist's Wonderful Secret.

Over forty people attracted by the marvelous reports published exclusively in THE PRESS of Saturday, were treated by Dr. Estebrooke at the office of Dr. Thiers, yesterday. Timid women seemed to take real pleasure in having their teeth pulled, and remained after the operation to tell others how pleasant it was and see their satisfaction.

It is not the dangerous cocaine that is used. Dr. Estebrooke claims that he has evolved from certain native remedies a liquid that secures entire immunity from pain in dental operations. The liquid is so entirely harmless that the Doctor offers to drink it. It has no effect on the most delicate, except that a drop of it put in the gum totally deadens the sense of feeling, and the dentist can proceed with all the care and time necessary to remove the most sensitive teeth or roots with "pleasure" to the patient.

Wooden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Angleman celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary at their home, No. 17 Berckman street last evening, and the occasion was one of much enjoyment. Following is a list of those present:

Mr. Geo. M. Angleman, Mr. and Mrs A. Angleman, Miss M. Angleman, Mr. Wm. Angleman, Mr. Chas. Angleman, Mr. and Mrs. McVoy, Miss I. Angleman, Mr. and Mrs. Northrup, Miss Northrup, Mrs. T. H. Keller, Mr. Jos. L. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. McClain, Miss McClain, Mr. Bert McVoy, Master Raymond McVoy, Mr. Elmer Vail, Miss Cox of Brooklyn, Mr and Mrs A. B. Cox of Brooklyn, Mrs. A. Weeks, Miss F. A. Weeks.

North Plainfield's Need.

Chief Martin of the North Plainfield Fire Department will submit to the Borough Council at its next meeting a proposed fire-alarm system. At the present time North Plainfield is more in need of a fire alarm, than it is of more hose, as was evidenced by the recent Bock fire, when it is said, there was but one member of the fire department present until the place was burned down. The chief when he arrived at the fire had to send messengers to the member's homes in order to arouse them.

The Borough Council should act speedily, and provide a fire-alarm system for its efficient fire department.

Too Fond of Dress.

A fashionably attired woman, giving her name as "Miss Mamie Benison," aged twenty-two years, of this city, faces the bar in the Jefferson Market Court, in New York, yesterday, as exclusively reported in last evening's PRESS. Costomer Culver of No. 2 Union Square said she had stolen from him an expensive suit. She was remanded to Police Headquarters.

If Miss "Benson" is able to convince the court that she meant no wrong in hiring a hundred-dollar ball dress of Mr. Culver and instead of returning it bringing it to Plainfield with her, THE PRESS will continue to keep her identy a secret.

Prize Fight at South Plainfield.

It is reported that James Dwyer formerly of this city, but now of Bound Brook, fought in the prize ring with a pugilist from Troy in an open field near South Plainfield, last night, and that Dwyer knocked his man out in five rounds. Members of the sporting fraternity, who pretend to know, say that the fight was more of a fake than anything else. The mill took place at one o'clock, and it was witnessed by about three hundred persons. No arrests were made.

The Sale of a Valuable Corner Postponed.

The chancery sale of the Arnold property at the corner of Seventh street and Arlington avenue, advertised in these columns to take place at two o'clock today, was adjourned by Special Master George P. Kingsley, until Wednesday, February 19, at the same hour and place.

Sons of Temperance.

The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance held its annual session at Trenton, today. Delegates were present from this and other cities. The object of the meeting was to elect grand officers.

Twould be Quite a Novelty.

The people of Plainfield would appreciate the convenience very much if the "twelve o'clock whistles" would whistle at twelve o'clock.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR PLAINFIELD.

Having Beaten Teams From Westfield, Fanwood and Somerville, the Olympics of This City Bowl Out the Newarkers.

The Alpha bowling team of Newark, representing the Y. M. C. A., of that city, came to Plainfield last evening expecting to defeat the Olympics with ease. The match was rolled on the Olympia alleys, and a large attendance was on hand including Van Emburgh, Van Winkle and other crack bowlers of the Crescent League who were interested spectators of the very fine game that was bowled by the Olympics.

The Plainfielders frightened the visitors out of their bowling-shoes by scoring in the very first frame a total of 172. After that Newark wasn't in it, and finished 236 pins behind. The Olympics all bowled well, but Collier had luck against him. He made up for his unusual low score, however, by serving a bountiful spread of refreshments after the game.

The Olympics score was: Van Alstyne, 182; Hudson, 118; Wilbur, 170; Murray, 159; Wyckoff, 124; Hawkins, 126; Hall, 157; White, 173; Collier, 128; Lowry, 171 —Total, 1,508. Alpha total, 1,272.

Tonight the Olympics go to Fanwood to roll a return game with the team there. It is proper to expect, though, that the Plainfield team will have to roll against some of the best bowlers of the Westfield clubs. On Friday evening the Somersets of Somerville will roll a return game with the Olympics on the Olympia alleys. The Somersets are the team who have the honor of winning the only game the Olympics have lost this season.

Mother Goose Entertainment.

The members of the W.C.T.U., Kitchen Garden gave their Mother Goose entertainment, in the rooms of the Union on West Front street, last evening, and the affair was well patronized.

The programme opened with a Mother Goose cantata by members of the Kitchen Garden, followed by a duett by Miss Etta Yaeger and Miss Nettie Kreitling. Recitations were given by Miss Allen and Master Bert Thatcher.

A feature of the entertainment was the rendition of a part-piece in which each letter in the alphabet was represented by one of the members of the Kitchen Garden, each one reciting a verse.

The success of the entertainment is largely due to the untiring efforts of Miss Alice Smith and her assistants. Among those who contributed their services were Mr. Allen, Mr. Charles Wheeler, John Voehl, Clarence Vail, George Wells, Ernest Millard and Louis Hummer. Miss Allen creditably performed the part of "Mother Goose."

The Kitchen Garden will realize about twenty-five dollars.

Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company's Ball.

The annual ball of Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company, took place in the Gesang and Turn Hall, last evening, a large number of young persons being in attendance. Prof. Guttman furnished the music for dancing, which continued until early this morning. The following persons had charge of the ball: General Director, L. C. Beekman, Floor Manager, J. C. Blimm; Assistant Floor Manager, W. B. Sharp; Floor Committee, C. F. Glaentzer, Jacob Blimm; Reception Committee, F. A. Glaentzer, G. A. Zeisz, F. B. Fine, Chas. Westerfield, Geo. Mehl, Jr., E. J. All members of agricultural or horticultural associations are members of this Board, and have power to take part in the discussions, offer resolutions, vote on all questions and hold office. The object of these meetings are to receive and impart knowledge, to assist in advancing agricultural industry, and in furtherance of this to transact such business as members of the Board may think necessary. A general invitation is extended to all interested in the advancement of Agriculture to be present, and aid the deliberations by their voice and vote.

A Wreck at Evona.

About seven o'clock last evening, as Mr. Timothy McCarthy, the sewing machine agent of this city, was driving along West Front street, on his return from Dunellen, and when opposite the Evona station he was run into by a rig owned by Mr. Aaron Brouwer, and driven by Mr. Chas. Drake of Dunellen. Mr. Brouwer's horse was thrown to the ground, fracturing a leg. Mr. McCarthy's wagon was badly wrecked.

Brouwer's horse, it is alleged, was allowed to remain in the gutter for several hours, until special officer Kriney notified the owner of the accident. The animal was subsequently killed.

Somerville's Four Needs.

Somerville is sorely in need of four things, so says an exchange, to wit: A street railroad, a new opera house, a public sewer, and an American flag for its school house. Just which want is most pressing the evidence fails to show, but we think it is the street railroad. It is an endless job to make a foot journey about the great city, and the wonder is that the citizens have so long neglected the enterprise at the expense of such a vast wear of shoe leather and exhaustion of leg force. Let the American flag speedily float over either an elevated or surface railway in Somerville.

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

AND MURTHA PORTEOUS, SHE COMES WITH IT.

The Gorgeous Burlesque That Will be Given at Music Hall, Next Tuesday Evening.

(From the Boston Post.)

"It may as well be frankly conceded at the outset that we may not look upon Rice's new 'Corsair' in any other light than that of a stage spectacle. This is the natural point of view from which to regard it, for the spectacular features of the presentation certainly overshadow everything. Dramatically it has little valid claim to attention, though musically it is bright and pleasing. The music of Mr. Rice is so well known that it is only necessary to say for general information that in the 'Corsair' he shows up well in his way as a composer; we are inclined to consider some of the newer music that he has added to the score, the best that is connected with the piece. Among such numbers may be particularly noted the solo and chorus, 'I'm a Dashing Pirate,' the song and dance, 'Bosy Morn,' the romanza, 'Fear Not My Love,' the ballad, 'The Old Love,' and the octet, 'The Moonlight Kiss'; all of these are especially good and in their way very charming.

"As a stage spectacle, the presentation is a great success; brilliant, gorgeous, dazzling, in fact superlative adjectives might well be exhausted in commending it. The scene on board the Corsair's bark is exceedingly natural and effective; the garden of the Pasha in the second act, with its fine architecture and prismatic fountain, is singularly beautiful, and the harem scene in the third act is as gorgeous as anything we have ever seen on the stage. Silk, plush and velvet curtains in prodigal profusion, and rich decorations combine to make an interior that is dazzling in brilliancy. The finale, showing the palace of pearls, is another example of surprisingly beautiful stage setting and stage effect, and almost surpasses the harem interior. The costuming quite equals the stage effect; no more need be said in its praise. For richness and elegance of material, the costumes cannot be surpassed. The piece runs very smoothly and the abundantly amusing funny business nightly delights the audience and calls forth enthusiastic applause."

Training in Manual Labor Proposed for the Plainfield Public Schools.

An effort is making by prominent philanthropic people of this city, to bring about the introduction of the teaching of the first principals of manual labor in the public schools of Plainfield.

To quote from an experienced authority on the subject: "It is impossible to teach all trades in school; at most only one or two could be taught, and these would probably not be the trades which all the boys would require to learn. Then it is often impossible and undesirable for a boy to decide early in his school life to what trade he will devote himself; while the amount of time which can be devoted to the subject in school is not sufficient to learn a trade thoroughly."

Yet while it is impossible and undesirable to teach trades in school, it is both possible and desirable to lay an admirable foundation for all trades by giving general manual desterity. It is maintained—that the best and most rapid method of acquiring special manual dexterity is to acquire, first, general manual dexterity, and this can be gained in the time which can be devoted to the subject during school life; that the best time to acquire general manual dexterity is during childhood, and if a workman who has learnt one trade is obliged to leave it, it will be possible for him to acquire a second special dexterity, i. e., learn another trade, far more easily if the general dexterity of his hands has been thoroughly developed during school life.

That Million Dollar Baptist University.

It is announced that Mr. Marshall Field has supplied a site for the proposed new Baptist university. He has done it by donating for the purpose ten acres of land, valued at $100,000. The tract is in the southern portion of Chicago, and fronts on Ellis avenue, between Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh streets.

Mr. Field's gift fills the last of the requirements of the originator of the university project, J. D. Rockefeller, the oil king. Mr. Rockefeller gave $600,000 to found a university on condition that $400,000 more should be raised, and that none of the total $1,000,000 should be used for the purchase of the site. The value of Mr. Field's land together with the money already raised more than completes the million. It is intended, however, to consider it as no part of that sum, but to complete the round amount regardless of the Field donation.

Bound to Be a Success.

The arranging and rehearsing of the grand mid-Winter night's entertainment of amateur minstrelsy to be given at Music Hall, February 25, by the members of the Plainfield Crescent League, is in the hands of the world-famous interlocutor, Ed. Marbie, who was middle-man and general manager for four years with Thatcher, Primrose and West, and since then with Cleveland's minstrel company.

Help The Y. M. C. A. Building.

Miss Allen joins a charming presence with a rich and well cultivated voice. Her gestures were so easy and her tones so natural that what she described seemed actually to take place there and then.—Jamestown Journal.

Miss Allen appears at Reform Hall, Tuesday, January 28, under the auspices of the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. Proceeds for the building.

SAVED BY A SHOWER.

Almost Another Tragedy at Seeley's Dam.

When the freshet of July last broke through Seeley's dam at Scotch Plains and washed away his buildings, machinery and all the valuable mill property he had spent his entire life in accumulating, it was supposed that so old a man would not begin anew the rebuilding of the plant. But though he may be old in years, he is still as full of grit and perseverance as he was a quarter of a century ago, and new mills and a new dam are already in course of erection.

The many rains of the past two months, however have greatly interfered with the progress of the work on the dam. It is to be one of the strongest in the State. Mr. Charles Drake, who is building it under contract, told a PRESS reporter he had used blocks of stone in it that weighed over three tons each. A temporary dam was first constructed above so as to turn the course of the stream into the mill flume and away from where the masons worked on the main dam.

One day last week a severe shower prevented these men from working, and they had come up from out of a deep hole in the bed of the stream where they were laying the base of the dam on the solid rock. Shortly afterwards the temporary dam gave way and an enormous body of water rushed down through the opening carrying with it the wheelbarrows, heavy timber, shovels and other tools. Had the masons been at work as usual, some of them would surely have been drowned.

High Art and Field Sports.

A New York paper Sunday, in speaking of ex-Councilman Squires of this city, said: "He is one of those dealers in sportsmen's goods who clearly recognizes the fact that the true lover of field sports has at once an artist's eye and a poet's soul. No man can appreciatively angle or hunt, can whip a stream for the royal trout and salmon, or wander with dog and gun over the uplands and marshes for toothsome quail or whirring woodcock, without being at heart that truest of poets, an ardent lover of nature. Mr. Squires has brought high art lavishly to the service of his poet patrons, and in what would ordinarily be a mere catalogue of the thousand and one odds and ends which go to make up the sportsman's outfit, has managed to make a sumptuous volume, fit to take its place on the drawing room table as a quarto of fine engravings.

"His list of illustrations runs up into the thousands, all of them bearing on his specialties, and many of them are taken from works which have commanded high prices as masterpieces of the printers' and engravers' arts. Here and there are given glimpses of woodland scenes, of water nooks, of mountain stretches, life-like enough to set the normal man in a fever to leave studio or office-desk and rush off for a bout with nature. In this line of goods the best is always the cheapest. A fine fish lost through cheap tackle, a bird flushed, then off and away because the low grade gun failed to act, a heavy and ill-fitting hunting suit—all these only make the victim resolved next time to get only the best."

New Jersey Historical Society.

The New Jersey Historical Society will hold their annual meeting at the State House, Trenton, on Tuesday, January 28, at which time the election of officers will take place. The Rev. Samuel M. Studdiford, D. D., will read memoirs of the late Rev. Samuel M. Hamill, D. D., President of the Society. A. Q. Keasbey will follow with memoirs of the late Hon. John T. Nixon, LL. D. Memoirs will also be read of the late Prof. George H. Cook, State Geologist.

Union County and the Committees.

Speaker Heppenheimer in forming the committees of the House of Assembly, at Trenton, has appointed the Union county members on the following:

Mr. Voorhees on ways and means; Mr. Marsh on judiciary, and on elections; Mr. Ulrich on municipal corporations.

On the joint committees, Mr. Marsh is on the treasurer's account, and Mr. Ulrich on the committee on industrial school for girls.

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. R. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth. I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ¾ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

Mr. Dunham's Roads Will Last for Twenty Years.

The Engineering and Building Record publishes in last week's issue a column article on the macadam roads now in course of construction in this county, under the new law. In view of the fact that the paper has recently published a discussion on the subject of county roads by Messrs North and Owen, the article in question is of considerable interest to its readers.

A full account of the manner of the construction of the roads is detailed in an interview with Mr F. A Dunham, of this city, the county engineer, by the writer. In conclusion it is stated that some roads constructed as the roads under Mr. Dunham's direction are being made, have been in use in the country for the last fifteen or twenty years, and with the proper maintenance have given very good satisfaction.

DINING DIPLOMATS

An Elaborate Dinner at the White House.

BEAUTIFUL FLORAL DISPLAY

The Minority in the House Make a Contest Over a Ruling by the Speaker.

Secretary Noble Removes Mr. Phillips of the Pension Office—A Sub-Committee on the World's Fair—The Mexican Counterfeit Story Denied—A Postoffice Fight settled in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—At the second state dinner last night the members of the Diplomatic Corps were entertained by the President and Mrs. Harrison.

The floral decorations were magnificent. Spreading palms, India rubber and other tropical plants, huge pyramids of roses and curtains of smilax adorned the rooms of the White House, and the table was decorated with mounds of pink and white orchids and lilies.

Mme. Romero, the wife of the Mexican Minister, occupied the seat of honor on the right of the President, while Mme. Guzman, the wife of the Nicaraguan Minister, sat on his left. On the right of Mrs. Harrison sat the Mexican Minister and on her left Assistant Secretary of State Wharton. Mrs. Harrison wore the same elegant toilet which was admired at the recent reception to the diplomats.

Breezy Debate in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A long debate was precipitated in the House by the refusal of Speaker Reed to appoint tellers on the demand of a member. It was a contest between the Speaker and the minority. Mr. Bland, of Missouri, moved that the House adjourn, and on a division the Speaker declared the motion lost. Mr. Bland demanded tellers.

This demand raised the question as to whether there was really any provision regarding tellers. Mr. Bland said he had demanded tellers under the general practice of the House. The Speaker declined to entertain the demand and Mr. Bland appealed to the House.

The debate that followed was participated in by a number of the members, including Mr. Mills, of Texas and ex-Speaker Carlisle.

There was much statment of parliamentary law in the debate and some learned discussion of the origin, growth and modifications of that law. Speaker Reed found occasion to deny that he aimed at autocracy, and finally Mr. Bland's appeal was tabled by a vote of 140 yeas to 136 nays. Mr. Bland's motion to amend the journal was then defeated—yeas 130, nays 140.

Sub-committee on the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Springer resolution, providing that to morrow the House shall decide on the location of the exposition, was referred to a special committee of three, to consist of the chairman of the committee, Mr. Candler and two other members to be elected by him. The motion for this disposition also provided that the sub-committee should report back to the full committee to-morrow. Mr. Candler appointed Messrs. Hitt, of Illinois, and Flower, of New York as the other two members of the sub-committee.

The McKeesport Postoffice Contest Settled

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The McKeesport, Allegheny County, postoffice contest, which has been the longest and most bitterly-fought of any in Pennsylvania under this administration, was decided by Senator Quay and Congressman Ray uniting in a recommendation for the appointment of Captain W. E. Thompson, who beats a field of six candidates. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature of '83 and '85.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Director of the Mint, Leech, denies the published statement that 5,000,000 illegal United States silver dollars, made in Mexico and sent to the United States are now in circulation. He says that he is unaware that any such coin is in circulation anywhere in the United States.

Mr. Vilas' First Visit.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Wm. F. Vilas, ex-Secretary of the Interior, spent yesterday in Washington. He attended a dinner in Baltimore but has returned to the capital, where he will remain for several days. This is Mr. Vilas' first visit to the capital since his retirement from public life. Phillips, of New York, one of the rated chiefs of division, Pension office, who refused to comply with a request from Commissioner Raum to resign. Mr. W. H. THE POLISH WAR.

The Two Factions Still Fighting and More Arrests Made.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 22.—Further trouble between the Polander and Lithuanian factions at Plymouth is expected by the people of this place.

The children whom the Lithuanians attempted to bury in the cemetery of which the Polanders hold possession are still unburied, and the Polanders mean to assert their assumed rights at all hazards.

The law seems powerless to check this feud between the two factions, which had its origin in the refusal of one side to recognize the priest chosen by the other, the church being held in common by the parties.

Martin Wilkes, the "Polish King," and three other Polanders have been arrested and lodged in jail, and this has served to increase the hostility. More arrests will follow to-day. Wilkes has been the leader of the Poles.

A Murderer Confesses.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 22.—Allison Mounts, or Hatfield, as he is better known, one of the famous Hatfield gang of outlaws, is now awaiting the execution of the death sentence in the jail at Pikeville. He is to be hanged February 18 for the murder of Alefere McCoy, who he killed New Year's night, 1888. He has professed religion and has written a letter to one of the newspapers here, confessing his horrible crime and declared that he was forced to commit murder by "Bad Anse" Hatfield.

A Strike Settled.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—The strike of the electricians of the Allegheny County Electric Light Company has been amicably settled. President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and the officials of the Light Company discovered that there were disorganizing influences at work and general explanations were only necessary to bring about a satisfactory understanding. Beyond the fact that eight of the strikers were reinstated the details of the settlement have not been made public, other than that they are mutually satisfactory.

Contesting a Priest's Will.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 22.—The will of the late Dr. James A. O'Hara, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church of this city, is contested by Mrs. Margaret Swift of New York city, a sister of the deceased. Mrs. Swift is the only one of Dr. O'Hara's next of kin, not mentioned in his will. She alleges that at the time the document was made, only three days before he died, he was under restraint and fraud was practiced. Dr. O'Hara and the contestant had been unfriendly for years. The estate is valued at $110,000.

Strange Experience at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The steamship City of Chester, which has arrived from Liverpool, reports a strange experience which occurred last Thursday. The steering gear got out of order and the wind and waves swung the steamer around as if she were on a pivot. A panic was narrowly averted. In a few hours the break in the steering gear was repaired and the vessel proceeded.

I., Jan. 22.—Governor Ladd, in his message to the General Assembly, recommends that the State Board of Charities and Correction be made a paid commission; that district school systems be abolished; that State armories for the militia be established; that the supervision of railroads be more complete and a railroad commission of three be made instead of a single commissioner; that the Insurance Department be divorced from the State Auditor's office and be given more authority; that the State control the business of foreign investment companies who now have a free run in Rhode Island; that statutes be revised; that road improvements throughout the state receive attention and a commission be appointed to inquire into this matter and that new sources of revenue be opened.

The Governor quotes Massachusetts law as a model by which to improve the laws of this State, so far as they relate to the recommendations made. The State Treasury now has a surplus of over $200,000.

NOTES FOR NATURALISTS.

NEARLY all the insects, crustaceans, worms, snails and the like go into winter quarters; frogs and all the reptile kind hibernate by burying themselves in the mud or under stones.

THE Chinese sacred lily is a narcissus belonging to the polyanthus group. It can be grown in bowls or shallow dishes filled with small pebbles and kept well supplied with water.

IT is said that a singular fact connected with the cultivation of the banana is that it seeds only in one small spot on the earth—the Andaman Islands. Everywhere else it must be raised from suckers.

AN entirely new rose, called the "rainbow rose," was exhibited at a recent flower show in San Francisco and received first prize. It is small, of a delicate shade of rose pink, with darker bars running lengthwise of the petals.

KANSAS claims to have the finest collection of North American birds on exhibition in this country. In a room at the State capitol building are 1,523 birds handsomely mounted and placed in glass show-cases. The collection is due to the labors of Colonel N. S. Goss.

WHAT is known as the "tree of life" is growing in the United Brethren Church at Falmouth, Lancaster County, Pa. The plant is of the spice-wood variety. It has now attained the height of three feet, and shot from the earth through a knot-hole in the pulpit floor.

A MISSIONARY in Africa was astonished while walking in a wood to hear a clock strike, though no human habitation was within miles of the place. He discovered that the noise proceeded from a bird known as the clock-bird and called by the Spanish the campanero. The bird gives a note every few minutes which is identical with the sound of a striking clock.

A SPECIES of ape in Dutch Guiana, called the Quatta, is described as using its tail so constantly and deftly when climbing among the trees that it is difficult to tell which is tail and which foot. Their tails are usually wrapped around the limbs so tightly that when the apes are shot they do not fall from the trees, but hang to them, sometimes till putrefaction sets in. For this reason the native Indians shoot them with arrows dipped in a poison called woura, the effect of which is to paralyze the muscles of the tail and insure a speedy fall of the slain animal.

THERE is a pretty little wild flower common to Oregon and Washington that blooms much earlier than any other. It is the "February Flower" (Synthycis Houghtoniana). This interesting plant never fails to put forth its pretty blue racemes early in February, and in sunny nooks it often anticipates that time and opens in January. It is found abundantly in that region, but, like the lovely arbutus of the East, seems somewhat capricious in its choice of a home, large spaces being literally carpeted with it, while others near, and seeming equally favorable, present not a single specimen.

SHOWS HIS SORROW

Mr. Blaine Seriously Affected by His Son's Death.

PAINFUL SCENE FOR A VISITOR

James G. Blaine, Jr., Made Clerk of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

He Will Try to Assist His Father—Representative Jackson of Maryland to be Unseated—A Large Batch of Presidential Postmasters—The World's Fair Committee Still Undecided How to Act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — Secretary Blaine is in a very bad condition. A visitor tells this story:

He called upon the Secretary yesterday at the State department to consult with him upon a matter of business, of which they had talked before in conjunction with Walker Blaine. The visitor resumed the subject, but after he had talked awhile he noticed that Mr. Blaine was distrait. The visitor stopped. The cessation of talk seemed to partially rouse Mr. Blaine, and he remarked:

"You will have to see Walker about this. He has charge of it."

The visitor gazed at Mr. Blaine horror-stricken, unable to answer. Then Mr. Blaine recovered his recollection and rising from his chair walked into the next room—the room that Walker Blaine used to occupy—and closed the door behind him.

James G. Blaine, jr., has been made clerk of the Committee of Foreign Affairs. The appointment was made by Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, the chairman of the committee and a great friend of Secretary Blaine. It is believed that after Mr. Blaine has familiarized himself with matters which will necessarily come before this committee he will be fitted to assist the Secretary almost but not quite as well perhaps as did his brother Walker.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The following nominations for postmasters were sent to the Senate by the President:

NEW YORK.
New Lebanon—Mrs. Mary J. Leonard.
Carthage—A. B. Wescott.
Westfield—W. H. Walker.
Trumansburgh—L. G. Hunt.
Schenectady—C. E. Palmer.
Olean—W. R. Page.
Sing Sing—E. A. McAlpin.
Batavia—H. F. Tarbox.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Gettysburg—David Kitzmiller.
Danville A. J. Trick.
Du Bois—Lewis Zeigler.
McKeesport—W. E. Thompson.
Monongahela City—W. C. Robinson.
Northumberland—L. L. Haas.
Somerset—J. C. Postlethwaite.

RHODE ISLAND.
Longsdale—George Sherman.

World's Fair Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The sub-committee to whom the various matters relating to the World's Fair were referred met this morning, and after a general discussion of the subject adjourned without reaching a conclusion and will so report to the full committee. There is a probability that the proposition advanced by Mr. Flower, that the committee report a skeleton bill which can be adapted to any of the four competing cities, may be adopted.

Jackson to be Unseated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Republican majority of the Committee on Elections reported to the House to-day in favor of unseating James Monroe Jackson, the Democratic member for the Fourth Maryland district, and seating Charles B. Smith, his Republican contestant. John Dalzell, of Pittsburg, will defend the majority report, and Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, will make a minority report and defend the cause of Mr. Jackson.

The Cuban Republic.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations ordered an adverse report to be made on the Call resolution, requesting the President to open negotiations with Spain for the purpose of inducing that government to consent to the establishment of a Republic in Cuba.

Little Hope for the Erin.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The National line steamer Erin, Capt. Tyson, from this city for London, has now been out 26 days, and there is hardly any doubt in maritime circles that some disaster has befallen her. A cable dispatch was received at the Maritime Exchange from London, which also told of the picking up of the Erin's lifeboat by the British steamer Creole and the sighting by her of the other wreckage. The finding of a ship's bridge was thought by local mariners to indicate plainly that a most furious storm must have been encountered by the vessel from whose deck the bridge was wrenched. Old navigators say that the floating bridge is a pretty sure sign that the tempest torn ship must have gone to the bottom.

Mr. Cleveland and '92

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Dr. Morrison Munford, editor of the Kansas City Times, had an interview with ex-President Cleveland and telegraphed it to his paper. Mr. Cleveland, Editor Munford says, "warmed to the subject of tariff reform and has lost none of the zeal which inspired his celebrated message." When the ex-President was asked about a standard bearer, he said that "personally he would prefer to have some one else lead the Democratic hosts."

Dr. Rittenhouse to Resign.

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—Dr. Aaron Rittenhouse, Professor of English Literature and History in Dickinson College, will resign next June.

FOUGHT FOR LOVE.

Two Suitors for a Young Lady's Hand Settle the Matter in a Prize Fight.

URBANA, O., Jan. 23.—It has just been learned that a prize-fight occurred at Crayon, this county, between John Crim and William Wright to decide which should have the affections of a young lady in the neighborhood.

Her indecision as to which she liked best brought on a collision between the two suitors. They agreed to settle the matter according to London prize-ring rules in a glove contest to a finish. Only a few friends were given the "tip," but enough of each side to see that fair play was given.

They hammered each other in the most brutal manner, but Wright had the best of it and his opponent was put to sleep in the sixteenth round by a terrific blow square between the eyes. The principals shook hands, received congratulations and left the ring side good friends.

Wright may court the young lady undisturbed, if she does not hear of the affair and discard both of the young men.

Drank Carbolic Acid for Beer.

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 23.—Charles Magee, postmaster at Helmdel, died last evening from the effects of carbolic acid which he drank Saturday afternoon. Mr. Magee was returning from Newport on the day named when he stopped at the Town House kept by his brother Garrett. He asked the servant girl for something to drink. He was given a bottle of acid which the girl mistook for beer. Mr. Magee soon became unconscious and remained so until he died. He was a prominent Republican politician and received the postoffice appointment last spring.

Strike of Green Bottle Blowers.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 23.—A general strike of the green bottle blowers employed in this city and throughout the entire western district is threatened. The blowers have been working on Eastern molds for several weeks without knowing it. In doing this work they have unknowingly assisted the manufacturers in their contest with the Eastern blowers who are now on a strike. In case any of the manufacturers insist that the work of filling Eastern orders must continue, a strike will be declared until the Eastern molders are removed from the factories.

Verdict for a Railroad Passenger.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—In the United States Circuit Court the jury in the case of Elias B. New vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to recover damages for injuries received while a passenger on defendant's road, returned a verdict for $2,250. A motion to set aside the verdict will be argued at Syracuse Feb. 21.

Seized a Passenger Steamer.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The side-wheel freight and passenger steamer W. W. Coit, belonging to the New York and Stuyvesant Transportation Company of Hudson, was levied upon by Under Sheriff Goodsale under an execution issued for parties against the company. The levy was made at the docks of the Pennsylvania Coal Company where the Coit is in winter quarters.

Reception to Gov. Hill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The Fort Orange Club gave its annual reception to Gov. Hill and the State officers and the Legislators last night. About 500 guests, including the Judges of the Court of Appeals, Judge Arnoux, David Dudley Field, William Arkell, ex-Senator Arkell and Col. E. F. Shepard attended.

Another Touch of Blizzard.

HURON, Jan. 23.—A severe wind and snow storm has prevailed here since daylight. Trains are more or less delayed. The storm is even more severe west and north of here. The wind is blowing from the northwest at the rate of 45 miles an hour. The temperature is low.

The Hudson Full of Floating Ice.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The cold wave which entered the Hudson Valley makes a good ice crop almost certain. The Hudson River is full of floating ice from Esopus to Albany. Ice in ponds in the Catskills is from three to six inches deep.

Only One for Conviction.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The jury trying Eber L. Pilgrim, of the town of Warwick, for the murder of a man named Keleher in July of last year, was discharged by Judge Barnard. The jury stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction.

A Brakeman Secures a Verdict.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Jan. 23—Charles H. Hunter, of Middletown N. Y., has been awarded $8,000 damages by the Supreme Court, for injuries received in his capacity as brakeman for the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad Company.

Dave Orr Signs With the Brotherhood.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Dave Orr, last year's first-baseman of the Columbus team, and Thomas Kingsland, catcher for the London, Ont., club, have signed contracts to play with the Brooklyn Brotherhood club the coming season.

Cancelled the Concession on Rubber.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 23.—A special cable from Para states that the Provisional Government has cancelled the concession of 20 reis per pound on rubber granted recently to the mercantile company.

Pennsylvania Democracy.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.—E. P. Kisner, of Luzerne, was reelected chairman of the Democratic State Committee. He had no material opposition, and the meeting was entirely harmonious. Scranton was selected as the place for holding the next State Convention, the time to be fixed by the Executive Committee.

THE PLYMOUTH WAR

A Howling Mob of Poles in a Graveyard.

ARMED WITH GUNS AND PICKS.

Bodies Dragged from Coffins and Thrown on the Highway.

A Band of One Hundred Men Drove the Poles Away—Decisive Legal Action Will be Taken—Fears of Serious Trouble Entertained—Bishop Ryan Has Trouble With a Polish Congregation.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 23.—Martin Wilkes and several of his followers, who were placed in jail in default of $25,000 bail, which they were placed under for inciting a riot and preventing the Lithuanians, another faction of the Polish church at Plymouth, from interring two children in the cemetery, were released on a writ of habeas corpus. They were given a hearing before Judge Woodward, and the bail was reduced to $1,000, which was promptly furnished.

Wilkes declares he was victimized and swore vengeance. He returned to Plymouth and gathered a number of Polanders all armed with shotguns. They marched to the cemetery at the lower end of the town. On the way they bought picks and shovels. They then proceeded to reopen the freshly dug graves.

In their rage, it is said by an eye witness, they drove their picks and drills through the coffins and the bodies they contained. The mob then dragged the bodies to the fence and threw them over into the highway. When this reached the ears of the Lithuanians they became furious.

A band of 100 men set out for the graveyard. The Polanders learned of their approach and fled. A committee was at once sent to this city to see their attorney, William H. Hines, to find out what could be done. Decisive legal action will at once be taken. Fears of serious trouble are again entertained.

A ROW WITH A BISHOP.

Buffalo Poles Issue a Manifesto and Say They Will Not be Bulldozed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The breach between St. Aldelbert's Polish congregation and Bishop Ryan is widening daily and lively times are promised before the trouble is settled.

A committee appointed to protest to the Bishop against the removal of Father Klawiter were told that the parish had no right whatever to dictate to the church dignitaries and must obey the orders of the Bishop as regards the disposal of priests.

The Polish people have issued a manifesto declaring that they will not be bulldozed and a fund of $1,000 has been raised to defray the expenses of a delegation to be sent to Rome to protest against Bishop Ryan's action.

The congregation charge the trouble to Father Pitass, pastor of St. Stanislau's Church, from which the St. Adelbert's congregation seceded five years ago.

A Dwelling House Blown Up.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Theodore Ringer, who with her family of five occupied the second floor of a small frame tenement house on Ash Alley, near Thirty-eighth street, went to the cellar with a lighted candle in her hand. As she entered the cellar an explosion occurred and the house was demolished portions of it being blown half a square. John Slip died after being taken from the wreck. Mrs. Ringer was badly cut and probably fatally injured. Mrs. Ringer's family of five children were all painfully injured but will recover. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welsher, grandparents of Mrs. Ringer, occupied the attic floor and were badly burned.

Shot by a Rejected Lover.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Mary Petrikovsky, a pretty golden-haired girl of 19 was shot dead in her brother's apartments at 168 Stanton street by John Popoff, a handsome but dissolute Russian, aged 23, who boarded there, and whose attentions Miss. Petrikovsky had rejected. Popoff was arrested. He is said to belong to a wealthy family in Moscow. Two years ago he received an inheritance, which he soon spent in riotous living.

Chapleau Found Guilty of Murder.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The trial of Joseph Chapleau, for the murder of Irwin Tabor in this town one year ago, has been concluded. Chapleau was found guilty of murder in the first degree and will be sentenced to death next Tuesday. Tabor and Chapleau were neighbors and on unfriendly terms. They met on the highway and Chapleau struck him with a sled stake, causing instant death.

Fire in Boston's Lumber District.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—The lumber and planing mill on Albany street, owned by J. F. Paul & Co., and occupied by the firm and about 20 other woodworking firms, was burned about 1 o'clock this morning. Though the structure was in the centre of the lumber district, the flames were prevented from spreading, and at 2 a. m. the fire was under control.

The Wounds Self Inflicted.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The physicians who performed the autopsy on the body of Martin, the man who was found dying in a house of ill repute in 32d street, report that the stab wounds which caused death were self-inflicted.

—The Good Samaritans, a society of colored people, held a festival in Manning's Hall, a few evenings since, and the society was financially benefitted by the project.

—The Council of 1890 has appointed THE PRESS an official paper of the city. On the fourth page of this issue will be found the advertisement of the license applications.

—The famous Primrose Quartette are with the "Corsair" company that appears at Music Hall, Tuesday night. This is one of the best male quartettes in the country. Their songs have been a feature of the performance.

—Still keep your eye on that blank space in the last column of the second page of this paper. As soon as the advertiser who is paying for it, recovers from the grip he will probably make an interesting announcement therein.

—The roads in the vicinity of the Pond Tool Works are in a very rough condition. Before the present cold weather set in the mud in the roads in that locality was ankle deep, and now since the ground has become frozen the roads are rough and rutty.

—A meeting will be held at Westfield on Tuesday evening next, to consider the advisibility of organizing a lodge of the A. O. U. W., at that place. About twenty persons have signified their willingness to join the order, and delegates from this city will be present at the meeting, and explain the object.

A Big Carpet Purchase.

One of our Front street merchants who has been shopping all New York over, and who has spent several days in selecting his Spring stock of carpets, expects to make quite a sensation when the goods arrive in town.

The purchase was completed yesterday, and the buyer asserts as a positive fact, that it comprises the largest ever shown in Plainfield, and that the prices at which they are to be offered will be actually lower than New York houses. Besides that, he will make and line carpets free of charge during the month of February.

Ingrain, Tapestry and Body Brussels, and Moquettes, will be shown in an immense variety of new styles. Edsall is his name.

Another New Building on North Avenue.

The building owned by Mr. E. C. Mulford, and occupied by B. F. Moore, the butcher, is being removed to make way for a new building to be erected for the Hon. John Ulrich by the Central Land Improvement Co. The building is to be erected this side of Love's, on North avenue, and will be of pressed brick, with stone trimming, plate and cathedral glass. It is to be a model in design, and will be entirely used for office purposes by ex-Judge Ulrich, who proposes after his legislative term to give his undivided time and attention to his profession.

He Wants Protection From the Horrid Girls.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Is there no way to protect honest, respectable workingmen from a certain set of colored girls that infest our streets nightly? My son was stopped last evening, on returning from an errand to his office, by a gang of three. I hear two of them belong on Third street, and the other on West Fourth street.

Very Respectfully,
ISAAC PETERSON,
30 Cottage Place.

"His Present Condition."

Mr. C. W. Hillman will lead to-morrow evening in Bethel chapel, the next of the series of meetings for Bible study that are being held by the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue church. The subject will be: "The man who is not a Christian; his present condition. Has he power to deliver himself? What help has he in the time of temptation? What danger is he in? Does he lack anything vital? What excuse may he have?"

DeGRAFF—MILLIKEN.

A Winter Wedding in the Crescent Avenue Church.

In the Crescent Avenue church, at six o'clock last evening, took place the marriage of Mr. James W. DeGraff of this city, and Miss Carrie Milliken, only daughter of Mr. Samuel Milliken, of Central avenue, the wealthy iron merchant.

The church was filled, and an unusual number of the audience were in full dress. The altar was banked with plants among which callas in bloom predominated. Miss Utter was the organist, and favored the gathering with never ceasing music. The ushers were Messrs Robert A. Fairbairn, William T. Kirk, Ernest R. Ackerman, Herbert W. Stover, Frank Raymond and Harry V. Borden.

The bride's dress was a mass of costly lace trimmed with orange blossoms. The veil was fastened with a cluster of large diamonds. She entered on the arm of her uncle, Mr. James Milliken, of Bellefonte, preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Lilian Dorman, in white, and the bridesmaids, Miss Gussie Murray and Miss Josie Drake, in pink. The groom received the bride at the altar, where he was attended by Mr. Edward Milliken, the bride's brother. The Rev. W. R. Richards performed the ceremony.

The reception that followed at the home of the bride's parents, was a brilliant one. A wedding supper was served, and all were allowed an inspection of the quantities of costly presents received Mr. and Mrs. DeGraff left for a short trip and will return on Monday to the pretty home at 22 East Ninth street, that the groom has handsomely refurnished throughout for the bride.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. M. M. Walker, of North avenue, is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Demler, of Washingtonville.

Miss Gussie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Winckler of Park place, North Plainfield, is lying dangerously ill.

The family of C. J. Noel, the contractor and builder, are all sick with la grippe at their home in Netherwood.

The Silent Four will tender to Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Whitlock, of 73 West Fifth street, an evening sociable, this evening.

Miss Annie Buckley of West Fourth street, has returned from a three weeks' visit with her parents at Rosendale, New York State.

At a regular communication of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P. of this city, held last evening, Mr. Jeremiah Van Winkle, Jr., took the third degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Flemming of Park avenue gave a reception from four to six o'clock, yesterday afternoon, that was attended by many of the society people of this city and New York.

Ex-Councilman S. P. T. Wilbor and wife will celebrate the anniversary of their wedding day, to-morrow evening, with a reception to their friends at their home on East Third street.

Dr. T. S. Davis, whose handsome carriage horse was killed by an accident a few days ago, has just received a beautiful dapple grey mare, which he will use in connection with his professional duties. The animal was sent to the doctor by his father, and it is a beauty.

The death occurred at her home on Franklin place, night before last, of Mrs. Alexander M. Earle. The cause was nervous prostration. Mrs. Earle was in the fifty-second year of her age. Funeral services will be held at the house, to-morrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

The young gentleman who has just been put in charge of the Crescent club house, is Paul Spencer who not long ago was noted in Cleveland as one of the best amateur pitchers in the base ball fraternity. He may fool some of Plainfield's visiting nines with his curves, before next Fall.

The many friends of Judge E. W. Scudder, Associate Judge of the New Jersey Supreme Court and Presiding Judge of the Middlesex Circuit Court, will sympathize with him in his great bereavement in the loss of his wife, who died Tuesday morning of heart disease at the family residence, No. 166 Greenwood avenue, Trenton.

As happens frequently, an anonymous communication was sent the Plainfield papers Tuesday stating that the wife of a prominent merchant of this city was "out again after a severe attack of la grippe aggravated by heart trouble." THE PRESS, as is its unswerving policy, would not publish the item unless it knew of its truth. But a paper in dire need of something local, inserted the notice. The item, as suspected, was false.

Cruelty to a Horse.

Special Officer Kriney went before Mr. W. A. Coddington, an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, yesterday, and lodged a complaint against one Charles Drake of Dunellen, charging him with cruelty to a horse. Drake was driving the horse on West Front street, Tuesday evening, when the animal accidentally broke a leg, and it is alleged that he allowed the horse to remain in the gutter for five hours unattended.

The accused will be apprehended today.

—Petitions are being circulated in this city for signers, requesting Governor Abbett to continue Judge Van Syckle on the bench.

That beautiful glossy sheen, so much admired in hair, can be secured by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. There is nothing better than this preparation for strengthening the scalp and keeping it free from dandruff and itching eruptions.

HOLY CROSS CHOIR GUILD ENTERTAINS.

A Good Time Provided by the Committees of Reception, Entertainment and Refreshments.

The Holy Cross Choir Guild of Holy Cross church, gave a reception last evening to the gentlemen of the church in the Sunday School building, and the only persons who will have cause for regret on the occasion are those who were not there. The spacious rooms had been transformed, through the efforts of a few ladies of the church, into the cosiest and most beautiful of parlors, and the members of the Guild, divided into reception, entertainment and refreshment committees, took care that the guests were made to feel at home.

An impromptu programme of music and reading opened the evening, and was followed by a few remarks from President William H. Hardy, the Rev. T. Logan Murphy, Choir-master Charles W. Kellogg, and the ten honorary members who were then elected. Refreshments next claimed attention and a bountiful supply of good things disappeared with a rapidity which spoke well for their quality. General sociability reigned throughout the evening, and when at last the guests took their departure it was with many thanks to the young men of the choir for the pleasant time they had provided, and with many sincere good wishes for the Guild and its work.

The following gentlemen were elected honorary members: Geo. P. Dupee, Samuel Townsend, H. R. Phillips, C. J. Taggart, Will E. MacClymont, G. N. Hartley, Wm. Mooney, P. S. Browne and Messrs Goff and Holmes.

A Wedding That Causes Gossip.

According to Washington despatches the census office clerks are gossiping over the marriage of Mr. Cullen and Miss Pryor, two $900 clerks in the office. The gossip is all due to the alleged fact that while Mr. Cullen is a white man, his wife has a very slight trace of African blood in her veins.

Mr. Cullen since his marriage, has been one of the clerks appointed to Dr. Carroll's office of the census, in this city. Mrs. Cullen is but 17 or 18 years of age. She is regarded as one of the most expert typewriters in the goverment service. She was at one time a student at Howard University, and later studied at New Haven, Conn. Last week Mr. Cullen said good bye to his few acquaintances in Plainfield and left for Philadelphia, to which city he and his wife have been detailed to assist in collecting statistics regarding the coal production.

Prohibition Plainfield.

During the past year there were no licensed hotels or saloons in this city, yet the quantity of liquor and beer drank was about the same as in former years. The city got no revenue for liquor licenses last year, and the North Plainfield bottlers reaped the benefit. Of one dealer in the borough, it is said, that he paid off an eighteen hundred dollar mortgage within the past year, besides purchasing a desirable building lot near the Pond Tool Works. All of this was paid for from his receipts during the year. The same dealer, it is said, delivered over seven hundred cases of beer to his customers in this city on the two days before Christmas, which is an equivalent to fourteen hundred dozen bottles. Thus it will be seen that in spite of the fact that Plainfield was a prohibition town during 1889, the inhabitants were by no means obliged to go "dry."

Sons of Temperance at Reform Hall.

The Reform Club has formally invited the two Divisions of Sons of Temperance in this city to join forces as mutual temperance workers in Reform Hall, next Sunday evening. The meeting will be specially in honor of the Sons of Temperance, and the speakers taken from the membership of that Order, which is now in the forty-eighth year of prosperous existence. The occasion will doubtless be of much interest, and THE PRESS has been requested by an officer of the Reform Club to solicit general public attendance.

At the Prize Ring.

It is said that about fifty sports from this city were present at the prize fight between Dwyer of Bound Brook and Tobin of Troy, which took place near South Plainfield early yesterday morning. One man is reported to have won over three hundred dollars on the mill. It is also reported that the carriage owned by a Plainfielder was used to convey the defeated pugilist from the battle field.

Third Assembly Ball.

Another society event in this city was the third assembly ball, which took place at the Seminary, on Monday evening Maresi of New York, furnished the supper. The patronesses were Mrs. William B. Bloodgood, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mrs. Pliny Fisk, Mrs. Fred. J. Kuhn, Mrs Robert L. Burnett, Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, Mrs. William T. Kaufman and Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Ivins.

Death at Liberty Corner.

Mr. Daniel Irving, an old and respected resident of Liberty Corner died on Sunday night, at the advanced age of eighty-seven years. Death resulted from old age. The deceased was the grandfather of Councilman Smalley of North Plainfield.

The funeral took place from the house, yesterday afternoon, the pall bearers being six of the grand-children of the deceased, whose ages ranged from twenty-five to thirty years. Interment was made at Liberty Corner.

TWO VICTORIES FOR PLAINFIELD.

The Olympic and Crescent Bowling Teams, Each Win a Game on Strange Alleys.

Last evening Plainfield's two crack bowling teams rolled matches away from home, but won them both. The Olympics who had already beaten the Fanwoods on the Olympia alleys by a score of 1,360 to 1,335, went to Fanwood and again won but by a much larger score. The Plainfield team was short a man by the absence of Drayton, so Wood was substituted. He proved a mascot and rolled up for himself the highest score of the evening. Three of the Westfield bowlers were included in the Fanwood team, but without avail.

The score of the Olympics was: Van Alstyne, 136; Hudson, 131; Wilbur, 122; Murray, 121; Wood, 182; Hawkins, 173; Hall, 139: White, 141: Collier, 151; Lowry, 134. Total—1,430. Fanwood total—1,403.

The Crescent League bowlers went to Somerville and rolled the Somersets, last evening, winning with ease although there were two substitutes on the Plainfield team. The new men, however, proved they had the nerve, and Brett especially did himself proud. The average of all the Crescents, in fact, considering the alleys were strange ones, was very creditable.

Their score was: VanEmburgh, 151; H. Teel, 127; Carey, 143: Emerson, 118; Brett, 131: C. Teel, 146; Leggett, 118; Rogers, 134; Reed, 167; Davis, 150. Total—1,415. Somerset total—1,375.

Charles Barnard Says:

"Charlotte M. Allen's new work entitled 'Switzerland' is one of the brightest, most charming and original ever written. It tells a lively story of adventure while on a tour through the Alps. On the trip she visits Geneva, Berne, Interlachen, the Rigi, and goes everywhere by rail, by boat, and afoot. For traveling companion she has a susceptible maiden aunt, and a queer old count in love with her aunt's money. Along the way they meet children, beggars, peasants and tourists, and find endless amusement in noticing the manners and customs of the natives. Scattered through the entertainment are vivid descriptions of old churches, quaint houses, and historic buildings, and grand scenery among the mountains and upon the lakes.

"This new work is both entertaining and instructive in its descriptive portions, interesting the most cultivated among the audience while the young people and children follow its amusing story with unflagging interest to the end."

This lady will speak at Reform Hall, under the auspices of the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., on Tuesday evening, the 28th instant.

The New Jersey G. A. R.

Assistant Adjutant General C. S. Magrath, of the New Jersey G. A. R., has prepared his quarterly report for the close of the fiscal year, which makes the following showing: During the year there were two new posts instituted, making a total of 113 posts in the State.

At the last report there were 7,760 members. Since then there was gained—by muster, 158; by transfer, 41, and by reinstatement, 43, making a total gain of 242, and total membership of 8,002. The losses were—by deaths, 26; honorable discharge, 4; transfer, 34; suspended, 259, making a total loss of 323, and net loss of 81, leaving the membership to date at 7,679.

The twenty-third annual encampment will be held at Trenton on February 13 and 14.

The "Only George" in Danger.

Great anxiety is felt regarding the fate of Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher, of this city, who are somewhere in the snow drifts on the Central Pacific railroad near the California boundary line. Sunday the train they were on bound for Chicago, left Reno for the next station, Truckee, but nothing has been heard of them since. It is feared that some of the snow sheds along the line have fell in on the train, and the passengers have all perished.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Though You May Not Agree With It, It is Worth Reading When Presented so Forcibly and Plausibly as Below.

(From the Central Times of Yesterday.)

Two notions have been promulgated by the friends of the water works contract and those whose opinions they influence. One is that the bond which has been signed is an abundant security to the city that all shall be done according to contract and in good faith. The other is that the city can, if it will, redeem the franchise by the payment of a moderate advance over cost. Unfortunately both of these notions are only notions.

First, as to the bond. It is a penal bond only and not a forfeiture bond as to the sum named therein. If the city does not like the way the water company is proceeding, it has the inestimable privilege of bringing a law-suit against the company, and if—under the somewhat peculiar difficulties under which the city would labor in such a case—the city could prove any particular specific amount of damage it had sustained by the water company's failure or negligence to keep its obligation, it might, to just that particular amount (subject of course to the right of appeal and the danger of more litigation) obtain a judgment against the company and might for such amount seek to hold the bondsmen. If anybody can see any great protection or benefit in such a bond, we cannot. It is, we admit, somewhat better than nothing; but is far from being any absolute assurance or security to the city, and there is no absolute forfeiture provided in such connection—not even the forfeiture of the company's charter.

Now, as to the right of the City of Plainfield to redeem at a premium what it has given away for nothing. It is, indeed provided by sections 65 and 66 of the contract that the city may purchase at periods from one to three years following the date of the contract at an advance above cost, whatever that may mean, of from ten to twenty per cent. It goes without saying that such a privilege is not practically of the least account to this city. At the end of ten years the city may again purchase under more severe conditions. But what we especially wish to call attention to is the fact that there is no limit fixed to the bonded debt which this "Water Works Company of Plainfield" is at liberty to issue. The company might issue half a million of dollars in bonds, or a million, for that matter, on a plant built at a cost of $150,000. There is a sample of pure water for the thinking citizen to consider, of a kind which we would not desire to see flooding us.

Of course, so soon as any issue of bonds is emitted in excess of cost, the stock is liable to become nearly or quite worthless. But that need make no difference to the irresponsible shareholder, who has pocketed the proceeds of his share of a big issue of bonds. We will suppose some such big issue of bonds "floated" and in the hands of innocent holders. What is the city going to do about it? It is powerless to do anything.

Suppose then, that the city wants (either within a short or long period) to purchase and control the works, what can it do? It would be simply impracticable for the company to sell as it had agreed to do in the 65th and 66th sections. It really has nothing to sell. It has already run in debt beyond its means to pay, and no shareholder is individually responsible.

There is, however, one precious privilege which the "party of the second part" has left open to the city. It is the privilege of paying off such an inflated debt (amount unlimited) as appears in the 98th section at a premium of ten per cent. They may then, if the arithmetic will admit of it, deduct such amount of bonds from the purchase price the city pays the company. If they can't deduct it, it is presumable they won't. What a juggle—not to say farce—the whole thing is?

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. R. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth. I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ¼ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

GLADSTONE SPEAKS

He Declines to Criticize the Portugal Dispute.

WHAT HE THINKS OF OUR NAVY

He Says America is Paying Too Much, But Can Afford It.

A Warning to Turkey and Home Rule for Scotland—A Rumor About the Pope's Death—The Duke of Aosta's Funeral—No More Fighting for the Pelican Club.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Gladstone in a speech at Chester last night said he would decline to critzise the Government's dispute with Portugal until he should become better informed in the matter.

Referring to the troubles in Crete and Armenia he declared that the trial of Moussa Bey was a mockery, and warned the Sultan that Turkey would not obtain the sympathy of England in times of difficulty unless he governed with humanity and justice.

America, he said, was still enjoying the blessings of pretection and therefore would pay 40 or 50 per cent. more to build a navy than if she were contented to compete on equal terms with other nations. But the resources of America were so great that she can well afford to pay for the luxury of protection.

Mr. Gladstone commended Scotland's unvarying Liberalism. If Scotland demanded home rule, to which she had a good claim, neither the Tories nor the Dissidents would object either in the name of the Union, or the integrity of the Empire. Home rule, he said, was engaged in a terrific struggle between powerful influences and conviction. It was a principle of Liberalism to trust the people. It was a principle of Toryism to distrust them.

Alix Household Expenses Too Large.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the Sultan has agreed to a reduction ranging from 15 to 20 per cent. in the salaries of state officials and also to a reduction of £1,000,000 yearly in the expenses of the Imperial household. It is believed that there will be a deficit of £4,000,000. The Sultan desires an exact statement.

Funeral of the Duke of Aosta.

TURIN, Jan. 23.—The funeral ceremonies of the Duke of Aosta were simple and almost entirely devoid of display. The streets were crowded with people who lined the entire route of the procession, which was headed by 100 children from the various charitable institutions, etc., with which the Duke of Aosta was associated.

Dr. Doellinger's Letters.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—It is proposed to publish as soon as the letters can be arranged some highly important and interesting correspondence of the late Dr. Doellinger, the leader of the Old Catholic movement.

A Rumor About the Pope.

ROME, Jan. 23.—There is a widespread rumor that the Pope is dead. This appears to have been caused by an unsual and unlooked for announcement that he is in perfect health and has received several Bishops.

No More Fights.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Owing to the train of scandals growing out of the recent Smith-Slavin prize fight, the Pelican Club at its meeting last night determined to have nothing to do with promoting pugilistic contests hereafter.

The Charleroi Miners Win.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 23.—The miners strike is at an end, the employers having submitted to the demands of those who still hold out.

THREE VESSELS IN PERIL.

Cargo Thrown Overboard to Prevent One Ship from Foundering.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 23.—The steamers Sorrento, Rhaetia and Egypt put in here short of coal, after a most terrible passage. The Sorrento was out 24 days. The boats, rail, deck and fixings were smashed by the waves. Considerable other damage was done by the tremendous seas which dashed over her.

Capt. Jurgensen was knocked down by a huge wave and one of his hands were broken. Many members of the crew had narrow escapes from death and some are injured. At one time it was feared the ship would founder. Orders were given to throw over the cargo, which was done. The vessel was then almost on her beam ends, but righted when the cargo was jettisoned.

The Raetia also encountered a succession of terrific westerly gales and mountainous seas, which overflowed the decks. The worst storms were from the 17th to the 18th. When the sea threatened to engulf the vessel the captain decided to use oil to try and quiet the waves. Oil bags were hung over the sides of the vessel for twelve hours and had the desired effect, and his officers say it was the only thing that saved the ship from receiving serious damage. All of her 150 passengers are well.

The Egypt's experience is similar to that of the others, there being continuous gales all the way. Her captain says never in all his life did he meet with such storms. It was frightful at times. Occasionally the ship was carried along by the force of the wind. It was impossible to see from the bridge to the bow, the vessel being enveloped in thick spray all the time. The vessel's boats are damaged. She also jettisoned some cargo.

Vote on the Westminster Confession.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Out of the 311 Presbyteries in the United States 247 have thus far voted on the question of the revision of the Westminster Confession. Of these, 185 have voted in favor of and 12 against revision. Most of the votes for revision are in the West; most of those against it are in the East.

Carroll Whips Lucie.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—The fight between Mike Lucie, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Carroll, of Brooklyn, middleweights, at the Golden Gate Club last night, resulted in a victory for Carroll, Lucie being knocked out in the seventh round.

A TRYING MOMENT.

A Railroad Man Fatally Injured While Trying to Save His Comrade.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 23.—While Geo. Hahn and Louis Johnson, Nickel Plate bridge men were working on a trestle between River Bank and Dover Bay, Johnson's foot was caught by the timbers.

The Chicago passenger train was approaching and Johnson endeavored to extricate his foot. To his dismay he found it impossible. The situation was rapidly becoming dangerous and Hahn lent his efforts in the attempts to release the firmly fastened foot.

All their efforts were in vain and Johnson begged Hahn to jump and save himself. Hahn steadfastly refused and heroically continued his endeavors to help Johnson. The train struck him while he was thus engaged. Johnson's leg was cut off at the knee and Hahn was probably fatally injured.

Hahn was taken to his home in Vermillion on the train that struck him and Johnson was brought to Cleveland.

END OF A LOCKOUT.

The Craven Bros. Make Terms With the Glassblowers.

SALEM, N. J., Jan. 23.—After a long and tedious struggle, lasting five months, the glassblowers' lockout here has been settled and fires are now started under the furnaces of Craven Bros.

For the last two days rumors of a settlement have been current, but nothing definite was done until late last night when the firm sent for the blowers' committee and accepted their terms, which provides for the 60 per cent. list, less 10 per cent., and the allowance of one apprentice to every fifteen journeymen, $40 in cash every two weeks, or $20 a week.

These are the terms of the resolutions adopted at the glassblowers' convention at Atlantic City last summer, and will give Craven Bros. five apprentices. One factory will start to-morrow, two next Tuesday, and the other two as soon as possible.

Four Boilers Burst.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 23.—A terrible boiler explosion of four boilers occurred at the breaker of the Mt. Jessup Coal Company, instantly killing Michael Munley, of Archbald, the night engineer; fatally injured a German laborer, and seriously injured two Hungarian mine laborers. The boiler and engine-houses were demolished, taking fire and burning to the ground. The boilers were nearly new and the explosion is believed to be due to running cold water into them while dry.

A Tobacco Syndicate Formed.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 23.—A meeting was held here at the Continental Hotel of leading tobacco and cigarette manufacturers throughout the country. A syndicate has been formed with a capital of $25,000,000 and 200 shares will be issued. The object for which the association is formed is to cure leaf tobacco and to sell tobacco in all its forms. Factories will be established in all the States and Territories and Canada.

Connecticut Military Troubles.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 23.—Governor Bulkeley has asked for the resignation of Brig.-General Charles P. Brown of Middletown, on account of his approval of the recent resignations of the officers of the 1st Regiment. Col. Cone, Lieut.-Col. Thompson and Major Smith of this city, are dishonorably discharged for insubordination, and Captains Nowton and Schultze are also dismissed.

Admitted to the Bar.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—At the meeting of the State Bar Association the following were admitted to practice: Peter Cantine, Saugerties; Chas. De Costa, Chas. M. Earle, G. R. Hawes, Myron Oppenheim, C. H. Rushmore, Wm. F. Scott, Joshua Van Cott, Alex. Van Cott, F. V. Van Vorst, R. F. Little, of New York; Fred Cameron, of Albany.

A Prisoner Jumps from a Train.

HUDSON, N. Y., Jan. 23.—While being taken to the penitentiary a prisoner named John Slavin, jumped from an express train near here and escaped from the custody of Officer Ellis of Mattewan. Slavin, who was not handcuffed, asked the officer's permission to get a drink, then walked out of the car door and jumped from the platform.

Ensign Shipley Married.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Ensign J. H. Shipley, attached to the United States steamer Michigan, was married last night on board the United States receiving ship Wabash to Miss Fannie, the eldest daughter of Captain Carpenter of the Wabash. A distinguished company of guests witnessed the ceremony.

Strike in a Shoe Factory.

YARMOUTH, Me., Jan. 23.—The shoemakers, stitchers, stock-fitters, cutters and lasters, in J. F. Hodson Brothers & Co.'s shoe factory struck because the girls in the stitching room are required to sign an agreement to accept wages agreed upon by the firm for the ensuing year. They claim that the firm would not name the wages until after they should sign.

The Globe Trotter Speeding Eastward.

TRINIDAD, Col., Jan. 23.—Nellie Bly arrived here this morning. She immediately took a special train from this place over the Union Pacific for Council Bluffs via Denver. At Council Bluffs she goes via the Northwestern to Chicago where she will take the Michigan Central for New York.

Baseball Men Did Not Respond.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 23.—The call for a meeting of baseball men at the Narragansett Hotel was responded to by only four men. Very little interest is taken in the formation of the proposed club. Another meeting, however, will probably be held to further develop the movement.

Due to Mr. Blaine's Protest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Rubber merchants state that the revocation by the Para Government of the practical monopoly of rubber export which has been granted to the Companhia Mercantil is due to a protest made by Secretary Blaine to the Brazilian Provsional Government.

Daly Knocked Out.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Eugene Hornbacker and Eddie Daly, of Providence, fought 39 rounds near Norton's Point. Daly finally being knocked out.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM

Senator Ingalls' Speech the Topic of Washington.

A SURPRISE FOR BOTH PARTIES.

Amalgamation Declared Impossible and the Negro a Permanent Institution.

Congressman McAdoo Makes a Prediction. Census Supervisors Appointed — A Clerk Drinks Carbolic Acid for Whiskey. Montana Senators Present Their Credentials.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. — Senator Ingalls' speech on the race question is the one topic here and it was the great event of the season.

The orator started out most vigorously, and he maintained his standard to the end. During the entire speech not a Senator left the chamber not a visitor departed from the floor, and not a person gave up his place in the gallery. No one ever knows where the Kansas orator will strike, and so it was when he flung forth the unexpected statement that the sentiment for freedom had not been adopted in New England until slavery had become unprofitable. Senator Dawes of Massachusetts, who was sitting within six feet of Ingalls, glanced fiercely at the speaker, and fairly shook with astonishment. Ingalls spares neither friends nor foes in making his attacks, and he surprised Democrats and Republicans, white men and black ones in turn.

"The race to which we belong is the most arrogant and pretentious, the most exclusive and indomitable in history," were Mr. Ingalls' opening words. "Individualism, liberty, fraternity and equality," he said, "had been that race's contributions to the State. Every other race had been its enemy or its victim. At every step of its progress from barbarism to enlightenment the Caucasian race had refused to assimilate with the Mongolian and African.

Mr. Ingalls traced briefly the wonderful history of the country in its first century, and said it was confronted in the beginning of its second century with a race question which, unless frankly met, presented a great danger. He referred to the late Henry W. Grady in the highest terms, and he read a quotation from his Boston address, in reference to the colored race in its bearing on the South. He called attention to the rapid increase in the colored race in the country, and the refusal of the two races to amalgamate or assimilate, and asked what could be done to solve the problem.

"There is no affinity of races," he exclaimed, "The amalgamation during the times of slavery was enforced by the dominant power and disappeared when the freedom of the blacks came. History shows no record of two races existing together under one government in harmony. The weaker has inevitably gone down.

"But the evidence is conclusive," he said, "that the whites of the South have determined to eliminate the colored race from politics. Practically the people of the North have abandoned the negro to his fate. This cannot last. The North and the West will not consent to have the country endangered by a system which selects its lawmakers by the unjust method which suppresses a part of the vote and allows the others to take possession of the advantages thus gained. Sooner or later this will be rebuked, whether by peaceful methods or bloodshed none can tell. Ultimately the colored race themselves will have the strength to demand this.

"The South is standing upon a volcano. Already the mutterings of discontent are heard and the use of the torch and dagger is advised. Yet no other race ever submitted to such wrongs as have been inflicted upon the blacks since they were made citizens without bloodshed. That the black man is not a coward is shown by his record in war. People denying the blacks their rights should remember that injustice is always followed by retribution, and God is an unrelenting creditor. The South is not forgiven, the North never accepted the amendments to the Constitution in good faith."

He closed by saying there were five solutions of the race problem: Amalgamation, extermination, suppression, disfranchisement and justice.

"All these except the last have," he said, "been tried. Try this, and if it fails, then I will be ready to consult as to what should follow."

Congressman McAdoo's Prediction.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Congressman McAdoo, of New Jersey, takes a keen interest in Pennsylvania politics. He said to-day that he desired to make a prediction, and that was that the Democrats would drop Wallace and nominate Robert E. Pattison for Governor. He says that there is a movement among New Jersey Democrats to bring out ex-Governor Green for a place on the Presidential ticket of 1892.

RAN INTO A FUNERAL.

Four Persons Instantly Killed by a Flying Express Train.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A most distressing accident which resulted in the death of four persons occurred at Rosehill Cemetery, a few miles from here, on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne were on their way to bury their five-months-old babe with a few friends who were accompanying them to the cemetery. There were only four carriages in the procession. Mr. and Mrs. Payne were in the carriage immediately following the hearse, and with them were Mrs. William Reprogel and Grace Payne, their little daughter.

As the Payne carriage came squarely on the track, the Milwaukee express, which was four minutes behind time and was nearing the city at a high rate of speed, struck the carriage in the centre, tearing it into splinters and instantly killing Mr. and Mrs. Payne and so seriously injuring Mrs. Reprogel and Simon Anderson, the driver of the carriage, that they died within two hours afterwards.

All who witnessed or knew anything of the occurrence agree that no warning whatever of its approach was given by the flying train.

BARELY ESCAPE DEATH.

The Bursting of a Dam Imperils the Lives of Twenty Men.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 24.—A gang of masons who have for some time been at work rebuilding the large dam at Seeley's Mill, which was swept away last July, had a narrow escape from being caught in a flood of water which came rushing down the mountains, a temporary dam having given way.

Fortunately the men were seated up on the mountain gorge when the water rushed down into the excavation which they had vacated only a few minutes before. Their carts, wheelbarrows, scaffolding and tools were swept away like straws. All the men would undoubtedly have been drowned had they been in the excavation.

Congressman Belden's $5,000,000 Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Congressman James J. Belden, of the Syracuse District, gave Wall street a fresh surprise by announcing that he will bring suit against some of the leading financiers of the country to recover the snug sum of $5,000,000. The papers in the case have already been prepared, and the suit will be entered upon the docket of the Supreme Court in a few days. The long list of defendants, whom Mr. Belden will sue as individuals and as a company, includes the names of J. Pierpont Morgan, Anthony J. Drexel, General Winslow, Edwin D. Adams and a dozen other prominent Wall street men.

Her Body Cut in Two.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 24. — The mangled body of Mrs. George Jacobs was found lying on the Doylestown Branch Railroad about one mile from Doylestown. It is supposed that she was struck by the midnight passenger train from Lansdale to Doylestown. When found the body, which was almost cut in two, was frozen stiff. The woman was about 70 years of age, and, it is thought, was slightly deranged, and during the night wandered away from her home in Doylestown.

Y., Jan. 24.—Snyder Lockwood, the self-confessed forger of Shokan, who recently, when believing himself to be dying, summoned friends to his bedside and admitted having forged their names to commercial paper in considerable amounts, has left for parts unknown. ARREST OF THE RINGLEADERS.

The Trial of the Prisoners Commenced and Excitement Prevails.

One Negro Shot While Fleeing from Arrest — The Citizens Worn Out With Fatigue — Negro Women Violent and Thronging the Streets — The Chief of the Ringleaders Cannot be Found.

APALACHICOLA, Fla., Jan. 24.—The Escambia Rifles arrived last night, 37 strong. Guards were posted throughout the town, and every white man not on duty slept with arms within reach.

Thirty-five of the ringleaders of the negro strikers were arrested, but the chief one, Sanchez V. Thomas, cannot be found. One negro was shot while fleeing from arrest.

The trial of some of the prisoners has commenced, and intense excitement prevails among both whites and blacks.

The negro women are violent in denunciation of the whites, and are thronging the streets.

The citizens are worn out with fatigue but feel confident that the situation can be mastered. It is generally believed that the arrest of the ringleaders will have a quieting effect, but some think the negroes will attempt to make further trouble.

STRUGGLE WITH A LUNATIC.

A Civil Engineer Commits Suicide While Suffering from the Grip.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 24.—G. Mutzer, a civil engineer, of 218 Eighth avenue, this city, committed suicide during a fit of temporary insanity produced by la grippe. Mutzer's body presented a ghastly spectacle.

The man first made an attempt to kill himself with a razor, but failed. An hour later, and while a physician was present, he sprang from bed, seized a table-knife and hacked open the wound which had been dressed. A Mrs. Schuessler, who was present, attempted to disarm the crazy man, and a terrible struggle ensued. Dr. W. H. C. Lee was also in the room, but failed to give any assistance to the woman.

The floor of the room in which the tragedy occurred resembled that of a slaughter-house.

Important Traffic Contract.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—A traffic contract has been closed between the Central New England & Western Railroad and the Boston & Maine by which the latter obtains a direct connection with Pennsylvania and the West by way of Poughkeepsie bridge, and the former gets access on favorable terms for the transportation of coal and general freight to all the territory covered by the Boston & Maine system. Through traffic will pass for the present over the Central New England & Western to Simsbury, Conn., thence to Northampton, Mass., by the New Haven & Northamptoh division of the Consolidated Road and thence eastward by the Central Massachusetts.

A fund amounting to nearly $100,000 has been placed at the disposal of the University, and the plan provides for the erection of a suitable building and the employment of several instructors.

Decision in an Ecclesiastical Case.

DUBUQUE, Iowa., Jan. 24.—The case of Father Jaen, who was deprived of his ecclesiastical rights several years ago by Bishop Hennessey for disobedience, and has ever since been seeking to get a hearing in the courts, has been disposed of by Judge Ney, in a long decision. He decides that Bishop Hennessey acted within his ecclesiastical jurisdiction in silencing the priest, and that the action is one a Civil Court cannot review, belonging solely to ecclesiastical authority.

A Postal Clerk Arrested.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 24.—Postoffice Inspector Holmes, of Cincinnati, last night arrested W. D. Lane, of Indianapolis, a postal clerk on the Pittsburg, St. Louis & Chicago Railroad, running between St. Louis and Pittsburg. All were held for court on charges of vagrancy and malicious mischief.

—The facilities for turning out work at the Pond Tool Works, since the influenza has been epidemic, was at one time seriously crippled. While the complaint was at its worse, it is said, 115 of the employees were at home sick. One day this week there were forty employes laid up with la grippe.

Surmounting all Difficulties.

Every day for the past month the grip has held in its clutches two or three of THE PRESS employees, yet in spite of such misfortune the paper has not failed to support its position as Plainfield's only newspaper. But some of the staff are laid up today, and—as their places cannot be refilled—this issue is only doing the best it can under the circumstances.

Under Her Window.

The current number of The Suburban contains the following by a clever young literator, of Washington Park:

My love is at her window,
I can see her as I go;
She is sitting there and reading,
Rocking gently to and fro;
And I wonder what she's reading,
For so interested she
That I pass beneath unnoticed,
And my bow she fails to see.
Next time I visit her, forsooth
I'll learn from her own lips,
That the volume she was reading
Was a book of racing tips!

—George P. Taggart.

—A very enthusiastic meeting was held by Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., at their rooms in the S. of T., hall, last evening.

AN AGED LOTHARIO.

Seventy-Six, Yet He Leaves His Wife for a Younger Woman.

Prof. Robert Butterworth, a musician and piano tuner, who is 76 years of age, is accused of unhusbandly conduct by his wife, a pleasant-featured lady, about thirty years the professor's junior. They have been married thirty years. The wife says that she found that her husband was an ardent admirer of the charms of a younger and prettier woman than she. This young woman is Emma Graham, who, for several months, has been living in Newark, N. J., at the professor's expense. His means did not permit him to provide for the running expenses of two households, and the consequence was that his wife was neglected. She called upon Capt. McManus at the Second Precint Newark, on Monday, and in his confiding ears she poured out her tale of woe. She told him that she had received no support from her husband for two months and that he had pawned a number of articles of furniture besides securing money by giving a chattel mortgage on his piano. He had also struck her when she remonstrated with him on his misconduct.

An officer was detailed to accompany Mrs. Butterworth to the house at No. 29 Lemon street. A young woman named Cusick, a companion of the fair Emma, informed the neglected wife that her husband and Miss Graham were out for a walk. They returned after a short while and the aged lover was dumbfounded when he saw his wife. A stormy scene followed, but the professor remained in the house. His wife retired with a threat to take legal action and have her husband brought to a realization of what is due her.

The professor says that he will under no consideration again live with his wife, by whose jealousy he claims to have been driven to act as he has.

BACK SALARIES TO COUNCILMEN.

Judge VanSyckel Decides The City of Elizabeth Must Pay Salaries From 1886.

(From yesterday's Elizabeth Journal.)

At the opening of the Circuit Court this morning, Judge VanSyckel announced his decision in the case of Councilman John J. Smith vs. the city, which was argued before him on Friday and which involved the constitutionality of the amendment to the charter, passed by the legislature in 1886 as a repealer of the clause paying members of the city council $500 per annum.

Mr. Smith brought suit for two years' salary and for the purpose of settling the question of the legality of the repealer clause.

Mr. R. V. Lindabury argued the case for Mr. Smith, and took the grounds that the repealer was a special act and unconstitutional.

Mr. Frank Bergen, the city attorney, made the argument in defense of the city. The decision of Judge VanSyckel is against the city, as it was generally conceded it would be.

He gave his opinion in a few words, stating that he had carefully examined the case, and was fully convinced that the clause repealing the salaries was a special act. To be general it should include all cities of a class, but this act referred to Elizabeth only, and was therefore a special and inoperative act. He gave judgment for the amount.

The Court refused to certify the case to the higher Court, but the city can, if it is thought advisable, appeal to the Court of Errors, by furnishing bonds, etc.

The decision practically settles the matter, and leaves no doubt of the city's responsibility to the members of council for the year since the enactment of the alleged repealer; in other words the councilmen of 1887, 1888 and 1889, are entitled to $500 per year salary each. The total indebtedness of the city for salaries to councilmen is $24,000. It is probable the members will accept a settlement at 50 per cent.

AGAIN THE OTHER SIDE.

A Reply to the Article Republished in These Columns of Yesterday.

In THE PRESS of yesterday appeared an article giving the reverse side of the contract that has recently been entered into between the city and the "Water Works Company of Plainfield." The article was so strong that it was deemed best by the friends of the contractors to answer it at once and overcome so far as possible its effect. That answer is rescued from oblivion by THE PRESS and given in full below. "Its literary style and method of reasoning unmistakably disclose the writer, as if there had been appended the signature of a certain"—Corporation Counsel.

The literary style and method of reasoning adopted in the leading editorial of yesterday's Plainfield Times as unmistakably disclose the writer of the editorial in my opinion as if there had been appended the signature of a certain ex-Mayor. It will not do merely to retort that an ex-Mayor might find better employment than that of suggesting means by which the Water Co., if disposed to be unscrupulous, might with safety water its stock and bonds, betray confidence and break faith with the city. That would be to show feeling of a kind not unlike that manifested in the Times article. Neither is it sufficient to say that assuming that the editorial contains anything seriously worth considering, the worthy ex-Mayor ought to have given the city the benefit of his astuteness when the city invited him and others—when it would have done some good—that is to say when Mr. Yates and other citizens furnished their really valuable suggestions during the negotiations which resulted in so greatly improving the city's contract. All this might be just, but the man who commands the editorial columns of a newspaper may reach some reader who would be misled unless a direct answer be made to some of the erroneous assertions of the editorial. I leave to others the task of exposing in detail the errors of statement and deduction with which the editorial in question is replete, and briefly suggest some of the more obvious considerations that occurred to my mind this evening on a single perusal.

The first attempt of the article was to show that the public are wrong in supposing that the $50,000 bond of the Water Company and its sureties was an abundant security to the city that all should be done according to contract. The ex-Mayor remarks that it is a "penal bond." So much is true. He might have added that it is highly penal. But he deduces from the fact that the bond is penal, that the only remedy of the city in case the contract is broken in any particular is "the inestimable privilege of bringing a law suit." It is not often that such an intelligent man and forceful writer makes such a careless statement when the cold type before his very eyes stands ready to convict him of error. To illustrate, suppose that the Water Company should fail in the most important feature of the contract, namely by providing water that is not pure. According to the ex-Mayor, the city's only remedy is "the inestimable privilege of a law suit." According to the contract, however, "the city [without going to law at all] may employ a competent engineer or engineers and other necessary help, and forthwith proceed to remedy the defect without unnecessary expense, and the company will reimburse the city on demand for all expenses so incurred."

Precisely similar rights are secured to the city in case any material should prove defective, or any workmanship should not equal the requirements of the contract. The Times editorial would leave us to infer that a law suit would be necessary to find out whether the material was in fact defective, and whether the workmanship did in fact come up to the requirements of the contract. But the contract easily refutes that position. Section 72 gives the city the extraordinary advantages of relying upon the decision of its own engineer on both points, and makes such decision final and conclusive upon the company.

So if the company fails or is too slow in completing any part of the work (76), or in repairing the streets (74), or in making extensions (83), or in furnishing plans (84), or in completing the entire works within the stipulated time (82), or in keeping or operating any part of the works as required by the contract (78), or in complying with any instructions from the engineer regarding the quality of the material and workmanship, or any other requirements of the specifications for the construction or extension of the works, etc., (73); in any and all of these cases, the city is given the right to step in and do what is required at the expense of the company. The company is bound by the contract and the sureties by their bond to reimburse the city on demand for all expenses incurred by the city under such circumstances.

Does the ex-Mayor see where the penal bond comes in? Would he like to be one of the sureties who bound themselves in the sum of $50,000 each to secure the performance of all and singular the provisions of this contract? If the company should not be able to respond, I suspect that Col. James Moore and Charles Moore and John Kean, Jr., are good for all expense the city may incur in making absolutely sure the full performance of the contract.

But when it is remembered that the company cannot earn $1 for hydrant rentals until after the city's engineer certifies to the completion of the work according to contract (97), will any sane man believe that the company will take very long to complete the work according to contract, so as to get that little additional revenue from the city of not less than $3,750 per annum?

The fact of the matter is that the city could not have more effective control if it were the city that was going to build the works. And when it is remembered that somebody else is to pay for these works and that there is nothing to prevent the city at any time from giving another franchise to another company, or from building its own works, it is a matter of amazement to sound business men in this community that the city ever was able to secure such favorable terms. I have talked with upwards of a hundred of our largest tax payers, and have found only two men who do not regard the making of the contract as one of the best things ever done by a Plainfield Common Council.

I noticed in again reading over the first half of the Times editorial that it concludes "there is no absolute forfeiture, provided in such connection—not even the forfeiture of the company's charter." I have shown that the contract, the performance of which is secured by the bond, is one of the strongest possible in its terms and penalties, but I must confess that the portion of the ex-Mayor's last remark which follows the dash is true—"not even the forfeiture of the company's charter." The city council did not undertake to forfeit a charter granted by the State of New Jersey, because the city council did not regard the Pope's bull against the comet as a good precedent.

A TAX PAYER.

The "Mills Awakening" at New Brunswick.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: Your correspondent visited our neighboring city, New Brunswick, the scene of the evangelist, B. Fay Mills, revival work, yesterday afternoon and evening Those of our citizens that can recall the labors of Mr. Earl here about sixteen years ago, have some idea of the work and scenes at New Brunswick—although there the work seems to be of a wider range, and receiving the interests of all classes.

There was but the one meeting in the afternoon of a solid mass of people of all ages, young people predominating. In the evening the interest was doubled, the large First Reformed church filled and adjoining building contained the overflow. Mr. Mills appeared at both meetings. He is a manly appearing young man, frank, original, using the plainest language and thought, with pointed and telling illustrations that receive ready responses from inquirers present. There was no urging on his part, but a ready activity on the part of all to make the work practical and far-reaching. The students of the college have no small part in the work, and its influence is particularly felt among them.

Your correspondent accepted an invitation to dine with the evangelist after the services and had a pleasurable opportunity to experience a personal knowledge of the private influences this gentleman leaves with those about him. Outside of the regular meetings throughout the city, interest is generally expressed. Even at the hotels a thoughtful silence and conversation directly upon the subject at issue, is gladly received. The adjoining towns are largely represented, the evening trains being pressed for accommodation.

As a stranger and visitor your correspondent cannot avoid an expression of gratification for the manner and spirit in which he was received by many warm, earnest gentlemen devoted to the interesting work led by Mr. Mills. His power is with the young, and while he does not neglect the church member in his instructions, still the same. "We will go so far and no farther" spirit, pervades the church membership, and one can see the end from the beginning. Many added the denominational churches, but, alas! the more fuller consecration left to the future.

Flemington Sarcasm.

The Hunterdon County Democrat says: "The doctors all over the country are reaping such a big harvest from la grippe patients that by the first of April they will all be as wealthy as the President of the Standard Oil Company. We suspect that as soon as the Summer resorts are open every one of them will flee thither, so that if a fellow breaks his leg not one will be found to set the bone. The doctors and not the plumbers are raking in the shekels this Winter."

Importing Strength.

The "Nameless" bowling club of Westfield, whose team is to roll a match game with the Elizabeth Athletic club's team in that city on Monday evening, to decide which is champion of the county, has been getting in "new wood."

The minutes of the Westfield club show that some members of the "Pin Knights" team, including Captain Coutrell, joined the "Nameless" a few weeks ago. The first prize in the tournament is not to go to Elizabeth if Westfield can keep it.

Leading physicians recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Old and young take it with perfect safety. It cleanses the blood, strengthens the nerves, and vitalizes the system. Popular experience has long placed this medicine at the head of tonic alteratives.

—A bill to enable people to have their wills probated before they die will be introduced in the Legislature this Winter.

That beautiful glossy sheen, so much admired in hair, can be secured by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. There is nothing better than this preparation for strengthening the scalp and keeping it free from dandruff and itching eruptions.

The Snow Blockade Continues.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The blockade on the Central Pacific and the California & Oregon roads continues, owing to the renewed fall of snow. The two westbound trains at Truckee and the four at Reno could not be got past the Cascade blockade, they are retained where they are, as the passengers can be more comfortably cared for there than further on.

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. R. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth. I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ¼ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

MINERS COMBINING

The General Plan of Consolidation Adopted.

DETAILS HARD TO ARRANGE.

The Interests of Miners and Mine Laborers to be Governed by One Head.

The Vote on Amalgamation Almost Unanimous—The Amalgamated Miners of Pennsylvania Represented—Equal Taxation for Members—A Constitution to be Reported for Adoption This Afternoon.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24.—The second important step in the consolidation of National District Assembly 135, K. of L., and the National Progressive Union of Miners and Mine Laborers, was taken by the joint convention, when it adopted the general plan of amalgamation prepared by the officers of the two organizations. The vote on amalgamation was practically unanimous.

A third step, however, remains to be taken before it can be said that a consolidation has absolutely been effected; this is the adoption of a constitution. While the joint convention was unanimous in favor of the general plan of consolidation it is evident that the details will not be so easily arranged.

The constitution will determine to what extent the individuality of the two organizations must be sacrificed. There is great difference of opinion among the delegates as to the details of the consolidation, and the consideration of the same will furnish a severe test of their sincerity. While there is yet a possibility of a disruption the general opinion is that the consolidation will be effected successfully.

The plan of amalgamation adopted is as follows:

First—To unite the two organizations under one head to govern and protect the interests of miners and mine laborers. This union to be effected without sacrificing the essential features of either organization.

Second—The organization to be divided into national and local divisions, the meetings of which are to be either secret or open, as the members may determine or the exigencies of the case may require. That is to say, the meaning of the terms "open or secret" shall be construed as applying to the meetings of the National Progressive Union or National District Assembly 135, K. of L.

Third—Equal taxation upon affiliated members.

Fourth—One staff of officers for the national and each district and local organization, in which due provision shall be made for visiting and directing the business of both branches of the organization.

When the roll of the N. D. A. 135 was called there were 101 votes cast in favor of the plan. There were 81 votes cast for and 1 against the plan by the Progressive Union. There were nine delegates from Western Pennsylvania who represented the unorganized miners of that section, all of whom voted for the plan.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of five from each organization, including the president and secretary of the same to prepare and report a constitution not later than 3 p. m. to-day.

THE SOCIALIST BILL.

Germany Agitated Over the Great Question Now Before the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The Reichstag rejected the expulsion clause of the Socialist bill and then voted by 166 to 111 to make the measure permanent. In the debate on the bill Herr Buhl said the National Liberals were willing to vote that the measure be made permanent. They were convinced that social democracy menaced the peace of the state and they were resolved to protect the state, but they must oppose the expulsion clause.

Clauses 11, 13 and 22 of the bill were adopted. They relate to the suppression of periodicals and associations, and prevents appeals from court decisions.

It was stated on good authority that should the Socialist bill be defeated Bismarck will give as an election watch word "Down with the Social Democrats." Emperor William's message to the new Reichstag will probably be of the same tenor as the Prince's watch word.

The Tagblatt states on semi official authority that the government has decided to withdraw the Socialist bill in the event of the Reichstag rejecting the clause giving the government the right to expel Socialists.

A Rumor that Creates Uneasiness.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A despatch from Lisbon says it is rumored there that a movement is on foot in Washington to apply to Congress to subsidize a line of steamers between America and Portugal. The establishment of such a line, it is held, would ruin Portuguese agriculture, which has already been half destroyed by the imports of American wheat. The report gives rise to much uneasiness.

Lord Galloway in a Police Court.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Aristocratic circles where shocked over the announcement that Lord Galloway had been arraigned in one of the police courts on the complaint of a handsome 16-year old girl named Margaret Brown, who charged his lordship with accosting and molesting her on the public streets. The case was dismissed and the "noble lord" will be more careful in future.

Revolution in Costa Rica.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A telegram from Geneva says a Swiss paper publishes a private cable reporting that a revolution broke out in Costa Rica, Central America, last Thursday night; that the government was overturned, and the revolutionists were supreme, and that there were horrible scenes of bloodshed.

Portugal Orders Five Torpedo Boats.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Cologne Gazette is authority for the statement that the Portuguese Government has ordered the construction in German shipyards of five torpedo boats to be delivered without unnecessary delay.

Crown of a Busy Life.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—In a letter to a friend in London, Stanley writes: "My hair is white as the snow from Ruwenzori, but it is the crown of a busy period and I wear it without regret as the gift of time."

REFUSED TO ARBITRATE.

The Striking Miners Seek to End the strike at Punxsutawney.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 24.—The miners made an effort to settle the strike. They appointed a committee of four non-union men to confer with Superintendent Haskell as to the company's condition for an amicable settlement.

A conference was held but the superintendent positively refused to arbitrate. The strikers committee volunteered to concede to all the demands but one—reasonable wages for the cutting of clay veins. Superintendent Haskell said the ultimatum was to go to work and arbitrate afterwards. This was refused and the committee retired.

The superintendent says he has received instructions from headquarters to draw on the company for any amount of money necessary to defeat the strikers. The miners held a meeting and decided to maintain their present position. Sheriff Sutler was instructed by the company to await the result of the meeting before proceeding with the evictions and if the result was unfavorable to begin wholesale evictions at once. The Hungarians are greatly excited and becoming unmanageable and its feared trouble is inevitable.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

The Brotherhood Games Open April 21 and 140 Games Will be Played.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 24.—The Schedule Committee of the Players' National League is still in session here. Several schedules were made up and in turn destroyed. The most reliable information obtainable is as follows:

Season opens April 21st. Chicago opens at Pittsburg; New York in Philadelphia; Boston in Brooklyn, and Cleveland in Buffalo.

Decoration Day the Western clubs will play with the Eastern. 4 July 4th Eastern clubs will play the Western.

Number of games during the season, 140; season closed the first week in October. There is a hitch in the proceedings caused by Johnson, of the Cleveland club. The schedule has been arranged until the last of August. Buffalo also objects to the arrangement for their club in September. The schedule will probably be completed this afternoon.

Collapse of a Building.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 24.—The occupants of the three-story brick building, No. 633 Myrtle avenue, had a very narrow escape from death. Some workmen in digging a cellar adjoining the house so undermined it that it came down with a crash. Fortunately the occupants had just warning enough by the cracking of the walls to get out, with the exception of a five-year-old boy named Harry Ford, son of John Ford, who occupied the third floor of the building. How it came that Harry happened to be left was not learned, but although in the house when it came down he escaped without injury. When the building collapsed the workmen lost no time in making their escape from the neighborhood and have not been seen since. The loss will be about $3,000.

He was a large real estate owner. The deceased leaves a wife and one son, Adam, Jr., who will succeed to his immense circus property.

Polander Rioters Arrested.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 24.—The leaders in the ghoulish work of taking up the bodies of two children in Plymouth Polish Catholic cemetery and dragging them through the grounds were arrested and placed under bail. They are charged with shooting, rioting and minor charges, for which Martin Wilkes, the leader, was held in the sum of $3,000, and seven others in sums amounting in all to $12,000. Bail has been furnished them. More rioting is feared.

An Editor Fatally Injured.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 24.—William McDowell Drake, city editor of the Elizabeth Daily Leader, and the eldest son of Gen. J. Madison Drake of the Veteran Zouaves, was, it is feared, fatally injured by being thrown from a dog-cart. The vehicle was smashed to pieces and the horse ran to Roselle, four miles distant before being caught. The physicians think that Mr. Drake's skull is fractured.

THIEF AND SUICIDE

New York's Postoffice Cashier Shoots Himself.

A DEFAULTER FOR $30,000

His Resignation Had Been Demanded and Given.

An Inspector Forces His Way Into the Defaulter's Residence—He Finds the Cashier Dying from Self-Inflicted Wounds—A Guard Placed About the House—The Story of the Tragedy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—George H. Lounsberry, who was for 10 years cashier of the New York Postoffice and who had been asked to resign a few days ago, was discovered to be a defaulter yesterday to the extent of between $35,000 and $40,000.

Yesterday was the first day in many years that Lounsberry was not at his desk in the Postoffice. He was notified a few days ago by Postmaster Van Cott, that the Postmaster's son was to be his successor.

Lounsberry left his desk Thursday evening and failed to appear at the office yesterday. An assistant took his place and everything went well until it came time to deposit the day's receipts for the sale of stamps, etc., in the Sub-Treasury. Then it was discovered that the cash on hand, which he was in the habit of keeping from day to day and which usually amounted to about $25,000 or $30,000, was missing.

This fact was communicated to the postmaster, and he immediately dispatched superintendent of the registry department J. M. Wood to Lounsberry's residence at Hackensack to secure some explanation from him.

The explanation that Wood brought back did not satisfy Mr. Van Cott, and last evening he hurriedly dispatched Post Officer Wheelan to the cashier's house. When the latter arrived at the door of Lounsberry's residence he was met by a man servant who informed him that Lounsberry was very ill, and begged him to go for a physician.

Thinking it was some trick to send him away, the Inspector forced his way into the house and into Lounsberry's room. The sight that met his gaze when he entered caused him to start back and gasp with amazement, for there on the bed lay the cashier with blood trickling from a bullet wound in the right temple, while a revolver was lying on the floor at his feet.

He had shot himself at about 9 o'clock in the evening, only a few minutes before the Inspector's arrival.

Dr. King, who had arrived in the meantime, did what he could for the suicide but pronounced his wound fatal.

After placing the dying man under guard by two local Postffice Inspectors Mr. Wheelan returned to New York and secured a warrant to search Lounsberry's house, under the impression that some of the stolen money might be secreted there.

Besides the cash on hand, Lounsberry is supposed to have made away with the contents of numerous pay envelopes, which were found empty in the safe.

CLEVELAND AND THE TARIFF.

The Ex-President Glad to See the Question Discussed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—A letter from ex-President Grover Cleveland was read at the concluding session of the Custom Cutters' National Convention. In it he says:

"The question of tariff reform directly affects all the people of the land in a substantial way, and they ought to be interested in its discussion. I am afraid that a great many of our fellow citizens are too apt to regard this as a political question, intricate and complex, affecting them in a remote way, and one which may well enough be left for politicians to wrangle over. This induces a neglect of the subject on the part of a great number of our people and a willingness to blindly follow the party to which they happen to belong in their action upon it. It is a good sign to see practical men, such as belong to your association, discussing the question for themselves. If this is done intelligently and with sincere intent to secure the truth, tariff reformers, I think, have no need to fear the result of such discussion."

Nellie Bly's Trip Ended.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Nellie Bly will have completed her flying trip around the world at 3:52 o'clock this afternoon, if the Pennsylvania Railroad train on which she is a passenger is on time. Then moment her feet touch the depot platform in Jersey city all New York will know it. Ten guns will boom a thunderous welcome from Battery Park, and at the same instant ten guns will roar a salute from Fort Green Park, Brooklyn. The timers will stop their watches, and for the first time in the history of the world there will be recorded the circumnavigation of the earth by a woman without guide, escort or attendant.

New Haven Wants an Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Henry F. Peck, mayor of New Haven, Conn., headed a committee from the New Haven Chamber of Commerce that appeared before the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, and argued in favor of an increased appropriation for New Haven harbor.

Held for Bigamy.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—Joseph G. Hetzel is awaiting extradition to New York city on a charge of bigamy. Rosaline Hetzel claims that he came here to live with Clara Hetzel, who also claims to be his wife.

IN ONE UNION.

The Mine Workers and Knights of Labor Have Amalgamated.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—The ties that bind the Mine Workers and Knights of Labor have at last amalgamated. The joint committe of both organizations made its report and the constitution presented was taken up by sections and adopted with a few slight amendments.

It provides that the name of the new organization shall be the United Mine Workers of National Division Assembly 135, Knights of Labor, and the National Progressive Union; thus, the names of both old organizations are preserved. The National officers will consist of a president or master workman, vice-president or worthy foreman, secretary-treasurer, and an executive board composed of seven members.

The constitution further provides that any member in good standing of either the Progressive Union or N. D. A. 135, K. of L., shall be eligible to office under the almagation providing he becomes a member of both organizations before qualifying. This provision is occasioned by the fact that the N. P. U. is an open organization and N. D. A. 146 a secret one.

The time of the annual conventions is fixed on the second Tuesday in February of each year, the place to be voted upon at each preceding convention. This practically settles the whole matter and the remainder of the session to-day will be occupied in routine business and fixing a national scale of prices.

TIRED OF LIFE.

Attempted to Kill His Wife and Then Cut His Own Throat.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Jan. 25.—A. Risser, a German farmer, living near this place, attempted to kill his wife and then cut his own throat with a razor, while mentally deranged. A few years ago one of his sons committed suicide and Risser had brooded over that of late, and had also been harrassed by business.

Mrs. Risser is the sister of Mrs. Jacob Neu, whose tragic death at the hands of her husband, who afterwards committed suicide, caused a sensation here several years ago.

It is reported that Risser will die. His wife will likely recover.

Railroad Shops Burned.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 25.—The erecting and repair shops of the Huntingdon & Broadtop Railroad, located at Saxton, Bedford County, were totally destroyed by fire together with a new engine and three coal cars. The building destroyed comprised the paint shops, storage building for supplies, and machine shops and contents. The are is believed to have originated through spontaneous combustion in the paint department. The total loss will reach $50,000. The shops will be rebuilt at once.

Good News for Coal Men.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Mr. Thomas Hodson Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., has just returned from a trip through the Northwest. He reports a great scarcity of soft coal. "There's not a pound of soft coal on the docks of the principal coal ports but what is sold," said he "and anthracite is selling well and there will be much less coal left over next spring than last."

Three Deaths in a Chinese Laundry.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 25.—A man calling at the laundry of Yee Lee and Sing Lee found both the Chinamen and a woman named Mamie Sweeney dead on the floor. Physicians think death was caused by inhalation of chlorine gas generated in some way from washing materials. The woman was a dissipated character. It is said that Sing Lee's uncle is a merchant at 34 Pell street, New York.

The Burned Italian Girl Dying.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 25.—Angela Merrella, the Italian, girl who was set on fire by three boys last Friday can live but a few hours. In walking to her home in a nude condition she contracted pneumonia, which, in connection with the severe burns, will undoubtedly cause her death. No arrests have yet been made.

Must Heat by Steam.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The general term of the Supreme Court to-day sustained the decision of the lower court that the New York & New Haven Railroad must heat its cars by steam instead of stoves. The company claimed that as only 25 miles of its road is in this State the law, which refers to roads over 50 miles long, did not apply to it.

From New England to Pennsylvania.

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The Tyler Tube Manufacturing Company of South Boston have decided to emigrate to Washington, Pa. Mr. Tyler says that New England manufacturers cannot compete with the Pennsylvania mills, fuel and other materials costing too much for transportation.

Newburg's Electric Wires.

TERRIBLE CALAMITY

An Explosion of Natural Gas Wrecks a Building.

SEVERAL KILLED AND INJURED.

A Railway Fire Department Team Adds to the Horror.

Spectators at a Supposed Fire the Sufferers—Panic in the Crowd—The Ground Saturated With Treacherous Fluid—Revolting Scene for Firemen—List of the Killed and Injured.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—At 5 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire sounded, calling out the entire department. The streets were thronged with the thousands of toilers who were returning to their homes from work-shops and factories, and quickly spread the news that a frightful calamity had happened in the southern part of the city. The streets leading to that section were soon crowded with people going to the scene. Their presence there heaped horror upon horror as will be seen later on.

A Terrible Explosion.

An explosion had occurred at the double residence of Messrs. Michael Bowers and John Marriot, at the corner of Wall and Noble alleys. The cause of the calamity was an accumulation of natural gas in the cellar of the house referred to. The city has recently been supplied with natural gas and leading past the house occupied by Marriot and Bowers, is one of the mains through which the commodity is furnished to the public. The pipes had leaked and the explosive fuel had found its pay through fissures in the ground to the cellar which was the seat of the horror.

It became ignited in some unknown manner and exploded with terrific force, wrecking the building and filling the air with debris. Mrs. Marriot was blown out of the house, and a man named Goulding, who was standing near the structure, was blown across the street.

In a Death Trap.

Mrs. Marriot was carried across the street and into the residence of William James, a bookkeeper for the firm of Glock & Beck. Dr. Wissinger, a prominent physician, was called to attend her injuries. The house where the injured lady lay was soon crowded with people attracted by the accident, and it was soon necessary to close the doors that no more might enter. Little knew those scores of spectators huddled around the sufferer that they were standing in a death trap, which was then on the verge of carrying them into eternity. Suddenly the air was rent by a thunderous explosion which made the earth quake and filled the air with fly-timbers, bricks and debris of all kinds. Darkness ensued and then a death-like stillness reigned for a few moments. It was broken by shrieks and death groans. The house in which lay the powerless form of Mrs. Marriot had been blown to atoms and its occupants buried beneath the wreck.

Another Disaster.

Hundreds of spectators who lined the sidewalks were knocked violently down by the shock and laid powerless. Then, to cap the climax, a team of spirited horses attached to one of the fire department ladder trucks, became frenzied by the explosion and dashed away into the crowd, carrying death in their wake. They ran over and injured scores of people. A beautiful little babe was knocked from its mother's arms and falling beneath the merciless wheels of the vehicle, was crushed to death.

A Revolting Scene.

As soon as the maddened steeds had disappeared in the darkness, many of the spectators and firemen, who had been uninjured by either of the horrors, turned their attention to digging out the persons buried beneath the ruins of the houses. Guided by the cries, and moans of the mangled and dying, men groped in the darkness, pulling out a dead body here, a mangled, yet living form, there, and conveying them to resting places. Groups of men, women and children gathered around the prostrated forms, and blood curdling shrieks made the awful scene more revolting, as friends recognized friends injured or dead, parents found their mutilated children and vice versa. It required several hours to remove all the dead and injured from the ruins and it is not yet known who or how many are the victims. Following is the

A Remarkable Family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Laire of this city, went to Annandale, Hunterdon county, today to attend the funeral of Miss Sarah Fritts, a spinster, who died on Wednesday, at the advanced age of eighty-three years. This remarkable story is told in relation to Miss Fritts' family.

It appears that she was one of three sisters, all of whom were deaf and dumb. They were of wealthy parentage, and all of them have lived over the allotted "three score years and ten." Elizabeth, the youngest and only surviving member of the family, is seventy-five years of age, and is enjoying good health.

The family also included three brothers, Benjamin, Charles and Joseph, and the latter was at one time a Democratic member of the New Jersey Legislature. Sarah Fritts has for many years past made her home with Mrs. Laire's parents at Annandale.
